Hole-by-Hole Guide

ROYAL BIRKDALE

By Pádraig Harrington, Champion Golfer of the Year in 2007 and 2008

It was 18 years ago when Pádraig Harrington achieved a rare feat, winning The Open back-to-back after a memorable triumph at Royal Birkdale.

After a nerve-shredding success at Carnoustie in 2007, the Irishman lifted his second Claret Jug in style a year later, finishing four shots ahead of Ian Poulter and six clear of Greg Norman and Henrik Stenson.

With an intimate knowledge of the par-70 Southport links, enjoy a full guide from Harrington including his overview of the new 14th and 15th holes for this year's Championship.

1 447 Yards
Par 4

It's a demanding tee shot and there are two choices. You could be aggressive and hit driver, which is what players tend to do when there is nothing on the line. But this is The Open and, while there can be good thoughts from practice, the presence of out of bounds down the right and the greenkeeper sheds down the left can suddenly change minds. Instead, I think you will see a lot of players take an iron to play safe to finish around level with the bunker on the left, but it leaves a longer shot in so it's then about making par and moving on. In the final round in 2008, I stood up on the tee with an iron and Greg Norman had a driver in his hands up until it was his turn to play, when he switched back to an iron.

2 419 Yards
Par 4

It's tough to find the line off the tee on this slight right-to-left hole and, again, it will come down to personal preference. Avoiding the right-hand fairway bunkers is key as they are the biggest threat off the tee. A lot can change with the wind direction, so you will see players varying their club selection based on the wind. It's not all about being gung-ho and aggressive as a well-placed tee shot can leave an inviting approach.

3 450 Yards
Par 4

Again, it can be difficult to pick the best line from the tee. It's a dogleg left-to-right but you can't quite see the right-hand side of the fairway. The bunkers in the fairway on the left must be avoided, so it's natural to aim a little right which can be testing. Much depends on the wind as sometimes you can hit your best drive and still be way short for the approach in. If you can keep the ball in play over the first three holes and make three pars, it's a very nice start.

This may be a straightforward, simple design for a long par-3, but it can play havoc. Front pin positions are obviously very dangerous, especially with three bunkers on the left and the green running away from you. This hole tends to play in a crosswind, into off the left from what I remember, so it's just a very solid, tough par-3, playing 20 yards longer than 2017 from a new tee. If you make par here, you're very comfortable and happy. There's no trickery to this hole at all, it just requires a good, solid shot and move on.

This is a classic dogleg hole, left to right, and there have been significant changes to create a more risk-reward tee shot. It has been re-bunkered and a large mound and scrub removed on the right to offer sight to a green which has been raised up and moved to the left offering more pin positions. The tree line on the right is awkward as it's very hard to feel which direction the wind is coming from. It is a driveable hole, depending on the wind, playing 25 yards shorter than 2017, but to do so you have to take it up the right, steering clear of the water and four bunkers. It's a carry of some 300 yards, pitching very close to the green. Due to the dogleg, it can be a slightly awkward lay-up so players may instead go for the green as a result. Even finding a greenside bunker would be fine. When going the lay-up route, finding the fairway is crucial but, from memory, the wind can blow right-to-left and it's a left-to-right hole so that does add to the challenge. Laying up should provide a largely stress-free way of playing the hole, but it's not without drama to go for it.

It's a big, tough, left-to-right hole, probably the toughest hole on the front nine. A new tee has added 15 yards to the hole from 2017 but the problems from the tee are the two bunkers on the right, as well as the one further down on the left. Much can depend on the wind, as it's incredibly difficult to hit the fairway with a driver. I remember in the final round in 2008, Greg Norman hit what looked the perfect drive down there, carried the bunkers, but it just ran straight through the fairway into the heavy rough. You could end up hitting a 3 or 5-wood off the tee, drawing off the right-hand bunkers, but it leaves a long way in for the second shot, which provides another problem as it's such a long hole. Certainly in 2008, there were plenty of players hitting 3-wood into the green. Again, make your par and walk off happy.

After the demanding 6th hole, don't be fooled into thinking this is an easy, short par-3 and a birdie chance. With four bunkers around the green, pin positions tend to be tricky, while if the hole is playing downwind it can be awkward. The green has been raised over a metre with subtle ridges that will kick the ball over the back if not executed properly. Playing from a new tee into the green means it can be difficult to judge distances, although the hole plays 26 yards shorter than in 2017. Pitch it in one of those bunkers, it can plug, and suddenly a birdie chance can turn into a double bogey. The hole offers respite after what has come before, but it's a mental test more than anything else so you can't switch off. Never underestimate short par-3s.

Par 4

It's a dogleg left and the tee shot is all about avoiding the bunker at the left corner and the three bunkers further down on the right, whilst there is also a ditch further right for the really wayward drive. The wind can again be a factor on what is a solid par-4. For me, it's a classic Royal Birkdale hole – a good tee shot breaks the back of the hole to provide a birdie opportunity.

9 414 Yards
Par 4

Much like the 8th hole, the drive is important with the hole this time moving from left to right back to the clubhouse. It sometimes can be a driver, depending on the wind, or a long iron out onto the plateau of the fairway. From there, the approach is across to an elevated green with a bunker front right. From my own experience, it's a nice, big green but can be quite exposed to the elements. It's a straightforward hole, with crosswinds its main defence but with decent weather it's a birdie chance.

10 397 Yards
Par 4

This is a sharp dogleg right to left. The tee shot can depend on how high the rough is down the left and how much of the corner players look to cut off. There is a bunker at the left corner and three bunkers on the right, so accuracy is key. Depending on the conditions, you will see a lot of players hit driver over the left-hand bunker and not be concerned if they're in the rough on the left, as they will only be around 100 yards from the green. Of course, if it's wet the play is likely to be out to the right, short of the bunkers, to leave a longer shot into a green with two bunkers lurking on the right. It's a really bad miss going too far right off the tee given the trouble over there. This is another hole where the weather will dictate how aggressive players will be.

11 434 Yards
Par 4

This is another tough hole with a premium on accuracy off the tee. It's a pretty straight hole but probably the toughest drive on the course. An elevated tee causes the biggest problem – as generally, from memory, it plays straight into the wind. With a narrow landing area due to four bunkers, if you miss the fairway you can be struggling to reach the green in two. So, it's one of the more pressure-filled tee shots on the course. Generally, on links courses, you have the option of staying short of bunkers or maybe trying to carry them, but the 11th has two right and two left so you have to take them on. Obviously, like most of the bunkers at Royal Birkdale, if you find one it's often a chip out. It also has a tricky green with run-offs around it.

12 186 Yards
Par 3

It's probably the most exposed hole on the course, with cross winds often determining club selection and when they sweep across it can be very awkward to judge the distance. A large dune has been removed at the rear of the green, revealing a spectacular existing dune previously hidden from view. Pin positions at the front of the green are difficult, as there is a drop off and two bunkers on the right. You can get very awkward lies in the dunes so it's important to hit the green. It can be a very straightforward shot with no wind, but on a typical links day it's a tough hole.

13 502 Yards
Par 4

In 2008, I made a pivotal birdie here on the way to victory – although the 13th is probably most famous for Jordan Spieth's bogey in 2017 when he went right off the tee and eventually dropped on the driving range. The hole is like pretty much every other par-4 at Royal Birkdale – it's difficult. You really need to take on the fairway bunkers and some of the trouble. It's right there in front of you and you just have to execute the shots. In 2008 during the final round, I hit a 3-iron off the tee and then a 5-iron into the green. I made two beautiful golf swings, holed a 20-footer and just felt, probably at that moment, I had peaked in terms of my swing and ball striking – that was as good as I could do. The 13th is just a solid hole. If you get your drive safely away, the second shot is into a nice, big target where the middle of the green is just fine. It's a very nice par-4 for good ball strikers.

14 602 Yards
Par 5

The old 15th hole has been remodelled as the new 14th. It's a long par-5 now, very straight. I don't think the players will be scared of the yardage, but it's those ten fairway bunkers, seven on the left and three on the right, which might scare them. The tee shot should be threaded down the fairway to leave a 3 or 5-wood in for the second shot. They're suitably placed bunkers to avoid and everything slopes away to the left with the approach. The wind usually comes from right to left so a nice draw for the second shot can chase the ball up there, avoiding the two greenside bunkers. For the shorter hitters or the safety conscious players, it's a three-shot hole. Either way, it's a birdie opportunity at a key point in the round.

15 241 Yards
Par 3

After Royal Birkdale engaged with architects Mackenzie & Ebert, this is a new short hole created to diversify the directions and lengths of the course's par-3s. With the clubhouse in the distance, players will face a different wind direction to the other par-3s, playing to a long, narrow, raised green that runs away from you. I like the course change here, not only for the challenge to the players but visually the hole will look great on TV. With the green sitting in the dunes – and two well-placed bunkers to avoid on the left – it's a fantastic-looking hole. It's not the length here that will worry the players, it's more making sure they hit the green as it's not the easiest up-and-down for par. I think it will provide a different challenge to the other par-3s on the course, toughening up the finishing holes with a tee shot that's going to ask a lot of the strike and shape of the players' shots.

16 393 Yards
Par 4

Once more, it's all about getting the ball in play off the tee. People remember Arnold Palmer playing from the bush on the right, a recovery shot that helped him win The Open in 1961. Accuracy is therefore important here, making sure the tee shot is well-positioned. While the green is slightly elevated and the bunkers around the green are deep, it's a short iron approach and a birdie chance. You might see players play a left-to-right cut off the tee and leave a favourite yardage with a wedge in. It's a shorter hole, noticeably playing 45 yards less than in 2017 from a new tee, but if the fairway isn't found it can be a tough approach from an undulating lie in the rough.

17 566 Yards
Par 5

I remember making eagle here during the final round in 2008, hitting a 5-wood approach from 278 yards with the wind off the left to three feet, which gave me a cushion going to the 72nd hole. It's a great memory to have. I know it's a narrow entrance into the green, but you have to be thinking 'let's make birdie here', or an eagle. Off the tee, you need to do everything you can to avoid the left-hand dune or the two bunkers on the right, thread it through the dunes and find the fairway to set up the second shot. If in position to go for it, you can run the ball nicely in there avoiding the bunkers on the left. If laying up, a wedge shot in the wind can be tricky to a tiered green so it's important to find the right spot. But the 17th is a great opportunity and you're desperate to make at least a birdie. Somebody could have hung in all day and then, all of a sudden, makes an eagle to shoot up the leaderboard.

It's a classic links hole to finish. I remember growing up watching TV over the years and enjoying the 72nd hole at The Open, especially with the backdrop of the clubhouse at Royal Birkdale. It's just a really solid finishing hole. With a four-shot lead in 2008, I could relax – but only after I had struck my tee shot. Once I had found the fairway, I could wave at the crowds. It's a long par-4, extended by 35 yards since 2017. The tee has been moved left and the tee shot tightened considerably with bunkering, four on the right of the fairway and two on the left. With rough and out of bounds down the right as well, there is a need to be careful. You don't want to come out of it for the ball to drift right into those bunkers so a lot of players will go for a low tee shot to try and chase the ball down the fairway. It's then a long iron in, which is the beauty of the hole as you want to test players at the finish. There are two bunkers to the left and one on the right at the green, and it's often about holding the ball up in the wind to find the middle of the putting surface.

The Greatest Prize of All

The first winner of The Open received not one penny in prize money. The prestige of being crowned Champion Golfer of the Year was considered sufficient reward. And he was undoubtedly recompensed with a few pounds by his wealthy backers who wagered large sums on the outcome of the three round contest over Prestwick's 12-hole course on a windy day in October 1860.

Willie Park was the first to claim the title and he was briefly allowed to handle the symbol of his success – a wide, red leather belt lavishly adorned with silver decorations that included a golfing scene on the exquisitely carved buckle and the Burgh of Prestwick coat of arms on the back. But the rules of the competition clearly stated that, 'The party winning the Belt shall always leave the Belt with the Treasurer of the Club until he produces a guarantee... that the Belt shall be safely kept and laid on the table at the next Meeting to compete for until it becomes the property of the winner by being won three times in succession and that under a penalty of £25 sterling'.

When Young Tom Morris won the Championship for the third time in a row in 1870, by the huge margin of 12 strokes and a record score of 149, he proudly took the belt home and left Prestwick Golf Club with a dilemma. The Club asked for assistance from The Royal and Ancient Golf Club and the Honourable Company in the provision of a new trophy, with the proposal that the Championship would, in future, be staged at the three courses in turn. Discussions were at first slow and non-committal and a year passed without agreement and without a Championship.

It was not until two days before the Championship was re-instated in 1872 that a concord between the three clubs was reached, leaving no time to commission a new trophy. So when Young Tom Morris won for the fourth time he was presented with a medal decorated with crossed golf clubs, a shield bearing the initials

PGC for Prestwick Golf Club and the words 'Golf Champion Trophy'. It was not solid gold as were later medals presented to winners, but gold-plated base metal that has every appearance of being an off-the-shelf purchase quickly inscribed for the occasion in the absence of a permanent trophy.

But The Royal and Ancient Golf Club and the Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers had made a commitment to join Prestwick in the provision of a replacement for the original belt at a total cost of £30. Mackay Cunningham & Company of Edinburgh were commissioned to produce a slim and elegant silver claret jug bearing the words 'Golf Champion Trophy'. It was a commission that could not be rushed and the fine detail of the engraving is testimony to the craftsmanship that went into its creation.

The hallmarks give chapter and verse of the newly produced Claret Jug. The castle stamp is the mark of the Edinburgh goldsmiths; the thistle confirms that it is Scottish sterling silver and the head of Queen Victoria indicates payment of duty to the Crown. The date letter R shows just how long Young Tom had to wait before his name appeared on the new trophy for it proves that the commission was not completed until 1873/74. Research at the Edinburgh Assay Office shows that the hallmark changed annually in September at that time. The first Champion Golfer of the Year to receive the new trophy was, in fact, the 1873 winner, Tom Kidd, but Tom Morris Junior's name was the first to be engraved on it as the 1872 winner.

Following the 1927 Open, which was won at St Andrews by Bobby Jones, the Club's Championship Committee took the decision to retain the Claret Jug in future years and to present the winner with a replica. During the half century in which the original Claret Jug was used, 28 players held it aloft, including Harry Vardon on a record six occasions. But at one point during his five Open victories, Tom Watson was presented with the original rather than the replica. The mix-up was only discovered when he returned the trophy with a small dent and it was fully examined by silversmiths before the repair was made.

The original Golf Champion Trophy is on permanent display in The Royal and Ancient Clubhouse. It sits beside the Challenge Belt, which was donated to the Club in 1908 by the grandchildren of Tom Morris Senior.

Entry Conditions

A. TERMS

- (1) The 154th Open will be decided by stroke play over four rounds of 18 holes in accordance with the Rules of Golf as approved by R&A Rules Limited and in accordance with the Local Rules approved by R&A Championships Limited ("The R&A").
- (2) In the event of a tie after four rounds, the winner will be decided by a play-off by stroke play over an amount of holes to be determined by the Open Championships Committee. The player with the lowest aggregate score over the extra holes will be declared the winner. If the players are still tied having played these extra holes, a hole-by-hole play-off will be played immediately over the 18th hole only until a winner emerges. If the play-off involves more than two players, those other than the winner will be deemed to have tied for 2nd place regardless of their scores in the play-off.
- (3) The starting field will be 156 players. The 70 lowest scores over the first 36 holes and any tying for 70th place will qualify for the 3rd round on Saturday 18 July 2026 and the 4th round on Sunday 19 July 2026. If a player who has posted a two round total score that will qualify for the 3rd round, withdraws before or after the 3rd round draw is made, the player's score will still be used to calculate the leading 70 places and ties that will determine the cut mark.
- (4) In the event of play being either delayed or declared null and void for any round of The Open, additional play will be at the discretion of the Open Championships Committee. Additional play will take place on Monday 20 July 2026 and, exceptionally, Tuesday 21 July 2026.
- (5) The R&A arranges publicity before, during and after The Open in the Press and by live and recorded radio and television broadcasting and filming and on the Internet. Each player agrees to make reasonable efforts during The Open to attend press conferences and to co-operate with the media in support of The Open, including appearances for The R&A's broadcast partners. Each player by entering The Open and thereby agreeing to these Terms assigns to The R&A and its assignees and licensees the right in perpetuity throughout the world to make use, exhibit and reproduce in any way now known or hereafter devised (and to authorise others to do so) for commercial and other purposes from time to time and at their discretion, motion pictures, still pictures, live taped or filmed television, sound recordings and any other reproductions of any description of the player and/or their caddie made during or in connection with The Open (including, without limitation, during practice and play) without compensation for the player or caddie or the heirs, successors, executors, administrators or assignees of the player or caddie. The player also irrevocably assigns to The R&A the right to use and reproduce, and to permit others to use and reproduce, the player's and/or their caddie's names, images, voices, likeness, signatures, and biographical materials in any way now known or hereafter devised without compensation for the player or their caddie or the heirs, successors, executors, administrators or assignees of the player or caddie including in circumstances where the player's and/or their caddie's name, voice, likeness, signature, and biographical material: (i) is used to promote the official merchandise of The Open, (ii) is incorporated into any content or promotional material produced by The R&A or its sponsors or official suppliers which may include the logo of a third party or of a sponsor or official supplier of The Open or any subsequent Open Championship, or (iii) is used in relation to any other activities undertaken by The R&A. Players will be responsible for ensuring that they hold all the necessary rights to grant the above assignments, including appropriate agreements with their caddies. The player and their caddie shall release and discharge The R&A, its group companies, licensees, successors and assignees from any claims arising from use of their name, voice, likeness, signature, and biographical material, including claims for misrepresentation of their character, or their person by any means. By agreeing to these Terms, the player and their caddie hereby waive all privacy, publicity, and proprietary rights. Notwithstanding the foregoing grant of rights, The R&A and its assignees and licensees agree that, other than as permitted above, they will not authorise any company contractually associated with The R&A to use the player's or their caddie's name, image, voice, likeness, signature, and biographical material in a way which constitutes the endorsement by the player of a product or service, without requiring such associated company to first obtain the player's authorisation. Also, to comply with certain contractual limitations relating to advertising on television, players assent that they or their caddies may not, without the prior approval of The R&A, display any commercial identification on clothing or equipment other than that customarily affixed to and of the normal size and in the normal position on any such clothing or equipment.
- (6) The R&A requires players and their teams to conduct themselves in a manner that is respectful of The Open and the sport of golf. Players and their teams shall at all times act in the best interests of the sport and The Open, and shall not conduct themselves in an unlawful or improper manner or so as to bring The Open, The R&A, the sport of golf or its governing bodies into disrepute and shall not use any one of or a combination of violent conduct, threatening, abusive, indecent or insulting words or behaviour. Players and their teams shall comply with any Code of Conduct set by the Open Championships Committee from time to time. For the purposes of this condition, a player's team includes their caddies as well as any agents, coaches or other support team (including family members) present at The Open or in the environs of The Open venue or otherwise acting in relation to The Open.
- (7) Players will at all times be liable for the actions of their caddies and will ensure that their caddies comply with the Terms as they apply to the players. Players will ensure that their caddies wear clothing of a type appropriate to The Open and, in particular, caddies will be required to wear The Open over-garment or bib of a type and design as will be supplied by the Open Championships Committee. Caddies will be required to wear such an over-garment or bib during The Open (including practice rounds), Last-Chance Qualifier and Final Qualifying. Caddies shall not, at any time, wear an overgarment or bib which has not been supplied or expressly approved by the Open Championships Committee. Caddies shall wear smooth, rubber-sole (preferably tennis or basketball) shoes. Footwear with a closed toe is required. Flip flops, open-toed sandals and other similar shoes are not permitted. Golf spikes are prohibited.
- (8) All players gaining entry to The Open (and Qualifiers) are subject to the provisions of the European Tour Group Anti-Doping Policy in force at the date of The Open. Details of such Policy, and the Prohibited Substances and Prohibited Methods, are available from The R&A. Players who are taking medication and are in doubt as to their clinical status should seek advice from The R&A not later than 21 days before the start of The Open (and Qualifiers).

LAST CHANCE QUALIFYING (LCQ)

- (14) To determine the last-chance qualifier for The Open, two rounds of 9 holes will be played by stroke play on Monday 13 July at Royal Birkdale. The winner will receive a place in The Open.
- (15) In the event of a tie, the winner will be decided by a hole-by-hole play-off over holes determined by the Open Championships Committee.
- (16) The starting field will be 12 players and entry will be by invitation. The Open Championships Committee reserves the right to invite any player who meets the criteria set out in section E. The Open Championships Committee may rescind invitations and/or amend such criteria at any time without giving a reason for its decision.
- (17) The leading 2 non-exempt players in the OWGR as published on Monday, 6 July shall take up places 1 and 2 on the reserve list for The Open (see section E.(1.1)). Subject to section G, places 3 onwards on the reserve list shall be allocated based on the performance of each player during LCQ. In the event of any tied finishing places, the player with the highest OWGR ranking as published on Monday 13 July will be placed on the reserve list. If there is a play-off to determine the winner of LCQ, the finishing place(s) in the play-off at the point the eventual winner is determined will supersede the OWGR ranking for the purpose of allocating places to players on the reserve list.
- (18) In the event of play being incomplete on Monday, 13 July, the competition will either be: (i) declared over 9 holes (provided all players have completed 9 holes on Monday, 13 July); or (ii) extended to Tuesday, 14 July (provided all players have completed 14 holes on Monday, 13 July). If all players have not completed 9 holes on Monday, 13 July, LCQ will be cancelled and no players will go forward from LCQ to The Open. Final places into The Open and all reserve places would then be determined according to section G.

FINAL QUALIFYING (FQ)

- (19) Separate FQ competitions of 36 holes each will be played by stroke play on Tuesday 30 June at Burnham & Berrow, Dundonald Links, Royal Cinque Ports and West Lancashire.
- (20) Entrants must intimate on the online entry form their preferred (1-4) FQ courses they wish to play. Allocation of FQ courses will be at the sole discretion of The R&A.
- (21) For FQ, the field will be divided between the designated courses.
- (22) Ties for last qualifying places in each competition will be decided by a hole by hole play-off as soon as practicable after the last players finish their round. The Open Championships Committee will announce a start time of the play-off and all eligible players must report to the teeing area of the first play-off hole at this time to confirm their place in the play-off. Any player who is not present in this location at the time specified by the Open Championships Committee will not be included in the play-off.
- (23) The play-off start time will apply to all play-off competitors for the purposes of Rule 5.3 irrespective of which group the player has been drawn to play in.
- (24) In the event of play being either delayed or declared null and void for either round of any FQ event, additional play will be at the discretion of the Open Championships Committee.

REGIONAL QUALIFYING (RQ)

- (25) To determine qualifiers to FQ, separate RQ competitions of 18 holes each will be played by stroke play on Monday 22 June 2026 at Bearwood Lakes, Cald, Craigielaw, Enville (Highgate Course), Ferndown (Old Course), Fulford, Gog Magog (Old Course), Hesketh, Kilmarnock (Barassie) – Barassie Links, Lindrick, Minchinhampton (Composite Course), Moor Park (High Course), North Hants, Rochester & Cobham Park and The Island. If the number of entrants exceeds the number of players that can be accommodated at these courses, additional courses may be added. It may not be possible to allocate all entrants to their preferred courses.

- (26) Entrants must intimate on the online entry form which RQ courses they wish to play. If the field of any of these competitions does not exceed 40 players, that particular competition may be cancelled and the entrants for that cancelled event may be required to play in another RQ event. After allowing for players who fulfil the conditions under section D to enter into FQ, the number of qualifying places available for FQ will be determined by the size of each field. Allocation of RQ courses will be at the sole discretion of The R&A.
- (27) Ties for last qualifying places in each competition will be decided by a hole by hole play-off as soon as practicable after the last players finish their round. The Open Championships Committee will announce a start time of the play-off and all eligible players must report to the teeing area of the first play-off hole at this time to confirm their place in the play-off. Any player who is not present in this location at the time specified by the Open Championships Committee will not be included in the play-off.
- (28) The play-off start time will apply to all play-off competitors for the purposes of Rule 5.3 irrespective of which group the player has been drawn to play in. Note: In the event insufficient players turn up for the play-off, to break specific tied positions, places and reserves will be decided by a card countback. The card countback will use the back 9 holes of the course or 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole and if a tie still arises, the last 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole of the front 9 holes of the course.
- (29) Irrespective of play-off places and performance according to section B.(27), reserve places in case of subsequent withdrawals from FQ will be decided by a card countback, if necessary, from each RQ competition. The card countback will use the back 9 holes or 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole and, if a tie still arises, the last 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole of the front 9 holes and, if a tie still arises, by the drawing of lots.
- (30) In the event of play being incomplete or declared null and void on Monday 22 June 2026, the competition will continue or take place on Tuesday 23 June 2026 at the same venue. In the event of play being declared null and void on Tuesday 23 June 2026, the competition will be cancelled and entrance fees refunded in full. E. ENTRY AT LAST CHANCE QUALIFYING

- (1) The 12 invited players and reserves for LCQ will be determined using the following criteria (such criteria to apply in descending order of precedence):
 - 1.1 The leading two non-exempt players in the Official World Golf Ranking (OWGR) as published on Monday 6 July 2026 and who are not exempt before play has started at LCQ. Subject to Section E.(4), if either player becomes exempt before play starts at LCQ the Open Championships Committee may, where considered practicable, invite the next best placed non-exempt player who has confirmed that they can play in LCQ.
 Note: the players in this exemption category must register and compete in LCQ to retain their reserve status for The Open (see section B.(17)). Failure to do so by either player will result in that player's place on The Open reserve list and/or entry into LCQ being forfeited or reallocated. The Open Championships Committee may waive this condition to allow a reserve for The Open to retain their reserve status without registering and playing in the LCQ in exceptional circumstances. If a player turns down the opportunity to be a reserve for The Open, then they are automatically removed from this category.
 - 1.2 The runner-up in The Amateur Championship, provided that player is still an amateur on Monday 13 July 2026.
 - 1.3 Players who did not secure a place in The Open having been in a play-off at FQ.
 Note: If the number of players exceeds the starting field limit for LCQ, the order in which this exemption category is taken will be determined by sections E.1.3(i) & (ii).
 - (i) a player will be taken from each FQ venue in strength of field order as determined by The R&A. One player will be taken from each venue before returning to the strongest field to take a second player and so on.
 - (ii) The order by which players are taken from each FQ venue will be decided based on each player's finishing place in their respective play-off until the eventual qualifier was determined. In the event of tied finishing places in the play-off, the player with the highest OWGR ranking as published on Monday 29 June 2026 will be awarded the place.
 - 1.4 Players that finished one position behind competitors who secured a place in The Open at FQ.
 Note: if the number of players exceeds the starting field limit for LCQ, the order in which this exemption is taken will be determined by sections E.(1.4)(i)&(ii).
 - (i) a player will be taken from each FQ venue in strength of field order as determined by The R&A. One player will be taken from each venue before returning to the strongest field to take a second player and so on.
 - (ii) in the event of a tied score at each FQ venue, the player with the highest OWGR ranking as published on Monday 29 June 2026 will be awarded the place.
 - 1.5 Players who were tied for a qualifying place in OQS events (excluding OQS Scotland) but did not qualify due to a lower position in the OWGR, or by losing in the play-off for 1st place in the OQS event.
 Note: The order in which this exemption category is taken will be determined by sections E.1.5(i) & (ii)
 - (i) a player will be taken from each OQS event in strength of field order (as published by the OWGR). One player will be taken from each OQS event based on section E.(1.5)(ii) before returning to the next strongest field to take a second player and so on.
 - (ii) the order of priority will be determined by the player's OWGR rankings published Monday 29 June.

If two or more players have the same OWGR, or two or more players have no OWGR, then ties will be decided by a card countback. The card countback will use the back 9 holes of the course or 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole and if a tie still arises, the last 6 or 3 or 2 or 1 hole of the front 9 holes of the course.
- (2) The reserve list for the LCQ will be determined in order of exemption category until each exemption is exhausted, at which point it will move to the next category. Once all exemption categories are exhausted the Open Championships Committee may, in exceptional circumstances and at its sole discretion, invite players to compete in LCQ who are not listed in the criteria or permit LCQ to be played with a smaller starting field.
- (3) If the Open Championships Committee invites a player to compete in LCQ on or before Wednesday 1 July 2026, the player (or their agent) must accept that invitation within seven days from the date the invitation is received. If a player receives an invitation after Wednesday 1 July 2026, the player (or their agent) must accept the invitation within 48 hours of receipt. If a player receives an invitation less than 48 hours before the start of LCQ, the Open Championships Committee will communicate an appropriate deadline for accepting the invite at the time the invitation is issued. Any player that does not accept their invitation by the applicable deadline will be deemed to have declined the invitation and will be withdrawn from LCQ. The Open Championships Committee reserves the right to amend acceptance deadlines at any time at its sole discretion.

- (4) If a player becomes exempt under section F, withdraws or fails to accept their invitation into LCQ before the applicable deadline, the Open Championships Committee shall rescind that player's invitation and may invite a reserve to compete in LCQ. The Open Championships Committee shall not be obliged to replace any player and reserves the right to invite players not listed in section E without giving a reason for its decision.
- (5) In the event an exempt player withdraws from The Open after play has started at LCQ, that withdrawal will not be processed until the conclusion of LCQ.

Marco Penge of England secures qualification for the 2026 Open after a play off victory at the Open de España presented by Madrid 2025 at Club de Camp Villa de Madrid

Marco Penge qualified for The 154th Open after victory at the Open de España presented by Madrid.

The Englishman defeated Daniel Brown in a play-off to win the DP World Tour event at Club de Camp Villa, Madrid.

Brown birdied three of his final six holes to reach 15-under-par and force the play-off, however Penge responded with a birdie of his own on the first extra hole and that was enough for the win.

The victory saw him claim the one Royal Birkdale place on offer as part of The Open Qualifying Series and secure his fourth appearance.

Naoyuki Kataoka qualified for The 154th Open by winning the Japan Open Golf Championship at Nikko Country Club in Tochigi.

The 27-year-old edged out Satoshi Hara – who double-bogeyed the penultimate hole – in a play-off after the pair finished on three-under-par for the week.

Royal Birkdale will be Kataoka's first appearance at The Open.

Kataoka is the latest Japanese winner of an event that has been dominated by his countrymen, including Hideki Matsuyama in 2016, although three-time Champion Golfer Seve Ballesteros picked up back-to-back successes in 1977 and 1978.

Naoyuki Kataoka of Japan secures qualification for The 2026 Open Championship after a play off on the 18th following the final round of the Japan Open Golf Championship at Nikko Country Club

Northern Ireland's Tom McKibbin

Tom McKibbin set a course record en route to winning the Link Hong Kong Open by seven shots, guaranteeing his place at Royal Birkdale this summer.

The 23-year-old will return for his third consecutive appearance at golf's original championship, having made his debut at Royal Troon in 2024.

His week in Fanling started with an opening round of 60 – a new record at Hong Kong Golf Club – and his excellent form continued with back-to-back rounds of 65 to ensure he'd enter the final round top of the leaderboard.

A sparkling Sunday 63 which included eight birdies then moved McKibbin clear of the chasing pack and he ended the week on 27-under par, seven shots ahead of closest challenger Peter Uihlein.

This was the first time OQS had returned to Hong Kong since 2023 when Taichi Kho, Michael Hendry, Travis Smyth and Bio Kim qualified for The 151st Open at Royal Liverpool through the World City Championship.

Michael Hollick of South Africa, Adam Scott of Australia and Si Woo Kim of South Korea pose after qualifying for the 2026 Open Championship at Royal Birkdale on day four of the Crown Australian Open 2025

Adam Scott is set to make his 26th consecutive appearance at The Open after securing one of the three spots on offer at the Crown Australian Open.

The 45-year-old finished fifth in the Open Qualifying Series event at Royal Melbourne which was enough to book a place at Royal Birkdale in July.

Scott – runner-up at Royal Lytham & St Annes in 2012 – hasn't missed The Open since making his debut at St Andrews in 2000.

South Africa's Michael Hollick will make his Championship bow after finishing fourth – one stroke ahead of Scott – in Melbourne.

Meanwhile, Si Woo Kim will return to the site of his Open debut in 2017 after finishing third at the Australian Open, a tournament won by Denmark's Rasmus Neergaard-Petersen, who was already exempt along with runner-up Cameron Smith, the Champion Golfer of the Year in 2022.

Lucas Herbert was joined by Champion Golfers Ian Baker-Finch and Sir Bob Charles after qualifying for Royal Birkdale at the New Zealand Open at Millbrook Resort.

Lucas Herbert claimed the sole qualifying spot on offer at the 105th New Zealand Open presented by Millbrook Resort.

The Australian's second placed finish at the event, two shots behind winner Daniel Hillier, was enough to seal his spot at Royal Birkdale, where he will compete in The Open for the sixth time.

The qualifying place went to the highest placed finisher not already exempt for the Championship, with Hillier having already qualified courtesy of his place in the top 25 in the final Race to Dubai rankings.

Herbert's best Open result came at St Andrews in 2022 when he ended the week T15. He made his Open debut at Carnoustie in 2018, and played at Royal Portrush in 2025 after progressing through Final Qualifying.

Ren Yonezawa of Japan, Shaun Norris of South Africa and Ryutaro Nagano of Japan pose after the final round of the Mizuno Open Shaun Norris, Ryutaro Nagano and Ren Yonezawa qualified for The 154th Open at Royal Birkdale as the top three finishers in the Mizuno Open.

Norris produced a dominant display to win by five shots. One clear at the start of the final round, the South African showed no sign of nerves as he completed a bogey-free 65 and posted a tournament-record winning total of 24-under.

While Norris can look forward to his seventh Open, Nagano will make his second appearance – five years on from his debut at Royal St George's – after a final-day 66 secured a share of second place.

There was also joy for Yonezawa, who missed out on qualifying by a single stroke at last year's Mizuno Open.

On this occasion, the three-time winner on the Japan Golf Tour matched Nagano's 19-under aggregate to secure a major debut at Birkdale.

Eugenio Chacarra after qualifying for The Open

Eugenio Chacarra's emphatic victory at the DS Automobiles 83° Open d'Italia brought with it a place at Royal Birkdale for The 154th Open.

The Spaniard claimed the one spot on offer at the event as part of the Open Qualifying Series.

Chacarra's 24-under-par total of 260 saw him finish five strokes clear of closest challenger Matt Wallace. The victory was sealed with a superb final round of 64.

The triumph at Circolo Golf Torino represents his third title on the DP World Tour and follows his victory at the KLM Open earlier in June. He will make his Open debut this summer.

Glory for Scheffler at Royal Portrush

Scottie Scheffler secured his place among the all-time greats with a sensational performance to win The 153rd Open at Royal Portrush.

The American earned his fourth major title thanks to a display that will live long in the memory as the Championship was staged in Northern Ireland for the third time.

Scheffler's four-shot margin of victory – finishing the week on 17-under-par – underlined his dominance as he seized control and marched towards the Claret Jug in front of huge crowds.

Harris English finished second on 13-under, with the previous week's Genesis Scottish Open winner Chris Gotterup one shot back in third.

While Scheffler looked to be the player in control throughout the week, he did briefly offer some hope to the chasing pack during his final round.

However the double-bogey at the 8th was followed by birdies at the 9th and 12th to lift

Scheffler back to 17-under and effectively put an end to the hopes of his challengers.

After a special walk down the final hole, and being named Champion Golfer of the Year, the world's top ranked player was reunited with family – including his 14 month old son Bennett – for some memorable scenes on the 18th green.

Record spectator numbers of 278,000 came out to watch throughout the week, and home favourite Rory McIlroy, fresh from completing the Career Grand Slam at Augusta, received the lion's share of the support as he made his own bid for a second Claret Jug.

This was something Scheffler recognised, speaking after closing out a special victory and enjoying the adulation of fans on the 18th hole. "It's a very special walk," he said. "To be honest with you, walking up 18, I didn't really know if I was going to get that much support from the crowd.

"The crowd, I think, wanted somebody else to win this week, and I kind of got to play spoiler a little bit, which was fun as well. It really was a great reception. I heard a lot of the fans supporting me out there today. It was a really cool environment to be able to play in.

"Being able to walk up 18 with the tournament in hand is a really tough thing to describe. It's a really cool feeling. I have a lot of gratitude towards being able to accomplish something like this.

"It's taken a lot of work and a lot of patience. This was, I felt, one of my best performances mentally. We did a really good job of staying in it all week."

Meanwhile, John Parry produced one of the biggest roars of the week when he managed a hole-in-one on the 13th during his third round.

The Englishman's ace came on the same hole Emiliano Grillo managed a hole-in-one six years earlier during The 148th Open – one of many memorable moments on the Championship's return to County Antrim.

Resilient Spieth lifts the Claret Jug

Jordan Spieth showed remarkable resilience and skill to bounce back from a poor start to his final round and secure a victory that ensured he joined the pantheon of Champion Golfers of the Year.

A record-breaking crowd of 235,000 spectators were enthralled by events at Royal Birkdale, as Spieth moved to within one win of a grand slam of majors with having the Masters, the US Open and The Open to his name. Only Jack Nicklaus has been quicker to win three of golf's most coveted titles. Whereas Nicklaus achieved the feat in his 16th major, Spieth was playing at Birkdale in his 19th, while Tiger Woods took one more.

"I don't compare myself (to Woods or Nicklaus)," explained Spieth. "And I don't think comparisons are appropriate or necessary. To be in that company, no doubt, is absolutely incredible. And I certainly appreciate it.

"But I'm very careful as to what that means going forward because what those guys have done has transcended the sport. And in no way, shape or form do I think I'm anywhere near that. It's a good start but there is a long way to go."

Despite leading The Open after each of the first three rounds, the American found himself behind on the leaderboard for the first time after an eventful 13th hole of the final round and trailed compatriot Matt Kuchar by one stroke.

What happened next was the stuff of legend; Spieth proceeded to birdie the par-three 14th, where he almost had a hole in one, ran in a putt of around 40 feet at the 15th for an eagle, birdied the 16th from around 20 feet, and rolled in another good putt for a birdie at the 17th. It was golf that belied what had gone beforehand.

A par on the 72nd hole enabled him to sign for a round of 69, a 12-under-par total of 268 and a winning margin of three strokes over Kuchar.

During the third round, Branden Grace of South Africa fired eight birdies to post the first ever round of 62 during a major.

England's Alfie Plant followed in the footsteps of Tiger Woods and Rory Mollroy to win the Silver Medal as the leading amateur who plays all four rounds of The Open.

Jordan Spieth celebrates with his caddie on the 18th green

Harrington does the double

Like Tiger Woods two years earlier, Padraig Harrington successfully defended his title, becoming the first European to do so at The Open since James Braid in 1906.

This was a more comfortable occasion than his play-off win at Carnoustie and after an eagle at the 17th, thanks to a 5-wood from 249 yards to three feet, he was able to enjoy a celebratory walk up the 18th fairway on the way to winning by four strokes from Ian Poulter.

"I'm holding on to this," he said cradling the Claret Jug. "I had a great year as Open Champion, so much so I didn't want to give it back."

Amazingly, Harrington almost had to withdraw after injuring his right wrist while swinging his driver into a bean bag the previous weekend. If it helped to dampen expectations, the gales that battered Birkdale throughout the week also helped Harrington maintain his concentration.

What the conditions required were some wily know-how of links golf and double Champion Greg Norman provided just that. The 53-year-old had not played in a major for three years.

Yet Norman was a stroke off the lead after the first two rounds and after a 72 in the 30mph-plus wind of Saturday put him two clear of Harrington and KJ Choi. The romantic tale could not last and he closed with a 77, though he briefly regained the lead when Harrington had three bogeys in a row to end the front nine.

Norman finished in third place with Henrik Stenson, two behind Poulter and one ahead of Jim Furyk and Chris Wood, a 20-year-old from Bristol who won the Silver Medal and had the best finish by an amateur since Justin Rose's fourth place in 1998.

Padraig Harrington sinks his final putt on the 18th green

Inspired O'Meara wins second Major

At the age of 41, Mark O'Meara won The Open at Royal Birkdale in 1998 to become the oldest player to win two majors in the same year. He added to his Masters title from April by defeating Brian Watts in a play-off as his 17-year career enjoyed a late surge – something he credited to practising alongside young protege Tiger Woods.

"Tiger's rejuvenated me," O'Meara said. "He has been a driving force. I look at Tiger's talent and his technique and his swing and I think he is a better player than I am.

"That motivated me. He keeps telling my friends, 'You know Mark can really play and he doesn't get the recognition he deserves.'"

Watts, who was born in Montreal of an English father and a German mother and raised in Dallas, was a surprise leader after the second and third rounds but remained calm as O'Meara rallied from two behind.

O'Meara appeared to take control with birdies at the 11th and then the two par-3s, the 12th and the 14th, hitting a 3-iron to four feet at the latter. He dropped a shot at the 16th but birdied the 17th for a 68.

Watts, playing in the group behind, also birdied the 17th and then played an exquisite bunker shot from an awkward stance to save par at the last and force the play-off. O'Meara, sitting beside the green, led the applause.

A birdie at the 15th at the start of the four-hole play-off followed by three pars was good enough for a two-shot win. Woods, the winner of the 1997 Masters, almost joined the play-off but missed out by one shot after birdieing three of the last four holes.

Justin Rose's 66 in the second round equalled the record for an amateur in The Open, held by Frank Stranahan and Woods, and the 17-year-old enjoyed great support over the weekend.

There was a deafening roar when he holed a pitch from the rough at the final hole for a birdie to finish in a tie for fourth place, the best result by a British amateur since Roger Wethered lost a play-off in 1921.

Course record and trophy for Baker-Finch

Ian Baker-Finch set a new course record for Royal Birkdale with a 64 in the third round, which he promptly lost the next day when Jodie Mudd became the fifth player in The Open to score a 63.

But the Australian won something much more special, as he lifted the Claret Jug at Royal Birkdale following a devastating display of putting over the weekend.

Seve Ballesteros opened with a 66 but could not keep his challenge going and it was Baker-Finch, after two quiet rounds of 71, who played spectacular golf when it mattered.

On Saturday, Baker-Finch recorded nine threes and finished with an eagle and a birdie to tie for the lead with Mark O'Meara, winner of the 1987 Lawrence Batley tournament at Birkdale.

Baker-Finch had twice before been in the final pairing on Sunday in The Open, both times at St Andrews. In 1984 he hit his approach into the Swilcan Burn at the first on the way to a 79, while in 1990 he had a 73 as Nick Faldo cruised to victory.

This time the Australian was ready to win. He picked up where he had left off the previous day by starting the final round with five birdies in the first seven holes.

He went out in 29 and went on to beat fellow Aussie Mike Harwood by two strokes, with Americans O'Meara and Fred Couples sharing third place. With a closing 66, Baker-Finch equalled Tom Watson's record of 130 strokes for the last 36 holes set in 1977.

"All the times I didn't go on and win made me stronger," Baker-Finch said. "Today erases all those memories. Just to play in The Open is fantastic, to win it is a dream."

Watson wins his fifth Open title

Hitting one of the best shots of his career, Tom Watson won his fifth Open title, putting him alongside James Braid, JH Taylor and Peter Thomson and one behind Harry Vardon's record six Claret Jugs.

It was his first victory in England and came in fine conditions at a Royal Birkdale course that was receptive to scoring, as Craig Stadler's opening 64 showed.

Graham Marsh became the first player to score a 64 in the final round to take fourth place, while Hale Irwin and Andy Bean's eight-under score became the target for Watson to beat.

He had taken the lead after 54 holes but dropped two shots going out and Nick Faldo had briefly taken the lead before dropping back on the second nine to finish eighth, following his fourth place in 1982.

Watson birdied the 11th, the 13th and the 16th holes and needed to par the last for a famous victory. After he drove onto the fairway, he had 218 yards to the flag and produced the sweetest of swings with a 2-iron just when he needed it.

He had wasted no time, just two waggles of the club head, but maintained superb rhythm. "I busted that 2-iron as well as I could hit it," he said.

He two-putted from 20 feet and an historic fifth Open was his.

In other oddities from the week, Bill Rogers holed a 1-iron for an albatross on the first day, Denis Durnian, a club professional from Manchester, set a new record of 28 for the first nine on the second day, missing from 10 feet at the ninth for a 27.

Meanwhile, at the 14th hole on Saturday Irwin stubbed his putter and had an air shot while trying to tap in from one inch. He lost by one.

Tom Watson is followed by fans on his walk to the final green

Miller wins but a new star is born

Johnny Miller was playing the best golf of anyone in the world when he won The Open in 1976.

The blond American had been second and third in the previous three years and won the U.S. Open in 1973 with a record closing round of 63.

At Royal Birkdale he finished with a 66 that took him from two behind to six ahead of the field. He played supreme golf and yet even he would accept that it was a week when a new star was born – Seve Ballesteros.

The 19-year-old Spaniard was relatively unknown to the public but made a lasting impression by playing an outrageous chip-and-run between a couple of bunkers at the last to secure second place alongside Jack Nicklaus. Amid the heatwave British summer, Ballesteros shared the lead on day one with Christy O'Connor Jnr, who went to the turn in 29, and Japan's Norio Suzuki.

Five birdies coming home on the second day put Seve two ahead of Miller. In strong winds on the third day, which saw defending Champion Golfer Tom Watson score an 80, both Ballesteros and Miller scored 73s.

The youngster lost the lead early on but rallied in wild but inspired fashion on the way home, helped by another eagle at the 17th. Miller bogeyed the first hole of the final round to fall three behind but there was a two-shot swing to the American at the next and the Spaniard suffered a double bogey at the sixth and a triple bogey at the 11th.

Miller could relax and produced his best golf with a birdie at the 12th, an eagle at the 13th and birdies at the last two holes for the third day running. Ballesteros followed suit with three birdies and another eagle at the 17th before he brought the house down at the last.

Trevino wins by one shot from “Mr Lu”

The 100th Open, played in fine weather at Royal Birkdale, featured two charismatic players of differing pedigrees. Lee Trevino won the Claret Jug for the first time and, following triumphs at the U.S. Open and the Canadian Open, completed a unique hat-trick of victories within only four weeks.

He was playing in his third Open. Lu Liang Huan, of Chinese Taipei, had been a professional since 1955 and had played in The Open only once before. Doffing his pork pie hat wherever he went, “Mr Lu”, as he was known, immediately became a crowd favourite.

Trevino shared the lead on each of the first two days and led by one from Lu and Tony Jacklin going into the final round. He was in irresistible form early on, with four birdies in the first six holes.

At the turn he led by six strokes, but Lu made birdies at the 13th and 15th holes and then Trevino had a double-bogey seven at the 17th so the lead was down to one at the last.

Both would birdie the last but it was a traumatic finish for Lu as his second shot hit a female spectator on the head. Visibly distressed, he composed himself to take second. Other than the first day, when Trevino had a 69 to Lu's 70, the pair had returned identical scores all week: 70, 69 and 70, with Trevino winning on 278.

Jacklin, with three birdies to finish, took third place, ahead of Coombe Hill's Craig DeFoy. Peter Oosterhuis set a new course record of 66 in the third round but ended with a 76 the next day.

Trevino went on to defend his title the following year, while it was also in 1972 that Lu had his greatest moment, helping his country win the World Cup of Golf.

Thomson wins his fifth Open title

Peter Thomson's fifth Open victory in 1965 at Royal Birkdale, the scene of his first win in 1954, was achieved against all the greatest players of the day.

He joined James Braid and JH Taylor (and now Tom Watson) as a five-time Champion Golfer, with only Harry Vardon having ever gone better with six titles.

Tony Lema, the defending Champion Golfer, opened with a 68 and shared the halfway lead. But the American suffered in the bad weather of the final day, posting rounds of 75 and 74.

His illustrious compatriots suffered as well: Arnold Palmer, the winner last time at Birkdale in 1961, scored 75-79 to fall to 16th place and Jack Nicklaus, already a four-time major winner, scored 77-73 to drop to a share of 12th position.

Thomson used all his experience to defeat the conditions and his opponents. Recovering from an opening 74 with a 68 in the second round, he then went into the lead with a 72 on the third morning.

He was three ahead late on the front nine of the final round but his playing partner, Lema, fought back to be one behind and only just missed a birdie putt on the 16th green to tie for the lead.

There was a three-shot swing between the pair over the last two holes, where Thomson secured two birdie-4s. His long approach at the 18th found the heart of the green while Lema's went into a bunker and he took a 6.

Thomson's 71 left him on 285, while Lema dropped to fifth. Welshman Brian Huggett with a 70 and Ireland's Christy O'Connor Snr, after a 71, shared second place, two behind, while Roberto de Vincenzo was fourth.

Palmer wins at Birkdale in his second Open

Arnold Palmer wanted to win The Open in 1960 because he had won the Masters and the US Open already that year.

In 1961 he wanted to win The Open because he had not won either the Masters or the US Open. The runner-up on his debut the year before, Palmer went one better at Royal Birkdale, beating Dai Rees by a stroke.

In the process he added to the legend of his attacking style, never taking a backward step, and helped re-invigorate The Open in the eyes of his fellow American golfers.

The wild weather that hit Southport that year was no deterrent to Palmer, and he made five birdies in the first six holes in the teeth of a gale in the second round. He also called a penalty stroke on himself when his ball moved in a bunker though no one else had seen it.

Friday's third and fourth rounds were postponed due to rain and overnight storms that swept away many of the marquees.

On the Saturday morning Palmer had a 69 to take the lead and then in the afternoon he hit his famous 6-iron from thick rough at the base of a bush at the 15th hole (now the 16th).

A huge divot and other detritus flew everywhere but the ball arrived on the green, 140 yards away. He secured a 72 and won on a total of 284.

Rees was four behind with four to play but made up three strokes to finish one back. He had been playing in The Open since 1935 and this was his last chance.

He was a runner-up three times, each time to one of the game's greats: Ben Hogan in 1953, Peter Thomson in 1954 and Palmer in 1961. Neil Coles and Christy O'Connor Snr shared third place, three behind Rees.

Thomson makes history at Birkdale

Peter Thomson became the first Australian to win The Open at Royal Birkdale in 1954 to begin his dominant run at golf's oldest major.

Jim Ferrier, at the 1947 PGA Championship, was the only other Australian-born player to win a major at the time.

Thomson simply dominated The Open – he was sixth on debut in 1951 and then was a runner-up for the next two years. His victory at Birkdale was the first of three in a row and five in all.

The Southport course had been brought up to Open standard in 1935 and was due to host The Open in 1940, which was cancelled due to the war. It finally made its debut 14 years later.

Ben Hogan did not travel back to Britain to defend his title but with a round to play, three-time Champion Golfer Bobby Locke was two strokes behind the trio of Thomson, after rounds of 72, 71 and 69, Syd Scott and Dai Rees.

Scott, from what is now Cumbria, set a new course record of 67 in the second round and closed with a 72 to set the target at 284.

Rees could not get up and down at the last so also had a 72, the second of three runner-up finishes for the Welshman.

Thomson found himself on the steep slope of a bunker at the 16th, 25 yards from the flag. With his feet together in an awkward stance, and his eyes closed, he thumped the ball high in the air and it stuck virtually where it landed, just inches from the hole.

"That won it for me, no doubt," he said. "Had I made a mess of that one, I'd have been a goner."

The 24-year-old was also in a bunker at the last but a 71 put him one ahead on 283. Locke managed a 70 but could only join the other runners-up.
