

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 2026 - 5 PM WEATHER FORECAST

The rest of today stays hot and humid at 96° with southwest winds at 6–12 mph before temperatures ease overnight to around 76°. A line of storms overnight out of Minnesota and Wisconsin won't reach Scioto directly, but its outflow boundary could stir up showers and storms after 9 AM, keeping rain chances at 40% through Friday night. Friday afternoon temps climb into the low-to-mid 90s, with pop-up storms developing around 1 PM and becoming more numerous by 4 PM if the morning stays quiet, any early activity would push storm development closer to sunset instead. Saturday is the most active day of the stretch with 80% rain chances, storms firing after 1 PM, and rainfall totals ranging from half an inch to an inch under highs of 94°. Sunday closes out the championship with 60% rain chances and afternoon pop-ups after 2 PM, with highs easing to 92° and winds picking up out of the southwest to west at 6–12 mph.
