THE HISTORY OF THE BEN HOGAN TOUR

Conceived as the ultimate proving ground for professional golfers, the Ben Hogan Tour kicked off its 1990 season with high hopes, and some intriguing question marks.

Thirty tournaments and nine months later, the Ben Hogan Tour received excellent reviews in all categories. The hopes were all realized, and questions like how much would be donated to charity and who would move onto the Regular PGA TOUR were all answered with positive responses.

"We were elated to bring about these much needed playing opportunities," said PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman, "and we are fortunate to have a partner with the stature of the Ben Hogan Company involved. Ben Hogan is known for his uncompromising pursuit of excellence and we applied his standards to our new Tour."

Coordinated and organized like Regular PGA TOUR events, the Ben Hogan Tour enabled "The Next Generation of Champions," to hone their skills in a competitive environment.

Crossing the United States and staging events in all regions of the country, the Tour began in California in February and moved east. Stops were made in such places as Bakersfield, CA; Pittsburgh, PA; and Buffalo, NY before ending in El Paso, TX in mid-October. There were also tournaments in Florida, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Kansas, Iowa, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Louisiana, Mississippi, Ohio, Indiana, Arizona, Missouri, Connecticut, Maine and Arkansas.

For Ben Hogan, winner of 69 professional tournaments, the new Tour was a positive experience.

"We are delighted to be part of this exciting concept that so directly affects the future of golf," said Hogan, Chairman of the Board of the Ben Hogan Company. "This Tour has already begun to produce a high caliber of competition that will eventually strengthen play on the Regular PGA TOUR."

The stars on the Ben Hogan Tour will quickly make their presence known on the PGA TOUR as the top five money winners on the 1990 Hogan Tour received an exemption onto the 1991 PGA TOUR.

Jeff Maggert, Jim McGovern, Dick Mast, Mike Springer, and Ed Humenik all earned PGA TOUR cards via their Top 5 finish on the Ben Hogan Tour money list.

Maggert led the way with over $108,000 in earnings for the year, after missing the first two events of the season. In the 30 events, there were 23 different winners and six multiple winners, with Mast, McGovern and Springer leading the way with three victories each. Maggert, Humenik, and Dicky Thompson won two tournaments each.

Springer, a college teammate of PGA TOUR Rookie of the Year Robert Gamez, won the inaugural event in Bakersfield in February. And then his dramatic victory in the final tournament of the year in El Paso, TX, launched the Fresno, CA, native into the Top 5 on the money list and onto the 1991 PGA TOUR.

The Ben Hogan Company's major support of the new tour earned many accolades for bringing professional golf to new markets and increasing playing opportunities for professional golfers. Hogan's multi-year, multi-million dollar commitment represented the first major addition to professional golf since the founding of the Senior PGA TOUR a decade earlier.

For the players it was a chance for them to learn how to play tournament golf, travel at a sometimes hectic pace for weeks at a time, and to play a variety of courses under different conditions. In short, it forced them to adjust to life on a competitive tour.

Fans were given the opportunity to walk in the fairways, just as they did when Ben Hogan himself was playing, and they were also allowed to see the many decisions that a professional golfer must make on every shot. Scenes like Trevor Dodd's dramatic winning eagle on the final hole at Kansas City, or Brandel Chamblee's one-under par performance at the New England Classic will stay with these fans forever.

Finally, the ultimate benefactor of the Ben Hogan Tour was the game of golf. Each of the tournaments created a positive impression within the golfing community, as well as the host cities. With the cooperation of the local PGA of America Sections, and capable Ben Hogan Tour professionals, each event held a junior clinic, designed to create interest for young golfers.

As it was intended, perhaps some day, one of the youngsters will walk the fairways of the Ben Hogan Tour, keeping alive the Tour's tradition of identifying the "next generation of champions."

ABOUT THE COMMISSIONER

Deane R. Beman

Born: April 22, 1938

Birthplace: Washington, DC

Family: Wife, Judy; five children

Entering his 18th year as Commissioner of the PGA TOUR, Deane R. Beman has overseen the most explosive period of growth in the TOUR's history, since succeeding Joseph C. Dey, Jr., on March 1, 1974.

During the Beman administration, the "business side" of the PGA TOUR has shown dramatic growth and now includes many heretofore uncharted paths, each designed to help encourage continued prosperity and to ensure the future of the game.

PGA TOUR Investments, Inc., created eight years ago, has already grown to include 14 "Stadium Golf" facilities nationally with more clubs in the planning or construction stages across the United States. 1989 saw the unveiling of TPC International with three TPC's in Japan with more to come. In December, 1986, in Clearwater, FL, the PGA TOUR opened the first in a network of "Family Golf Centers." In 1989 the TOUR opened another "Family Golf Center" at the Golf Club of Jacksonville, a municipal course the PGA TOUR built for the city of Jacksonville. In addition to providing state-of-the-art tournament and teaching golf arenas, Tournament Players Clubs and Family Golf Centers have been instrumental in the growth of PGA TOUR assets, which have climbed from $730,000 to more than $128.5 million during the Beman era.

PGA TOUR Properties, the joint marketing venture of the TOUR and PGA of America, continues to make steady progress in its quest to open new opportunities in golf for commercial sponsors and the TOUR's members. The Nabisco Golf competitions on the Regular TOUR and the Vantage Cup involvement with the Senior TOUR, an infusion of millions of dollars combined for players, sponsors and charities, is the largest example of these efforts.

PGA TOUR Productions, introduced in 1985, is the TOUR's first-ever in-house TV/audio-visual production entity, the creative possibilities of which are nearly limitless. Tournament highlight films, vignettes, commercials, specialty pieces and the acclaimed "Inside the PGA TOUR" weekly half-hour show airing on ESPN are several of Production's successful projects. In 1990 "Inside the PGA TOUR" was nominated for an ACE Award honoring cable television's best.

Other important innovations introduced during the Beman administration include a professional Agronomy department, the Nabisco Stats program, electronic scoreboards, "Official Golf Destinations" and Centinela Fitness Training Center.

Competitively, the Beman era has witnessed the birth of the SENIOR PGA TOUR which started in 1980 with two events and has grown to 40 events this year and the Ben Hogan Tour, which enjoyed a successful birth last year. In all, over 120 tournaments are on the combined slate with prize money having increased from $8.2 million in 1974 to over $80 million this year.

The Player Retirement Plan, inaugurated in 1983, has already contributed over $12 million toward the future benefit of active Plan participants, and larger contributions are expected in future years.

Charity, easily the TOUR's leading money winner during the Beman era, continues to benefit at a yearly record pace. Contributions by American Golf Sponsors to charitable organizations rose to another unprecedented total of $20.2 million in 1990.

During his active years as a player, Beman established an enviable slate of accomplishments, compiling one of the great amateur records of all time. He won United States Amateur titles in 1960 and 1963 and the British Amateur championship in 1959. As an amateur, Beman was a member of four Walker Cup teams, four World Amateur Cup teams and three U.S. Americas Cup squads.

At the age of 29, in 1967, he left a prosperous insurance brokerage firm in Bethesda, MD, to join the PGA TOUR as a full-time player. During his six-year professional career, he won the 1969 Texas Open, 1970 Greater Milwaukee Open, 1972 Quad Cities Open and 1973 Shrine-Robinson Classic.

William Ben Hogan

Born: 1912

Birthplace: Dublin, TX

Career: Winner of 69 professional tournaments, including 63 PGA TOUR events.

Superb shotmaker, excellent ball-striker, wonderful craftsman, all of these describe one of the best golfers of all time, Ben Hogan.

For Hogan, golf was more than just a game. He wanted to be the golfer's golfer, a feat that he accomplished many times over. Dominating the sport during the 1940's and 1950's, Ben Hogan was one of the best ever.

Starting as a caddie in 1924, with the likes of other soon to be famous professionals Ralph Guldahl and Byron Nelson, Hogan has never been more than a couple of club lengths away from the game that so captured him. For 65 cents a round, Hogan began his steps towards greatness.

His competitiveness was honed by driving contests held with other caddies on slow nights at the Glen Garden Country Club in Fort Worth, TX, where his family had moved to from Dublin. As one of the smallest caddies, Hogan initially lost more than his share of these contests, but soon, from sheer will and much extra practice, he developed into one of the longest hitters among his peers.

Hogan continued to work on his game and eventually turned professional at the early age of 19 in 1931. He soon returned to Fort Worth due to lack of funds and playing success. Taking odd jobs, he continued to work on his game for the next several years, and married school-mate Valerie Fox. In 1937, he decided to try professional golf once again. Although he continued to play somewhat erratically he managed to win his first tournament in 1938, the Hershey Four-Ball.

Over the next few seasons, Hogan continued to improve and in 1940 won the North and South Open. From there, he went on to win three more events that year.

From then on, Hogan's name was consistently atop the leaderboards across the country. Hogan won 50 events from 1940 through 1948. From 1946 through 1948, Hogan won 31 events, including 13 in 1946. He was the leading money winner five different times during this span: in 1940, 1941, 1942, 1946, and 1948. All this with a two-year leave to serve in the Army Air Corps during World War II.

While at the height of greatness in 1949, Hogan suffered a near-fatal head-on collision with a bus on his way back to Fort Worth. As the crash became eminent, Hogan threw himself over his wife to protect her. His effort to save his wife also helped him avoid the bus' fatal blow. After 11 months of intensive rehabilitation, Hogan returned to the playing arena at the 1950 Los Angeles Open. He tied for first but lost in a playoff. From there he went on to win the 1950 U.S. Open, a win he called, "one of my most cherished."

He continued to play and dominate the game of golf, including winning the Masters, the U.S. Open, and the British Open in 1953.

It was during this year that Hogan founded the Ben Hogan Company. The company continues to be one of the finest manufacturers of golf equipment in the world. Under Hogan's personal supervision, the Hogan Company has produced handcrafted forged irons; persimmon, metal and graphite woods; and patented Apex steel and graphite shafts that have become the standard for golf club manufacturing. The company also manufactures and markets golf, sportswear, and accessories.

Hogan continued to play and win golf tournaments throughout the rest of the 1950's, with his last tournament victory coming at the 1959 Colonial National Invitation. But his interest in the Hogan Company continued to grow as did the company itself. So much so, that by the end of the decade, the company had expanded to four times its original size.

Through a couple of corporate changes, Ben Hogan has preserved his vital role in the company, instilling in his employees the high standards for which his company has become well known.

Still another legacy that Hogan will leave the game is the Ben Hogan Tour. The Ben Hogan Tour is a series of 30 events that is played in areas that do not already host professional golf. Each event features at least a $100,000 purse for the field of golfers. Perhaps most importantly, the Ben Hogan Tour gives young and even proven golfers from all over the world, the chance to play in a tournament type atmosphere. The Ben Hogan Tour gives them a chance to hone their skills that they have acquired and the chance to one day play on the PGA TOUR.

1991 BEN HOGAN TOUR ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

The standard tournament format for all Ben Hogan Tour events will consist of 54 holes of official competition (Friday through Sunday), preceded by a Thursday pro-am and Monday Open Qualifying competition at the tournament site.

Thirty tournaments are scheduled and $2,500 pro-am prize money has been allotted for each event.

An entry fee of $250 per event will be charged to all participants, and a fee of $100 has been established for Open Qualifiers (to be credited against the entry fee for successful qualifiers).

Field size will vary between 132-138 players, with a cut to the low 50 scores and ties, following the first 36 holes. Makeup of the starting field will be determined accordingly:

STARTING FIELDS

1. THE NEXT 70 FINISHERS FROM THE PGA TOUR QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

The first 45 players and ties from the PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament will receive their PGA TOUR cards. The next 70 available players, in order of finish, will occupy exempt positions in the applicable week's Ben Hogan Tour event.

2. PGA NATIONAL OFFICE SELECTIONS

Five members of the PGA selected on a competitive basis by the PGA National Office and approved by the PGA TOUR.

Open Qualifying is normally held on Monday of tournament week and is open to all amateurs with USGA handicaps of 2 or less and to all professional golfers. If, at the completion of the field at the commitment deadline (5 p.m. Jacksonville, FL time on Friday prior to the tournament), there are fewer than 14 qualifying spots available, the field shall be expanded in increments of threes in order to provide the minimum of 14 qualifying spots. Thus, field sizes may be 132, 135 or a maximum of 138 players.

4. HOST PGA SECTION SELECTIONS

Ten members of the PGA Section in which the event is held selected on a competitive basis by the host PGA Section, using criteria (such as its official money or point standings and/or a section qualifying competition) approved by the PGA TOUR provided that, at the option of such PGA Section, the host PGA Professional at the site of the applicable Ben Hogan Tour event shall be eligible for the event.

5. ADDITIONAL HOST PGA SECTION SELECTIONS

An aggregate of seven players to be added, in such proportion as shall be determined by the PGA Section in which the event is held, to the number of players eligible for the event in categories 2, 3 and/or 4 above.

6. SPONSOR EXEMPTIONS

On invitation by the sponsor, at his option, a maximum of two (2) eligible players (including amateurs with USGA handicaps of 2 or less). On invitation of the Ben Hogan Company, one additional player, provided that such invitation be confirmed prior to the commitment deadline.

7. TOURNAMENT WINNERS / TOP FINISHERS FROM PREVIOUS YEAR

If not otherwise exempt under the above categories, winners of Ben Hogan Tour co-sponsored events in the last calendar year or during the current calendar year (NOTE: tournament winners are exempt for one calendar year following the end of the calendar year in which they won the event). In addition, for 1991, if not otherwise exempt as defined above, players finishing 6-10 on the final official Ben Hogan Tour money list from the previous year (1990).

This also applies from the last event of one calendar year to the first event of the next calendar year.

9. PGA TOUR MEMBERS 40-50 YEARS OLD

If needed to complete the field, PGA TOUR members ages 40 to 50 years old whose ranking in the PGA TOUR categories of eligibility is no lower than Article III.A.1 (e). (Top 50 and ties from Qualifying Tournament.) Such Ben Hogan Tour exempt status shall be determined according to such ranking.

10. PGA TOUR MEMBERS NOT ELIGIBLE ON PGA TOUR

If needed to complete the field, PGA TOUR members who are not eligible for that week's regular PGA TOUR event and whose ranking in the PGA TOUR categories of eligibility is no lower than Article III.A.1 (g). (Special Members/Medical.) Such Ben Hogan Tour exempt status shall be determined accordingly to such ranking.

11. LIFE MEMBERS AND PAST CHAMPIONS

(Conditions prescribed are the earning of an amount of official money equal to or greater than that earned by the player who was 50th on the previous year's Ben Hogan Tour official money list.

17. OPEN QUALIFYING

THE NEXT GENERATION OF CHAMPIONS

During the 1930's, a gifted young golfer from Texas twice withdrew from the professional circuit to take odd jobs that would fund his dream. Despite the week-to-week struggle, he held onto his dream for nine years before fate rewarded his determination with enough success to stay on the TOUR.

That's all Ben Hogan needed. Today, the legendary golfer is revered among players and fans around the world.

But how many prodigies have gone undiscovered for lack of financial support or competitive opportunities?

"I assure you there are many," said Hogan, now chairman of the Fort Worth, TX based golf equipment manufacturer bearing his name. "In fact somewhere out there is a talented young man like I was -- battling to stay in competition long enough to get a break. I want to help him."

The renowned golfer and his company are determined to assist tomorrow's would-be and destined golf legends by sponsoring the Ben Hogan Tour, a collective effort of the Hogan Company, PGA TOUR, PGA of America, and local civic/charitable organizations, provides aspiring professional golfers with the unparalleled chance to make money and a name for themselves in professional golf.

"I wish there had been a similar opportunity when I was starting out," Hogan said. "Maybe my career would have gotten off to a faster start."

"This Tour is an economical option for many fine players who otherwise would have to travel abroad for professional competitive experience," he continued.

The players aren't the only ones who stand to win on the Ben Hogan Tour. The Hogan Company's commitment takes professional golf to a new audience and benefitting local charities and PGA Sections in the process.

"This year, an enormous number of fans will watch top-caliber professional golf for the first time," said David B. Hueber, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Ben Hogan Company.

In its inaugural year, the Ben Hogan Tour took professional golf to 30 cities that did not have a PGA TOUR, Senior PGA TOUR or LPGA event.

"This tour is not triple-A baseball, or a minor league or a satellite tour," said Hueber. "It is a highly competitive proving ground for aspiring players -- a forum for people to see tomorrow's stars today."

The Ben Hogan Tour is conducted by the PGA TOUR. In each city, the Ben Hogan Tour joins with PGA Sections and/or civic charitable organizations to coordinate the tournament. Beneficiaries of tournament proceeds range from handicapped children in Texarkana, AR to retarded citizens in Yuma, AZ. PGA Sections share the tournament proceeds in the form of Ben Hogan Scholarships and additional fund for junior golf and other PGA sectional competitive events.

"The Tour had a slogan for years, the leading money winner on the PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR is charity. The same is true of the Ben Hogan Tour," said Hueber. "Our support of each individual tournament by providing the $100,000 prize money, ensures the tournaments will be profitable for charities."

The Ben Hogan Company is the title sponsor for the entire tour, as well as the title sponsor for each individual tournament. "This is a very unusual position for a company to take," said Hueber. "It is unprecedented in golf and probably unprecedented in the world of sports."

"The Hogan Company has always been synonymous with quality and superior golf equipment. The extensive media coverage of the Tour should also make the Hogan name synonymous with professional golf," said Hueber.

Combining the Hogan aura with the style of golf's new breed has enabled the Hogan Company to create a distinct brand personality. In fact, the company developed a separate line of products beginning with a Ben Hogan Tour sportswear line last year.

The Ben Hogan Company supports the tour by providing a merchandise tent at each tournament. "We also have a Ben Hogan Tour Service Van staffed with craftsmen to assist the players with equipment repairs during tournaments," Hueber added.

It's doubtful the Ben Hogan Tour would have had such high prospects for success without the legendary name of Ben Hogan the backing of his company.

Ben Hogan recorded more than 69 tournament victories in his career, including four U.S. Opens, two Masters tournaments, two PGA Championships, and one British Open. From 1948 to 1954, the height of his success, Hogan was named PGA Golfer of the Year four times and Professional Male Athlete of the Year once. His dominance of the sports was so complete that golf historians have heralded the era, "The Hogan Years." Today, the PGA Hall of Fame and the World Golf Hall of Fame showcase his exemplary career.

Mr. Hogan carried his command of the sport off the course as well, founding the Ben Hogan Company in 1953. Since then, the company's handcrafted forged irons, persimmon, metal and graphite woods and patented Apex steel and graphite shafts have become the standard for golf club manufacturing -- a precedent of success that the company is eager to duplicate with the Ben Hogan Tour.

"The Ben Hogan Tour is first rate in every way," said Mr. Hogan. "The players, the level of competition, the courses and the conduct of each tournament are the same as any PGA TOUR event. The Ben Hogan Company and the PGA TOUR wouldn't have it any other way."

THE BEN HOGAN CUP

The Ben Hogan Company and the PGA TOUR have unveiled what to competitors on the Ben Hogan Tour will represent victory and the promise of success in professional golf -- the Ben Hogan Cup.

"For the players who emerge, the Ben Hogan Cup symbolizes a starting point, a place in time when their careers got off the mark," said David B. Hueber, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Ben Hogan Company.

While the cup beckons a new breed of golfer, its appearance is reminiscent of many awards Ben Hogan captured early in his remarkable career. In creating the custom designed cup, Hogan Company and PGA TOUR officials consulted Mr. Hogan and visited the legendary golfer's trophy room at Colonial Golf Club in Fort Worth, TX.

"We wanted a timeless design, and one that would communicate the prestige that the Ben Hogan Tour's name implies," said Deane R. Beman, PGA TOUR Commissioner.

Each tournament site will own a permanent trophy 26 inches in height and have a two-tiered base. The upper tier will display the tournament name and site, and the lower tier will present each winner's name and year of victory. Tournament winners will receive a 16-inch replica for their trophy case.

The cup itself -- has a sparkling silver-luster finish with the Ben Hogan Tour logo engraved on the side.

"It's a trademark," said Hueber. "We believe golf fans and historians in years to come will recognize the Ben Hogan Cup at first glance."

SHARING THE LEGEND: THE BEN HOGAN COMPANY

Since his youth, Ben Hogan studied golf with the insatiable curiosity of a scientist.

He meticulously developed and tested his theories about the game for nearly 50 years on the PGA TOUR. In the process, he recorded 69 victories, including 63 wins in PGA TOUR events, and placed himself among the legends of the sport. That honor, for most people, would have been fulfilling enough. But Hogan, compelled by an unrelenting passion to know the game he gave his life to, formed a company bearing his name that enabled him to continue his study.

The Ben Hogan Company, founded in Fort Worth, TX in 1953, stands today as a monument to Hogan's lifelong pursuit. Under Hogan's personal supervision, the company has produced hand-crafted forged irons; persimmon, metal and graphite woods; and patented Apex steel and graphite shafts that have become the standard for golf club manufacturing. The company also manufactures and markets golf balls, sportswear and accessories. And it sponsors the Ben Hogan Tour, giving seasoned professionals and aspiring young golfers another opportunity to compete. Golfers of all ages and skills worldwide can benefit from Hogan's discoveries on the golf course and in the manufacturing plant.

As a youth, Hogan spent many long hours as a caddie and many hours in the pro shop polishing and forging club heads and making new hickory shafts for broken clubs. He turned professional in 1931 at the age of 19 and rose to the top of his profession several years later.

Hogan demanded as much out of his equipment as he did his play and often requested special adjustments in his clubs. Years of persistent study on the practice tee not only taught him the "how to's" of golf, but also gave him definite ideas about the "why's." He discovered that answers to the latter questions sometimes lay in the equipment and not the player. So in 1953, when Hogan's golf club supplier became reluctant to meet his specifications, he founded The Ben Hogan Company.

One of his early backers as a professional had been Marvin Leonard, a prominent Fort Worth entrepreneur whose golf clubs Hogan often carried around the course. Leonard followed Hogan throughout his career. And when he learned of Hogan's desire to start a golf equipment manufacturing company, he and one of his contemporaries provided the financial support.

The first clubs Hogan's handpicked craftsmen produced in late 1953 would have satisfied anyone -- except Hogan. He destroyed the first $150,000 shipment and started over. Leonard's financial partner became nervous, but Leonard, having watched Hogan rise from a humble caddie to become the world's greatest golfer, was confident in Hogan's ability to make the business work. Hogan's first shipment of clubs entered the marketplace in late 1954.

"My vision was to establish a company to make the best golf clubs in the world. Anything less, in my estimation, would have disappointed the people who have supported me," Hogan said years later. "Over the years, my employees and I have struggled to accomplish that goal, and I'm very proud of what we together have achieved."

In 1955, the company's clubs were gaining prominence because of their outstanding quality. Hogan, who continued to play competitive golf until 1971, inspected every set that left the manufacturing plant. He saw one of his first sets later that year in the hands of Jack Fleck, who edged him in a play-off for what would have been Hogan's fifth U.S. Open title.

After expanding four times in the 1950's, Hogan sold his company to American Machine and Foundry Company in 1960. He kept his position of Chairman of the Board and Chief Operating Officer of AMF/Ben Hogan Golf Company, and continued to supervise the design, manufacturing and testing of the company's products.

By the mid-1970's, AMF/Ben Hogan Company had evolved under Hogan's direction into its present position as a manufacturer and marketer of golf balls, sportswear and accessories, in addition to golf clubs. The diversification attracted sports equipment conglomerate Minstar to make a successful bid for the company in 1984. And in 1988, the company became an independent business unit of Cosmo World Corporation, based in Los Angeles.

Through the corporate changes, Ben Hogan has preserved his vital role in the company, instilling in his employees the high standards for which his company has become well known. Today, as the Chairman of the Board, Hogan oversees a company that applies his design and manufacturing methods to what is widely recognized as the premier golf equipment in the world.

TRUCKS CREATE TOURNAMENT ATMOSPHERE

A major task of the 30 sites hosting 1991 Ben Hogan Tour events will be to create an environment for players and fans that is remarkably similar to that found at a Regular or Senior PGA TOUR event.

Leading the way in this effort will be the Tournament Services Truck which is operated by the PGA TOUR Promotions Department.

The staff has a customized 18-wheel tractor-trailer truck provided Ryder systems to carry equipment to each of the 30 tournament sites. PGA TOUR, Ben Hogan Tour, and Ryder corporate logos are featured on the vehicle which was prepared by the Winston-Salem, NC based J.D. Bruhn Special Event Productions. In addition to an air-conditioned room for the innovative computerized scoring system, the truck will house a storage area for leaderboards, walking standards, quiet signs, caddie bibs, flagsticks, radios and other equipment.

The Promotions Department will also supervise the training of volunteers at each tournament which is essential for the greenside scoring process, as well as the operation of other equipment carried on the truck.

The primary staff members handling these chores on the Tour will be Brian Goin, Matt Delaney, Chris Murray, and Lee Kaplan.

In addition to the main Tournament Services truck, the Ben Hogan Company will have it's fully/-equipped club repair van at some of the events. Skilled craftsmen from the Ben Hogan Company use state-of-the-art equipment to make club repairs, adjustments, or produce a club to exact specifications.

In attendance at each event will be the Ben Hogan Company merchandise truck. Designed as an "auxiliary pro shop," golf fans will be able to purchase items from a complete line of Ben Hogan Tour and Ben Hogan Company merchandise. Both Hogan Company trucks have also been donated by Ryder systems.

The Ben Hogan Tour will feature three tournament services trucks.

PGA TOUR PRODUCTIONS

After One Year, A Fixture in Jacksonville

PGA TOUR Productions, the in-house television and video production company of the PGA TOUR, has completed its first year in its new facilities in Jacksonville, Florida, after relocating from New York City.

The year has been extremely successful, culminating in the nomination of "Inside the PGA TOUR" for an ACE Award, cable's version of the Emmy, as Best Sports Anthology Show.

The establishment of a new facility in Jacksonville for PGA TOUR Productions unified all branches of the TOUR on Florida's First Coast, the five-county area including and surrounding Jacksonville. The National Headquarters of the PGA TOUR is located just southeast of Jacksonville in Ponte Vedra.

"The relocation to Jacksonville has had a tremendous impact on our business, and not just in terms of the economic advantages" said Ruffin Beckwith, Senior Vice President of PGA TOUR Productions. "The quality of life for our employees and the creative environment it provides have helped improve our product and shape a new reputation for the company."

Among the projects on the agenda for 1991 is a new show, "Inside the Senior PGA TOUR." It will also air on ESPN three times each week, for 39 consecutive weeks beginning in early February.

The PGA TOUR Productions van, centered out of Jacksonville, FL, covers TOUR events across the country.

PGA TOUR HISTORY BOOK NOW AVAILABLE

The History of the PGA TOUR, the definitive chronicle of the PGA TOUR's past, is now available in bookstores. This document, published by Doubleday, traces the PGA TOUR from its beginnings in 1916 through today.

All aspects of the game are covered, from the great courses on the TOUR to the memorable moments to the individuals that made the PGA TOUR what it is today.

And now, for the first time the PGA TOUR has compiled a detailed records section that ranks players by years, decades and careers. Only now can you see how the greats of the game stack up against each other—How Hogan compares to Nicklaus, or how Palmer and Snead match up.

Noted golf historian, Al Barkow, wrote the text that is certain to revive memories and present fans with many never-before-seen glimpses into this great game's past.

Also contained in the book are photographs of yesterday's legends along with the stars of the modern era.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE PGA TOUR

"The PGA TOUR is enjoying these days the healthiest period of its existence. The reasons are too numerous to mention here, but in the opinion of many, including myself, the PGA TOUR is one of the last true forms of capitalism left in the world of sports today. Everyone starts out at zero the first of the year, and in the most literal sense, everyone starts out the same each week...One is merely paid for performance on the professional golf tour, and that may be one of the reasons it is held in such high esteem by the public. We as players, along with administrators, must endeavor to protect this idea forever."

From the forward by Ben Crenshaw in the recently published Doubleday book, The History of the PGA TOUR, by Al Barkow.

It is not always easy to discover the exact beginning of something. So it is with the PGA TOUR. Certainly, there were professionals who competed against each other from the earliest days of the game.

Then on New Year's Day, 1895, ten professional golfers played 36 holes of stroke play and competed for money. The total purse was $150 and the winner took home $75. Due to the fact that a large gallery had come to witness the event, the New York Times covered the tournament. Shortly thereafter, tournaments began to pop up across the country. There was the Western Open in 1899. But this was not "tour" golf. The events lacked continuity.

Interest in the game, however, continued to grow. American professionals were rapidly improving and when John McDermott became the first home-bred to win the U.S. Open, enthusiasm for the game blossomed.

Helping this growth was a commercially backed "tour" by Englishmen Harry Vardon and Ted Ray. The duo travelled across the country and attracted good crowds wherever they stopped during the warmer months of 1913. However, the biggest explosion for the game occurred that September. A 20-year old "local boy", Francis Ouimet, defeated the pair in a playoff for the United States Open Championship at Brookline, MA. Suddenly, golf became front page news and a game for everyone.

In the early Twenties, the PGA TOUR could have seen its first development. Tournaments were held on the West Coast, Texas and Florida. These events were held in the winter and the golfers played their way east and up to Pinehurst in the spring. By the middle of the decade, the Tour was doing relatively well--offering $77,000 in total. What's more, resorts, hotels and Chambers of Commerce began to realize the publicity value professional golf brought to their facilities. Names like Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Bobby Jones became folk heroes.

In the thirties, The TOUR continued to grow. The PGA of America was providing support and despite the nation's financial woes during the period, golf tournaments continued to attract good crowds. It is interesting to look back at some figures of the time. Paul Runyan was the leading money winner of 1934 with $6,767. Last year, the top two money winners-- Greg Norman and Wayne Levi-- each earned over $1 million.

The names of the golfers continued to become household words. In the late 1930's and early 1940's Sam Snead's name started to appear in the headlines with regularity. Then came Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and others who were beginning to gain nationwide fame.

The TOUR became more structured following World War II and then exploded in the late 1950's and early 60's. Flip through the Facts and Figures section of this TOUR Book and look at such areas as leading money winners and growth of tournament purses to witness the sudden and continuing growth.

Once television became a player in the game, the eyes of the world were on golf. This exposure inspired millions to try the game and at the same time, TV rights fees sent purses soaring. The bulk of these rights fees, which are distributed by the PGA TOUR to all co-sponsors, have gone back into the purses, accounting for the tripling of prize money in the last decade.

The touring professionals began to gain some control of the TOUR in late 1968. Joseph C. Dey was the first commissioner of what was then called the Tournament Players Division. He served from early 1969 through February 28, 1974 and was succeeded by Deane R. Beman, who took office March 1, 1974.

During the Beman administration, the value of tournament purses has escalated at an unprecedented rate; PGA TOUR assets have grown from $730,000 in 1974 to nearly $129 million today, and total revenues have increased from $3.9 million to over $140 million in the same time period.

Since 1938 PGA TOUR events have donated over $165 million dollars to charity. Each of the last 14 years have seen charitable contributions increase dramatically, to the point where over $100 million has been donated since 1984. The slogan, "The leading money winner on the PGA TOUR is Charity," is definitely not just a catch phrase.

The competitive scope of the PGA TOUR is also much broader today. The Senior PGA TOUR is considered by many as the sports success story of the 1980's. Last year, the PGA TOUR, with the help of the Ben Hogan Company and PGA of America sections, added another addition to its family. Named for one of golf's greats, the Ben Hogan Tour was created to help golfers sharpen their skills with hopes of earning a place on either the PGA TOUR or the Senior PGA TOUR.

Also continuing to grow is the Tournament Players Club Network. When the PGA TOUR opened the Tournament Players Club at Sawgrass in 1980, it beckoned the era of Stadium Golf. Owned and operated by the TOUR, the concept means these courses are the only major league sports arenas owned by the players themselves.

The TPC Network has expanded to 14 clubs in cities across the world, with more clubs in either the construction or the planning stages.

Five years ago the PGA TOUR opened its first Family Golf Center in Clearwater, FL, and the TOUR has constructed municipal courses for Jacksonville, FL and Miami, FL. This, and other concepts, are expected to mature with the PGA TOUR.

BEN HOGAN TOUR, SCHOLARSHIPS BENEFIT COMMUNITIES

The inaugural season of the Ben Hogan Tour provided hundreds of talented golfers with an opportunity to hone their skills in a competitive environment as they waited for the chance to propel their careers to golf's highest level, the PGA TOUR.

However, they were not the only ones to benefit as the 30 Ben Hogan Tour events generated funds for local charitable organizations and scholarships.

"We are pleased that the success of the Ben Hogan Tour enables students to further their education, said Deane R. Beman, PGA TOUR Commissioner. "After only one season, Ben Hogan Tour events have already begun paying dividends in the communities where they are held. "It's a positive situation for everyone as charity becomes the leading money winner on the Ben Hogan Tour, just as it is on the Regular PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR," Beman explained.

Beneficiaries of tournament proceeds ranged from the Boys and Girls Club in Knoxville, TN to retarded citizens groups in Yuma, AZ. PGA of America Sections also shared with additional funds for junior golf programs and Ben Hogan Scholarships.

The college scholarships, funded by a minimum of $5,000 in proceeds from each of the individual tournaments, are awarded to students on the basis of scholastic standing, leadership, and citizenship. They are presented in the name of Ben Hogan, the legendary professional golfer whose Fort Worth, TX-based golf company sponsors the Ben Hogan Tour.

"There aren't many ways that we can contribute to a community that are more meaningful than investing in its youth," said David B. Hueber, Ben Hogan Company president and chief executive officer. "We hope this financial assistance inspires young people to pursue their activities in the classroom and on the golf course with a passion characteristic of Mr. Hogan," Hueber added.

MEDIA REGULATIONS

THE GENERAL REGULATIONS

The following regulations are to be followed by all members of the Media:

1. An ARM BAND is necessary to walk inside the galley ropes. Remain not more than an arm's length from the ropes, so as to blend into the gallery and appear to be a part of the gallery at all times.
2. Players are not to be distracted during play. DO NOT interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their round.
3. DO NOT interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their practice sessions prior to their round except by prior arrangement with the player.
4. If an interview is to be conducted in the practice areas, either the range or the putting green, it must be done by PRIOR ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PLAYER and up against the ropes and NOT in the middle of the areas where it could be distracting to other players.
5. DO NOT disturb players at their 18th green and/or scoring tent until after they have checked, signed and returned their scorecards.

WORKING PRESS REGULATIONS

To avoid embarrassment to you and distraction to the contestants:

1. Do not walk or stand in playing areas.
2. Follow directions of marshals and other officials.
3. Do not interview during play. The leading players each day—and others requested—will be interviewed following their rounds in the Press Room interview area.

TAPE RECORDER REGULATIONS

1. All tape recorder work should be done in the proximity of the Press Room and/or Clubhouse.
2. Tape recorders are NOT permitted in the locker room.
3. Tape recorders are NOT permitted within the playing area of the golf course unless written permission has been granted from the PGA TOUR and/or the tournament sponsor.

RAIN DELAY GUIDELINES

1. During rain delay situations, NO ONE other than players and essential staff will be permitted in the locker room. This means the Media is not permitted in the locker room in such situations. However, whenever possible, arrangements will be made to provide players for interviews during such situations.
2. Fully accredited members of the news media WILL BE WELCOMED into the locker room at all other times to carry out their assigned duties. (Note: Cameras and tape recorders are NOT permitted.)

This Tournament is essentially for the players and spectators. Fair play requires that there be no noise or other distractions. The interests of all others must be subordinated to the players interests. The result of any one shot could decide the Tournament.

Only ACCREDITED PHOTOGRAPHERS for RECOGNIZED NEWS MEDIA will be permitted to take pictures during the Tournament. Photo assistants may be issued a credential, but not photo arm bands for access inside the ropes. Photography will be restricted to news use. Commercial and personal photography is prohibited (except that spectators may take pictures on practice days and during a ProAm). Free lance photographers shooting on speculation will NOT BE ACCREDITED.

The following regulations apply to accredited news and television photographers and videotape cameramen as a condition of the privilege of taking pictures:

PHOTOGRAPHY REGULATIONS

GENERAL—ALL PHOTOGRAPHERS

- A photographer must not ask a player to pose or in any way verbally distract a player during a round.
- If a player or an official requests that no photographs be taken in a certain situation, the request must be honored immediately, without discussion.
- A camera must not be pointed at a player about to make a stroke in any manner which might tend to disturb him or distract his attention.
- At the 9th and the 18th greens, photographers must not approach, delay or distract a player until he has checked, signed and returned his scorecard to the proper official. Under the Rules of Golf, a player turning in an incorrect scorecard in stroke play may be disqualified.
- Cameras are not permitted in the locker room.
- Use of golf carts or other means of transportation on the course during tournament play is prohibited.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS

- Only still photographers to whom armbands have been issued will be permitted inside gallery ropes. They must station themselves immediately inside such ropes, and not more than an ARM'S LENGTH FROM THE ROPES, so as to blend into the gallery and appear to be part of the gallery. They must not take conspicuous positions in the open. Any photographer who violates this regulation will forfeit the right to working inside the ropes and possibly to work at the tournament.
- Close-up action shots are prohibited.
- All pictures must be taken at appreciable distances, as far from the players as possible and from angles which are not acute to the line of play.
- When working at a green, photographers must not position themselves directly in a player's putting line.
- Pictures, even from a distance, may not be made until the player has completed his stroke. The photographer must not release his camera shutter until the shot is made.

TELEVISION/VIDEOTAPE CAMERAMEN

- Television and videotape filming may be done from inside the gallery ropes, or from areas approved by the PGA TOUR. All camera personnel who have been issued PHOTO armbands will be permitted inside the gallery lines but this does not include other members of the crew. Camera personnel must station themselves immediately inside the gallery lines, not more than an arm's length from those lines, so as to blend into the gallery. They must not take conspicuous positions in the open.
- Filming may be done from such locations during a player's stroke, provided modern equipment that produces a minimum of noise is used.
- Post-round interviews must be filmed far enough away from the arena of play to eliminate the possibility of distraction to those competing.

Difficulties will be avoided if photographers are fair and will treat players as they themselves would wish to be treated in similar circumstances.

The cooperation of all photographers will be appreciated.

Winner, 1980 Texas State Junior. 1982 American Junior Golf Association All-American. 1982 Texas State High School (5-A) Champion. 1986 Morris Williams Intercollegiate Champion. 1986 NCAA All-American. Winner, 1988 and 1990 Texas State Open. Winner, 1989 Louisiana Open. Winner, 1989 Malaysian Open on the Asian Tour. Winner, 1990 Vines Classic on the Australian Tour.

The most consistent performer last season on the Ben Hogan Tour was also the leading money winner, Jeff Maggert. He finished in the Top 25 on 17 occasions and posted two victories. In addition, Maggert led the Ben Hogan Tour in scoring with an average of 70.02 in 62 rounds.

Because of a lackluster performance in the finals of the qualifying tournament, Maggert was not a fully-exempt player on the Ben Hogan Tour at the beginning of the 1990 season.

"I wasn't assured of getting into the field for the first couple of tournaments, he explained, "so I decided to go overseas and play. It was this type of drive and desire that led Maggert to journey to Australia early in the year where he gained valuable experience.

"Playing overseas really helped me. I was down there with a lot of good players. However, it wasn't long before I began hearing other players talk about how the Ben Hogan Tour gives you an opportunity to improve your game in a competitive environment similar to that of the Regular PGA TOUR," he said.

Making it onto the PGA TOUR was Maggert's lifelong goal, so he decided to return to the United States and pursue his dream on the Ben Hogan Tour.

He took advantage of his first opportunity as his steady play led him to a 16th place finish in the South Texas Open. From there, Maggert missed only two cuts in the remaining events to become the first and only Ben Hogan Tour player to surpass the $100,000 mark in earnings.

Maggert posted his first win in the Knoxville Open when he eagled the first hole in a sudden death playoff. His second victory came in the Buffalo Open when he calmly rolled in a 15-foot putt for birdie on the first extra hole of a sudden death playoff.

"I've gained a lot of experience this year in performing when the pressure is on, he said. "I feel like I can do well when I need to because of the number of times I've been in similar situations with positive results."

Although confident, he was surprised at his success on the Ben Hogan Tour. "I expected to play well," Maggert said, "but I honestly exceeded my expectations. I've gained a tremendous amount of experience and feel that I'm now prepared to compete on the PGA TOUR."

Maggert capped off a storybook season when he was recognized as the 1990 Ben Hogan Tour Player of the Year.

"It's quite an honor to receive the inaugural award," Maggert said. "Because the award is voted on by other players on the Ben Hogan Tour, it increases the significance of it for me. I feel fortunate to have been singled out because there are so many good players."

Jim McGovern

EXEMPT STATUS: 2nd on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list

FULL NAME: James David McGovern

HEIGHT: 6'2"

WEIGHT: 195

BIRTH DATE: Feb. 2, 1965 BIRTHPLACE: Teaneck, NJ

RESIDENCE: Oradell, NJ

COLLEGE: Old Dominion

SPECIAL INTERESTS: All sports

TURNED PROFESSIONAL: 1988

TOUR VICTORIES: 1990 Ben Hogan Lake City Classic, Ben Hogan New Haven Open, Ben Hogan Texarkana Open
(TOTAL: 3)

MONEY & POSITION: 1990--$99,841--2

1990 SUMMARY: Tournaments entered--29; in money--23; top ten finishes--7; stroke average--71.20

OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS: Finished 2nd on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list with $99,841. Winner, 1990 Ben Hogan Lake City Classic, Ben Hogan New Haven Open, Ben Hogan Texarkana Open. Winner, 1987 Metropolitan Open. Winner, 1988 Metropolitan Amateur, 1987 Virginia State Intercollegiate champion, 1983 High School All-American.

Jim McGovern's road to the 1991 PGA TOUR was difficult because he wasn't guaranteed of playing on the Ben Hogan Tour at the beginning of the 1990 season. Struggling with continual putting problems, McGovern was unsuccessful in gaining his card at the PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament and could finish no better than an alternate spot in the Ben Hogan Tour Qualifying Tournament. He was forced to wait until the player commitment deadline each week to see if he was included in the tournament field.

It was not until he won the Lake City Classic that the Oradell, New Jersey resident began to turn his career around. In addition to the $20,000 first place check, his victory provided him with an exemption into the remaining tournaments.

"It was the biggest thing that has happened in my life," McGovern said of the win. "The Ben Hogan Tour provided me with a chance to prove that I could play against top caliber competition and I took advantage of that opportunity."

McGovern combined seven birdies with an eagle enroute to firing a course record 63, finishing the 54-hole tournament tied for the lead at 14-under par. He then defeated David Toms on the fourth playoff hole for the victory.

Playing in 29 of 30 Ben Hogan Tour events last season, he also posted impressive victories in the Texarkana Open and in the New Haven Open at the prestigious Yale Golf Club.

In addition, his aggressive style enabled him to lead the Ben Hogan Tour in birdies with 292.

"The biggest thing I learned this year was that you have to give yourself a lot of chances to score," McGovern said. "Watching some of the best players in the world manage their game around a golf course was an educational experience in itself."

McGovern was first exposed to the game when his parents bought a house adjacent to the Hackensack Golf Club in New Jersey.

"Even though my dad was a member," he said, "I wasn't allowed on the course because of the minimum age restriction. But that changed, when, during a storm, a tree fell onto the fence behind our house. After that, my brothers and I were able to walk across the tree and onto the course where we hit balls until late at night."

From that point on, Jim McGovern's life has evolved around the game of golf.

"When I was nine years old, my brother Rob, who is a linebacker in the NFL, accidentally hit me in the mouth with a nine-iron, McGovern remembered. "Although I had to have 14 teeth replaced, he was so scared our parents would be upset with him that he ran away for for a full day."

Dick Mast

EXEMPT STATUS: 3rd on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list

FULL NAME: Richard Lyle Mast

HEIGHT: 5'11"

WEIGHT: 180

BIRTH DATE: March 23, 1951 BIRTHPLACE: Bluffton, OH

RESIDENCE: Orlando, FL

FAMILY: Wife, Roberta; Richard (4/9/79); Josh (4/1/83);
Jonathan (3/14/89); Jacob (12/5/90).

COLLEGE: St. Petersburg Junior College

SPECIAL INTERESTS: TOUR Bible study group, fishing, water skiing.

TURNED PROFESSIONAL: 1972

TOUR VICTORIES: 1990 Ben Hogan Gulf Coast Classic, Ben Hogan Pensacola Open, Ben Hogan Fort Wayne Open
(TOTAL: 3)

MONEY & POSITION: 1990--$ 92,521--3

PGA TOUR CAREER EARNINGS: $358,057

1990 SUMMARY: Tournaments entered--20; in money--15; top ten finishes--7; stroke average--70.91.

OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS: Finished third on the 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list with $92,521. Winner, 1990 Ben Hogan Gulf Coast Classic, Ben Hogan Pensacola Open, Ben Hogan Fort Wayne Open. Set record score of 32-under-par 256 during 1985 Regional Qualifying Tournament on par 72 Palmdale course in Sarasota, FL. He had a final round of 60. Winner of more than 25 mini-tour events.

At the beginning of the 1990 season, Dick Mast was unsure if the road back to golf's highest level led through the cities hosting Ben Hogan Tour events.

"Early in the year, my first thoughts were to get back onto the PGA TOUR as quick as possible, he said. "I was going to try Monday Qualifying on the PGA TOUR and hope that a few sponsors would give me an exemption into their tournament. However, after playing in my first Ben Hogan Tour event, I decided to play the entire season because of the organized and efficient way that the tournaments are conducted. I am extremely glad that we had the Ben Hogan Tour because it gave me an opportunity to hone my game in a competitive environment."

Mast's Regular PGA TOUR experience enabled him to make an early impact on the Ben Hogan Tour. After missing the cut at the South Texas Open, he finished tied for second in the Baton Rouge Open. The very next week, Mast notched his first of three wins of the year at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Classic.

"Financially, it was like someone had lifted a great burden off of my shoulders," he explained. "We were struggling and I thought about getting a sponsor but my wife wanted me to wait just a little longer, and her advice paid off. The win was also a great confidence booster for me because of my strong finish in the last round. I knew what I had to shoot, and I went out and did it."

After adding victories in the Pensacola Open and the Fort Wayne Open, Mast became the first Ben Hogan Tour player to clinch his 1991 PGA TOUR card. However, he doesn't feel he's reached his potential as a player.

"I can't adequately express the confidence that I've gotten this year or the relief I felt in not having to return to the Qualifying Tournament. I've had a funny career in that I've been successful on the mini-tours and I have had some success on the Ben Hogan Tour. Now I want to accomplish these same things next year on the PGA TOUR."

Mike Springer

EXEMPT STATUS: 4th on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list

FULL NAME: Michael Paul Springer

HEIGHT: 5'11"

WEIGHT: 210

BIRTH DATE: Nov. 3, 1965

BIRTHPLACE: San Francisco, CA

RESIDENCE: Fresno, CA

FAMILY: Wife, Crystol.

COLLEGE: Arizona

SPECIAL INTERESTS: Hunting, skiing

TURNED PROFESSIONAL: 1988

TOUR VICTORIES: 1990 Ben Hogan Bakersfield Open, Ben Hogan Reno Open, Ben Hogan El Paso Open
(TOTAL: 3)

MONEY & POSITION: 1990--82,906--4

1990 SUMMARY: Tournaments entered--27; in money--12; top ten finishes--6; stroke average--72.06.

OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS: Finished 4th on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list with $82,906. Winner, 1990 Ben Hogan Bakersfield Open, Ben Hogan Reno Open, Ben Hogan El Paso Open. 1986-1988 NCAA Second Team All-American. Winner, John Burns Invitational. Winner, Fresno State Classic. Winner, 1986 California State Amateur.

Although there were a lot of good young players on the Ben Hogan Tour, none made an impact faster than Mike Springer. The former University of Arizona star posted a two-stroke victory in the Bakersfield Open, the inaugural event on the Ben Hogan Tour.

Eleven players were within three strokes of the lead as Sunday's final round began. Atop the leaderboard was Springer, who had injured his hand earlier in the week when he hit 300 consecutive range balls during a practice session. Springer fired a one-under par 71, one of only eight sub-par rounds recorded on the bitterly cold day, and held off a late charge from Dave Tentis to win.

"Looking back, the fact that there will never be another first winner made that tournament special for me," said Springer. "I will always remember Bakersfield as the place that got me started."

After suffering a mid-season slump, Springer bounced back with a four-stroke victory in the Reno Open.

"I hit it good and didn't give the tournament away," he said. "I had been in contention several times since Bakersfield but just couldn't bring the round into the clubhouse." Three straight birdies on Northgate Golf Club's back nine were the turning point for Springer. An eagle 3 on the final hole tied the course record of seven-under par 65 and the $20,000 first place check put him in a distant 10th place on the Ben Hogan Tour money list going into the final tournament of the season.

In the El Paso Open, Springer fired a final round 65 to post a dramatic two-shot victory and vault the Fresno, CA, resident into fourth place on the final money list and onto the 1991 Regular PGA TOUR.

"I was the last guy on the list with a chance to get my card," Springer said, "so I knew just what I had to do -- win. That was the one goal I had in mind. Nothing else was good enough. I began the final round trying to play one shot at a time and ended up hitting the grand slam."

It was a performance that would have made even the legendary Ben Hogan proud.

Ed Humenik

EXEMPT STATUS: 5th on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list

FULL NAME: Edward Francis Humenik

HEIGHT: 5'11"

WEIGHT: 210

BIRTH DATE: June 29, 1959 BIRTHPLACE: Detroit, MI

RESIDENCE: Hobe Sound, FL

FAMILY: Wife, Lori; Nancy (9/24/84); Ed Jr. (5/12/90)

COLLEGE: Michigan (1983)

SPECIAL INTERESTS: Basketball and fishing

TURNED PROFESSIONAL: 1984

TOUR VICTORIES: 1990 Ben Hogan Macon Open, Ben Hogan (TOTAL: 2) Santa Rosa Open

MONEY & POSITION: 1990--$78,753--5

PGA TOUR CAREER EARNINGS: $46,384

1990 SUMMARY: Tournaments entered--21; in money--16; top ten finishes--8; stroke average--70.79

OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS: Finished 5th on 1990 Ben Hogan Tour money list. Winner, 1990 Ben Hogan Macon Open, Ben Hogan Santa Rosa Open. Led 1989 PGA TOUR in driving distance with an average of 280.9 yards. Winner, 1988 Michigan Open, Winner, 1988 Michigan Match Play, 1988 Michigan Player of the Year, Winner of three mini-tour events, Quarterfinalist, 1982 U.S. Amateur.

Ed Humenik achieved the goal that all aspiring professional golfers dream about when he got his PGA TOUR card in 1989. Competing against the best golfers in the world, he played in 30 events, making the cut in 11 and narrowly missing nine more by a single stroke. In addition, he won the PGA TOUR Driving Distance category with a 280.9 yard average. However, he finished the season in 168th position on the PGA TOUR money list in 1989, not good enough to achieve exempt status in 1990.

After missing the cut in the 1989 PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament due to an illness, Humenik was relegated to sponsor exemptions and open qualifying. But it didn't take the Hobe Sound, FL, resident long to realize that the Ben Hogan Tour may be the next best thing to being on the PGA TOUR.

After open qualifying in the Gateway Open in Fort Myers, Humenik finished tied for ninth and was exempt into the next week's event. He entered the Macon Open and claimed first prize with an 11-under-par performance that earned him an exemption into the remaining Ben Hogan Tour events.

With strong second place finishes in the Quicksilver Open and New York Classic, he sealed his top five position with a victory in the Santa Rosa Open.

"The wins in Macon and Santa Rosa meant a lot to me, Humenik said, "because it put me closer to my goal of returning to the Regular PGA TOUR without going through the qualifying tournament.

Humenik's length off the tee is his calling card as evidenced by his 1989 driving distance statistics. On the Ben Hogan Tour, he learned to use the driver to his advantage by setting up his approach shots into the greens.

"With my irons, I'm probably a club shorter than most of the guys on TOUR, said Humenik. "But with my driver, I'm quite a bit longer. I was paired with Seve Ballesteros in the 1989 U.S. Open and, with the driver, we were close in length, but with the irons he was slightly more than a club longer."

Humenik's study in course management on the 1990 Ben Hogan Tour enabled him to begin this year on a positive note.

"It feels great to be one identified as one of the top players on the Ben Hogan Tour. The competition at each tournament was beneficial for my game and I feel fortunate to have been a part of the inaugural season."
