Today – Small clusters of showers are currently tracking across the area and this likely persists through the morning hours. This activity shouldn't be persistent (most showers lasting 5-10 minutes), however a brief downpour could occur. Rain chances will diminish significantly during the afternoon with dry conditions favored. Easterly breezes are once again expected with gusts over 25 mph possible much of the day. Forecast rainfall: Less than 0.25". Sunrise: 6:39am / Sunset: 6:30pm
