Part of a four-way tie for the lead at the start of the day, Drew Doyle (Louisville, Kentucky) separated himself with a 4-under 68 and leads by one entering Sunday's final round at the Inter Rapidisimo Golf Championship in Bogota, Colombia.

A third-year pro out of LSU, Doyle retained membership for 2026 after posting three top-10s as a PGA TOUR Americas rookie last year and finishing No. 52 on the points list. This season, he has made the cut in the season's first six events, one of only six players to do so, and entered the week 29th in points.

Doyle leads by one over Ben Warian (Stillwater, Minnesota), who is 14-under after a 4-under 68 Saturday at Club El Rincón de Cajicá. Warian earned conditional membership at Q-School in March and secured his second start of the season this week through the open qualifier. The season's first periodic reorder occurs at the end of this week, and a strong finish will improve Warian's priority ranking for the next four events.

Justin Biver (San Diego, California) made double bogeys on Nos. 15 and 16 to fall to third at 13-under, tied with Joey Vrzich (San Diego, California). In a tie for fifth at 12-under are first-round leader Sebastian Moss (Pearland, Texas) and second-round co-leader Mark Goetz (Greensburg, Pennsylvania).

Canada's Étienne Papineau (St-Jean-sur-Richelieu, Quebec), also a conditional member subject to the upcoming reorder, carded a third-round 67 and improved 19 spots to T13 at 9-under.

About PGA TOUR Americas

PGA TOUR Americas identifies and prepares the game's future stars as players compete to earn membership on the Korn Ferry Tour and eventually the PGA TOUR. The 2026 schedule consists of 15 events in nine countries, and the season culminates in October with the PGA Oceans 4 Tour Championship presented by Scotiabank, where the top 10 players on the season-long points list earn Korn Ferry Tour membership the following season.

Since the inaugural PGA TOUR Americas season in 2024, Johnny Keefer (2024) and Michael Brennan (2025) have finished No. 1 on the PGA TOUR Americas Points List, and both players earned their PGA TOUR cards for the 2026 season.
