Second-year pro Sebastian Moss (Pearland, Texas) opened with an 8-under 64, his best score of the season on PGA TOUR Americas, and leads by one after the first round of the Inter Rapidisimo Golf Championship in Bogota, Colombia.

Moss competed collegiately at the University of Louisville (2021-25) and finished No. 8 in the PGA TOUR University Class of 2025 to earn Korn Ferry Tour membership. After making the cut in just one of eight starts last summer, Moss has played the weekend four out of five times on PGA TOUR Americas this season and is No. 60 on the season-long points list.

In a tie for second are Ben Warian (Stillwater, Minnesota) and Mark Goetz (Greensburg, Pennsylvania), who both carded 7-under 65s Thursday at Club El Rincón de Cajicá.

Moss, Warian and Goetz are all conditional members and looking to improve their place in the reorder category. The season's first periodic reorder occurs at the end of this week, and strong finishes will improve their priority ranking for the next four events.

Coming off his win at last week's Mexico Championship presented by Scotia Wealth Management, Corey Pereira (Sacramento, California) carded a 2-under 70 and is T36, while PGA TOUR Americas points leader Patrick Flavin (Highwood, Illinois) opened with a 1-over 73.

Canada's Max Sekulic (Rycroft, Alberta) earned his first start of the season through the open qualifier, and he's T14 after a 4-under 68.

About PGA TOUR Americas

PGA TOUR Americas identifies and prepares the game's future stars as players compete to earn membership on the Korn Ferry Tour and eventually the PGA TOUR. The 2026 schedule consists of 15 events in nine countries, and the season culminates in October with the PGA Oceans 4 Tour Championship presented by Scotiabank, where the top 10 players on the season-long points list earn Korn Ferry Tour membership the following season.

Since the inaugural PGA TOUR Americas season in 2024, Johnny Keefer (2024) and Michael Brennan (2025) have finished No. 1 on the PGA TOUR Americas Points List, and both players earned their PGA TOUR cards for the 2026 season.
