Extended forecast – Mostly sunny skies and dry conditions are forecast to occur on Wednesday. Thursday and Friday should remain dry with any isolated showers likely to remain offshore under mostly sunny to partly cloudy skies. The weekend forecast remains in lower confidence, with guidance continuing to suggests that an upper-level trough will promote the development of a few showers each day. Breezy west-northwesterly winds are forecast to develop between 11am-1pm Wednesday through Friday. The temperature will start off in the mid-70s each morning before rising into the mid-80s each afternoon.
