Chris Crawford (Bensalem, Pennsylvania) carded the day's best round at Club El Rincón de Cajicá, a 7-under 65, and is one of four co-leaders through 36 holes at the Inter Rapidisimo Golf Championship in Bogota, Colombia. Joining Crawford atop the leaderboard at 11-under are Mark Goetz (Greensburg, Pennsylvania), Drew Doyle (Louisville, Kentucky) and Justin Biver (San Diego, California).

All four co-leaders entered the week in the top 40 of the PGA TOUR Americas Points List, with Biver leading the way at No. 24. The 24-year-old rookie earned membership at PGA TOUR Americas Q-School in April and has made the cut in each of the season's first five tournaments, including top-20 finishes the last two events.

Doyle, a second-year member, is No. 29 on the points list off the strength of a T6 at the Abierto del Centro Zurich, and Goetz is No. 32 with two top-11 finishes this season.

First-round leader Sebastian Moss (Pearland, Texas) shot a second-round 70 and is part of a four-way tie for fifth at 10-under, while Canada's Étienne Papineau (St-Jean-sur-Richelieu, Quebec) carded a 4-under 68 Friday and improved to T32 entering the weekend.

Saturday's third round will feature twosomes off the No. 1 tee with tee times running from 6:30 a.m. – 12:25 p.m. CDT.

About PGA TOUR Americas

PGA TOUR Americas identifies and prepares the game's future stars as players compete to earn membership on the Korn Ferry Tour and eventually the PGA TOUR. The 2026 schedule consists of 15 events in nine countries, and the season culminates in October with the PGA Oceans 4 Tour Championship presented by Scotiabank, where the top 10 players on the season-long points list earn Korn Ferry Tour membership the following season.

Since the inaugural PGA TOUR Americas season in 2024, Johnny Keefer (2024) and Michael Brennan (2025) have finished No. 1 on the PGA TOUR Americas Points List, and both players earned their PGA TOUR cards for the 2026 season.
