7 AM Weather Update

Thursday, April 9, 2026

Synopsis: Temperatures are currently in the mid-40s making for a chilly start to the 1st round. High clouds will keep skies partly to mostly sunny, allowing temperatures to slowly warm into the low 70s this afternoon. Very dry air will remain in place through the weekend, with relative humidity dropping to 20–30% each afternoon as high pressure strengthens over the Southeast. Mostly sunny conditions will persist through the rest of the week, with temperatures warming further—reaching the mid-80s by Saturday and Sunday.
