CHAMPIONS TOUR 25

1980 – 2005

Introduction

On behalf of the players and staff of the Champions Tour, welcome to the 2005 season and our 25th anniversary celebration, something all of us are looking forward to.

We wish to thank our friends in the media, some of whom have been covering our players and tournaments since 1980, for your ongoing interest in the Champions Tour. You are the critical link in our efforts to tell the stories of our players, tournaments and Tour. The Champions Tour staff enjoys providing service to all members of the media and reminds you to always feel free to pick up the phone or send an e-mail when the need arises.

The Champions Tour is coming off a very successful 2004 campaign, capped by the Charles Schwab Cup being decided on the final hole of the final round of the season-ending championship. Hale Irwin captured the Cup by a mere 39 points over Craig Stadler in easily the closest race in its four-year history. Stadler, however, walked off with three honors of his own—the Jack Nicklaus Trophy as the Player of the Year, the Arnold Palmer Award as leading money winner and the Byron Nelson Award as scoring leader. Mark McNulty was named Rookie of the Year on the strength of two season-ending wins and three on the year, in a very close competition with Peter Jacobsen, Mark James and Jerry Pate.

Almost half of our tournaments, 13, were won by players age 55 and older, helping dispel the theory that players hit “the wall” in their mid-50s. Dana Quigley’s amazing streak of consecutive starts in tournaments for which he’s been eligible reached 262 at the end of the 2004 season. Attendance, up 10 percent in 2003, jumped nearly another 10 percent in 2004. And last November three members of the Champions Tour family, Isao Aoki, Tom Kite and Charlie Sifford, received golf’s highest honor, induction into the World Golf Hall of Fame. All in all, it was a great year on the Champions Tour.

There is much to look forward to in 2005, with the 25th anniversary as the backdrop. A year-long celebration will feature a variety of activities honoring those responsible for the development and growth of the Tour and highlighting the great moments they gave us. Curtis Strange, Greg Norman, Loren Roberts and Scott Simpson, among others, turn 50 during the year. Golf’s freshest, most unique new event, The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart, will once again captivate golf fans of all ages.

Spectators and TV viewers will continue to enjoy the Tour’s “Fan Features” that have truly allowed them inside the ropes, perks available nowhere else in sports. Activities such as Honorary Observers, Caddie For A Day, Gallery In The Fairway, live television interviews, behind-the-scene tours and more have been extremely popular with our fans.

The Tour’s 2005 schedule features more continuity and strength than ever before, with minimal sponsor and host-site changes. The Tour welcomes a new event near Seattle, and the Turtle Bay Championship in Hawaii returns with a January date to augment the season-opening MasterCard Championship. With total prize money approaching $51 million, the average tournament purse grows to a record $1.8 million. The Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions program will include five events, plus its season-ending Championship.

With its $2.1-million annuity prize fund, the Charles Schwab Cup promises another down-to-the-wire finish and a fitting climax to the 25th anniversary season.

Of particular importance is The Golf Channel’s ongoing partnership with the Champions Tour. The network, now available in more than 70-million homes, provides significant promotional value as evidenced by its approximately 450 hours of exclusive live tournament coverage and re-airs, plus many more hours of ancillary programming.

Charity has been at the heart of the Champions Tour over our first 25 years and will continue to be so over the next 25. In the meantime, the Champions Tour, in conjunction with the PGA TOUR and Nationwide Tour and their respective tournaments, is very proud to be on track to reach the $1-billion mark in total charitable contributions, dating back to 1938, within the next two years.

So the Champions Tour’s past, its present and even its future will be in the spotlight this year. We hope to see you out on Tour often in 2005. It’s going to be a very special season!

Sincerely,

Timothy W. Finchem

We Are The PGA TOUR

The name of our organization is the PGA TOUR, a tax-exempt membership group of professional golfers that plays more than 100 official money tournaments on three Tours – the PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour. Our headquarters are located in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL, southeast of Jacksonville.

We should never be referred to as the PGA as we are a different organization than the PGA (of America). We are the PGA TOUR. On second reference, you can call us the TOUR.

The PGA is the Professional Golfers' Association of America, a membership organization for the nation's club professionals. The PGA runs the PGA Championship, Senior PGA Championship and Ryder Cup Matches, among other championships. The PGA headquarters are located in Palm Beach Gardens, FL.

The PGA TOUR and PGA of America were affiliated until 1968, when the tournament players, a small subset of the total PGA membership, broke away to form the Tournament Players Division and gain more control of their finances and tournament schedule. The Tournament Players Division was renamed the PGA TOUR in 1975. While the two organizations still work closely together today, the PGA TOUR and PGA of America are separate entities.

Two other American golf organizations are involved in men's professional tournament play, independent of the PGA TOUR but with their marquee events included on the PGA TOUR schedule as non-PGA TOUR cosponsored tournaments. The United States Golf Association, with headquarters in Far Hills, NJ, oversees the national championships (U.S. Open, U.S. Senior Open, U.S. Amateur, U.S. Women's Amateur, etc.) and administers the Rules of Golf, among other duties. The Augusta (GA) National Golf Club plays host to the Masters Tournament. The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland oversees the British Open, each non-TOUR cosponsored tournaments, and administers the world's golf rules jointly with the USGA.

The Champions Tour, celebrating its 25th anniversary, will continue to combine extremely competitive golf for champions of the game age 50 and older with a fan-friendly platform that promotes "inside the ropes" and game-improvement for its fans. The Nationwide Tour grows as a virtual extension of the PGA TOUR. Through 2004, more than 150 PGA TOUR tournaments have been won by former Nationwide Tour players.

Charles Schwab Cup

Close doesn't even begin to describe the 2004 Charles Schwab Cup race. With a $1-million annuity as the top prize, the outcome was not decided until the final group of the final round of the year reached the 18th green at the Sonoma (CA) Golf Club in the Charles Schwab Cup Championship. As the leaders came down the stretch, the computer operators were working overtime on the possible computations of Cup leader Hale Irwin and his two nearest rivals, Craig Stadler and Tom Kite.

Entering the final day, Irwin held the slimmest of leads, 39 points, over Stadler. With triple points on the line, Kite stood to win the Cup if Irwin and Stadler finished worse than fifth. That scenario was very much in play on Sunday morning. Teeing off Kite held a two-shot lead in the Championship. Irwin was in good shape three back but awoke Sunday not knowing if he'd be able to play when a nagging neck injury flared up. Stadler was lurking in a tie for ninth.

As the day progressed, Kite faltered, shooting 40 on the front nine, while the previous week's winner, Mark McNulty, came firing out of the pack. Needing birdie on the final hole to force a playoff with McNulty, Kite attacked the back left flag and missed the green. He settled for a par and walked off knowing he had let both the Charles Schwab Cup Championship and the Cup slip away despite a valiant incoming nine of 32. Meanwhile, Irwin had somehow held it together to shoot 75, and Stadler, unable to get anything going on the greens, a 70. Both finished tied for seventh, allowing Irwin to maintain his 39-point edge and win the Charles Schwab Cup for the second time.

"This is why we do it," Irwin said after Charles Schwab presented him the Cup after play. "You can talk about the money, which is great. It really is. But putting this up in your trophy case means as much to me as the trophy Mark (McNulty) just won. The Charles Schwab Cup holds a great deal of significance to all of the players on the Champions Tour.

"I really didn't expect to be here with the Cup in my possession," the World Golf Hall of Fame member continued. "It was a very long day, and during the course of the day, very disappointing. There was little to cheer about, so I guess I'm just sort of in a mild state of shock. I worked with the Stryker Physiotherapy guys all morning but still didn't know if I could play. I didn't have a good warm-up session. I played football hurt. You kind of expect that, but I've never played golf this uncomfortable before."

Fuzzy Zoeller (three weeks), Dana Quigley (one week) and Gil Morgan (seven consecutive weeks) joined Irwin and Stadler as the only players to hold the top spot in 2004.

2004 Charles Schwab Cup champion Hale Irwin

The Charles Schwab Cup is a season-long championship points-based program designed to identify the Champions Tour's leading player. The program rewards both top finishes week in and week out at all 30 official/Charles Schwab Cup events. Points are awarded to the top-10 finishers and ties and are based on the money distribution for each tournament, with every $1,000 earned being the equivalent of one Charles Schwab Cup point. Points were tripled at the Champions Tour's five major championships in 2004 (see note below about change for 2005) and the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship.

The Charles Schwab Cup offers $2.1 million in annuities to its five leading finishers at season's end.

Overview

Formerly the Senior PGA Tour, the Champions Tour is a tax-exempt membership organization of professional golfers age 50 and older. Since its inception in 1980, with just four sanctioned events and purses totaling $475,000, the Champions Tour has 28 official Charles Schwab Cup events offering more than $50.4 million (minimum) in official prize money in 2005 and its highest average purse ever of $1.8 million. The Tour has an additional lineup of four Challenge/unofficial-money events that are played in February, November and December. The Champions Tour operates under the umbrella of the PGA TOUR, which includes the PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour. The Champions Tour's primary purpose as a component of the PGA TOUR is to provide significant competitive and earnings opportunities for players age 50 and older; to protect the integrity of the game and to help grow the reach of the game in the U.S. and around the world. In addition to providing competitive opportunities for its membership, Champions Tour events also generate significant sums of money for charity.

History

1980 – 2005. The Tour celebrates its 25th anniversary in 2005 with a series of activities, events and promotions. The celebration was launched last September with the Atlantic City Commemorative presented by MasterCard at Atlantic City (NJ) Country Club, site of the first Champions Tour event.

Charity

Champions Tour events generate significant sums of money for charity. The three Tours of the PGA TOUR and their tournaments have generated more than $900 million for charity since the first recorded donation was made in 1938, with more than $80 million raised in 2004.

2005 Schedule

Twenty-eight official Charles Schwab Cup events, plus a lineup of four Challenge/unofficial events that are played in February, November and December. The 2005 Champions Tour plays in 18 states in the U.S., plus Northern Ireland.

Major Championships (5)

Ford Senior Players Championship, JELD-WEN Tradition, Senior British Open Championship, Senior PGA Championship and U.S. Senior Open Championship.

Prize Money

$50.3 million (minimum) – Official Charles Schwab Cup (28 events)

$5.5 million (minimum) – Challenge/Unofficial (4 events)

Charles Schwab Cup

The Charles Schwab Cup, designed to recognize the Champions Tour's leading player, rewards week-in/week-out top finishes and consistency in all official-money events. Players receive points for top-10 finishes and ties based on each week's money distribution, with $1,000 earned being the equivalent of one Charles Schwab Cup point. Double points are awarded at the five major championships, and triple points are available at the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship. The program offers $2.1 million in annuity payouts to its five leading performers. Hale Irwin won the Cup in 2004 for the second time in its four-year history.

Size of Field

The field size for Champions Tour events is 78 players, except at those tournaments that have specific eligibility criteria.

Eligibility

In order to be eligible for an official Champions Tour event, a player must be at least 50 years of age prior to his first tournament obligation. The field size at the majority of Champions Tour events in 2004 will be 78 players with the following eligibility requirements:

- 1) 30 players – Available from Prior-Year Money List, floor of 50
- 2) 30 players – Available from All-Time Money List (not exempt in No. 1), floor of net 70
- 3) 4 players – PGA TOUR Career Victory Category, ages 50 and 51 (not exempt in No. 1 or No. 2)
- 4) 7 players – Available from National Qualifying Tournament (replaced by Reorder Category in August)
- 5) 5 players – Invited by the Tournament
 - Two spots restricted: players with one PGA TOUR or Champions Tour win and Veteran Member status
 - Three spots unrestricted
- 6) 2 players – Open Qualifying

The National Qualifying Tournament National Finals (six rounds/108 holes), held annually in November, will be played at the PGA Southern California Golf Course (Champions Course) in Calimesa, CA, this year. The top seven players earn fully-exempt status and the next eight conditionally-exempt status. The Finals are preceded by regional qualifiers.

Membership

Champions Tour members hail from around the globe. In 2005, 21 international players have full or partial Tour exemptions. Twelve countries are represented, including Argentina, Australia, Canada, England, Ireland, Japan, New Zealand, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Spain, United States and Zimbabwe.

World Golf Hall of Fame Members

Fan Features

Initiated in 2003, the Champions Tour's Fan Features are designed to give the Tour a distinct identity and complement the high level of skill displayed by its members in tournament play. The Champions Tour seeks to be the most approachable, accessible and fan-friendly arena, not only in golf, but in all of sports. In just two years, the program has had significant impact as evidenced by the positive feedback received weekly from tournament promoters, sponsors and fans, with players going out of their way to support the program. Fan Features include live television interviews during play, gallery in the fairway, honorary observers, caddie for a day, player Q&A sessions, behind the scenes tours, a game-improvement platform, and much more.

TV

The Golf Channel is the exclusive cable television home of the Champions Tour through 2008. It will provide three-day coverage of 21 54-hole events, plus four-day coverage of the JELD-WEN Tradition and Friday/Saturday coverage of The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart. The Golf Channel will also re-air all telecasts the same day, often in prime time. ABC, CBS and NBC will televise six official events, thus all 28 official Champions Tour events, plus the four Challenge events, will be on television in the United States. The coverage summary of the 28 official Charles Schwab Cup tournaments is as follows:

CBS	1

Note: The Golf Channel and NBC provide Friday/Saturday and Sunday coverage, respectively, of The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart.

The Champions Tour and The Golf Channel enter the second year of an agreement whereby The Golf Channel is the Tour's exclusive cable television home through 2008. The Orlando, FL-based network, found in 70 million homes worldwide, will provide coverage of all rounds of 22 Champions Tour tournaments this year, including four-round coverage of the JELD-WEN Tradition, the final major championship of the year, plus early round coverage of The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart.

The Golf Channel employs its own production team for all of its telecasts. Tony Tortorici is the network's executive producer and vice president of production. Keith Hirshland will serve as senior producer for the telecasts. Hirshland or Jeff Gershengorn will produce the telecasts each week.

The Golf Channel also airs a weekly series on Monday evenings called "The Champions Tour Learning Center." Every episode is dedicated to analysis, tournament highlights and instruction from Champions Tour players, with the goal being to improve the game of viewers at home.

With the magnitude of events The Golf Channel will be producing across the board in 2005—approximately 60—it will rotate two evenly balanced teams of hosts and analysts, plus on-course reporters and an interviewer, on Champions Tour telecasts throughout the year.

Hosts

Jim Kelly

A resident of Park City, UT, Kelly has more than 30 years experience as an award-winning sports broadcaster having worked for CBS, NBC Sports and ESPN (1985-2000) where he specialized in hosting Champions Tour, PGA TOUR and LPGA telecasts. A former University of Toledo hockey player, he has also covered college football and basketball, tennis, hockey, horse racing and five America's Cup races.

Rich Lerner

An original member of The Golf Channel's on-air team, Lerner has handled a wide variety of roles, including host, anchor, reporter and essayist for "Golf Central" and other Golf Channel original specials and documentaries. In 2004 he added host duties for approximately half of the network's Champions Tour telecasts. His other assignments include filing reports from PGA TOUR tournaments and contributing to coverage of major championships and other important events. A Temple University graduate, he was host of a national afternoon drive-time talk show distributed to 110 stations on Prime Sports Radio prior to joining The Golf Channel.

Analysts

Brandel Chamblee

A member of the PGA TOUR since 1985 and the winner of the 1998 Greater Vancouver Open, Chamblee last year made the transition from full-time TOUR player to the broadcast booth, having gained previous experience with The Golf Channel and ABC Sports. An All-American at the University of Texas, his career highlights include sharing the first-round lead at the 1999 Masters and finishing among the top 100 on the TOUR money list six straight years (1995-2000). In addition to analyst duties for the Champions Tour, Chamblee is an in-studio regular on The Golf Channel's "Sprint Pre-Game" and "Sprint Post Game," as well as the "Bank of America Leaderboard Report."

Frank Nobilo

A native of New Zealand whose playing career was cut short due to injuries, Nobilo made his Golf Channel debut last year as lead analyst on Champions Tour telecasts. Previously, he made numerous Golf Channel appearances as a guest analyst for both the "Sprint Pre-Game" and "Sprint Post-Game," which he continues to do. A truly international player during his career, Nobilo added the 1997 Greater Greensboro Chrysler Classic to his five European Tour wins. He also was a member of The Presidents Cup International teams in 1994, '96 and '98 and a two-time New Zealand PGA champion.

On-Course Reporters

Donna Caponi

A 2001 World Golf Hall of Fame inductee, Caponi is The Golf Channel's lead analyst for its LPGA telecasts and an on-course reporter for the network's Champions Tour coverage. Her past television credits include ESPN, ABC, CBS and TBS. A member of the LPGA for 25 years (1964-1989), she captured 24 LPGA titles, including six majors (two U.S. Women's Opens, two LPGA Championships, one Peter Jackson Classic and one Nabisco Dinah Shore). In 1988 she was named to Golf's "100 Heroes of the First Century of Golf."

Mark Lye

Entering his third year as a member of the Champions Tour, Lye will continue to provide expert on-course analysis for The Golf Channel when not competing in 2005. A three-time All-American at San Jose State, Lye also contributes to The Golf Channel's "Sprint Pre-Game" and "Sprint Post-Game" and special edition Golf Channel programming of major championships and other important events. Lye earned nearly $2 million in an 18-year PGA TOUR career. In 1983 he won the Bank of Boston Classic and finished 28th on the money list. He has successfully battled cancer twice, once in 1991 and again in 2002.

John Mahaffey

Injuries forced the former University of Houston star to explore broadcast opportunities with The Golf Channel in 2004. Having made numerous appearances on The Golf Channel at tournaments in which he competed last year, Mahaffey will regularly walk the fairways as a reporter in 2005, bringing his own Texas flair and an impressive list of competitive achievements. His 10 PGA TOUR wins include one major, the 1978 PGA Championship, and the 1986 PLAYERS Championship. Mahaffey captured one Champions Tour title, the 1999 Southwestern Bell Classic.

Interviews

David Marr III

The Bucknell University graduate made his Champions Tour debut in August of 2004 as the man in charge of "The Couch," the interview setting that is unique to the Champions Tour. Prior to joining the Champions Tour broadcast team, Marr manned the news/update desk Thursday through Sunday from the network's Orlando headquarters, co-hosted the "Grey Goose 19th Hole" and contributed reports to "Golf Central." Prior to joining the network, Marr served as a commentator for the NBC affiliate in Boston, WHDH-TV, during the 1999 Ryder Cup.

Things to Look for in 2005

- The Champions Tour celebrates its 25th anniversary season. Last September, the Tour kicked off the festivities with the Atlantic City Commemorative Pro-Am presented by MasterCard at Atlantic City Country Club, site of the first official Champions Tour event in 1980. Among other promotional activities, The Golf Channel will feature a weekly countdown of "25 Memorable Moments" in Champions Tour history on telecasts throughout 2005.
- Curtis Strange (January 30), Greg Norman (February 10), Loren Roberts (June 24) and Scott Simpson (September 17) will be eligible to join the Champions Tour as fully-exempt players based on their PGA TOUR career earnings. Both Strange and Norman become eligible at The ACE Group Classic (February 18-20), while Roberts becomes eligible at the Commerce Bank Championship (July 1-3). Simpson, a seven-time winner on the PGA TOUR, can join the Champions Tour at the SAS Championship (September 30-October 2). Other PGA TOUR winners becoming eligible in 2005 include Brad Bryant, Bob Byman, Mike Donald, Dan Pohl, Tom Sieckmann, Mike Sullivan and Denis Watson.
- One new event will be on the Champions Tour schedule. The Greater Seattle Champions Classic will be held at the Tournament Players Club at Snoqualmie Ridge, August 15-21. This year's event marks the Champions Tour's return to the Seattle area for the first time since 1995.
- Dana Quigley will begin the season with an incredible streak of consecutive starts. Quigley opens the year having made 248 straight appearances and has played in an amazing 262 consecutive events for which he's been eligible. Both are Champions Tour records.
- Hale Irwin defends the Charles Schwab Cup for the second time, having earned the first prize and a $1-million tax-deferred annuity by just 39 points over Craig Stadler last year, the closest race ever. Irwin won his first Charles Schwab Cup in 2002.
- Craig Stadler looks to become the first player to win back-to-back Arnold Palmer Awards since Hale Irwin (1997-98). Stadler could also become the seventh player in Champions Tour history to lead the money list in consecutive years.
- Hale Irwin will be looking to continue his Champions Tour success. The 59-year-old winner of 40 Champions Tour titles has multiple victories in a record 10 consecutive years. No other player has done it more than six times. If Irwin wins twice this year, he would not only extend his streak of seasons winning multiple events but would also add to his record as the oldest player ever to earn at least two wins in a single season. Should he earn at least $1 million on the year, it would increase his record for consecutive seven-figure-earnings seasons to 10. Irwin can also reach 100 top-three finishes in his Champions Tour career this year. At the end of the 2004 season, he had been among the top three in 98 (40 wins, 38 seconds, 20 thirds) of 235 total events played.
- Should Gil Morgan win in 2005, it would give him wins in 10 consecutive seasons. Morgan will also be looking to make it nine straight years in succession with at least $1 million in official earnings.
- In January, Irwin will also have a chance to win the Turtle Bay Championship for an unprecedented fifth straight time and sixth overall. The event was not held in 2004, but in October 2003 Irwin came from behind to best Tom Kite by two strokes on Hawaii's North Shore. The event moves to a new spot on the calendar in 2005—January 24-30—from its former fall date.
- Irwin and Morgan will also be seeking return trips to the Charles Schwab Cup Championship for the top-30 money-winners. Irwin has appeared in the season-ending event 10 straight years, while Morgan has been there eight consecutive seasons.
- The Champions Tour heads into 2005 having had 20 or more different winners in 14 consecutive seasons, dating back to 1991. There have also been at least five first-time winners every season since 1997.
- Dave Stockton enters the campaign with a streak of 13 straight years among the top 50 on the money list.
- Will there be a repeat winner at the Bruno's Memorial Classic? Since its inception in 1992, no former winner has repeated, the longest string of any event on the Champions Tour.
- Several players are within reach of making their 1,000th combined career (PGA TOUR/Champions Tour) start. George Archer needs just one appearance to hit this mark, while J.C. Snead is eight official events shy and Dale Douglass needs to play in 10 more tournaments to reach 1,000. Players who have already reached this milestone are Miller Barber, Dave Eichelberger, Gay Brewer, Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler and Charles Coody.
- John Jacobs (March 18), Mike McCullough (March 21), Hale Irwin (June 3) and John Bland (September 22) all become eligible to join the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions competition for players 60 and older).
- Mark McNulty starts off the year with a chance to win a third consecutive Champions Tour event. McNulty ended the 2004 season with back-to-back victories at the SBC Championship and the Charles Schwab Cup Championship.
- In 2002, a dozen victories were by players 55 and older. In 2003, 10 of 31 events were won by players 55 and older. Last year, 13 of the 30 winners, including 12 of the last 24 champions, were age 55 or older, helping dispel the theory that players on the Champions Tour "hit a wall" at age 55.
- The Bank of America Championship celebrates its 25th anniversary. The Boston event is the oldest in one metropolitan area on the Champions Tour and will be played at Nashawtuc Country Club in Concord for a 22nd straight year, the longest span at one club.
- The Golf Channel continues to be the primary carrier of Champions Tour events in 2005. Last year, The Golf Channel televised approximately 450 hours of Champions Tour golf and many more hours of ancillary programming. John Mahaffey joins the broadcast team in 2004.

Historical Highlights of the Champions Tour

1980

January 16 — A landmark meeting laid the formal groundwork for the Champions Tour, which was known as the Senior PGA Tour from 1980 through the 2002 season. Attending that meeting were Sam Snead, Bob Goalby, Don January and the late Julius Boros, Gardner Dickinson and Dan Sikes. Sikes is named chairman of what became known as the Senior Advisory Council, and Snead was named honorary chairman. January 22 — The new Senior Tour is formally approved by the Tournament Policy Board of the PGA TOUR. The schedule calls for two sanctioned events for a total of $250,000 in prize money. June 22 — Don January wins the first official Champions Tour event, the Atlantic City International in Atlantic City, NJ, defeating Mike Souchak by two strokes. December 7 — Arnold Palmer becomes the first of only 10 players to win in his first Champions Tour start, defeating Paul Harney in a playoff for the PGA Seniors' Championship.

1981

June 7 — Don January becomes the first player to win back-to-back Champions Tour events when he triumphs at the Michelob-Egypt Temple Senior Classic in Tampa and then the Eureka Federal Savings Classic at Harding Park GC in San Francisco. July 12 — Arnold Palmer wins an 18-hole playoff over Billy Casper and Bob Stone at Oakland Hills CC for the U.S. Senior Open title. Palmer becomes the first player to win both a U.S. Open and U.S. Senior Open crown in his career. October 17 — Art Wall makes the first hole-in-one on the Champions Tour during the second round of the Suntree Seniors Classic in Melbourne, FL.

1982

The Champions Tour doubles in size from five to 11 tournaments, and prize money increases from $750,000 to $1.3 million. June 25 — Al Balding records the first double-eagle in Champions Tour history in the second round of the Peter Jackson Champions in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

1983

Prize money offered for players on the 50-and-over circuit exceeds $3 million with 18 tournaments on the schedule. Don January wins six tournaments and supplants fellow Texan Miller Barber as the leading money-winner with $237,571. October 15 — Gene Littler birdies his first seven holes and goes out in eight-under 28 in the third round of the Suntree Classic in Melbourne, FL. Littler's nine-hole score stands as an all-time Champions Tour record for 15 years, until it is broken by Jay Sigel's 27 during the 1998 Bell Atlantic Classic, and Seiji Ebihara's at the 2002 Senior PGA Championship.

1984

Growth continues at a rapid rate when a slate of 24 events and total prize money well over $5 million is announced. Don January becomes the first player to go over $300,000 in single-season earnings ($328,597) en route to his second consecutive money title.

1985

With 27 events worth more than $6 million in total purses, the Champions Tour is large enough to merit its establishment as a division of the PGA TOUR and its own logo. The Champions Tour also becomes a distinct and separate operating and financial entity, with net revenue going to fund a newly created Senior Player Retirement Plan. A cable television package with ESPN allows seven events to enjoy national cable exposure, with the production costs partially funded by Mazda Motors of America. March 17 — Australian Peter Thomson, a five-time British Open winner, wins the first of a record nine tournaments at The Vintage Invitational. October 13 — On his 63rd birthday, Mike Fetchick wins the Hilton Head Seniors International. Fetchick establishes the mark as the oldest Champions Tour winner and is victorious for the first time in over 28 years (1956 Mayfair Inn Open), the longest time between a PGA TOUR and Champions Tour title. November 23 — South African Gary Player triumphs in his Champions Tour debut at the Quadel Seniors Classic in Boca Raton, FL. He becomes the second player to claim the first tournament he enters.

1986

Bruce Crampton, Bob Charles, Dale Douglass and Chi Chi Rodriguez are among the new faces on the Champions Tour and signify a changing of the guard on the circuit. One new tournament is added to the schedule and prize money increases to $6.3 million. June 22 — Chi Chi Rodriguez triumphs at the Senior Tournament Players Championship in Cleveland, the first of his 22 Champions Tour career titles.

1987

The Vantage brand of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company introduces its Vantage Cup program to the 35-event Champions Tour. Vantage involvement includes a $1 million, season-long team points competition; sponsorship of the first $1 million tournament on the Champions Tour, the Vantage Championship; sponsorship of a "Super Seniors" competition for players 60 and older; and an advanced electronic scoreboard system. The size of Champions Tour tournament fields expands to 72 players and, for the first time, the pro-am portion and tournament portion of events are separated.

1988

The Champions Tour grows to 37 events and purses eclipse the $10 million mark. Vantage sponsors the Champions Tour's first-ever statistical program. March 6 — Orville Moody closes with a 63, setting a 72-hole Champions Tour scoring record of 25-under 263 and tying Arnold Palmer's record for largest victory margin with his 11-stroke win at the Vintage Chrysler Invitational in Indian Wells, CA. September 18 — Arnold Palmer wins the last of his 10 Champions Tour career titles at the Crestar Classic near Richmond, VA, defeating Lee Elder, Larry Mowry and Jim Ferree by four strokes.

1989

Champions Tour tournament fields increase to 78 players and 21 tournaments air on national television. March 5 — Miller Barber wins the last of his 24 official Champions Tour career titles at The Vintage Chrysler Invitational in Palm Desert, CA. September 22 — Hurricane Hugo wipes out the PaineWebber Invitational in Charlotte, the only event to be canceled by weather on the Champions Tour. December 7 — Lee Trevino debuts on the Champions Tour at the GTE Kaanapali Classic and ties for seventh in the rain-shortened event.

1990

Cadillac Motor Car Division comes aboard as the umbrella sponsor for Champions Tour cable telecasts. Lee Trevino is the dominant performer. The "Merry Mex" easily snares both Rookie of the Year and Player of the Year honors after seven wins and official earnings of $1,190,518. He also earns his first Byron Nelson Trophy with a scoring average of 68.89, a record that will stand for eight years on the Champions Tour. February 4 — Lee Trevino makes up seven shots in the final nine holes to overtake Jim Dent for the Royal Caribbean Classic title on Key Biscayne, FL, his first victory on the Champions Tour. April 1 — Jack Nicklaus captures The Tradition crown in Scottsdale and becomes the fourth player to win in his Champions Tour debut. June 10 — Jack Nicklaus rips Dearborn (MI) CC apart to win the Mazda Senior TPC by six strokes over Lee Trevino. Nicklaus' 27-under 261 total sets a new standard for scoring in a 72-hole event on the Champions Tour. July 1 — Lee Trevino nips Jack Nicklaus at Ridgewood CC in New Jersey for the U.S. Senior Open title. Trevino's win makes him the fifth player to claim a U.S. Open and U.S. Senior Open crown. December 16 — Lee Trevino's runner-up performance at the season-ending New York Life Champions in Puerto Rico puts him over the seven-figure mark and makes him the first single-season millionaire in Champions Tour history.

The list of Champions Tour millionaires grows when Mike Hill becomes the second senior to top $1 million in 1991. Hill wins five times and shares Player of the Year honors with George Archer. June 9 — Jim Albus shocks the golf world by becoming the first former club professional to win a senior major. Albus holds off three players at the TPC of Michigan to win the Mazda Senior Players Championship by three strokes. July 28 — Jack Nicklaus becomes the first to complete the Senior Slam when he defeats Chi Chi Rodriguez in an 18-hole playoff for the U.S. Senior Open title at Oakland Hills CC. The victory is Nicklaus' third senior major of the season. Earlier in the campaign, the Golden Bear successfully defended his Tradition title and waltzed to an easy triumph at the PGA Seniors' Championship.

Lee Trevino again was the leading money-winner on the Champions Tour despite a hand injury in mid-season. His $1,027,002 makes him the first player to surpass seven figures twice in a senior career, and five tournament wins propel the Merry Mex to a second Player of the Year honor. June 28 — Gibby Gilbert equals the Champions Tour's 54-hole scoring record of 193 in winning the Southwestern Bell Classic near Kansas City. His nine-stroke cushion equals the widest 54-hole victory margin in Champions Tour history. July 5 — Gibby Gilbert wins for the second consecutive week, defeating J.C. Snead in a playoff at the Kroger Senior Classic near Cincinnati. His 54-hole score of 198 makes him the first player to win consecutive weeks with sub-200 totals. September 20 — One week after his Champions Tour debut, Doral Ryder Open champion Raymond Floyd outguns Mike Hill for the GTE North Classic title in Indianapolis. The victory makes Floyd the only player to win both a PGA TOUR and Champions Tour event in the same season. September 27 — Isao Aoki, the 36-hole leader at the Nationwide Championship near Atlanta, is declared the winner when the final round is rained out. He becomes the first Japanese player to win on the Champions Tour.

1993

Dave Stockton and Bob Charles become the first two players to earn more than $1 million in official money in the same season.

1994

Official prize money approaches the $30 million mark. Lee Trevino gets there first, earning $1 million for an unprecedented third time in his career. Dave Stockton tops the earnings list with $1,402,519 and becomes the first to win more than $1 million in back-to-back seasons. Jim Albus becomes the first former club professional to join the millionaire's club.

1995

Jim Colbert earns his first Arnold Palmer Award with single-season earnings of $1,444,386 and Champions Tour Player of the Year honors. June 9 — Hale Irwin debuts on the Champions Tour at the BellSouth Senior Classic at Opryland and finishes in a tie for fourth. July 23 — Jimmy Powell wins the First of America Classic in Grand Rapids only one day after claiming the Super Seniors portion of the tournament. He is the first player to win both in the same week. July 30 — Hale Irwin claims his first Champions Tour event at the Ameritech Senior Open. He also wins the Vantage Championship in Winston-Salem later in the season and is voted the circuit's Rookie of the Year.

1996

Jim Colbert repeats the single-season earnings record to $1,627,890 to become the first winner of consecutive Player of the Year awards. March 24 — Lee Trevino and Mike Hill team to win an unprecedented fourth Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf title in La Quinta, CA. April 7 — Jack Nicklaus successfully defends his Tradition title and becomes the first Champions Tour player to claim the same tournament four times. The three-stroke victory over Hale Irwin is also his 100th professional title. October 6 — One week after debuting on the Champions Tour, Gil Morgan becomes the circuit's youngest winner (at the time) in Los Angeles. He claims the Ralphs Senior Classic at Wilshire CC just 11 days after turning 50.

The year belongs almost exclusively to Hale Irwin. He wins nine times and becomes the first player on any TOUR to surpass $2 million in a season, finishing the year with $2,343,364. April 20 — Hale Irwin's 12-stroke romp at the PGA Seniors' Championship is the widest margin in Champions Tour history for 72 holes. July 27 — Bruce Summerhays ends his record run of 96 straight Champions Tour appearances at the Franklin Quest Championship. The streak started at the 1995 Royal Caribbean Classic. September 27 — Isao Aoki sets a Champions Tour record for lowest 18-hole score with a 10-under 60 in the second round of the Emerald Coast Classic. October 19 — Hale Irwin claims his ninth title of the year at the Hyatt Regency Maui Kaanapali Classic. The three-stroke triumph ties Peter Thomson's record (1985) for most victories in a season.

Hale Irwin and Gil Morgan continue to dominate the Champions Tour. With 13 victories between them, both players eclipse the $2 million level in single-season earnings. Despite winning two less events than 1997, Irwin turns in an incredible year, finishing out of the top five only twice in 22 official tournaments. He wins his second consecutive Jack Nicklaus Award as the Champions Tour's Player of the Year and earns a third consecutive Byron Nelson Award with a record scoring average of 68.59. February 1 — David Graham wins the Royal Caribbean Classic at Key Biscayne, FL, in a 10-hole sudden-death playoff over Dave Stockton, the longest overtime session in Champions Tour history. April 19 — Hale Irwin claims his third straight PGA Seniors' Championship, a first since Eddie Williams' trifecta from 1942-1946. May 17 — Larry Ziegler claims the Saint Luke's Classic near Kansas City, his first Champions Tour win since 1991. The victory comes six years, 10 months and three days after his triumph at the Newport Cup, the longest span between Champions Tour wins. May 23 — In the second round of the Bell Atlantic Classic, Jay Sigel sets a Champions Tour record for lowest nine-hole score. His nine-under 27 on the front nine at Hartefeld National includes an eagle and seven birdies, the Champions Tour's all-time best eagle-birdie streak.

The Champions Tour completes its 20th season with a number of significant accomplishments led by rookie Bruce Fleisher, who claims seven tournament victories and earns his first money title with a rookie record $2,515,705. He wins the Jack Nicklaus Award as the Champions Tour's Player of the Year and earns the Byron Nelson Award for the lowest scoring average (69.19). Fleisher also claims the Rookie of the Year Award. Members of the 1998 Champions Tour National Qualifying Tournament class, led by Fleisher and Allen Doyle (four wins), win 15 times. February 7 — Bruce Fleisher becomes the eighth player in Champions Tour history to win his debut when he prevails by two strokes over Isao Aoki at the Royal Caribbean Classic. February 14 — Bruce Fleisher becomes the first player to win his first two starts, besting Larry Nelson by three strokes at the American Express Invitational. February 28 — Allen Doyle's win at the ACE Group Classic makes him the first player to win an event on both the Champions Tour and the Nationwide Tour. March 28 — Bob Duval makes history with his win at the Emerald Coast Classic. Later in the day, his son David wins THE PLAYERS Championship, and they become the first father-son duo in PGA TOUR history to claim victories on the same weekend. April 4 — Snow and inclement weather shorten The Tradition to 36 holes, and Graham Marsh emerges as the winner by three strokes over Larry Nelson. It is the first event to have rounds canceled by snow. August 1 — Mike McCullough breaks Bruce Summerhays' record for most consecutive eligible events played when he plays in his 97th straight event. September 19 — One week after his Champions Tour debut, Tom Watson fashions a final round 10-under-par 62 for a five-stroke win over Bruce Summerhays at the Bank One Championship. 2000

The Champions Tour welcomes the addition of Tom Kite, Lanny Wadkins, Doug Tewell and Tom Watson as full-time players. Larry Nelson finishes the year as the leading money winner with $2,708,005 and leads all players with six victories. Nelson is chosen as the winner of the Jack Nicklaus Award as the Player of the Year, while Tewell is the Rookie of the Year and Raymond Floyd is named the Comeback Player of the Year. February 13 — Lanny Wadkins becomes the ninth player in Champions Tour history to win in his debut when he prevails in a playoff against Jose Maria Canizares, Tom Watson and Walter Hall at the ACE Group Classic. April 17 — Doug Tewell

One day later, Gil Morgan's record string of sub-par rounds ends at 31 before a second-round 2-over-par 73 at the SBA Senior Classic.

2001

Larry Nelson picks up right where he left off with five wins, but Allen Doyle is the mark of consistency with top-10s in 25 of his 34 starts. Doyle wins three times, including his second senior major title at the FORD SENIOR PLAYERS Championship, and battles Bruce Fleisher down the stretch to claim the inaugural Charles Schwab Cup and the Arnold Palmer Award (money title) with $2,553,582. Ten players win more than once, the most to claim multiple titles since 1996. February 17 — Arnold Palmer becomes only the third player in PGA TOUR history to shoot his age when he cards a 1-under 71 in the fourth round of the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic. Palmer later matches his age in the opening round of the Senior PGA Championship. March 18 — Hale Irwin rolls to a five-stroke victory at the Siebel Classic in Silicon Valley. In his 135th start, Irwin becomes the first player to reach the 30-win plateau on the Champions Tour's all-time victory list. April 15 — Doug Tewell's 10-under 62 in the final round of The Countrywide Tradition is the lowest round shot in a senior major championship. Wadkins' victory at the Lightpath Long Island Classic comes in his 778th TOUR start, and at 50 years and 10 days, he becomes the youngest winner ever. September 13 — The Vantage Championship is canceled due to the tragedies of September 11. It marks the first time since the 1989 Home Depot Invitational that an entire Champions Tour event is canceled. September 21 — Mike McCullough withdraws from the inaugural SAS Championship and ends a record streak of consecutive eligible events played at 177. September 24 — Tom Kite matches Dougherty's accomplishment of tying the Champions Tour record for all-time scoring record in relation to par when he wins the Gold Rush Classic at 22-under-par 194.

At age 57, Hale Irwin re-establishes himself as the Champions Tour's top player, winning four times and finishing among the top three 14 times in 27 official starts. Irwin becomes the oldest leading money-winner in Champions Tour history and is the first player to top the $3 million mark in single-season earnings. Bob Gilder also wins four times, all within a span of seven events during the summer. March 10 — Hale Irwin claims his second Toshiba Senior Classic and takes over the lead in the 2002 Charles Schwab Cup race, which he maintains for the remaining 28 events of the season. May 3 — At the Bruno's Memorial Classic, Dana Quigley plays in his 178th straight event for which he's been eligible, breaking Mike McCullough's record of 177 eligible events in a row. Quigley ends the year with his streak intact (201 events), winning the second-to-last event, the SBC Championship, which is his 200th in the streak. June 2 — James Mason open qualifies for the NFL Golf Classic and then goes on to win the tournament in New Jersey, edging Morris Hatalsky, Bruce Fleisher and Dave Eichelberger by two strokes. Mason's win at Upper Montclair CC makes him just the eighth open qualifier to win an event and the first since Jim Ahern qualified and won the 1999 AT&T Canada Senior Open. June 9 — Japan's Seiji Ebiara ties the all-time nine-hole record by making seven straight birdies en route to an 8-under 27 on the front nine at Firestone in the final round of the Senior PGA Championship. June 23 — J.C. Snead becomes the third oldest winner in Champions Tour history when he claims the Greater Baltimore Classic at 61 years, 8 months and 9 days. Snead's victory in Maryland is his first since 1995 and establishes a Champions Tour record for longest time between wins (6 years, 11 months, 7 days). Snead also becomes just the fourth player to claim a Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions event and the overall tournament. June 30 — Don Pooley defeats Tom Watson in a thrilling playoff at Caves Valley and becomes the first qualifier ever to win the U.S. Senior Open and the ninth in Champions Tour history.

July 6 — 61-year-old Walter Morgan becomes the youngest player ever to better his age by shooting 11-under 60 in the second round of the AT&T Canada Senior Open at Essex Golf & Country Club in Windsor, Ontario. Morgan follows up his 60 with a 65 and makes 21 birdies over his last 36 holes in Canada. July 19 — Orville Moody makes his 500th career start on the Champions Tour at the SBC Senior Open, joining Miller Barber and Harold Henning as only the third player with at least 500 appearances.

One day earlier, Fleisher eclipsed the all-time 36-hole record of 14-under 126 (Jim Colbert/1994 GTE West Classic, Hale Irwin/1997 Vantage Championship) with a two-day total of 16-under 124 at Tanglewood. Fleisher opened the tournament with an 11-under 60 and tied the all-time 18-hole scoring record. October 6 — Hale Irwin clinches the Charles Schwab Cup and the money title by virtue of his playoff victory over Gary McCord at the Turtle Bay Championship. The win was Irwin's fourth of the year and his fourth in Hawaii during the fall season. Irwin becomes the first player since Jack Nicklaus (1990, 1991, 1995, 1996 Tradition) to win the same event four times. He finishes the year 799 points ahead of runner-up Bob Gilder in the Charles Schwab Cup. October 27 — Hale Irwin's solo fourth-place finish at the SENIOR TOUR Championship at Gaillardia earns him a check for $176,000 and moves him over the $3 million level in single-season earnings, a first in Champions Tour history. October 30 — Commissioner Tim Finchem announces a rebranding of the PGA TOUR; "Three Distinct Tours, One Brand Family", with the Senior Tour becoming the Champions Tour and Buy.com Tour becoming the Nationwide Tour.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary — 1980-2005

By Laury Livsey

In the early evening of January 16, 1980, Julius Boros, Gardner Dickinson, Bob Goalby, Don January and Dan Sikes stood around a bar in the Jacksonville International Airport. Earlier in the day they had been in meetings in the Jacksonville suburb Ponte Vedra Beach before they surveyed PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman's golf course project, a tract of swamp land that would become the Tournament Players Club at Sawgrass. None of the players was very impressed with the site.

"It was just mud and a swamp, and Beman showed us what he was doing. We all thought he was nuts," said Goalby.

The same might have been said of this group of five players, who had combined for 52 PGA TOUR titles in their career. They were visiting PGA TOUR headquarters to pitch an idea to the Commissioner.

You guys want to do what?

After the success of the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf, a tournament that brought, well, the legends of golf together and showcased the talents of players long since out of the spotlight, the idea of getting those same players together for a professional golf tour had gained momentum. Golfers who figured their competitive careers were over were now rethinking that plan.

Boros was a perfect example. In 1979, he could see his PGA TOUR career was coming to an end. He was 59 years old and had played only five tournaments that year, beginning with Jackie Gleason's Inverrary Classic and ending with the Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open. Although he had made all five cuts, his best finish was a tie for 43rd. After the Hartford tournament, Boros didn't play competitively again except for one start—the PGA Seniors' Championship, where he tied for fifth.

But the PGA Seniors' Championship was important that year because Boros' cronies were also playing in the event, and the talk among the players centered on a new Tour. "We had a meeting, and all the fellas there talked about what we were going to do," says Mike Fetchick. "We really thought a Tour would be a great thing."

That week the players formed a game plan, envisioning a 50-and-older Tour that, at its peak, might be a 12-tournament circuit. Boros listened intently.

Not too far from Turnberry Isle Country Club in North Miami, FL, site of the tournament, was the Boros home in Fort Lauderdale. Still living at home were Boros' four sons—along with Boros' two daughters, Joy and Jody. They had returned home to live with Mom and Dad after divorces.

"Julius had been home off the TOUR for a couple of years now, out to pasture, so to speak. And his home was a wild, wild place, with kids and grandkids everywhere," says Goalby. "So we're at the bar waiting on our planes. We're all going in different directions. And Boros looks at us and says in that slow-talking, easy-going way of his, 'Boys, sure would be nice if we could get this Senior Tour going. I don't care how well I play anymore, just so I play well enough to warrant leaving home once in a while.'"

Six days following what turned out to be a historic meeting at PGA TOUR headquarters with Beman and the five players, the PGA TOUR's Tournament Policy Board approved the new Senior PGA Tour—renamed the Champions Tour in 2002—and gave the OK on a schedule that called for two sanctioned tournaments with combined purses of $250,000.

Thank the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf, at least in part, for that. In 1978, NBC had televised this two-man team event, and golf fans across the country were enchanted watching Sam Snead, Roberto De Vicenzo, Lionel and Jay Hebert, Cary Middlecoff, Doug Ford, Gene Sarazen and Jimmy Demaret play golf. These were players they'd only occasionally catch glimpses of during CBS's telecast of the Masters. Otherwise, they were out of sight, out of mind. Most of them even had "Oh, I thought you were dead" stories to tell.

Goalby, the winner of 11 PGA TOUR titles, had semi-retired from playing and was part of NBC's broadcast team at the time. He was a walking reporter with the final groups at that first Legends of Golf at Onion Creek Country Club in Austin, TX. Snead and Dickinson prevailed over Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson by a stroke, and stars were reborn all over again.

"In the '79 Legends, people started talking about a Senior Tour when [Art] Wall and [Tommy] Bolt made five birdies in the playoff, and De Vicenzo and Boros made five birdies also, with Boros and De Vicenzo birdying the sixth playoff hole to win," Goalby remembers.

So compelling was the golf that NBC kept the tournament on the air into prime time in the Eastern Time zone until its completion. "People hadn't seen these guys in a long time," adds Goalby. "They were saying, 'Boy, they can still play. How do we get a tournament like that at our course?'"

Well, since you asked.

The Atlantic City Country Club opened in 1897. It's a classic golf course in the resort city, only 12 miles from the Boardwalk. Its fairways and greens had previously hosted the 1901 U.S. Amateur (won by Walter J. Travis) and three U.S. Women's Opens—in 1948, 1965 and 1975.

The thinking was if the course were good enough for Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Carol Mann and Sandra Palmer, the three Women's Open winners, it was certainly good enough to be the launching site of the Senior PGA Tour.

Leo Fraser, president of the PGA of America and owner of the Atlantic City Country Club, opened his course to history during the third week of June in 1980, welcoming the idea of the legends of the game playing tournament golf on his course. Bally's Park Place Hotel sponsored the $125,000 tournament that—in true PGA TOUR style—benefited a charity, in this case the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

The Atlantic City Senior International was born. Boros got his wish.

"I know we were quite excited to get this Senior Tour going," says Fetchick, who turns 81 in October and remains the oldest winner in Champions Tour history, capturing the 1985 Hilton Head Seniors International when he was 63. "There was a lot of discussion about that, and we were all pretty happy to get it underway."

But the tournament itself would have to wait. Before they could build a golf tour, the players needed to build goodwill with sponsors and fans. To that end, the players went all out that week in Atlantic City. Bally's Park Place Hotel was hopping.

"We were able to meet people at the pro-ams, socialize and be around golf," says Charlie Sifford, who would win his only Tour title five months later at the Suntree Classic. "In those days, going to the parties was a must. We went to all the functions, and you know what, it was a pleasure for us to be remembered."

"We used to attend all the parties, and most tournaments had a pairing party and a couple of pro-am parties," says Bill Johnston, a two-time PGA TOUR winner who had 196 career starts on the Champions Tour. "These weren't 10- or 15-minute appearances. These were full evenings. That, I believe, is what kept the Tour going early on."

Of course it didn't hurt that Snead would often drop by to mingle and, on occasion, play his trumpet. Lionel Hebert would also pull out his horn, and the duo would play together entertaining the audience. Not a bad deal. Everybody knew what Snead could do with a sand wedge, but who had any idea about his trumpet chops?

"Sam Snead was the big guy. Sam was the draw, and we almost all kissed his hand when we saw him because he was such a big attraction," Johnston adds.

In 1958, a young Bob Goalby met Snead for the first time, and the two hit it off. Goalby, who was 17 years younger than Snead, began a tradition—each as past Masters champions—to play practice rounds at Augusta National together. It was something they did for 35 years. Snead died in 2002.

During the Senior Tour's early years, Goalby would attend a pro-am draw party, and he'd bring Snead along. A tournament director would ask for players to do a clinic, Goalby would agree to it and he'd show up with Snead the next day. "Sam would say, 'You got me doing everything all the time.' But he'd always do it for me," Goalby says

Atlantic City was no different. Snead and Boros put on a mid-week clinic, and both players hurt their backs in the process. And Boros thought being home with the grandchildren was difficult.

Later that night, though, there Snead and Boros were at another party.

Once the tournament began, Don January proved he was the player to beat. And looking back, January should have been the favorite at the Atlantic City Senior International—and every other tournament he played in those first two seasons. He was the youngest player in the field, having turned 50 the previous November following a year where he had enjoyed four top-10 finishes on the PGA TOUR, including a tie for seventh at the 1979 PGA Championship. Even pushing 50, January was still a force, finishing 46th on the money list in his last full season on TOUR. To give that some perspective, in 2003, Ben Curtis was 46th on the TOUR's money list.

In Atlantic City, January won by two strokes over Mike Souchak, tied for second at the Suntree Classic in Melbourne, FL, the other Tour-sponsored tournament, and was third at the PGA Seniors' Championship, run by the PGA of America.

That same week, Sifford opened with rounds of 77 and 75, leaving him tied for 30th entering the final day. All Sifford did Sunday was record six birdies and an eagle for the low round of the tournament, a 63, highlighted by a 30 on the front nine. His 30th-place standing improved to a tie for sixth when it was over, earning him $3,800.

"All I was trying to do was finish in the top 10. There wasn't too much money in those days, but more for a top-10 finish, obviously," says Sifford, who was inducted into the World Golf Hall of Fame last November. "I remember I had a really good putting round."

The Atlantic City Senior International had been an unqualified success for guys like January and Sifford, as well as Toney Penna, who, as the oldest player in the tournament at 74, was able to play competitively again. Stan Dudas had been confined to a wheelchair a month earlier after double hip-replacement surgery, but he also was in the field, happy to get back on the golf course, as were players like Mike Souchak and Johnston. They hadn't been playing much golf while working as club professionals. The players were happy to be there, and the fans enjoyed watching them. Indeed, the future of the Tour looked bright.

Following his win, January said, "This Tour is coming along at the right time in my career. I'm ready to just play 10 or 12 a year. If it doesn't happen next year, I'll squeeze the senior events in and still play the PGA TOUR." Today January, an eventual 22-time winner on the Champions Tour before he retired to his home in Dallas, says, "I don't think any of us had an idea what the Tour could be."

What it did become, starting with that tournament near the Boardwalk, was January's personal game of Monopoly. It was as if January had most of the property, lots of hotels and all the money.

As Braniff Airlines flight attendant Diane Dee walked up and down the aisle of the late-night flight, she kept overhearing a man talking about golf in general and PGA TOUR golf specifically. Finally, her curiosity got the best of her.

"You must know my friend, Brian Henning," Dee said. The man looked up and said, "Sure. Where is he? I've been trying to find him."

The man was PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman.

Brian Henning came from a golf family. The four Henning brothers—Brian, Harold, Allan and Graham—all played golf and were all involved in the game to some degree or another. Harold had become a PGA TOUR player, and Brian, who everybody called "Bruno," had created and run the Sunshine Tour, now called the South African Tour. But by 1976, Brian decided to follow Harold's lead and immigrate to the United States. "I just figured America needed me," Henning says. Before leaving South Africa, however, Henning contacted Beman, an old acquaintance, at the TOUR's headquarters in Washington, D.C.

"I called him and told him I was moving over here, and did he have any jobs available. And Deane said, 'Send in a resume. Right now I don't have anything. But you never know what might happen.'"

By 1980, something was happening. Beman needed someone to run the fledgling new Tour and Henning, who by then was teaching golf at Bear Creek Golf Course, hard by Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport in Texas, still hoped to someday work for the PGA TOUR.

Before Beman got off his late-night plane flight, he found his new flight attendant acquaintance, left his business card with Dee and asked her to have Henning call him.

"So I called the next day," Henning says "and Deane said, 'Well, I have something going. Are you still interested in working for the TOUR?'"

After meeting with Beman in Dallas a few days later, Henning flew to Jacksonville for another interview in Ponte Vedra Beach, where the TOUR had relocated. Henning met the commissioner for breakfast, they talked about the TOUR and about golf. Later in the day, Beman took Henning on a tour of the burgeoning TPC at Sawgrass, the course the TOUR was building.

The TPC at Sawgrass was unlike anything Henning had ever seen before, with its stadium golf principles that relied on numerous spectator mounds, its distinct look and, of course, the 17th hole with its island green. Interesting, he thought.

The two men returned to Beman's office for more discussions. By the time Henning's full day with the Commissioner was over, Beman was saying, "When can you start?"

"How about tomorrow?" was Henning's reply.

There was no breaking-in period for Henning at his new job as the Tour's Director of Tournament Administration. He was first working the phone and then on planes visiting cities that might potentially host Champions Tour tournaments. He focused on smaller cities, those without PGA TOUR events. "I went to Lexington, KY, and Reno, NV, places like that. I thought we'd have our best shot getting into those places," Henning says. He followed that model, later adding tournaments in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada (Peter Jackson Champions), Syracuse, NY (Greater Syracuse Senior's Pro Golf Classic), Park City, UT (The Shootout at Jeremy Ranch) and Newport, RI (Merrill Lynch/Golf Digest Commemorative Pro-Am).

Henning's plan worked. And before long, people from cities looking to host events began phoning him. "The editor at the Denver Post called and asked me if I wanted to come into Denver and tell him all about [the Tour]. So I did, and I gave him my spiel. 'We're going to start off with 50 players, and these are the players I've got: Julius Boros, Bob Goalby, Dan Sikes, Arnold Palmer. They'll all come to town.'" Henning recalls telling the newspaperman. "And the guy says, 'You're kidding? All those players will play in our tournament?'"

Every one of them.

Eventually, the Denver Post Champions of Golf became an official event.

"That was my job. It was my job to go out and find cities and sponsors," Henning adds. "In my first year with the Tour in 1981, we had seven tournaments counting the U.S. Senior Open and the PGA Seniors' Championship. Then everything went crazy after that, and I was getting calls from cities all over the country."

Eleven tournaments in 1982 became 16 in 1983. Six more came on board in 1984, and the Tour's schedule bulged to 24 in 1985. "I knew that this would work right from day one," Henning said. "There was no thought of it not taking off."

"In 1984, we had the Vintage in Palm Springs," Goalby said of The Vintage Invitational in Indian Wells, CA. "It was a really good tournament, and I kind of thought after that tournament that we might really get this Tour going because we had been so well-received by the people in the desert and we got good press in and around L.A. That's when I really thought, Maybe we're going to be able to do this."

Henning was there to watch it all unfold week after week, sometimes with comical results. One year a tournament put on a pro-am party in a pasture adjacent to the golf course. The field was going to be used as a parking lot once the tournament began, but with space at a premium, the tournament erected a tent and held a party there too. "The only problem was nobody bothered to clean the place up beforehand, and in order to get to the party we had to walk through all the turds," Henning says.

He sits back in his chair and laughs. Henning saw it all during his 22 years running the Tour. He set up the golf courses, trained the local organizing groups, did a lot of PR, attended the parties, listened to player gripes and, oh yeah, ran the competition once golfers started putting tees in the ground.

"Our goal in the early days was to build the Tour, have fun and get out of the house a few weeks a year. It had been a long time since Boros and Snead had been together. They'd talk about the old days, sitting around the hotel telling lies," Henning says. "That's what we were about in those early years."

In Henning's home in Ponte Vedra Beach, in his den, a picture hangs on his wall of all the early players from the Tour sitting around a hotel pool in Melbourne, FL, when the Tour was in town for the 1981 Suntree Classic. Everybody from the early days of the Tour is in the photo. It's literally a snapshot of what the Tour was when it began. Twenty-five years later, the Champions Tour remains an amalgam of competition and camaraderie. Rarely these days does the public see the players who were pictured sitting around that pool.

Eventually, Snead and Boros yielded to Barber and Gene Littler. Then came Gary Player, Bruce Crampton and Chi Chi Rodriguez, who gave way to Bob Charles, Lee Trevino and Jack Nicklaus. They, in turn, paved the way for Jim Colbert, Raymond Floyd and Dave Stockton, who...well, you get the idea.

Too many to mention have passed away, including three from that original group who met with Commissioner Beman—Boros, Dickinson and Sikes. All the rest have long since retired, rarely playing competitively but still on the course as often as their health allows while also making the annual pilgrimage to Savannah, GA, the new site of the Legends of Golf.

Goalby stops and thinks for a minute as he considers the Tour's legacy. But instead of focusing on his two Senior Tour victories or his 11 PGA TOUR titles, he talks about the more than 500 parties he served as master of ceremonies at after turning 50.

"I take more pride with what happened with the Senior Tour than anything else I've done because I know what I did," Goalby says. "I'm bragging a little, I guess, but I think my relationship with the players and the relationship with the sponsors is one of the things that really got the Tour off the ground."

Twenty-five years ago the Tour began. Bit by bit, the players laid a foundation and it quickly took off. There were plenty of skeptics about the Tour working, but remember what people said about the golf course Commissioner Beman was building in a swamp.

The man they called Bruno thinks of all this on a beautiful summer morning in Ponte Vedra Beach. Henning has dropped by the TPC at Sawgrass to take in a little sunshine and watch some guys hit balls on the range. It's been 25 years since he first saw the rudiments of what would become a world-class golf course, a quarter of a century since he first heard anything about this thing they were calling the Senior PGA Tour.

Henning sits back in his cart, looks at the expanse of green-grass fairways in front of him and realizes the Champions Tour—like the TPC at Sawgrass—is really some creation.

About the Commissioner

Timothy W. Finchem
Commissioner

Timothy W. Finchem, 57, is the third Commissioner of the PGA TOUR. Finchem succeeded Deane R. Beman as Commissioner on June 1, 1994. Beman had served for 20 years, replacing the late Joseph C. Dey, who had been the TOUR's Commissioner in its first five years, 1969-74.

Finchem, Deputy Commissioner and Chief Operating Officer of the TOUR under Beman since 1989, joined the TOUR staff as Vice President of Business Affairs in 1987.

As Commissioner, Finchem has greatly expanded the earnings opportunities for PGA TOUR players domestically and internationally. He also has taken leadership roles in the formation of the International Federation of PGA Tours and the World Golf Foundation, Inc.

His personal dedication to the success of the World Golf Foundation's First Tee initiative has helped that program achieve its initial objectives in developing facilities that will have an impact on the game for years to come.

"Our primary purpose as a membership organization is to create outstanding playing and earnings opportunities for our players," Finchem says,

"and we are proud of what our tournaments do for charity (more than $900 million raised) and the active role we have been able to take as an organization in growing the game for future generations."

Born in Ottawa, IL, on April 19, 1947, Finchem graduated from Princess Anne High School in Virginia Beach, VA. He attended the University of Richmond on a debate scholarship, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1969. He graduated from the University of Virginia Law School in 1973.

After practicing law in Virginia Beach for three years, Finchem served in the White House as Deputy Advisor to the President in the Office of Economic Affairs in 1978 and 1979. In the early 1980s, Finchem co-founded the National Marketing and Strategies Group in Washington, D.C.

Finchem is recipient of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America's Old Tom Morris Award for 2001 and the PGA of America's Distinguished Service Award for 2002.

Married to the former Holly Bachand, Finchem is a father of four. The Finchams live in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL.

(Clockwise, from left) Player of the Year Craig Stadler, Rookie of the Year Mark McNulty and Charles Schwab Cup winner Hale Irwin all turned in superb 2004 seasons.

2005 Champions Tour Eligibility Requirements

In order to be eligible for an official Champions Tour event, a player must be at least 50 years of age prior to his first tournament obligation. The field size at the majority of Champions Tour events in 2005 will be 78 players and eligibility requirements modified as follows for standard 78-player fields:

Standard Field Size: 78 Players

1. 30 players – Available from Prior-Year Money List, floor of 50
2. 30 players – Available from All-Time Money List (not exempt in No.1), floor of net 70
3. 4 players – PGA TOUR Career Victory Category, ages 50 and 51 (not exempt in No. 1 or No. 2)
4. 7 players – Available from National Qualifying Tournament (Replaced by Reorder Category in August; see below)
5. 5 players – Invited by the tournament
 - Two spots restricted: players with one PGA TOUR or Champions Tour win and Veteran Member status
 - Three spots unrestricted
6. 2 players – Open Qualifying
 - Tournament winners not already in the field will reduce restricted and unrestricted Sponsor Exemptions in alternating order.
 - Special Medical is positioned as No. 8 Q-School.
 - National Qualifying Tournament No. 8 through net No. 15 access after categories 1 and 2 “floor out.”
 - Past Champions access when National Qualifying Tournament “floors out.”

Reorder Category

All Champions Tour members 75th or better on the Current Year Official Champions Tour Money List, along with the top 15 (net) finishers of the Champions Tour National Qualifying Tournament and members remaining eligible via the Special Medical Extension Category, shall be ranked upon each member's position on the current year Official Champions Tour Money List and replace the National Qualifying Tournament Category for the last eight full-field events of each season. The top seven available and not-otherwise-exempt players on the Reorder Category list, in order of their position on said List, shall be eligible to compete in open, full-field tournaments.

Alternates

After commitment deadline, withdrawals will be replaced by the first available player on the Prior-Year and All-Time Money Lists, in alternating order. If all available players from both lists are in the field (“floor out”), additional players from the standard priority order fill the field (i.e., Special Medical, second eight National Qualifying Tournament and Past Champions).

GEORGIA-PACIFIC GRAND CHAMPIONS ELIGIBILITY

The Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions competition consists of players within the starting field who are 60 years of age and older. The competition takes place over the first 36 holes of a 54-hole event or the first 54 holes of a 72-hole tournament. Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions' earnings are unofficial, but the participants earn official money for their position of finish in the overall tournament. The Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions Championship is the culminating event of the competition.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES: T3—Blue Angels Classic; T4—MasterCard Classic; T9—MasterCard Championship.

2004 SEASON:

All three of his top-10 finishes came in his first seven starts of the season...Used a final-round 65, his low round of the year, to vault into a T3 at the Blue Angels Classic in mid-April...T4 at MasterCard Classic near Mexico City a month earlier. Was among the leaders through nine holes in the final round before a disastrous double bogey on the 12th hole derailed his chances...Started his year with a T9 at the MasterCard Championship in Hawaii. Closed with a 6-under 66 at Hualalai.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Found his winning ways for the first time since 1999 when he was a four-stroke victor over Jose Maria Canizares at the Music City Championship at Gaylord Opryland. Started with rounds of 64-63—127, the best opening 36-hole total for the season on the Champions Tour and held a six-stroke margin heading into Sunday's final round. Victory in Tennessee was one of three wire-to-wire events in 2003...Was the 54-hole leader at the JELD-WEN Tradition and eventually T2 at The Reserve, one stroke back of Tom Watson, after a final-round 72. Performance near Portland was his best-ever in a Champions Tour major. 2002: Posted four top-10 finishes, highlighted by a fifth-place performance at the Bruno's Memorial Classic. Closing-round 66 at the Alabama event propelled him to his best finish since finishing second at the 2001 Farmers Charity Classic. 2001: Was among the top-31 players on the money list for the first time on the Champions Tour...Neck problems during the middle of the summer forced him to miss almost a month of action. Returned at the U.S. Senior Open and recorded five top-10 finishes during a six-week stretch. Highlight of this run was a second-place effort at the Farmers Charity Classic near Grand Rapids, MI, one stroke short of Larry Nelson. 2000: Finished second to Gil Morgan by a stroke at the rain-shortened Comfort Classic in Indianapolis. Moved into contention at Brickyard Crossing on Saturday with a sizzling 8-under 64, but never had the opportunity to challenge Morgan as bad weather washed out the final round. 1999: Captured his first Champions Tour event in just his seventh start, defeating Hale Irwin in a playoff at the AT&T Canada Senior Open Championship. Made par on the second extra hole for the win after sinking a clutch 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th green in regulation to force the overtime session. Canadian triumph at Richelieu Valley near Montreal earned him an immediate exemption for a calendar year. Open qualified to get into the event and thus became just the seventh Monday qualifier in Champions Tour history to go on and win and the first since Dana Quigley in 1997...Selected by the PGA of America as the Senior Club Professional Player of the Year.

The Champions Tour Is Born

1978 Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf

The idea that there may be a market for golfers age 50-plus competing on a national stage is born with the first Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf tournament. Played at the Onion Creek Golf Club in Austin, TX, the legendary Sam Snead and partner Gardner Dickinson steal the headlines with an NBC national television audience looking on. Snead birdies the 16th and 17th holes to tie the Australian team of Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle. Then, on 18, Snead's sensational fairway wedge shot stops four feet short of the hole, a putt he sinks for his third consecutive birdie and the title. Snead and Dickinson collect $50,000 each.

The Shootout at Onion Creek

1979 Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf

On the afternoon of April 30, 1979, there were fireworks galore at the Onion Creek Golf Club in Austin, TX, site of the second Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf. Birdies on the last two holes of regulation play by Roberto De Vincenzo and Julius Boros forced the tournament into sudden-death with Tommy Bolt and Art Wall. A national television audience on NBC marveled as the playoff produced one par and six birdies, with De Vincenzo and Bolt trading friendly barbs after each birdie. De Vincenzo and Bolt came away the champions, and a year later the Champions Tour was launched.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISH: 3—MasterCard Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Nearly broke through with his first win in six years at MasterCard Classic near Mexico City in March. Trailing 36-hole leader Graham Marsh by just one stroke at the start of Sunday's final round and held a brief one-stroke lead after 10 holes, but consecutive bogeys on the next two holes dropped him from the lead. He went on to finish third, one shot out of a playoff with Marsh and eventual winner Ed Fiori. The third-place finish was his best since 2001 when he was T3 at the NFL Golf Classic, where he also finished one stroke shy of a playoff. Followed that effort with a T15 finish at the SBC Classic. Only other top-20 finish came in July when he was 17th at the Senior British Open.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Played his best late in the summer when he was inside the top 10 in consecutive tournaments during a run of 10 straight rounds of par/better. Closed with his lowest score of the year, a 6-under 66, at The Reserve and improved 18 spots on the final day to T7 at the JELD-WEN

Tradition, the final major championship of the season. Performance near Portland was his first top-10 in a major since a T8 at the 1999 U.S. Senior Open. Posted three straight sub-70 rounds the next week and T6 at the Kroger Classic near Cincinnati. Also T6 early in the year at the Music City Championship, his best performance on the Champions Tour in just over a year. Had an early season highlight when he made the seventh ace of his career during the final round of the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic, the first full-field event of the season. Holed a 9-iron shot at Key Biscayne's 131-yard eighth hole. 2002: T7 at the NFL Golf Classic, thanks, in part, to rounds of 68-69 on the weekend. 2001: T2 at the TD Waterhouse Championship, eight strokes back of Ed Dougherty and his best effort since a T2 at the 1998 EMC Kaanapali Classic. T3 at the NFL Golf Classic, one stroke out of a playoff with Allen Doyle and eventual winner John Schroeder. Made the first hole-in-one of the season at the SBC Senior Classic. Aced Valencia CC's 178-yard third hole with a 5-iron during the second round. 2000: T5 at the Royal Caribbean Classic. Also solo fifth at the AT&T Canada Senior Open Championship. Had to withdraw from the Boone Valley Classic after undergoing an emergency appendectomy the night prior to the final round. Attended 2000 National Qualifying Tournament and finished T11, but did not participate in a playoff for a conditional card. 1999: T6 at the State Farm Senior Classic and was solo sixth at the AT&T Canada Senior Open Championship where he was in contention until early in the final round. 1998: Posted two victories and joined Hale Irwin as the only other player to win back-to-back events. Registered a tournament-record 20-under-par 196 score to defeat Bruce Summerhays by two strokes at the Comfort Classic and then came back a week later to win the rain-shortened Kroger Senior Classic in a playoff. Made birdie on the second extra hole to best four other players after Sunday's final round was canceled. 1997: One of the real surprises on the Champions Tour, with a victory and 14 top-10 finishes in 25 starts (two as a Monday qualifier). Began the year as a conditionally-exempt player (second eight at the 1996 National Qualifying Tournament) and did not play in his first event until the PGA Seniors' Championship (T35). Lost to Bruce Crampton in a three-hole playoff at the Cadillac NFL Golf Classic. Also lost in a two-hole playoff to Bruce Summerhays at the Saint Luke's Classic where he opened with a 63 that included a 29 on the back nine. Won his first Champions Tour title at the Pittsburgh Senior Classic. Caught Bob Duval with birdies on the final two holes of regulation then prevailed in a playoff with a par on the sixth extra hole. Named Player of the Month for August.

1996: Earned partially-exempt spot on the 1997 Champions Tour by finishing 10th at the National Qualifying Tournament. Involved in a six-man playoff for positions 9-14 before claiming 10th spot overall with a par on the fourth extra hole.

OTHER CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

Has played tournament golf in 31 different countries around the world. Was a fixture for 23 years on the European Tour, where he won seven times after turning professional in November 1971. Best year was in 1977, when he finished second on the Order of Merit to Seve Ballesteros. Played in the Masters from 1974-76. Represented South Africa three times in the World Cup and was a South African PGA captain for three years. Winner of the 1977 PGA Match Play Championship in Europe. Owns 15 wins on the South African Tour, including the 1978 South Africa Open. Played an abbreviated PGA European Seniors Tour schedule in 1996, competing in just three events after turning 50 in August. Finished third at The Belfry PGA Seniors and T3 at the Scottish Seniors Open. Posted his career-low round of 61 at the 1985 Holiday Inn Invitational and again at the 1993 Royal Swazi Classic. Has had seven career holes-in-one in competitive rounds.

PERSONAL:

Credits his father as the person who most influenced his career. Was a scratch player by the age of 15. Golf hero is Gary Player. Is among a South African contingent on the Champions Tour that includes Player, John Bland, and Mark McNulty. Lists Cypress Point as his favorite golf course and Atlanta Brave Chipper Jones as his favorite athlete.

January Captures Inaugural Champions Tour Event in Atlantic City

1980 Atlantic City Senior International

Don January made history when he became the winner of the first Champions Tour tournament, the Atlantic City Senior International. The event brought together many of the legends of the game with a field that included the likes of Sam Snead, Julius Boros, Mike Souchak, Art Wall, Bob Goalby, Garner Dickinson and Dan Sikes. All would play prominent roles in the growth of the Champions Tour.

The tournament at Atlantic City Country Club even included a final-round 63 by Charles Sifford. But it would be January who etched his name in the record books. After opening with a 68, January followed with a 71-69 finish to post a two-stroke win and claim the $20,000 first prize.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES:

T3—Royal Caribbean Golf Classic; T7—Outback Steakhouse Pro-Am; T9—Toshiba Senior Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Best finish came in his initial start of the season at the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic. Trailing after 36 holes by just one stroke before shooting a final-round, 1-over-par 73 in windy conditions to finish T3 with Gil Morgan. It was his best performance since earning a second-place finish at the 2002 Allianz Championship. Two weeks later added his second top-10 finish when he was T7 at the Outback Steakhouse Pro-Am in Tampa. For the ninth consecutive year, ranked among the Champions Tour's top 10 in Driving Accuracy. Hit the fairway off the tee 83.0 percent of the time to place second behind Allen Doyle.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Finished out of the top 30 on the season-long money list for the first time since 1999. Registered just two top-10 finishes in 24 starts. Again played well at Glen Oaks CC in Des Moines, IA. Strung together three straight sub-70 rounds at the Allianz Championship and T8, his top effort of the season. Was one of just two players on the Champions Tour (Tom Jenkins) to make multiple aces during the season. First holed a 6-iron shot from 171 yards on the par-3 12th hole at Egypt Valley during the second round of the Farmers Charity Classic and then made his fourth career Champions Tour ace in the last round of his final start of the year at the SBC Championship. Again used a 6-iron, this time from 172 yards on the par-3 second hole at Oak Hills during the final round. Hole-in-one in San Antonio made him the first player since Bob Lenzion in 2000 to have multiple aces in the same season. 2002: Top performance of the year came at the Allianz Championship, finishing second by one stroke to Bob Gilder. Had Champions Tour career-best 8-under 63 (course record) at Glen Oaks on Saturday with a hole-in-one (5-iron, 16th hole) that gave him a two-stroke lead after 36 holes. Was tied with Gilder with just three holes to play, but made a bogey at No. 17 and finished second. 2001: Fired a final-round 66 to finish as the runner-up to Bruce Fleisher at the Home Depot Invitational, his best effort since barely losing to Graham Marsh at the 1997 U.S. Senior Open at Olympia Fields. 2000: T4 at the SBC Senior Open near Chicago. Finished second to Christy O'Connor, Jr. for the second straight year at the unofficial Senior British Open at Royal County Down in Northern Ireland. 1999: Had six top-10 performances, highlighted by a T4 at the Pacific Bell Senior Classic, three strokes short of Joe Inman. 1998: Season was limited to just 18 events, including just two following the death of his first wife, Helen, in early August. Earlier in the year, put together four straight top-10s, including a fifth-place effort at the Pittsburgh Senior Classic. 1997: Battled good friend Graham Marsh to the final hole before falling one stroke short at the U.S. Senior Open at Olympia Fields CC near Chicago. Palmer Wins Senior Debut

1980 Senior PGA Championship

The tournament, played at the Turnberry Isle Country Club in Miami, FL, marked the senior debut of the legendary Arnold Palmer, and he did not disappoint his legion of fans. A seven-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff with Paul Harney earned Palmer the title and $20,000 after the duo finished regulation at 1-over-par 289. "It's the PGA Championship I never won," said Palmer. The King would go on to claim nine more Champions Tour titles and ignite interest in the newly formed Tour in the same fashion he did for golf in America in the 1950s and '60s.

Palmer Claims Victory, His Last Official Win

1985 Crestar Classic

A last-minute decision to play in the Crestar Classic turned out to be a wise one for Arnold Palmer. The King's choice, made just hours before the entry deadline, provided a big spectator boost to the event near Richmond, VA. After opening with a 7-under-par 65 Friday, Palmer followed with rounds of 68 and 70 to cruise to a wire-to-wire, four-stroke win over the trio of Lee Elder, Jim Ferree and Larry Mowry. In winning his 10th title since turning 50, Palmer's winner's check for $48,750 was, astonishingly, his largest on the Champions Tour.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES: 1—Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am; T2—JELD-WEN Tradition; 3—Charles Schwab Cup Championship.

2004 SEASON:

Won for the eighth time in his career and for the second time near Kansas City when he claimed the rain-shortened Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am by a stroke over Jerry Pate. Made a short birdie putt on the 18th hole Saturday to give himself a one-stroke cushion over Pate and then was declared the winner when Sunday's final round was canceled due to course damage from overnight storms Saturday... Was among a handful of players who battled it out in Sunday's final round at the JELD-WEN Tradition in late August. Trained by one stroke heading into Sunday's final round and remained in contention throughout the round but failed to birdie one of his final two holes to finish T2, one stroke behind Craig Stadler... Made nice showing at the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship where he was a third-place finisher. Was T17 after two rounds but fired an impressive 5-under-par 67 in rainy conditions on Saturday and a 3-under-par 69 on Sunday to jump 14 places... His T11 finish at the SAS Championship earned him a check for $41,000 and pushed him over the $1-million mark for the sixth consecutive year... Champions Tour Player of the Month for June... After two straight years as the runner-up to Doug Tewell in Driving Accuracy, he finished first in that category, tying the all-time Champions Tour mark set in 1994 by Calvin Peete at 84.1 percent.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Over the $1-million mark in earnings for a fifth straight season and was back among the top 10 on the money list after a year's absence, thanks to 13 top-10 finishes... Tied with Tom Jenkins for the most sub-par rounds on the Champions Tour with 64... Won for the first time in just over two years when he prevailed at the FleetBoston Classic. The native of nearby Norwood, MA, broke the 18-hole tournament record at Nashawtuc and equaled his career-low score with a second-round, 8-under-par 63 that included a 6-under-par 29 on the front nine. His 54-hole total of 198 also matched the tournament scoring mark, held by Chi Chi Rodriguez, and helped him defeat Bruce Fleisher and defending champion Bob Gilder by two strokes for his eighth career win on the

Champions Tour... Contended earlier in the campaign for the Columbus Southern Open title near his home in Georgia and eventually finished one stroke short of Morris Hatafsky. Trained by one stroke after 36 holes, but could not overtake Hatafsky despite closing with a 3-under-par 67 at Green Island CC... Also finished third late in the year at the SBC Championship in San Antonio and T4 at the U.S. Senior Open, his fourth consecutive top-10 finish in the event... Ranked among the top-five in Driving Accuracy for a fifth straight year, finishing second to Doug Tewell in that category (80.9 percent). 2002: Had 13 top-10 finishes, including a second- and two third-place efforts... Runner-up to Hale Irwin at the Toshiba Senior Classic after owning sole possession of first place after the opening round. 2001: Was the Champions Tour's mark of consistency, with 25 top-10 finishes in 34 starts, one top-10 short of Lee Trevino's all-time senior record (1990)... Battled Bruce Fleisher down the stretch for both the Charles Schwab Cup and the overall money title and claimed both honors... Received the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year Award after a vote of his peers... Donated his entire $1 million annuity for winning the Charles Schwab Cup to six different charitable organizations... Earned $2,553,582, the third-highest single-season total in Champions Tour history... Was 236-under par, the most under by any player on the circuit for a season... Led the Champions Tour with 55 (out of 102) rounds in the 60s and had 81 sub-par rounds, one short of Tom Wargo's record (1994)... Won twice and came close to winning four other tournaments... Claimed both of his 2001 titles in playoffs over a span of three weeks, starting in mid-July. Holed a 35-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole to jump into a playoff with Doug Tewell at the Ford Senior Players Championship and then defeated Tewell with a par on the first extra hole for his second major championship on the Champions Tour. The $375,000 paycheck was the largest of his career... Won again two weeks later at the State Farm Senior Classic. Rebounded from an opening-round 73 to get into a tie with Fleisher at the end of regulation and then outlasted Fleisher with a four-foot par putt on the third playoff hole. 2000: Posted just one official victory during the season despite improving his scoring average

Rodriguez Wins Fourth Tournament in a Row

With nine holes remaining, things appeared bleak for Chi Chi Rodriguez in his bid to become the first player to record four consecutive victories. Facing a three-stroke deficit with nine holes to play, Rodriguez birdied four of the last nine holes to overtake Bruce Crampton at Bent Tree Country Club in Dallas and win the Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am. Rodriguez's decisive stroke came at the par-3 17th, where he nailed a 6-iron 12 feet from the hole before dropping in a birdie putt. Rodriguez sealed the win by two-putting for par from six feet on the 18th hole.

2004 SEASON:

Finished in the top 30 on the money list for the eighth time in nine years when he claimed the 30th spot, thanks in part to a late-season run. Earned nearly half his money ($301,340) in the last two months of the campaign to get into the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship...Had two productive weeks in August. Made a spirited run for the title in the year's last major championship at the JELD-WEN Tradition late in the month. Entered the final round tied for the lead with Peter Jacobsen and held the lead for a large portion of Sunday's final round before consecutive bogeys on Nos. 16 and 17 knocked him from contention. He finished T4, two behind Craig Stadler...Strung together three consecutive sub-par rounds in his previous start at the 3M Championship to finish T3, three strokes back of Tom Kite. Performance in Minnesota was his best on the Champions Tour since 2003 U.S. Senior Open...Was T9 at the MasterCard Championship to start the year and then was T7 at the Outback Steakhouse Pro-Am one month later in Tampa...Only Tom Kite converted more par-5 birdie opportunities (43.9 percent to 43.1 percent).

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Returned to the top 30 after a year's absence despite missing just over a month of the season with family business in South America...Was among the top three in four events, one more than his combined top-three finishes in the last two seasons...Got his year started in a big way by winning The ACE Group Classic in his second appearance. Played all but the first hole of the event without a bogey and notched his first Champions Tour win in three years and nine months. Three-stroke win over Des Smyth and Tom Watson in Naples included holing a 61-foot birdie putt on the last hole. Hit 44 of 54 greens in regulation at The Club at TwinEagles, including all 18 greens on Sunday...Finished T2 at the Emerald Coast Classic, four strokes back of Bob Gilder, despite posting a 54-hole score of 13-under 197 that included just one bogey...Was also third at the Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am after being the 36-hole leader near Kansas City and third at the U.S. Senior Open, three behind Bruce Lietzke. Was the second-round leader at Inverness following a 7-under-par 64, the lowest second-round score in U.S. Senior Open history...Improved his putting, moving from T47 in 2002 to T13 and also added over 10 yards in driving distance from previous year. 2002: Made a strong run to earn a spot in the year-end event, staying in contention all three days at the SBC Championship in San Antonio, but could only muster a solo third-place finish (two strokes behind winner Dana Quigley) in the year's final full-field event...Was plagued by off-course distractions during the year, including deaths in his family. 2001: T2 at the Las Vegas Senior Classic. Trained Jerry McGee by three strokes entering the final round, but shot an even-par 72 and was three strokes back of Bruce Fleisher at the end...Made it to the finals of the Enterprise Rent-A-Car Match Play Championship before losing, 1-up, to Leonard Thompson. 2000: Finished second to Bruce Fleisher by two points at the Royal Caribbean Classic, a Modified Stableford event...Was also among the early leaders at the Nationwide Championship, but was edged out on the final day by Hale Irwin and T2 at the GC of Georgia...Capped his season by winning the Chrysler Senior Match Play Challenge at the Hyatt Dorado Beach in Puerto Rico. Went into the event as the lowest of 16 seeded players and upset Larry Nelson, John Jacobs and Raymond Floyd en route to the final match against Leonard Thompson. Birdied the first hole of a sudden-death playoff to beat Thompson for the title and $240,000 first-place check...Also won the Argentine Open for the seventh time, becoming the oldest ever to claim the biggest event in the country. 1999: Among the circuit's top-10 money-winners for the first time in his career, eclipsing the seven-figure mark for the first time ever...Ended a 20-month victory drought with a two-stroke win at the Las Vegas Senior Classic. Broke a tie with Dave Eichelberger by making a 30-foot eagle putt at the 16th hole. The $210,000 winner's check in Vegas was his largest as a professional at the time...Also came close to victory earlier in the campaign at the PGA Seniors' Championship. Shared the lead heading into the final round at PGA National, but eventually second to Allen Doyle by two strokes...Was also a runner-up at The ACE Group Classic in Naples, a distant five strokes back of Doyle. 1998: Closed with a 68 at the Las Vegas Senior Classic, but fell one stroke shy of Hale Irwin...Challenged Irwin again at the U.S. Senior Open at Riviera CC, but again came up one short. 1997: Emerged victorious at the final Bank One Classic in Lexington when he seized the lead with three holes to play and went on to record a one-stroke victory over Isao Aoki. 1996: First win was a memorable one...Posted a one-stroke victory at the Burnet Senior Classic in July and in the process, became just the fifth Monday qualifier in Champions Tour history to win a tournament. Breakthrough came in just his eighth start on the circuit...Was in contention with Hale Irwin in his first Champions Tour start before finishing third at the 1996 PGA Seniors' Championship.

Trevino Takes Champions Tour by Storm in Rookie Year

Lee Trevino didn't waste any time making his mark on the Champions Tour when his chance came in 1990. Quick out of the gate, the Merry Mex won three times in his first four outings. He would go on to capture seven wins and earn both Rookie of the Year and Player of the Year honors, as well as the Byron Nelson Award as scoring leader. The 1981 World Golf Hall of Fame inductee became the first Champions Tour player to go over the $1-million mark in earnings and was the leading money winner in all of golf that season.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES: 1—MasterCard Classic; T9—Royal Caribbean Golf Classic, Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf.

2004 SEASON:

Broke through for his first professional victory in nearly eight years when he defeated Graham Marsh in a three-hole playoff to win the MasterCard Classic in March near Mexico City. Had birdied the final hole in regulation, which helped him close with a 5-under-par 67, one of only two players to finish below 70 on Sunday. Eventually earned a spot in the playoff with Marsh. Appeared to be out of contention when Marsh's lead on the field grew to three strokes with six holes to play, but found himself in a playoff when Marsh three-putted holes 16 and 17 to drop back into a tie with Fiori at the close of play. Finished the playoff with a par on the third extra hole to earn the $300,000 first prize, the largest check of his career. Victory was even more remarkable in that he had battled health issues (elevated blood pressure due to an alteration in his medication) in the second round, which nearly forced him out of the event. Medication was a result of a heart attack he suffered in January while undergoing a stress test...His seven-stroke comeback win against Marsh tied the second best come-from-behind effort in Champions

Tour history...Other top-10 finishes were a pair of T9s at the Royal Caribbean Classic and Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf...Played in the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic shortly after his heart attack but missed the cut.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Became eligible for the Champions Tour in April and debuted at the Kinko's Classic of Austin (T35)...Posted best finish of the year when he was T6 at the FleetBoston Classic after three straight rounds in the 60s...Second top-10 came in his last start of the campaign, a T9 at the Turtle Bay Championship in Hawaii...Led the Champions Tour in Scrambling, getting the ball up and down for par 66.4 percent of the time. 2002: Attended the 2002 Champions Tour National Qualifying Tournament in November and finished T11 at the World Woods GC in Florida, earning a conditional exemption for the 2003 season. Also eligible for events via the PGA TOUR Career Victory category.

OTHER CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

After enjoying three wins in a four-year span early in career, had to wait another 14 years, 8 months and 2 days for his fourth title, the 1996 Quad City Classic. Only Butch Baird, who went 15 years, 5 months and 10 days between his first and second TOUR victories, had a longer drought. Trailed Tiger Woods by one stroke after 54 holes but closed with a 67 for a two-stroke victory over Andrew Magee. His first-place check for $216,000 was more than he had won in any previous season on the PGA TOUR...Scored first victory in second season, winning playoff over Tom Weiskopf at 1979 Southern Open...Won 1981 Western Open by four-strokes over Jim Colbert, Greg Powers and Jim Simons despite an opening-round 74...Defeated Tom Kite in playoff to win 1982 Bob Hope Desert Classic...Prior to 2005 season, had played in 567 PGA TOUR events and made 349 cuts with earnings totaling $2,270,198...Best season from an earnings standpoint came in 1996 when he won $261,292...Best finish on the money list was 26th in 1983 when he won $175,619...Made three career starts on the Nationwide

Tour, winning $1,890...Medalist at the 1977 PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament at Pinehurst CC...Earned All-America honors at the University of Houston in 1977, the year the Cougars won the national championship. Played for the legendary coach Dave Williams.

PERSONAL:

Nicknamed "The Grip" because of his unusually strong grip on the club...Victory at Quad City postponed plans to retire from game and become a charter-boat captain...Got started in the game when he would sneak through the barbed wire onto a nine-hole course near his home in Downey, CA...Made his PGA TOUR debut in 1978 when he finished T66 at the Joe Garagiola-Tucson Open and won $325.

Bush's visit—along with a huge Secret Service detail—upstaged Lee Trevino, who went on to record a six-stroke victory over Gary Player. President Bush took time out from other activities during his Texas visit to play with his son and current President, George W., PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman and host Doug Sanders, who had invited the Commander in Chief to play in the event he hosted each year.

2004 SEASON:

Finished outside the top-20 money-winners for the first time in his Champions Tour career...Played his best golf from May into early June, finishing third three times in five appearances... T3 for the second consecutive year at the FedEx Kinko's Classic in Austin. Helped his cause with a final-round, 7-under-par 65, the low round of the tournament and his best round of the year...Shared the 36-hole lead at the Farmers Charity Classic with Andy Bean before slipping back into a T3, with a final-round 71. Had a pair of eagles in carding an opening-round 66 in Grand Rapids...Followed with another strong showing the next week near Kansas City, T3 at the weather-shortened Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am...Also on the leaderboard throughout the U.S. Senior Open and finished solo fifth at Bellerive, his best performance in a senior major since the 2002 JELD-WEN Tradition.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Among his nine top-10 finishes were a win, three seconds and a third...Played some of his best golf during a one-month stretch starting in late April with his seventh Champions Tour win at the Emerald Coast Classic. 54-hole 17-under 193 total shattered the tournament record by three strokes, and was also the lowest 54-hole winning score on the Champions Tour. Closing-round 63 in Pensacola was also the best finish by a winner in 2003. Used a second-round 64 to vault himself into a tie with Tom Watson after 36 holes and then cruised easily to the title after shooting a 7-under 63 on Easter Sunday. Made 23 birdies over 54 holes, the most by any player in the field, and birdied both par-5s at The Moors all three days...T4 the following week at the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf and then placed T6 at the Bruno's Memorial Classic and solo third at the Kinko's Classic of Austin. Was a runner-up for a third consecutive year at the SBC Championship in San Antonio in October, losing to Craig Stadler by four strokes...Champions Tour's April Player of the Month...Came close to defending his title at the FleetBoston Classic in August after rounds of 68-65-68, but fell three strokes shy, finishing T2 with Bruce Fleisher behind Allen Doyle...Went head-to-head with Jim Thorpe at the Long Island Classic two weeks later but lost by one stroke. Had an opportunity to birdie the final hole and set up a potential playoff with Thorpe, but missed a six-foot birdie attempt on the final hole to finish second. 2002: Had his most-productive season as a professional, with four wins and earnings totaling $2,367,637...Was the Champions Tour's Player of the Month for July and September after recording a pair of victories in consecutive weeks during each month...In July, became the first player since Jim Thorpe in 2001 to claim back-to-back events and the first professional since Lee Elder (1985) to win consecutive tournaments on the Champions Tour in playoffs. Defeated John Mahaffey with a birdie-3 on the third extra hole to win the FleetBoston Classic at Nashawtuc. Became the first wire-to-wire winner in the 22-year history of the event and just the second player ever to win both a PGA TOUR (1982 Bank of Boston Classic) and Champions Tour event in the Boston area (Arnold Palmer, the other). Fell into playoff after making bogey on the final hole, ending a run of 64 straight holes without a blemish...Defeated Hale Irwin a week earlier with a par on the first hole of a playoff to win the SBC Senior Open in Chicago. Trained Irwin by one stroke with two holes to play in regulation, but made a crucial 15-foot birdie putt on the 16th hole to send the tournament to a playoff. Player Wins Final Major Title in The Dark

Gary Player used a third-round 65 to spoil Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino's first appearances in a Senior PGA Championship and win the last of his six senior major titles. Player began the final round at PGA National Golf Club with a five-stroke lead over Nicklaus and a six-stroke advantage over Trevino. The trio played in the final grouping, but actually Player's only threat came from Chi Chi Rodriguez, who closed with a 66 to vault into second place. When play resumed after a rain delay, with darkness fast approaching, Player found the water and double-bogeyed No. 16. But he steadied himself and parred in for a two-shot victory.

Narrowly missed a birdie putt at 18, which would have eventually earned him a playoff spot opposite Levi...Was the first-round leader at the Farmers Charity Classic and was in contention down the stretch on Sunday before coming up solo third in Grand Rapids, two strokes short of both Doug Tewell and Eamonn Darcy...Also was one stroke back after 54 holes of the JELD-WEN Tradition. Eventually T5 after a final-round 72.

2002: Voted by his peers as the Rookie of the Year...Was one of the great success stories of the season...Began the year as a non-exempt player. However, took full advantage of open qualifying, sponsor exemptions and his Past Champion status to parlay those early appearances into exempt status via the Tour reshuffle...Registered his first Champions Tour victory at the Uniting Fore Care Classic. Pulled away from the field with five birdies on the front nine and won by 12 points in the Modified Stableford system event. Victory in Park City ended a drought of 12 years, one month and 10 days and put him over the $1-million mark in just his 16th event of the season...Enjoyed great early success as an open qualifier, posting four top 10s in five starts via that route, including a runner-up effort to Jay Sigel at the Farmers Charity Classic, one of three 2002 second-place finishes.

Nicklaus Completes Senior Career Slam

1991 U.S. Senior Open

Four players were tied for the lead at Oakland Hills with two holes left in regulation, but only two emerged to play an extra round Monday. A five-foot birdie by Jack Nicklaus at the par-3 17th, coupled with Chi Chi Rodriguez's brilliant approach over a bunker at the 18th that rolled two feet from the cup for an easy birdie, left the two deadlocked after 72 holes. In the last 18-hole playoff in Champions Tour history, Rodriguez responded with a 69, but Nicklaus shot 65 for the victory. By winning, Nicklaus, at the time, became the first and only player to claim all four of the Champions Tour's major titles in his career.

2004 SEASON:

Continued to defy the odds and again put together a remarkable season that contained multiple victories, despite having to deal with a tender lower back and assorted neck and shoulder pain late in the year... Was T7 at the Charles Schwab Cup Championship, which helped him hold off Craig Stadler by a mere 39 points in the season's final event to earn his second Charles Schwab Cup. Led the Schwab Cup race for 11 weeks during the summer and then slipped into second place for four weeks before regaining the top spot for good after his runner-up finish at the Administaff Small Business Classic... Was among the top 10 in 14 of 23 events, including three top-10 efforts in four of the senior major championships he entered... Had a Tour-best 40 rounds in the 60s out of 73 played (55 percent)... Went over $2-million mark in official money for the seventh time in the last eight years... Won multiple titles for an unprecedented 10th straight season, with both victories coming during the spring... Survived a grueling week at Valhalla in late May to claim his fourth Senior PGA Championship and his 40th career Champions Tour title. Two-putted from 40 feet to birdie the 72nd hole to claim the weather-plagued event by one stroke over Jay Haas. Led or was tied for the lead after each round, and victory came just three days short of his 59th birthday, making him the oldest winner of a major since the start of the Champions Tour and the oldest player ever to win multiple events. Win was his seventh senior major title and he joined Jack Nicklaus (JELD-WEN Tradition) as the only other player to win the same major four times. Triumph at Valhalla also gave him a major championship title in six of his nine full years on the Champions Tour... Held off Gil Morgan in late April for the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf crown. Managed to eek out a one-stroke victory after making par on the final hole while Morgan two-putted from 20 feet for a bogey. Legends appearance was his first in a month and win in Savannah was his 21st different Champions Tour title... Had opportunities to win three other events during the year... Made a valiant bid to win his third U.S. Senior Open at Bellerive, but came up one stroke short of Peter Jacobsen. Posted rounds of 67-68 on 36-hole Sunday, but was derailed midway through the front nine of his final round by a bogey-double bogey stretch (holes 5 and 6)... Mounted a final-round charge at the Constellation Energy Classic, matching the tournament course record with a final-round 64, to finish second, two shots back of Wayne Levi. Birdied six of the last seven holes Sunday to post his lowest score since firing a 64 in the second round of the 2002 RJR Championship... Finished second again at the inaugural Administaff Small Business Classic, losing to Larry Nelson on the first hole of a playoff. Jumped into contention during the final round by holing a 4-iron second shot from 195 yards for an eagle on Augusta Pines' par-4 14th hole. Got into the overtime session after a two-putt birdie on the par-5 final hole... Missed the SAS Championship in Raleigh due to a neck strain... Ran off a string of 10 straight sub-par rounds from the Allianz Championship to the Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am and then had a 2004 Champions Tour-best 16 consecutive sub-par rounds over his last six starts of the year... Was also in contention early in the final round of the inaugural First Tee Open at Pebble Beach before eventually finishing T3 on the consecutive top-10 finishes. Was T9 at the MasterCard Championship and followed that with a T5 at the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Was among the top 10 in only four events, the fewest he's ever had in a full season on the Champions Tour, yet claimed the biggest prize of his career in early June near Philadelphia. Pulled away from Bobby Wadkins with birdies on the 15th and 16th holes to win the Senior PGA Championship at Aronimink GC by two strokes. Three of his four rounds were in the 60s, including a closing-round 68. In the process became the oldest winner of that event (58) since Pete Cooper, at age 61, in 1976. His $360,000 first-place check was his largest ever and was almost half of his total earnings on the season...Posted first top-10 finish in late March when he T3 at the Toshiba Senior Classic and then T6 at Bruno's Memorial Classic slightly more than a month later...Suffered left ankle sprain playing a practice round at the PGA Championship and missed one start in August. 2002: Had a career-best year from an earnings standpoint, with $1,224,737...Made a crucial par save on the final hole to win the rain-shortened Royal Caribbean Classic, his first victory since the 2000 Bruno's Memorial Classic. Edged Isao Aoki, Tom Watson and Bruce Fleisher by a stroke at Crandon Park with an 11-under 133 total...Started the season by finishing second to Tom Kite at the MasterCard Championship. Final-round 68 at Hualalai included the first double eagle of his career on the par-5, 566-yard 10th hole (driver/8-iron, 189 yards)...Third-round leader at The Countrywide Tradition following a 66 and then finished tied with Jim Thorpe after 72 holes at Superstition Mountain. Lost to Thorpe in the year's first major championship when, on the first extra playoff hole, his four-foot birdie attempt lipped out. 2001: Best effort came late in the year in Hawaii when he dueled Hale Irwin on the back nine of the Turtle Bay Championship before losing by three strokes. 2000: Eclipsed the $1-million mark for the first time in his professional career...Defeated Gil Morgan in overtime at the Bruno's Memorial Classic. Came from six strokes back on Sunday with a final-round 64 at Greystone G&CC and then defeated Morgan with a par on the first playoff hole. Come-from-behind margin was the biggest by a Champions Tour player since Bruce Summerhays rallied from six shots back at the 1997 Saint Lukes Classic near Kansas City...Was the first player to post four straight rounds in the 60s at the IR SENIOR TOUR Championship and eventually finished second to Tom Watson by a stroke at the TPC of Myrtle Beach...Matched his career-low round with a 9-under 63 on Sunday at the Gold Rush Classic and finished third...Aced the eighth hole in the third round of the Ford Senior Players Championship, his second hole-in-one on the Champions Tour. 1999: Went wire-to-wire at the beginning of the year for a three-stroke victory over Jim Colbert and Raymond Floyd at the MasterCard Championship...Was also the 18- and 36-hole leader at the Toshiba Senior Classic, but lost to good friend Gary McCord in an exciting four-way playoff at Newport Beach. First shot his career-low round, an 8-under 63, on Saturday at the EMC Kaanapali Classic. 1998: Tasted victory for the first time in his Champions Tour career when he came from three strokes back on Sunday to claim the Nationwide Championship near Atlanta. Trained Gil Morgan and Bob Eastwood by three strokes at the start of the final round, but jumped into contention with birdies on five of his first nine holes. Made a key birdie at the 17th hole down the stretch to nip Hale Irwin by a stroke for the title. 1997: Nearly posted his first Champions Tour victory at the Southwestern Bell Dominion. Held a one-stroke lead over David Graham before Graham eagled the final hole to overtake him by one stroke...Knocked on the victory door again three weeks later when he was just two off the lead after 36 holes at the Las Vegas Senior Classic before finishing T3. 1996: Was 23rd on the final money list, with best finish a solo second at the rain-shortened Brickyard Crossing Championship. 1995: Earned fully-exempt status by finish-

Floyd Makes History with Wins on Both Tours

1992 GTE North Classic

In March of 1992, Raymond Floyd claimed his 22nd and final PGA TOUR win at the Doral-Ryder Open. Then six months later and only two weeks after his 50th birthday, the North Carolinian fashioned rounds of 66–67–66 to march off with a two-shot victory in the GTE North Classic at the Broadmoor Country Club in Indianapolis, IN. Floyd became the first player in history to win tournaments on both the PGA TOUR and the Champions Tour in the same year. His feat would not be matched until Craig Stadler won the Ford Senior Players Championship and the B.C. Open in successive weeks in July 2003.

2004 SEASON:

Officially joined the Champions Tour at the SBC Classic in March shortly after turning 50, but subsequent left hip surgery in April kept him out of action on the Tour for nearly three months... Highlight of his season came in his third start on the Champions Tour in late July when he was one-stroke victor over Hale Irwin in the U.S. Senior Open near St. Louis. Posted rounds of 69-68 Sunday, despite walking all 36 holes in 90-degree heat at Bellerive with a sore left hip. Became the second-youngest champion in Senior Open history at 50 years, 4 months, 28 days (Dale Douglass is youngest at 50/3/24)... Nearly won his second major title less than a month later. Shared the third-round lead with Vicente Fernandez at the JELD-WEN Tradition near his home in Portland, but couldn't hang on in Sunday's final round. Was among a half-dozen players slugging it out down the stretch on Sunday's back nine but saw his chances go awry when he made a double bogey at No. 17. Birdied the final hole, but his closing-round, 1-over-par 73 left him T4... Appeared to be in the driver's seat down the stretch at the inaugural Administaff Small Business Classic but dumped his second shot in the water from a fairway bunker on the par-5 final hole and fell one stroke short of a playoff with Hale Irwin and eventual winner Larry Nelson... Had to withdraw from both the Ford Senior Players Championship and the Senior British Open with hip problems prior to his Senior Open win... Finished third in his Champions Tour debut at the SBC Classic in early March. Was among the first-round leaders at Valencia after opening with 5-under 67... Also was tied for the first-round lead at the Commerce Bank Long Island Classic after firing a 6-under 64 on Friday. Eventually T26 at Eisenhower Park after experiencing pain in his left hip on the weekend... Made nice showing in the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship, finishing fourth thanks to a closing-round 67... Played in 10 PGA TOUR events during the season as well, making six cuts and earning $232,851... T14 at the AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am and T15 at the Mercedes Championships... Was one of three players over age 50 to make the cut at THE PLAYERS Championship and finished 80th at the TPC at Sawgrass... Withdrew from the MCI Heritage Classic in April and underwent left hip surgery to repair a torn labrum the following week. Did not play again until early July at the Commerce Bank Long Island Classic.

OTHER CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

Qualified for the PGA TOUR in Fall 1976 and won seven times in 27 years on the circuit... Finished among the top 60 on the 2003 PGA TOUR's money list with a personal-best $1,162,726 for a single season. Highlight of his year was his seventh career victory on TOUR at the Greater Hartford Open. Held at least a share of the lead for all four days in carding four rounds in the 60s (63-67-69-67—266). Defeated Chris Riley by two strokes at the TPC at River Highlands. Victory came 19 years since last win at Hartford (1984), joining Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Paul Azinger and Phil Mickelson as multiple winners of the event. Triumph also came in his 27th season on the PGA TOUR (624th career tournament), making him the seventh-oldest winner in TOUR history at 49 years, 4 months, 23 days. First-place check of $720,000 was exactly 10 times more than he earned for his first GHO victory in 1984 ($72,000)... Named 2003 PGA TOUR Comeback Player of the Year... Highest finish on the money list came in 1995

when he was seventh ($1,075,057) on the strength of back-to-back victories at the AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am and Buick Invitational of California. Shot a closing 65 for a two-stroke victory over David Duval at Pebble Beach and then used consecutive 68s on the weekend in San Diego for a four-stroke win over four players at Torrey Pines... First two-victory season came in 1984 when he defeated Payne Stewart in a playoff for the Colonial National Invitation title, which he dedicated to his father, who had just undergone serious surgery... Two-stroke triumph over Mark O'Meara at the Sammy Davis, Jr.-Greater Hartford Open later that year highlighted by a third-round 63... Weiskopf Wins in Tribute to the Passing of Bert Yancey

1994 Franklin Quest Championship

Under other circumstances, Tom Weiskopf would have been delighted to win the Franklin Quest Championship in Park City, UT. Instead, his joy was tempered by the pall cast over the tournament by the death of his good friend, Bert Yancey, who died of cardiac arrest moments before his tee time in the opening round. By Sunday, Weiskopf was well off the pace, but he drained an 80-footer for birdie at the 16th, two-putted for eagle on the 17th and then knocked in an 18-foot birdie on the final hole to tie Dave Stockton. Weiskopf won on the first playoff hole when he made another 18-foot downhill birdie putt that Stockton couldn't match.

Nicklaus Wins 100th Title

1996 Tradition

Ten holes into the third round, it looked like a runaway for Hale Irwin, who led defending champion Jack Nicklaus by four strokes. Two holes later, Nicklaus was tied for the lead. After snaking in an 18-foot birdie at the par-3 11th hole as Irwin bogeyed, the Golden Bear made a double eagle at the par-5 12th. Nicklaus used the momentum for back-to-back 65s and a three-shot victory.

Nicklaus made Champions Tour history, becoming the first player to win the same Champions Tour event four times. He also reached another milestone, the 100th victory of his professional career, going back to 1962.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES: 2—MasterCard Classic; T4—SBC Classic, Constellation Energy Classic; T8—Farmers Charity Classic; T9—Senior British Open.

2004 SEASON:

Recorded the highest finish on the money list by a player over age 60 last year and was among the top five in three events for the second consecutive year...Played his best golf during the month of March...Nearly won for the first time since his 1999 victory at The Tradition when he appeared in command at the MasterCard Classic near Mexico City. Led by three strokes with six holes to play, but three-putted for bogeys at the 16th and 17th holes in Sunday's final round and finished tied with Ed Frier after 54 holes. Eventually lost the playoff to Frier after making bogey on the third extra hole at Bosque Real CC. However, runner-up effort was his best on the Champions Tour since 2001 campaign. Saw a golden opportunity slip away on the first playoff hole when he mis-hit his second shot moments after Frier hit his second shot out of bounds...Carded a final-round 65 at Valencia the next week to vault into a T4 at the SBC Classic...Made news in July when he finished T9 at the Senior British Open at Royal Portrush GC in Northern Ireland. Recorded holes-in-one on the 11th hole in both the first and third rounds of the event, a first on the Champions Tour on the same hole at the same tournament. Used a 9-iron in the opening round (171 yards) and an 8-iron on Saturday (182 yards). Two aces also earned him 340 bottles of Hardys Australian wine, one for every yard the shot covered (based on score-card yardage), and were his fourth and fifth aces since joining the Champions Tour (10th and 11th aces overall in competition). Also marked the second consecutive season he made a hole-in-one on the Champions Tour...Secured his spot among the top 30 on the money list when he earned $86,400 for a T4 late in the year at the Constellation Energy Classic. Trained Wayne Levi by two strokes after 36 holes at The Hayfields, but ended up four strokes back of Levi after posting a final-round 70...Joined the ranks of the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions at the start of the season and finished second on the final over-60 money list, with $170,646...Finished one stroke back of Jay Sigel in the Georgia-Pacific event at the Bank of America Championship near Boston.

Highest total earnings in a season since 1999 as well...T3 at the Turtle Bay Championship near the end of the campaign thanks to a final-round 7-under-par 65 at the Palmer Course...Check for $98,625 clinched his position in the top 30 for the year. Aced No. 8 at Turtle Bay with a 9-iron from 140 yards during the second round...Finished T4 earlier in the season at the 3M Championship...Had a good showing at the Kroger Classic in September when he strung together three straight rounds in the 60s to finish fifth. Was on the leaderboard all three days before bogeys on two of the final four holes ended his chances...Strung together three straight rounds in the 60s at the Senior British Open at Turnberry in July and T10, his first top-10 effort in a major since placing second in the 1999 Ford Senior Players Championship. 2002: Placed ninth in Mexico City at the Audi Senior Classic...Held a share of the first-round lead with Hale Irwin at the Allianz Championship, but rounds of 74-72 dropped him to a T42. 2001: In the hunt at the Novell Utah Showdown before finishing T2 with three other players, one stroke back of Steve Veriato...Holed a 6-iron shot on the fourth hole at the TPC at the Twin Cities during the final round of the 3M Championship. Open-Qualifier Quigley's Bittersweet Victory

1997 Northville Long Island Classic

Rarely has the final round of an event ended on a more somber note than the 1997 Northville Long Island Classic. Moments after earning his first victory as an open qualifier, Dana Quigley learned his father, Paul, had died after a lengthy battle with cancer. Earlier in the week, Quigley drove home to see his dad, who insisted he return and play in the event. After finishing with a 12-under-par 204, Quigley found himself in a playoff with Jay Sigel. After matching bogeys and pars on the first two playoff holes, Quigley finished off Sigel with a birdie on the third extra hole.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES:

1—SBC Classic; T2—Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf, Kroger Classic; T3—Royal Caribbean Golf Classic, Blue Angels Classic, Farmers Charity Classic; T4—The ACE Group Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Over seven figures in official earnings for the eighth consecutive season on the strength of 14 top-10 finishes, the second most on the Champions Tour last year...Highlight of his season came early during the midst of 23 consecutive par-or-better rounds, a 2004 best...Extended to nine his streak of years winning at least one event (tied with Miller Barber, second only to Hale Irwin) when he redeemed himself by winning his third SBC Classic, one year after losing the event on the final hole. Cruised to a two-stroke victory over Larry Nelson at Valencia. Win was his fifth Tour title in the Los Angeles area on a fourth different course. SBC triumph was also his 23rd career victory on the Champions Tour, tying him with Bob Charles for fourth place on the all-time wins list...Was the 36-hole leader at the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf in late April and battled Hale Irwin down the stretch before a bogey at the final hole dropped him to a T2 with Gary Koch, one stroke back of Hale Irwin. Bogey led to final-round 73 that ended streak of par-or-better scores...Celebrated his 200th career start on the Champions Tour when he almost successfully defended his Kroger Classic title late in the year. Closed with a 66 at the TPC at River's Bend, but lost to Bruce Summerhays by one stroke when he three-putted from 70 feet for a par-5 on the final hole...Was T3 twice in Florida (Royal Caribbean Golf Classic and Blue Angels Classic) and also T4 at The ACE Group Classic, where he was just one stroke shy of making the playoff...Made serious bid for another victory at the Farmers Charity Classic, with a spirited run in Sunday's final round, but a late bogey left him T3...Started the year by going 330 holes without three-putting (ended on the seventh hole of the first round of the Blue Angels Classic), a 2004 best, and also topped the Champions Tour in Second-Round Scoring Average (68.96)...Overall, was in the 60s in 37 of his 82 rounds (45 percent) and T2 in Sub-Par Rounds (55)...Improved his first-round score at the SBC Championship by 15 strokes with a Champions Tour career-best 9-under 62 on Saturday. Round equaled the Oak Hills course record (David Ogrin/1994 Texas Open program) and included 10 birdies.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Registered his highest standing on the money list since back-to-back second-place finishes in 1997-98. Ended the year third behind Tom Watson and Jim Thorpe as 14 top-10 finishes (T2 on Champions Tour) helped him reach the $1-million mark for the seventh straight year...Had a two-stroke, wire-to-wire victory over Doug Tewell at the Kroger Classic. Win was the 22nd of his illustrious career on the Champions Tour, tying him with Don January and Chi Chi Rodriguez for fifth place on the all-time victory list. Posted three straight rounds in the 60s and won the event near Cincinnati for the second time (1999). Fought off challenges from as many as four other players in the final round before sealing his victory with a birdie on the final hole. Win near Cincinnati made him just one of three wire-to-wire winners, joining Jim Ahern (Music City Championship) and Jim Thorpe (Charles Schwab Cup Championship)...Was also the 36-hole leader at the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic and led by one stroke with one hole to play before losing out to Dave Barr. Missed a seven-foot par putt on the final hole after an errant drive cost him a penalty stroke...Came close again at the SBC Classic. Was a victim of a three-shot turnaround at the final hole at Valencia CC. Three-putted the 18th hole after Tom Purtzer holed a 58-foot eagle putt...Was a contender at the 3M Championship in August, finishing T2 with Morris Hatafsky, one stroke behind Wayne Levi. Had a chance on the final hole but watched his second shot at 18 go awry, and then after hitting a good recovery shot, narrowly missed a birdie opportunity which would have gotten him into a playoff with Levi...Also finished T2 at the JELD-WEN Tradition with rounds of 67-68 on the weekend. 2002: Moved into seventh place on the all-time victory list when he registered his 21st career title on the Champions Tour at the BellSouth Senior Classic at Opryland. Emerged from a pack of players with birdies on two of the last three holes for an eventual three-stroke triumph over Mike McCullough, Bruce Fleisher and Dana Quigley. Win was his second at Springhouse GC and gave him six top-five performances in six trips to Nashville. The victory marked the second year in succession he had won on Father's Day...Finished T2 at the SAS Championship, four strokes behind Bruce Lietzke, but $124,666 paycheck put him over the $1-million mark for the sixth straight season...Also finished the season as the runner-up to Tom Watson in the SENIOR TOUR Championship at Gaillardia. Dueled Watson head to head down the stretch, but eventually came up two strokes short after an errant drive on No. 16 led to a

Used birdies on two of the last four holes to secure the Toshiba victory, his second title on the Champions Tour...Was the 18- and 36-hole leader at the Bank of America Championship, but eventually T2 near Boston, four strokes back of Craig Stadler, after posting an even-par 72 on Sunday...Also was the 36-hole leader at the 3M Championship for the second consecutive year, but eventually T3 after carding a final-round 74...Was T3

Had a hole-in-one in the opening round, the first player to do so and win the event since Bob Gilder at the 2002 Kroger Senior Classic...Was the second-round leader at the 3M Championship and was tied for the lead the final day until hitting two balls into the water for a quadruple bogey at the 17th hole. Eventually finished T10...Reeled off nine straight sub-70 rounds from the final day of the Verizon Classic through the last round of the Emerald Coast Classic (a cumulative 34-under-par). Aoki Becomes First Champions Tour Player to Shoot 60

1997 Emerald Coast Classic

Isao Aoki resurrected a trusted putter, and it played a key role in helping him shoot the lowest round in the 18-year history of the Champions Tour, an 11-under-par 60, at the Emerald Coast Classic. After deciding to go back to the putter, which had helped him to more than 60 wins in his career, Aoki shot 71 in the first round. On Saturday, Aoki came back with 10 birdies in his first 16 holes and had a chance at an elusive 59. However, his attempt to break 60 at No. 18 came up one foot short. His second-round heroics helped him to an eventual playoff victory over Gil Morgan.

Irwin Holes 74-Yard Wedge Shot on Final Hole to Win

1999 Nationwide Championship

With a one-birdie, no-bogey round underway, Hale Irwin went to the par-5 18th hole assuming he needed a birdie. Irwin heard a roar and thought Bob Murphy had made birdie on the final hole. So Irwin hit a 3-wood into the center of the fairway and then laid up short of the water with a 5-iron. He hit a sand wedge onto the front of the green and watched as it hopped forward and spun into the cup for an eagle that gave him a two-stroke win over Murphy. Irwin re-enacted his famous U.S. Open victory lap, trotting to the green and slapping gallery members' hands.

Duvals' Dual Victory on Same Weekend

1999 Emerald Coast Classic

Sitting on a 36-hole total of 11-under-par 129 and a three-shot lead going into the final round of the 1999 Emerald Coast Classic, Bob Duval called his son David, the world's No. 1 player at the time, who also held a one-shot lead at THE PLAYERS Championship 350 miles away. In a conversation with his son, the elder Duval was told to take it one shot at a time. The advice paid off Sunday as he edged Bruce Fleisher and then watched on TV as his son recorded a two-stroke victory over Scott Gump. The two became the first father-son tandem to win TOUR titles on the same weekend.

Became only the fifth player, and first since Gary Player in 1998, to win both the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions title and the overall tournament. Victory at 61 years, 8 months and 9 days made him the third oldest player to win a Champions Tour event behind Mike Fetchick (63 years) and Player (62 years, 9 months, 22 days). The win was also his first since the 1995 Ford Senior Players Championship and set a record for longest time between Champions Tour victories (6 years, 11 months, 7 days), eclipsing the old record of 6 years, 10 months and 3 days by Larry Ziegler (1991 Newport Cup-1998 Saint Lukes Classic). 2001: T2 at The Instinet Classic, two strokes behind Gil Morgan...Lone victory in the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions competition came at the Novell Utah Showdown, a two-stroke win over Walter Morgan. 2000: Along with Gary McCord, lost to Tom Wargo (won with birdie on third extra hole) in a playoff at the LiquidGolf.com Invitational. 1999: Closed with a final-round 65 at Serrano CC and T3 at the Raley's Gold Rush Classic. 1998: T2 at the Northville Long Island Classic along with Walter Hall, one stroke short of Gary Player. His 54-hole score of 2-under 214 was impressive, considering a fluke winter storm that moved through south Texas during the event. 1990: T21 in his debut on the Champions Tour at The Transamerica Senior Golf Championship in Napa, site of his victory in the Kaiser International in 1976.

Kite Wins Head-To-Head Dual with Watson

2002 SBC Classic

Tom Watson's dramatic 41-yard chip-in for eagle on the final hole forced Tom Kite to make an eight-foot birdie putt to send the tournament into overtime at the 2002 SBC Classic. Watson's eagle prompted him to run with arms in the air, reminiscent of his dance after chipping in at the 17th at Pebble Beach in the 1982 U.S. Open. All of a sudden Kite went from leading to trailing by one and had to get up and down to force a playoff. He was up to the task and then managed to two-putt for a par on the second extra hole for his fifth career victory on the Champions Tour.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES:

1—Kroger Classic; 8—Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am; T9—Bank of America Championship, Senior British Open.

2004 SEASON:

Returned to the top-30 on the money list for the first time since the 2001 season and was one of just two players 60 or older (Graham Marsh, the other) to qualify for the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship. Won for the third time on the Champions Tour at the Kroger Classic near Cincinnati late in the year. Win ended a victory drought of 6 years, 2 months and 7 days (209 starts). At 60 years, 6 months and 28 days old, he became the eighth oldest winner in Champions Tour history (13th player over 60 to win) and the oldest champion since 61-year-old J.C. Snead's triumph at the 2002 Greater Baltimore Classic.

Rallied from six strokes back for victory, thanks to a final-round 64 at the TPC at River's Bend, his best round in over four years. Got up and down for a clutch birdie on the last hole to post a 15-under-par 201 total and then watched his closest pursuers fail in their bids to catch him...Initial top-10 performance of the season was a T8 at the rain-shortened Bayer Advantage Celebrity Pro-Am...Also finished T9 two weeks later at the Bank of America Championship and T9 again at the Senior British Open, the second straight year in the top 10 in that major championship...Finished fourth on the final Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions money list, with $154,983...Finished second to Bob Murphy in the Georgia-Pacific event at the Kroger Classic and was a distant third at the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions Championship in Sonoma.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Top performance came overseas in July. One of six players to post four consecutive rounds in the 60s on the Ailsa course at Turnberry and placed solo third at the Senior British Open, thanks to a final-round 65. Performance in Scotland was his best effort in a Champions Tour event since T3 at the 2002 Countrywide Tradition...Matched that finish nearly three months later when he closed with a 6-under-par 66 at the Turtle Bay Championship to finish T3 with along Graham Marsh. 2002: Was among the leaders for the first two days of the Verizon Classic, but faded into T7 with a final-round 75 at the TPC of Tampa Bay...Closed with a 68 on Sunday at The Countrywide Tradition and fell just one stroke shy of earning a berth in a playoff with John Jacobs and eventual winner Jim Thorpe. Third-place effort in Arizona was his best performance since the SBC Senior Open in July 2000 (solo third). 2001: Was T4 at both the Kroger Senior Classic and Allianz Championship...Held sole possession of the 36-hole lead at the Novell Utah Showdown before seeing his quest for his first win since 1998 go awry with a double bogey at the par-5 17th hole on Sunday...Led all players in Eagles, with 19. 2000: Opened with a career-low 10-under 62 at the LiquidGold.com Invitational and was the 36-hole leader at the TPC at Prestancia before eventually T8 in Sarasota...Best overall finish was a solo third at SBC Senior Open near Chicago. 1999: Finished second at the inaugural Bank One Championship, five strokes back of Tom Watson...T2 at the Pacific Bell Senior Classic, two strokes behind Joe Inman. 1998: Tasted victory at the State Farm Senior Classic near Baltimore. Made a 20-foot birdie putt on the 18th green at Hobbit's Glen to avert a playoff with Walter Hall and Hale Irwin...Led the Champions Tour in Total Birdies (430). 1997: Earned his first Champions Tour victory in his 102nd start. Claimed the Saint Luke's Classic in suburban Kansas City in a playoff over Hugh Baiocchi. Trained by six strokes entering the final round, but made birdie on two of the last three holes to tie Baiocchi, then defeated him with a par on the second extra playoff hole. Saw his string of consecutive official events end at 96 straight when he skipped the BankBoston Classic in August due to a back problem. 1996: Earned the "ironman" title after setting a Champions Tour record by playing an amazing 119 rounds (the old mark was 115 by Rives McBee and John Paul Cain in 1990). 1995: Blitzed the GC of Georgia with a course-record 63 in the first round of the Nationwide Championship. Eventually settled for a T2 with Hale Irwin, two behind Bob Murphy...Came close again in his native Utah, but was one of six players to fall one stroke short of Tony Jacklin at the Franklin Quest Championship...Also led with six holes to play at The Transamerica, but lost to Lee Trevino down the stretch. 1994: Earned a full exemption for 1995 after a fourth-place finish at the National Qualifying Tournament...Played in four events (three Monday qualifying/one sponsor exemption).

OTHER CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

One of the top players in the Utah PGA section for a number of years prior to joining the Champions Tour...Twice selected as the Rocky Mountain PGA Section Player of the Year...Never qualified for the PGA TOUR on a full-time basis, but played in nine PGA TOUR events when he was living in northern California and made eight cuts...T3 in the 1974 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am...Also qualified for

Pooley Outlasts Watson In Playoff For First Champions Tour Win

2002 U.S. Senior Open

After making 17 consecutive pars in regulation, Don Pooley made a 10-foot birdie putt on the fifth playoff hole to end his epic five-hour duel with Tom Watson and become the first-ever qualifier to win a U.S. Senior Open title. Pooley played himself into a three-stroke lead with a rousing 63 on Saturday, the lowest 18-hole score in U.S. Senior Open history. He got into the championship through a regional qualifier, where he made a birdie to force a playoff and a birdie to earn a spot into the field. Pooley became just the sixth golfer to win the U.S. Senior Open on his first try.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES:

1—Greater Hickory Classic at Rock Barn; T2—Kroger Classic; T3—MasterCard Championship, SAS Championship presented by Forbes; T4—JELD-WEN Tradition; T5—Bank of America Championship.

2004 SEASON:

Improved one spot on the money list from 2003 and surpassed the $1-million mark in earnings for the fifth straight year... Ended a drought of just over a year when, after borrowing a Ping Anser putter from the stash of surplus clubs at the home of close friend Walter Hall, used the club to win the Greater Hickory Classic at Rock Barn. Made a clutch 13-foot birdie putt on the last hole to edge Bruce Fleisher by one stroke and win the western North Carolina event. Shot an 8-under-par 64 in the last round to come from three strokes back of Fleisher on Sunday. Victory was his eighth on the Champions Tour and gave him five straight years with at least one win and also began a string of five straight top-10 finishes. Went bogey-free over his 54 holes at Rock Barn, a first since Morris Hatafsky won the 2003 Columbus Southern Open without making a bogey... Started his opening round at the JELD-WEN Tradition with a string of 59 holes without a bogey, but made one on the first hole to end that streak. Eventually finished T4 at the Oregon event, thanks to four straight sub-par rounds... After a T9 at The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart, came back with another strong outing the next week near Cincinnati. Was the 36-hole leader at the Kroger Classic but eventually fell one stroke short of a charging Bruce Summerhays at the TPC at River's Bend... Followed with another strong performance in his next start, grabbing a T3 at the SAS Championship, his fifth consecutive top-10 finish... Led the season-opening MasterCard Championship by two strokes after 36 holes, but eventually finished T3 in Hawaii despite a final-round 69 at Hualalai. His 64-65-129 (15-under) total over the first two rounds were the low first-36 holes total on the Champions Tour for the year... Three consecutive rounds in the 60s earned him a T5 at the Bank of America Championship near Boston. Plagued for a portion of the year with an elbow problem, which forced him to withdraw from the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship... After three straight years of leading or sharing the Driving Accuracy category, he slipped to fourth.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Got off to a slow start, but ended up with top-10 finishes in a third of his 27 appearances. Earned seven figures for the fourth straight year, yet slipped out of the top 10 money-winners for the first time since joining the Champions Tour... Victory near Grand Rapids came in dramatic fashion and extended his number of years with at least one win to four straight seasons. Came from three strokes back on Sunday to claim his seventh career title at the Farmers Charity Classic. Tied Eamonn Darcy after 54 holes as a result of a clutch 18-foot eagle putt on the 17th hole at Egypt Valley. Eventually defeated Darcy with a 15-foot birdie putt on the third playoff hole. Victory made him the 16th different winner in 2003, tying the all-time Champions Tour record for longest span without a repeat winner... Had finished in third place a month earlier at the

Columbus Southern Open on the strength of a second-round 64, his lowest score of the year... Played his best golf of the campaign from late August to late September when he had four top-five performances in five starts and put together a streak of 12 straight sub-par rounds during that period... Had back-to-back runner-up efforts in consecutive weeks. First battled fellow Edmond, OK, resident Gil Morgan throughout the Kroger Classic. Got within one stroke of Morgan, but missed birdie chances at the last two holes and eventually came up two strokes shy at the TPC at River's Bend... T2 for the second straight year the following week at the Constellation Energy Classic near Baltimore. Made up three strokes on 36-hole co-leaders Larry Nelson and Jay Sigel on the final day, and briefly grabbed the lead late in the final round. Fell back after missing a birdie opportunity on No. 16 and then bogeyed the last two holes to finish two strokes shy of Nelson... Had another chance for a win the following week at the SAS Championship. Led the Champions Tour in Driving Accuracy for the third straight year (81.5 percent). 2002: The third of six multiple winners... Came from three strokes back to win the Verizon Classic by one stroke over Hale Irwin. Was the only player in the field to record three consecutive rounds in the 60s at the TPC of Tampa Bay and hit 41 of 42 fairways... Held off Bobby Wadkins by a stroke to win the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf. Again drove the ball in 41 of 42 fairways at the King & Bear course... Made the first hole-in-one of the 2002 season when he aced the 217-yard eighth hole with a 4-iron at Hualalai GC during the opening round of the MasterCard Championship. Ace was the first in MasterCard Championship history... Made first PGA TOUR start since 1999 and made his fifth consecutive cut, finishing T68 at the WORLDCOM CLASSIC-The Heritage of Golf at Harbour Town, site of his first TOUR victory in 1980. 2001: In April, closed with a Cochise course-record 10-under-par 62 at Desert Mountain, the lowest score ever shot in a major championship on the Champions Tour, and completed a wire-to-wire victory at The Countrywide Tradition. Victory at Desert Mountain GC was his second major victory on the Champions Tour. Needed just 19 putts in his final round and his 72-hole total of 23-under-par 265 was the best four-round score on the Champions Tour since Jack

Watson Captures Bittersweet Major Championship Win

2003 JELD-WEN Tradition

Playing all year knowing his caddie and longtime friend was dying from ALS, Tom Watson was committed to winning at least one tournament in 2003 with Bruce Edwards on the bag. Watson had won in July at the Senior British Open in Northern Ireland, but Edwards did not make the trip. On at least five other occasions with Edwards at his side, Watson had come close yet failed to win. But Watson fulfilled his promise by capturing the JELD-WEN Tradition near Portland, OR, with a clutch up-and-down from a greenside bunker on the 72nd hole. The pair embraced on the green for what would be their last win together. Edwards died the following spring.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES:

1—Farmers Charity Classic, Commerce Bank Long Island Classic; T2—Kroger Classic; T4—Allianz Championship, Constellation Energy Classic; T5—Royal Caribbean Golf Classic, Administaff Small Business Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Finished among the top-10 money winners for the fifth straight season and won multiple victories for the fourth time in six seasons...Got his year jump-started when he was a one-stroke victor over Fred Gibson at the Farmers Charity Classic, despite a double bogey on the final hole. Came from three strokes back in the final round, thanks to seven birdies in the first 14 holes on Sunday...Rallied from four strokes back to win his second straight Commerce Bank Long Island Classic title a month later. Joined Bruce Fleisher, Lee Trevino and George Archer on the list of players who have successfully defended titles on Long Island. Win on the Red Course at Eisenhower Park was his ninth career title on the Champions Tour. Final-round 67 included three birdies on the front nine that allowed him to overtake 54-hole leader Jerry Pate. Avoided a playoff with a clutch par save from 19 feet on the last hole. Had just 23 putts in his opening-round 65, including one-putts on seven straight holes (No. 8-14). Win in New York made him the only player to successfully defend a title in 2004...Made a bid to win a second Kroger Classic title on the final day. Closed with 66 at the TPC at River's Bend but came up one stroke short. Was T2 when he missed 20-foot bid for eagle on the final hole...His closing-round 64 at the Constellation Energy Classic tied the tournament record and helped him to a T4 finish near Baltimore in early October...Also placed T7 at the Ford Senior Players Championship and ran his Champions Tour-best (at the time) string of sub-par rounds for the year to 14 before a closing-round 73 ended that streak...Made a big move Sunday in Iowa to T4 at the Allianz Championship, his third top-five performance in four trips to Des Moines. After opening with a 76, made 12 birdies in his last 36 holes to move up the leaderboard at Glen Oaks...Opened the campaign with a T9 at the MasterCard Championship in Hawaii and followed that with another top-10 finish in his next start when he was T5 at the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic...Plagued for several weeks in the early spring with a back problem, which caused him to miss three straight events...Second in Eagles, with 13...His Final-Round Scoring Average of 69.56 was third best on the Champions Tour. Fourteen times in 26 starts he finished with a round in the 60s.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Had perhaps his finest season in professional golf when he was among the top three six times starting in mid-July...Appeared to be out of the Charles Schwab Cup competition through the first half of the season, but eventually finished second in the Schwab Cup race behind Tom Watson when he became the Champions Tour's hottest player after mid-August...Was voted the Champions Tour Player of the Month for both August and October...Also placed second behind Watson in the final money standings with a personal-best $1,830,306...Had two victories on the Champions Tour for the third time in the last four years and was the last of only five multiple winners on the circuit in 2003...In the winner's circle for the first time in 16 months when he slipped by Bob Gilder for a one-stroke victory at the Long Island Classic with a tournament-record score of 15-under 195. Tied a Champions Tour record in the second round when he shot a 10-under-par 60 on the Red Course at Eisenhower Park. Record-tying score gave him a two-stroke cushion entering Sunday's final round and 3-under-par 67 proved to be good enough for the win. Short birdie putts on 16 and 17 clinched title. Win in Long Island came during a run of 16 consecutive sub-par rounds, a 2003 best streak of sub-par scores...Capped his year with a wire-to-wire victory at the Charles Schwab Cup Championship in Sonoma, CA, a first in the season-ending event since Jim Colbert in 1995. Had a chance to win outright on the final hole, but T3 after three-putting from five feet. 2001: Posted back-to-back victories early in the fall. Won a playoff for the rain-shortened Kroger Senior Classic title. Stadler Wins on Both Tours in Consecutive Weeks

2003 Ford Senior Players Championship

Only one month after reaching 50, and in his fourth start on the Champions Tour, Craig Stadler won his first-ever title, a three-stroke win over Tom Watson, Tom Kite and Jim Thorpe. Stadler's rounds of 65-66 on the weekend included just 51 total putts. He then traveled to Endicott, NY, for the B.C. Open as a favor to the sponsor. Four days and one 63 later, Stadler became the first player to win a Champions Tour event one week and a PGA TOUR title the next. Stadler's birdie on the last hole completed his 9-under-par round and helped him beat Alex Cejka and Steve Lowery.

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISH: T11—Bruno's Memorial Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Competition was limited to 12 official events, the fewest he has ever played in a season... Bothered by a nerve problem in his lower back and did not play after mid-July. Withdrew from the Bank of America Championship during the second round and then was forced to withdraw from the Ford Senior Players Championship after an opening-round 77, even though he played as a marker for Dana Quigley in the second round... His T11 at the Bruno's Memorial Classic near Birmingham was his best performance on the Champions Tour since T9 at the 2002 Napa Valley Championship. His 4-under 68 in the opening round at Greystone was his best since shooting 65 on Saturday at 2003 Long Island Classic... Co-honoree at the Memorial Tournament with prominent women's amateur golfer Joyce Wethered... Also was honored by Northern Ohio Charities with the 2004 Ambassador of Golf Award, which he received at the World Golf Championships-NEC Invitational.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Played in only 13 official events, at the time the fewest number of appearances in a single season since joining the Champions Tour, and for the first time since turning 50, did not register a top-10 finish during the season... Highlight of his year came early when he captured the ConAgra Foods Champions Skins Game in January. Defeated Hale Irwin with a birdie on the third extra hole for his first victory in the unofficial event. Birdie was worth $100,000 and helped push his earnings in the event to $240,000, $40,000 more than Irwin's total... Also teamed with Mike Hill to finish T2, two strokes back of Gary Koch/Roger Maltbie in the Raphael Division at the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf... Best overall finish was a T22 at the MasterCard Championship at Hualalai... Finished second to Mike Hill by one stroke in the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions competition at the Long Island Classic after carding a second-round 65, his lowest score since posting a 65 on Saturday at the 2000 FleetBoston Classic... Finished 16th on the final Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions money list with $69,583. 2002: Lone top-10 performance came late in the season with a T9 at the Napa Valley Championship, thanks to a pair of 3-under 69s on the weekend... Finished eighth on the final Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions money list with $207,375. 2001: Earned a $1-million prize when he made a hole-in-one at the Par-3 Challenge at Treetops Resort in Michigan. 2000: Ended a victory drought of more than two years when he prevailed by two strokes over Walter Hall at the Cadillac NFL Golf Classic in New Jersey. Became just the second player to win in five different decades (Gary Player is the other). Victory at Upper Montclair CC made him, at the time, the seventh-oldest player to win a Champions Tour event... Finished third on the Georgia-Pacific Grand Champions money list and picked up his only win in the over-60 competition at the Gold Rush Classic. Defeated Chi Chi Rodriguez and Rocky Thompson by three strokes at Serrano for the Georgia-Pacific crown... Made his second hole-in-one on the Champions Tour at the Nationwide Championship... Made one final appearance at the British Open, but failed to make the cut at St. Andrews. 1998:

BEST 2004 CHAMPIONS TOUR FINISHES: T2—Commerce Bank Long Island Classic; 3—SBC Championship; T5—Greater Hickory Classic at Rock Barn; T10—The ACE Group Classic.

2004 SEASON:

Vaulted into the season-ending Charles Schwab Cup Championship with a solo third-place finish at the SBC Championship the week prior. Was in the 37th position and moved up into the 29th spot on the money list after posting consecutive rounds of 67 on the weekend at Oak Hills that earned him a $108,000 check in San Antonio. T2 on July 4 at the Commerce Bank Long Island Classic, one stroke shy of Jim Thorpe. Stood in the fairway on the final hole with a chance to win the event but pushed his 5-iron approach right of the 18th green and could not get up and down for par. Shared the first-round lead at Eisenhower Park with Jerry Pate and Peter Jacobsen after firing 6-under 64 on the Red Course. Was among the first-round leaders at the Greater Hickory Classic at Rock Barn and eventually T5. In contention at the Kroger Classic before having to withdraw from the event after 11 holes Saturday with back spasms. Also withdrew from the SAS Championship in Raleigh two weeks later.

CHAMPIONS TOUR CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2003: Had a trio of second-place finishes. Battled through back spasms at the Royal Caribbean Golf Classic in his second start and eventually T2 at Key Biscayne. Missed a seven-foot birdie putt on the final hole which would have forced a playoff. Runner-up for second consecutive year at the Senior PGA Championship, finishing two strokes behind John Jacobs at Aronimink GC near Philadelphia. Made a strong bid for a win at the SAS Championship in Raleigh in September before eventually coming up one stroke short of D.A. Weirbring. Was tied for the lead with two holes to play but par-par finish at Prestonwood left him T2 with Tom Kite. Fired a 9-under 61 (6-under-par 29 on the back nine) in the second round of the Emerald Coast Classic, his career best as a professional in 823 TOUR events. The 61 moved him within one stroke of the 36-hole lead, but he eventually T7 at The Moors GC after posting a 69 on Easter Sunday. 2002: Only Allen Doyle earned more money during the year without posting a victory. Came close to the winner's circle in three events and played his best golf from May-June when he was among the top 10 in five straight tournaments. Closed with a final-round 66 at the Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf, but placed second to Doug Tewell by one stroke. Had caught Tewell midway through the back nine on Sunday, but made a bogey at the 16th hole. Was the 54-hole leader at the Senior PGA Championship at Firestone, but lost to Fuzzy Zoeller by two strokes, T2 along with Hale Irwin after posting a 1-over 71 on Sunday. T2 again at the Greater Baltimore Classic, one of three players to fall one stroke shy of J.C. Snead despite closing with a 6-under-par 66 on Sunday. Opened the campaign with a third-place finish at the MasterCard Championship. Was only one stroke out of the lead through two rounds of the SBC Senior Open, but three double bogeys on Sunday dropped him into a T14. 2001: Made his first appearance on the circuit a memorable one. Became the youngest winner in Champions Tour history when he claimed the Lightpath Long Island Classic 10 days after turning 50. Edged Allen Doyle and Larry Nelson by one stroke and broke Gil Morgan's record as the youngest winner (50 years, 11 days/ 1996 Ralphs Senior Classic). His 12-foot birdie putt on the final hole at the Meadow Brook Club gave him his first win in TOUR event in his 778th start. Helped his cause early in the final round when he rebounded from a double bogey with a double eagle on the third hole (driver, pitching wedge from 135 yards). Became just the 10th player, and first since brother Lanny, to win in his debut on the Champions Tour. Win also enabled the Wadkins brothers to become just the second set of siblings to triumph on the Champions Tour (Dave and Mike Hill).

OTHER CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

Played the PGA TOUR on a full-time basis from 1975-1998. Made 465 cuts in 712 starts before joining the Champions Tour in August, 2001. Also played in 65 events on the Nationwide Tour from 1993-2001. Earned $2,882,418 on the PGA TOUR and $195,495 on the Nationwide Tour. Never won an event on either TOUR, but had six second-place finishes on the PGA TOUR and three more on the Nationwide Tour. Best year on the PGA TOUR came in 1987 when he won $342,173 and finished 25th on the money list, thanks to seven top 10s. Earned largest check on the PGA TOUR in 1994, $114,000, when he T2 at the Kemper Open, three strokes behind Mark Brooks. Made his first cut as a member of the PGA TOUR at the Dean Martin-Tucson Open, finishing T25 and earning $1,510. Winner of 1978 European Open and 1979 and 1986 Dunlop Phoenix (Japan) titles. Has five career holes-in-one and two double eagles.

PERSONAL:

After attending the University of Houston for one year, won All-American honors in 1972-73 at East Tennessee State. Along with older brother, Lanny, kept Richmond, VA, city junior title in family for six consecutive years (Lanny four, Bobby two). Biggest thrill in golf was posting first Champions Tour victory at the Lightpath Long Island Classic and biggest thrill outside golf was when his son, Casey, was born. Son has played in five national baseball tournaments. Favorite athletes are Mickey Mantle and Arnold Palmer. Favorite golf course is Cypress Point. Was eight when his father got him started in golf.

Made just 12 official starts on the Champions Tour and was troubled by hip and shoulder problems throughout the season...Did not register an official victory for the first time in his Champions Tour career and also finished outside the top 30 money-winners for the first time...Won his first Wendy's Champions Skins Game early in the season when he two-putted for a par from 25 feet on the third extra playoff hole and then watched Lee Trevino three-putt from 25 feet for a bogey. Finished with eight birdies and an eagle to collect 10 skins and $400,000 at Wailea...Continued to be snakebit at The ACE Group Classic, losing in a three-way playoff with winner Craig Stadler and Gary Koch. Got himself into position with birdies on 16 and 17 Sunday and nearly earned the win at the final hole, but missed a nine-foot birdie putt which would have given him a one-stroke win. After Stadler drained a 27-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole, missed a chance to keep the playoff going when his birdie bid from 10 feet missed. Runner-up finish in Naples was his fourth in five starts at this event and was his second loss in a playoff...Also contended down the stretch at the Allianz Championship, but eventually finished third after posting a final-round 71, four strokes back of D.A. Weirbring...T9 the week prior at the FedEx Kinko's Classic after being just one stroke off the pace after the opening round...T4 at the Senior PGA Championship after being tied with Hale Irwin for the first-round lead at Valhalla...Finished T10 in his final start of the season at the Constellation Energy Classic in early October...Shortly after playing near Baltimore, reconsidered his initial decision to undergo both left hip and right shoulder surgery, opting for rehab instead...Made an appearance at the Bay Hill Invitational on the PGA TOUR, where he made the cut and finished T66, his first made cut on the PGA TOUR since the 2002 Colonial...Also played in his 31st Masters Tournament with a heavy heart, learning about the death of his longtime caddie, Bruce Edwards, just hours before his scheduled first-round tee time. Missed the cut at Augusta National...Forced to withdraw from the British Open Championship at Troon, missing the prestigious event for the first time since 1996.

Throughout the course of the season, helped raise nearly $3 million for ALS-related causes and other charities...Was the leading money-winner for the first time since 1984, with a personal-best $1,853,108, and earned the most money per start on the Champions Tour last year, $132,365...Earned first Player of the Year honor since 1984...Was under par in 37 of 48 rounds and stroke average of 68.81 was the second lowest in Champions Tour history (Hale Irwin, 68.59, 1998)...Became the first player ever to compete in all nine major championships on the PGA TOUR/Champions Tour combined in a single season...Won multiple major titles in a season for the first time on the Champions Tour since Gil Morgan in 1998 and for the first time in his career since 1982. In July, won his second career major on the Champions Tour when he outdueled Englishman Carl Mason on the Ailsa course at Turnberry for an emotional win at the Senior British Open Championship in Scotland. KEYS TO VICTORY

Fuzzy Zoeller outdueled defending champion Dana Quigley to win the season-opening event in Hawaii, his first triumph on the Champions Tour in just over 19 months. Zoeller's final-round 8-under 64 included an 18-foot birdie putt on the last hole for the dramatic victory. Zoeller, Quigley, second-round leader Doug Tewell and Craig Stadler all jockeyed for position on the back nine at Hualalai until Quigley and Zoeller both birdied the par-3 17th hole to go up by a stroke. After a perfect drive on No. 18, Zoeller then hit the final green with a wedge from 116 yards out, while Quigley's approach shot from an awkward lie in the left rough found the left greenside bunker. After Quigley blasted out of the bunker to within 10 inches of the cup and tapped in for a par, Zoeller won his second career event on the Champions Tour with his third straight birdie.

Tom Watson clinched his first Skins Game title by winning $260,000 and the final five skins on the third playoff hole. After Watson two-putted from 25 feet for a par on the 17th green in overtime, Lee Trevino, who was struggling with a sore hip, three-putted from the same distance for a bogey. Trevino continued with Watson after the first playoff hole, the 409-yard par-4 18th at Wailea's Gold Course, when he matched Watson's birdie, while Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were eliminated with a par and bogey, respectively. Palmer missed a golden opportunity to win his first Skins Game since 1993 in regulation when his eight-foot birdie bid on the 18th hole lost its speed and veered to the right of the cup.

KEYS TO VICTORY

It took a four-foot birdie putt by Bruce Fleisher on the final hole to hold off a final-round charge by Dana Quigley. Fleisher came to the par-5 final hole needing a birdie to avoid a playoff with Quigley, who had a 4-under-par 68 Sunday. After his second shot landed in the green-side rough at 18, Fleisher chipped to four feet and sank the birdie putt for the win. Fleisher had started the day trailing 36-hole leaders Don Pooley and Wayne Levi by one stroke. However, Pooley and Levi were just two of 64 players in the field of 76 who finished the day with rounds over par.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Mark McNulty became the 11th player to win in his Champions Tour debut when he defeated Larry Nelson by one stroke. A winner of 55 worldwide titles, McNulty's victory at the TPC of Tampa Bay was his first in the U.S. After a chip-in birdie at the 14th hole, McNulty saved par from the greenside bunker at No. 15 and then made a clutch 20-foot birdie putt on the par-4 16th to forge a three-stroke lead. McNulty had the comfort of the three-stroke advantage when he arrived at the closing hole and made a bogey while Nelson birdied.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Ed Fiori, who began the day seven strokes behind second-round leader Graham Marsh, fired a 5-under-par 67 to tie Marsh after 54 holes. Marsh appeared on his way to his first win since 1999, opening a three-stroke lead after 10 holes, but three bogeys over the final six holes, including a pair of three-putts at Nos. 16 and 17, proved costly. On the first playoff hole, Fiori's second shot went out of bounds, giving Marsh a huge advantage. But Marsh's second shot went into a water hazard and both players finished the hole with a bogey. After matching pars on the second hole, Fiori won with a par on the third extra hole.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Tom Purtzer made timely birdies at the 15th and 16th holes to fend off rallies by Morris Hatalsky and John Jacobs for his second career Champions Tour victory. Purtzer's birdies on those two holes gave him a three-stroke cushion over Hatalsky, but a three-putt bogey on the par-3 17th still gave Hatalsky a chance on the par-5 closing hole. Both players, however, laid up. After Hatalsky birdied the 18th, Purtzer tapped in from six inches for par and the victory.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Despite a four-week layoff prior to the event and an erratic back nine, Hale Irwin had enough left at the end to hold off Gil Morgan for his 39th career Champions Tour victory. Irwin and Morgan were tied heading to the 54th hole, but Irwin managed to par the final hole while Morgan had a two-putt bogey from 20 feet. The bogey left Morgan with a 1-over-par 73 and ended his string of par-or-better rounds at 29 for the season. On the 18th hole, Morgan hit his drive into a fairway bunker and blasted out, leaving him 47 yards shy on the par-4 closing hole. But his third shot from a slight down slope left him a 20-foot putt for par which would have forced a playoff. Morgan's par putt slid past the cup, and Irwin emerged victorious. The Champions Tour's all-time leading money winner made bogeys at 12 and 16, but two-putted from 25 feet on the final hole to seal his victory.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Larry Nelson's bogey-free, 5-under-par 67 Sunday and his 54-hole total of 209 was enough to hold off Bruce Lietzke by one stroke and give Nelson his first win of the season. Nelson was tied for 11th heading into the final round, but after making par on the first seven holes Sunday, Nelson had an eagle on the eighth hole and added subsequent birdies on 10, 12 and 16 to earn his 18th career win. Sunday's leaderboard saw numerous lead changes, with Nelson and Lietzke tied after 15 holes before Nelson sank a 39-foot birdie putt to take the lead. After a par on 17, Nelson two-putted from 16 feet for par on the final hole and then watched as Lietzke's second shot on 18 (a 4-iron) went through the green, forcing him to chip back onto the putting surface. After chipping to 16 feet, Lietzke missed his birdie opportunity and the chance to tie Nelson.

KEYS TO VICTORY

D.A. Weibring managed to recover from a shaky start in the final round to win his second career Champions Tour title. After making double bogey on the par-3 second hole, Weibring bounced right back with a birdie on No. 3. He then three-putted for bogey at the fourth but came back again with a 10-foot birdie putt at No. 5. After a short birdie putt at No. 10 and a key par save on the par-4 13th hole, Weibring was on cruise control the rest of the way.

2004 Senior PGA Championship

KEYS TO VICTORY

Hale Irwin two-putted from 40 feet for a birdie on the 72nd hole to spoil Jay Haas' Champions Tour debut and claim his fourth Senior PGA Championship title. The final-round duel between Irwin and Haas was tight throughout. Irwin led Haas by two shots with eight holes to go but dropped back into a tie after bogeys at No. 11 and No. 12. Irwin moved back into the lead with an eight-foot birdie putt at the par-4 13th and remained one stroke in front of Haas until making bogey at the par-4 17th. Playing in the group ahead of Irwin, Haas hit the 18th fairway with his drive but knocked a fairway wood over the green. He pitched past the hole and missed the 10-foot birdie putt to the right. Haas could do nothing but watch from the scoring trailer as Irwin birdied.

NOTES

Heavy rain delayed the first major championship of the year five times in five days. The Monday finish was the first in Senior PGA Championship history since the 2000 event at PGA National in Palm Beach Gardens, FL...Hale Irwin's victory, his seventh senior major title, was also his 40th career victory and made him the oldest winner of a major championship since the start of the Champions Tour in 1980...Irwin's win was also his second of the season, giving him multiple victories for 10 consecutive years...John Harris recorded his first top-10 finish on the Champions Tour...Raymond Floyd's tie for 10th at Valhalla was his first top-10 performance in a Champions Tour major since tying for sixth at the 2001 Ford Senior Players Championship.

KEYS TO VICTORY

After starting the final round three strokes off the lead, Jim Thorpe shot a 4-under-par 32 on the front nine and then added birdies on three of the next five holes to open a comfortable lead. Thorpe also took advantage of the misfortunes of second-round co-leaders Andy Bean and Bob Gilder.

Bean had to withdraw after suffering an allergic food reaction less than two hours before his round. Gilder played steady with two birdies on the front nine but went without a birdie the remainder of the way and also added a bogey on No. 15.

KEYS TO VICTORY

For the second time in the last three years, weather shortened the event to 36 holes, leaving Allen Doyle a one-stroke victor over Jerry Pate. The difference came on Saturday when Doyle made a short birdie putt on the 18th hole to give him a one-stroke cushion over Pate. After a severe overnight storm wreaked havoc on the course, Champions Tour officials canceled Sunday's final round early Sunday morning when it was determined the course was unplayable due to storm damage.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Craig Stadler came from four strokes behind to win his second event of the 2004 season by four. Even after securing his second win of the season and ninth career title, Stadler was more excited about watching his son Kevin on TV win his first event on the Nationwide Tour, the Lake Erie Charity Classic. The elder Stadler began the final round trailing Tom Purtzer but turned in 31 after making back-to-back birdies on the eighth and ninth holes at Nashawtuc. He added a birdie on the 11th and took the lead for good with a 10-foot birdie putt at No. 13.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Jim Thorpe overcame a four-stroke deficit to successfully defend his 2003 title. Thorpe was tied with Bobby Wadkins when he reached the final hole. After missing the green short and right with his second shot, Thorpe managed to save par with an 18-foot putt. He then watched as each of his closest pursuers fell short. First, Wayne Levi narrowly missed a 15-foot birdie bid from the front fringe that would have forced a playoff. Wadkins, playing in the final group, put his second shot in almost the same spot as Thorpe at No. 18 and eventually missed a 20-footer for a par to fall out of a tie. Earlier in the round, Andy Bean came to the 18th with a chance to tie Thorpe, but he missed a seven-foot birdie putt.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Mark James had started Sunday's final round with a three-stroke lead over Jose Maria Canizares and Gary McCord, but Canizares pulled even with a birdie on No. 13. Canizares and James each made errors at the 14th, with Canizares hitting his second shot into a hazard and making a double bogey, while James missed the green right and settled for a bogey. Two holes later, a Canizares birdie at No. 16 gave him the lead with two holes to play when James, playing one group behind, couldn't convert a three-foot par putt at the same hole. Canizares' lead was short lived, with his undoing coming on the following hole when he hit his third shot from just 96 yards into the water. His second double bogey handed the lead back to James for good.

Ford Senior Players Championship

NOTES

With eight top-10 finishes in 10 starts, including a win in 1999, Hale Irwin has won more money than any other player in tournament history—$1,176,324. Raymond Floyd, a two-time winner (1996 and 2000) is second, with $1,023,748.

Six players recorded their first-ever Champions Tour victories at the Ford Senior Players Championship, including the last three winners.

Chi Chi Rodriguez won the last of the four events played at Canterbury GC, the first of his 22 career wins on the Champions Tour. Jim Albus surprised the golf world with a three-stroke victory in 1991 in the first event played at the TPC of Michigan. Dave Stockton won in 1992, the first of his 14 career victories on the Champions Tour. Stewart Ginn claimed his first career title on the Champions Tour in 2002, followed by Craig Stadler in 2003 and Mark James in 2004, respectively.

The Ford Senior Players Championship traditionally has been a favorite among “rookies” on the Champions Tour. Chi Chi Rodriguez (1986), Jack Nicklaus (1990), Jim Albus (1991), Dave Stockton (1992), Craig Stadler (2003) and Mark James (2004) all won in their first appearances in this championship.

In Ford Senior Players Championship history, only five players have opened with a round in the 70s and gone on to win. Since the event has been played at the TPC of Michigan, only two players have started with a round in the 70s and still won—Dave Stockton (1992) and Raymond Floyd (1996). Arnold Palmer, the 1984 champion, remains the only champion to not shoot a sub-par first round. Palmer posted an even-par 72 then followed with three consecutive sub-70 scores to defeat Peter Thomson by three strokes.

Leaders or co-leaders after 54 holes have won the Ford Senior Players Championship 10 of 14 times since 1990.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Tom Kite ended an almost a 22-month victory drought by holding off Craig Stadler for his seventh career win on the Champions Tour. Kite took the lead in the tournament with a 13-foot birdie putt at the 13th hole. Stadler, one stroke back after an eagle at No. 3 and a birdie at No. 10, nearly tied Kite at the 16th. However, Kite holed a six-foot par putt for to maintain his lead. Kite reached the par-5 closing hole in two, some 68 feet from the stick. Stadler knocked his approach to within 15 feet and watched as Kite lagged his eagle putt to tap-in range. Kite won when Stadler missed his eagle bid.

KEYS TO VICTORY

After Friday's first round, Doug Tewell borrowed a putter from fellow Champions Tour pro Walter Hall. On Sunday, he used the putter, a Ping Anser, to sink a 12-foot birdie putt on the last hole for the title. Tewell's putt on No. 18 was only his 22nd of the day. He rallied from three strokes down at the start Sunday and took a one-shot lead with a par to Bruce Fleisher's bogey on the par-3 15th. After both players made short putts for birdie on the 16th hole, Tewell stayed ahead after a par save from the front bunker at the 17th. After Tewell's second shot at the par-5 18th hopped into the front-left bunker, Fleisher hit the green in two. Tewell blasted to 12 feet beyond the flag. Fleisher missed his 18-foot eagle putt and Tewell then rolled in his birdie putt to clinch the win.

KEYS TO VICTORY

In one of the most exciting finishes in tournament history, Craig Stadler closed with four straight birdies to win by one stroke over Jerry Pate and Allen Doyle. Peter Jacobsen, who shared the 54-hole lead with Vicente Fernandez, was among seven golfers who finished two strokes back.

Stadler had started the day four strokes behind, but his clutch third shot at the par-5 18th was the difference as his chip landed four feet from the pin. Moments later, he dropped in a four-foot birdie to take the lead and then watched as other challengers fell by the wayside. Pate made eagle at No. 16 to briefly take the lead at 14-under, one better than Fernandez, but consecutive bogeys were his undoing. Jacobsen missed a short birdie putt at No. 16 and made double bogey on the next hole when one of his shots landed in the hazard, ending his chances.

NOTES

Ten of the 16 JELD-WEN Traditions have been won by players 53 or younger. Jack Nicklaus claimed the first of his four Tradition titles just 2 months and 11 days after turning 50, making him the youngest winner in tournament history. Nicklaus also is the oldest winner of the championship, earning his last Tradition title in 1996 at 56 years, 2 months and 17 days.

Two players recorded their first-ever Champions Tour victories at the JELD-WEN Tradition. Jack Nicklaus claimed the first of his 10 career wins on the Champions Tour at this event in 1990. Tom Kite earned the first of his seven career titles on the Champions Tour at the 2000 Tradition, defeating Tom Watson and Larry Nelson in a playoff.

In the 16-year history of the JELD-WEN Tradition, no player has ever opened with a round of par or worse and gone on to win. Only six times has a player shot a first-round score in the 70s and still won. Also, no winner of the JELD-WEN Tradition has ever been worse than tied for 19th (Tom Shaw, 1993) after the first round.

Of the 14 JELD-WEN Traditions that have gone 72 holes, seven have been won by the leader/co-leader after 54 holes. Last year, Craig Stadler trailed by four strokes after three rounds and rallied to win by one stroke.

Dale Douglass and Gary Player have played in all 16 JELD-WEN Traditions.

The most difficult hole was the par-4 10th, with an average of 4.241, while the easiest hole was the par-5 16th, with an average of 4.769.

By virtue of his tie for 13th in 2004, Hale Irwin earned $46,000 and went over the $20-million mark in Champions Tour career earnings.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Bruce Summerhays made nine birdies in his final round to overcome a six-stroke deficit and win. Summerhays birdied the 18th hole and then waited to see if anybody could catch him. Jim Thorpe reached the 18th green in two, but his eagle bid to tie Summerhays missed. Gil Morgan also found the 18th green with his second shot, but three-putted for par from 70 feet to share second. Doug Tewell was the last challenger. Trailing Summerhays by one stroke on the 18th, his second shot came up short. Tewell's chip checked up and stopped 35 feet from the hole. When he missed his birdie putt, Summerhays won the title.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Wayne Levi became the second consecutive wire-to-wire winner on the Champions Tour as he held off a late Sunday charge by Hale Irwin and Rodger Davis to earn a two-stroke victory. Levi opened with a tournament-record-tying 8-under-64, followed by consecutive 68s to post his second Tour win. Levi was steady throughout his final round, playing bogey-free golf. Irwin matched Levi's tournament-record score of 64 and put some late pressure on the eventual champion with six birdies in his final seven holes. He was within one stroke at the conclusion of his tournament, but a critical birdie by Levi on the 16th hole pushed his lead back to two. Davis' undoing came on the 17th hole when he three-putted for a bogey.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Larry Nelson rallied from seven strokes back and made a five-foot birdie putt on the first playoff hole to beat Hale Irwin. Nelson began the day in a tie for 14th place but made four birdies and a bogey on the front nine. He moved into contention with birdies on three of the first four holes on the inward nine. After tying Peter Jacobsen for the lead, Nelson hit his tee shot in the water on the par-3 17th but recovered to make bogey. He rebounded with a birdie at No. 18, his sixth on the back nine, and watched as Irwin finished with a birdie to force a playoff. In the extra session, both players missed the 18th green with their second shots. From the fringe, Irwin ran his 50-foot lag putt, 19 feet past the hole while Nelson's greenside bunker shot stopped five feet from the flagstick. After Irwin missed his bid for birdie, Nelson holed his birdie putt for the victory.

KEYS TO VICTORY

After missing half of August and all of September with a back injury, Mark McNulty easily won his second Champions Tour event, shattering the SBC Championship tournament record by three strokes in the process—with a 54-hole score of 18-under 195. McNulty seized control of the tournament on Saturday when he played an eight-hole (No. 8-15) stretch at Oak Hills in 8-under-par en route to a 63. He put the tournament out of reach with a 4-under 31 on the front nine Sunday and eventually carded a final-round 65 to outdistance Gary McCord by eight strokes, the largest margin of victory on the Champions Tour since Ed Dougherty won the TD Waterhouse Championship by eight strokes in 2001. McCord started the final round four strokes back of McNulty and tallied two birdies over his first five holes. However, dropped shots at No. 6 and No. 7 ended his chances of winning. McNulty hit 46 of 54 greens in regulation, including 24 in a row starting on his eighth hole in the second round.

KEYS TO VICTORY

Mark McNulty rallied from five strokes down in Sunday's closing round to defeat Tom Kite by one stroke. Trailing by five strokes at the start of play, McNulty had a blistering back nine, which included five birdies in his final eight holes to overtake Kite. McNulty shot a 6-under 66 to finish at 11-under 277, posting the day's best round and robbing Kite of not only the title but also the season-long Charles Schwab Cup. McNulty's 12-foot birdie putt at the 17th hole proved to be decisive despite two birdies and an eagle by Kite on the back nine. Kite's undoing came at the start when he made bogeys on three of the first four holes, shooting a 4-over-par 40 on the front nine. Kite had a chance to tie at No. 18, but his approach shot landed in the left rough and he chipped short of the hole.

2004 UBS Cup [Unofficial Event]

NOTES

After playing to a draw last year, the United States team claimed its third UBS Cup outright with a 14-10 win over the Rest of the World squad. The four-point margin of victory for the American team was the second-largest winning margin in UBS Cup history, surpassed only by a five-point triumph by the U.S. squad in the 2002 UBS Cup at Sea Island, GA. Arnold Palmer, the captain of the United States team, remained undefeated as a skipper in international team competition (2-0 in the Ryder Cup, 1-0 in The Presidents Cup and 3-0-1 as UBS Cup captain).

The U.S.'s Fred Couples, playing in his first UBS Cup, was the only player to earn three full points during the competition. Couples teamed with Hal Sutton in the Friday foursomes to defeat Peter Senior and Rodger Davis. He partnered with Raymond Floyd in the Saturday four-ball matches, defeating Ian Woosnam and Sandy Lyle. On the final day, Couples defeated Colin Montgomerie in his singles match.

Hal Sutton halved his singles match with fellow 2004 Ryder Cup captain Bernhard Langer on Sunday to remain undefeated in UBS Cup play. Sutton is 5-0-1 (2-0 in foursomes, 2-0 in four-ball and 1-0-1 in singles) as a member of two American UBS Cup squads.

Sam Torrance's four straight birdies (holes 4-7) during final-day play tied the UBS Cup record for most consecutive birdies in a singles match. In 2001, Ian Woosnam made four straight birdies (holes 9-12) in his singles match on the Ocean Course at Kiawah Island. Hale Irwin birdied four consecutive holes twice (2-5) and (8-11) in his singles match at Sea Island Golf Club in 2003.

For the second consecutive year in the UBS Cup, Scott Hoch earned the deciding point for the American team. Hoch's 20-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole Sunday gave him a 2-and-1 victory over Carl Mason and allowed the U.S. to retain the UBS Cup. In 2003, Hoch sunk a 12-foot birdie putt on the last hole to halve his match with Eduardo Romero and salvage a 12-12 draw, allowing the U.S. to keep the UBS Cup.

2004 Office Depot Father/Son Challenge

[Unofficial Event]

Office DEPOT
 Father/Son Challenge
at CHAMPIONS GATE

NOTES

Team Nelson's winning total of 60-59—119 ties the tournament record set by Team Floyd (Raymond and Raymond Jr.) in 1995 and tied by Team Charles (Bob and Dave) in 1998, Team Nicklaus (Jack and Gary) in 1999 and Raymond and Robert Floyd in 1999. The 59 was one of two shot in the final round, and it was the product of the Nelsons birdieing the entire back nine en route to 27.

With Hale and Steve Irwin finishing 11th, it marks the fifth time an Office Depot Father/Son Challenge champion failed to defend a title. Team Floyd (Raymond and sons Raymond Jr. and Robert) is the only squad to defend a title in the 10-year history of the event. Raymond and Raymond Jr. captured the first three Office Depot Father/Son Challenges (1995-97), with Raymond and Robert winning in 2000 and 2001.

Team Charles (Bob and David) opened with a routine par on the first hole Sunday, then reeled off nine straight birdies (holes 2-10) to reach 19-under-par and catch leaders Larry and Drew Nelson by the seventh hole. Team Charles, the 1998 Office Depot Father/Son Challenge champions, finished second at 22-under-par 122 after carding the 16th 60 in tournament history.

As one of two teams making its Office Depot Father/Son Challenge debut (Lee Janzen/Aaron Stewart being the other), Curtis and Thomas Strange welcomed themselves to ChampionsGate in impressive fashion. Fueled by a back-nine 28, the two-time U.S. Open winner (1988-89) and his 22-year-old son closed with a sterling 59 to finish at 19-under-par. The 59 is the 10th carded at the Office Depot Father/Son Challenge and the first since Hale and Steve Irwin went sub-60 in 2001.

The team of Dave and Ron Stockton was the last entered in the field, taking the place of Mark and Shaun O'Meara when the elder O'Meara was sidelined with a hand injury. Ron Stockton flew from his home in Southern California on Monday and the veterans of all nine previous Office Depot Father/Son Challenges finished in fine fashion, with a back-nine 28 and a 61. It was Team Stockton's record fifth 61 in the tournament.

Glossary Of Statistics

Total Driving

Total Driving is computed by totaling a player's rank in driving distance and driving accuracy.

Driving Distance*

The average number of yards per measured drive. Driving distance is measured on two holes per round. Care is taken to select holes which face in opposite directions to counteract the effects of wind. Drives are measured to the point they come to rest, regardless of whether they are in the fairway or not.

Driving Accuracy

The percentage of time a player is able to hit the fairway with his tee shot.

Greens in Regulation

The percentage of time a player was able to hit the green in regulation (greens hit in regulation/holes played). Note: A green is considered hit in regulation if any part of the ball is touching the putting surface and the number of strokes taken is two or less than par.

Putting Average

Measures putting performance on greens hit in regulation. For each green hit in regulation, the total number of putts is divided by the number of greens hit in regulation. By using greens hit in regulation, we are able to eliminate the affects of chipping close and one-putting in the computation.

Sand Saves Percentage

The percentage of time a player is able to get up and down once in a green-side sand bunker. Note: This up and down is computed regardless of score on the hole.

Eagles (holes per)

The average number of holes between each eagle.

Birdie Leaders

The average number of birdies made per round played.

All Around

This statistic is computed by totaling a player's rank in each of the following statistics: Scoring Leaders, Putting Leaders, Eagle Leaders, Birdie Leaders, Sand Saves, Greens in Regulation, Driving Distance and Driving Accuracy.

* As ShotLink is utilized on the Champions Tour in 2005, it will provide capabilities to greatly enhance Champions Tour statistical measurements.

* Note: The PGA TOUR Policy Board approved in September 2002 the retroactive awarding of an official victory to winners of the British Open prior to 1995. The Policy Board determined that champions prior to 1995 should be recognized as having won a major championship while also receiving career victory credit. Player records were adjusted at the start of the 2003 season so as to not change eligibility in the PGA TOUR Past Champions category during the course of the 2002 season.

Charity: Giving Back...The Heart of the PGA TOUR

Success on the PGA TOUR can be seen in the number of people positively affected by a core mission of the organization: Giving back in the communities where we play.

As the PGA TOUR and its tournaments on all three Tours drive toward $1 billion in charitable giving by 2006, the commitment is evident from all those involved. Players give freely of their time to support charitable initiatives, both at tournaments and on their own. The vast majority of the 100-plus PGA TOUR tournaments are set up as charitable organizations. Volunteers, numbering more than 80,000 annually, donate their time to support tournaments in various capacities, allowing for a considerable increase in giving. As a result, the benefit to more than 2,000 charities provides life-altering experiences for many businesses and people in the community.

The beneficiaries come from programs such as Respite Care of San Antonio (Valero Texas Open), Community Schools in Wake County (SAS Championship) and The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Tennessee Valley (Knoxville Open), the 2003 PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour Charities of the Year, respectively.

The impact is also made by volunteers such as Bobby Tsumura at the Sony Open in Hawaii, Dick Chesnutt of the SBC Classic and Terry Mullins at the Nationwide Tour Championship, the 2003 PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour Volunteers of the Year, respectively.

Tournaments provide the leadership for charitable contributions, led by the EDS Byron Nelson Championship on the PGA TOUR, the Toshiba Senior Classic, 3M Championship and The First Tee Open at Pebble Beach presented by Wal-Mart on the Champions Tour and the BMW Charity Pro-Am at The Cliffs on the Nationwide Tour, which provided the largest donations to charity in 2004 on each Tour.

"Giving back to the communities in which our events are held is at the heart of the PGA TOUR," PGA TOUR Commissioner Tim Finchem said. "It reflects directly on a number of entities, namely tournaments, sponsors, players, volunteers and communities, all working together toward a common goal. Charity is what drives and motivates those involved to make the commitments and sacrifices they do.

"In addition, the individual players add charity dollars at their own charity events and contribute significantly to the overall mix."

Players enthusiastically reach out to help the needy through charitable efforts in their own home communities and across the nation. Phil Mickelson gave more than $100,000 to The Special Operations Warrior Foundation for the total birdies and eagles he made in 2004. The foundation provides college scholarship grants, based on need, along with financial aid and educational counseling to the children of Special Operations personnel who were killed in an operational mission or training accident. Champions Tour player Allen Doyle contributed $1.1 million to his alma mater, Norwich University in Vermont, three years after donating his $1-million Charles Schwab Cup winnings to six charities.

"If you asked me why I did it, there isn't one or two reasons I can put my finger on," Doyle said of his donation to Norwich. "It just feels like the right thing to do."

Since the first donation of $10,000 by the Palm Beach Invitational in 1938, the combined charitable effort from all three Tours has reached more than $900 million. All three Tours contributed in excess of $80 million to charity in 2004.

In the communities where tournaments take place, giving back remains at the heart of the PGA TOUR.

The First Tee

The First Tee, in cooperation with local communities, develops affordable golf learning facilities that provide young people of all backgrounds an opportunity to develop, through golf and character-education, life-enhancing values such as honesty, integrity and sportsmanship.

Key to The First Tee's success has been the development of The First Tee Life Skills Education, which was created by a team of experts in the field of youth development. Through this Experience, participants learn valuable lessons, such as: the importance of maintaining a positive attitude; how to make decisions by thinking about the possible consequences; how to define and set goals; and how to transfer the inherently positive values of golf from the course to everyday life.

A recent study by the University of Florida and the University of Nevada-Las Vegas showed that The First Tee Life Skills Education is having a positive impact on its participants. Multiple measures of research, including written tests and parental observations, revealed that The First Tee participants improved in their knowledge and use of life skills through exposure to the program. Over 74 percent of the parents whose children participated in The First Tee Life Skills Experience Research observed improvements in their child's communication skills, confidence and display of responsibility. More than half of the parents reported that the Life Skills Education had a positive impact on their child's school grades and social abilities.

In furtherance of its mission to impact the lives of young people, The First Tee has created a Scholars Program that offers leadership scholarships to qualified participants. The young people who receive the designation of The First Tee Scholar have demonstrated outstanding leadership skills, scholastic achievement and commitment to their Chapters and communities.

The First Tee was established in 1997 with the support of five of the world's leading golf organizations; the PGA of America, the Ladies Professional Golf Association, the PGA TOUR, Augusta National Golf Club and the United States Golf Association.

Through unprecedented support from the golf industry and others, including cities, counties and states that have donated land for the purpose of developing golf learning facilities, The First Tee has opened over 180 facilities worldwide and has touched the lives of more than 400,000 young people since 2000.

The First Tee has a very bright and exciting future. The impact of The First Tee is assured because of the extraordinary commitment of the Chapter volunteers and staff, combined with the local businesses and political leaders in each community who have embraced it.

Golf 20/20: Vision for the Future

In November 2000, senior members of the golf industry came together at World Golf Village for a conference called GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future, and embarked on an unprecedented collaborative effort to enhance the future of the game. The spirit of unity was so strong, and the commitment to make a difference so universal, that the decision was made to address some very specific issues and to make GOLF 20/20 an ongoing industry effort.

GOLF 20/20 is a World Golf Foundation initiative that was started with the following stated mission: To align the golf industry behind a plan that addresses the future of golf in a strategic manner, with an emphasis on accelerating growth and participation, and creating new avenues of access into the game. The focus of the conference was not only on participation but also on interest.

Over the past several years a number of research projects have been undertaken, several communications initiatives started, and a variety of programs tested or implemented. The main areas of focus for GOLF 20/20 include the following:

Adult Player Development—The goal of 20/20's adult player development activities is to introduce new adult players into the game, bring former players back to the game and encourage greater levels of play by infrequent golfers. At the 2003 conference, the PGA of America announced an umbrella concept called Play Golf America, under which the industry's major adult development initiatives will fall. This effort commenced in the spring of 2004 and has received unprecedented support from all areas of the golf industry.

Youth Development—In 2001, GOLF 20/20 worked in collaboration with the USGA Foundation to develop the ultimate junior golf Web site, juniorlinks.com, which to date has registered more than 2,000 junior golf programs nationwide, and which continues to provide valuable information to junior golfers, their parents and junior program administrators. In 2003-2004, GOLF 20/20 piloted a new program to introduce golf through elementary schools as part of the physical education curriculum. Successfully tested at 133 schools in eight cities, the program has now evolved underneath The First Tee. During the 2004-2005 school year, The First Tee National School Program is being expanded to include 400 elementary schools, with more aggressive expansion plans for the future.

Communication—On Nov. 15, 2004, GOLF 20/20 relaunched its Web site, golf2020.com, with updated content and, most importantly, a new section that contains best practices relating to the growth of the game. It is our belief that there is no shortage of creative ideas that can enhance a golf facility's ability to generate additional revenue while creating new players or encouraging more frequent play from existing players. There just needs to be one location where those ideas are available, and golf2020.com intends to fill that need. The Web site also contains all GOLF 20/20 research and other information of value to those with an interest in ensuring the future vitality of golf.

Research—To supplement existing information, GOLF 20/20 commissioned in 2001 an unprecedented study of segments within the game, information that was instrumental in formulating strategies. In 2002, two other studies were commissioned. The first revealed that golf is responsible for more than 3.2 billion dollars being generated for charities in the U.S. each year. The second estimated the total golf economy in this country to be more than $60 billion annually. In 2003, major research studies were done on frequency of play and minority participation in golf, and all past and ongoing research will be available at golf2020.com.

Hualalai: First PGA TOUR Resort

Hualalai is as unique as it is exclusive, an oceanside resort that provides the total vacation experience. Featuring a five-star Four Seasons hotel, its amenities include an outstanding Jack Nicklaus-designed golf course carved from the dramatic lava landscape, a tennis facility with eight championship courts, a health and wellness center and white-sand beach. PGA TOUR Links

The PGA TOUR Links program is the technological solution that links together PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour members, TOUR staff, player managers and tournament organizations. Along with IBM, the TOUR's technology partner, the PGA TOUR and its players worked together to design and develop a solution that fits their communications and management needs.

As part of the TOUR Links program, each exempt player receives an IBM ThinkPad computer and Internet access, allowing him to log on to the PGA TOUR Links Web site from anywhere in the world. Within the site itself, players are able to access information, including vital PGA TOUR announcements, tournament information, tee times, personal statistics and PGA TOUR policies. Players also are able to send and receive e-mail, commit to tournaments, submit survey responses, vote in player elections and make hotel reservations.

To date, more than 450 players are involved in the PGA TOUR Links program. The players have cited the program as one of the most efficient ways to communicate with them. As the program enters its sixth year, it continues to evolve to meet changing technological advances and player needs.

PGA TOUR Productions

PGA TOUR Productions is the television, film and video production company of the PGA TOUR.

With more than 160 hours of PGA TOUR programming appearing on ABC, CBS, NBC, ESPN, USA Network, The Golf Channel and Fox Sports Net, PGA TOUR Productions is the world's leading golf production company. Network shows have included "Young Lions," "PGA TOUR Fore! Kids" and the reality series "PGA TOUR 18: Golf's Ultimate Road Trip." Shows highlighting the PGA TOUR's commitment to "Giving Back" have included "One From the Heart presented by CRESTOR" hosted by actress Sharon Stone.

In addition to its network specials and popular weekly and monthly series, PGA TOUR Productions is an industry leader, which also produces award-winning commercial advertising, infomercials and corporate, entertainment and sales videos.

This year, "Inside the PGA TOUR" enters its 21st season, continuing its run as golf's longest-running weekly series. Beginning its fourth year on The Golf Channel, "Inside the PGA TOUR" features player hosts offering their unique, "inside" perspective into life on TOUR.

"PGA TOUR Sunday" on the USA Network returns for its third successful season with host Fran Charles, Golf World's Tim Rosaforte and player analysts

John Cook, Jim Nelford and Phil Blackmar. "PGA TOUR Sunday" is the only live game-day-style studio show leading into the final round of each week's PGA TOUR event. This fast-paced, 60-minute show is produced at PGA TOUR Productions studios and is a perfect blend of golf lifestyle and entertainment where stars become players and players become stars. In 2004, celebrity guests included comedians Ray Romano, Kevin James, Bernie Mac and country singer Phil Vassar. The show also includes analysis, highlights, player features and news live from that week's tournament sites.

In addition, PGA TOUR Productions' studio will once again be the host anchor location for all of USA Network's coverage of 31 early round tournament telecasts.

PGA TOUR Productions serves a worldwide clientele by producing, in conjunction with the networks, international telecasts of PGA TOUR events. The PGA TOUR international feed serves South and Central America, South Africa, Europe and Asia. Telecasts and other programming are distributed to more than 140 countries, translated into 32 languages and available to more than 200 million homes around the world.

PGA TOUR Productions is housed in a 32,000-square-foot digital facility adjacent to the World Golf Hall of Fame, just off Interstate 95 in St. Augustine, FL. Along with the latest in television and communications technology, Productions owns the world's most extensive golf footage archive.

ShotLink

The PGA TOUR has collaborated with IBM, the TOUR's Official Worldwide Information Technology Partner, on the PGA TOUR ShotLink System. The ShotLink System is a revolutionary platform for collecting and disseminating scoring and statistical data on every shot by every player in real-time during every tournament round. This data asset creates improved live coverage and more meaningful analysis. The new data creates great potential to enhance entertainment and image of the sport across all platforms.

The development of ShotLink started in 1997 when the TOUR decided to update its current scoring system, which was based on 1987 technology. The TOUR, in conjunction with IBM, conducted an extensive review process to formulate its strategy for the development and implementation of ShotLink. Following an evaluation of more than 30 companies, additional technology and implementation partners were identified: Information and Display Systems (IDS), Palm, Electronic Arts, Daktronics and two mapping vendors: GeoGolf and Geodetic Services. IBM provided overall project management, consulting services and server and networking technologies. ShotLink was introduced during the 2001 Buick Classic and represents the TOUR's scoring system for the future.

The accumulation, packaging and presentation of expanded shot and course information provides the basis for numerous fan enhancements. Current uses of ShotLink data include:

- Enhanced graphics and statistics in television broadcasts
- Expanded information and statistics for use by media

- Powering on-site and PGATOUR.COM tournament leaderboards
- Providing on-site media and hospitality access to live tournament information through Tournament Tracker, developed by IBM
- Powering PGA TOUR Mobile Link, the PGA TOUR's wireless application for use on PDAs and cell phones (available on PGATOUR.COM)
- Powering the TOURCast application on PGATOUR.COM, which launched in 2003
- Analysis of how each golf course is played to assist in course setup and in design changes

In addition to current uses, ShotLink provides unlimited potential to develop fan enhancements and products over the next several years, including:

- Enhanced and interactive television
- On-site wireless and kiosk applications for tournament patrons
- Internet, PC and console games
- Increased data mining to create more interesting entertainment and insights of how the game is played across all platforms.

Besides fan enhancements, ShotLink creates an ongoing historical archive of statistical information. This information is available to players through the PGA TOUR Links program, also built by IBM.

The ShotLink data is collected by volunteers utilizing a combination of Palm handheld devices and laser range finders. Each week a team of approximately 350 volunteers dedicate approximately three man years of effort to perform this data collection. In the course of the entire season, more than 10,000 volunteers contribute to the success of this program.

Tournament Players Clubs

The PGA TOUR's Tournament Players Club network has maintained a reputation for operating high-quality clubs since its inception 24 years ago. The TPC network continues to grow, with more than 30 facilities currently open or under construction.

TPCs encompass all forms of golf-related operations—resort facilities, corporate/private membership clubs and daily fee courses—and, as such, PGA TOUR Golf Course Properties, Inc. is able to match the type of facility with the demands of each market in which a club operates.

The network represents the highest standard in the golf course industry, commensurate with the members of the organization it represents, the players of the PGA TOUR. Each Tournament Players Club embodies the trademark of excellence first established with the flagship TPC at Sawgrass, which opened its world-famous Stadium Course in the fall of 1980 in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL. This commitment to overall excellence serves as the foundation for the network's overall success.

The TPC network was born through former PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman's desire to provide TOUR players with quality golf courses that also would offer spectators enhanced viewing areas. Beman also reasoned that development of quality facilities would alleviate the TOUR's dependency on the television dollar, while providing rent-free venues for tournaments. The savings in rent, in turn, would generate both increased purses and greater charitable contributions by the tournaments held at TPCs.

The TPC at Sawgrass was the first Tournament Players Club to hold a PGA TOUR event, becoming the permanent home of THE PLAYERS Championship in 1982. In 2004, 16 tournaments were conducted on TPC courses, bringing the total number of PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour events held at TPC facilities to 236.

Many of the top golf course architects are connected with Tournament Players Club projects, including Pete Dye, Tom Fazio, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Arthur Hills, Jay Morrish, Tom Weiskopf, Greg Norman, Bob Von Hagge and D.A. Weirbring. The Tournament Players Club of Boston, which opened in 2002, was the fourth TPC course designed by Palmer Course Design Co. Weiskopf has designed his second TPC course for the new Tournament Players Club at Craig Ranch near Dallas, TX, which opened in the fall of 2004.

Moreover, in recognizing the importance of player input for tournament courses, TOUR members have served as design consultants, working closely with the lead architect. Mark O'Meara, for instance, served as the player design consultant on the Tournament Players Club at Valencia (CA), which opened in June 2003, while Steve Elkington was the player consultant and Kelly Gibson the associate player consultant working with architect Pete Dye on the Tournament Players Club of Louisiana in New Orleans, which opened in April 2004.

Postponement and Weather Guidelines

Tournament Postponement Guidelines

If, in the judgment of the tournament director, adverse weather conditions or any other occurrence or condition beyond the control of PGA TOUR renders commencement or continuation of tournament play inadvisable, play shall be postponed until such time as the tournament director, after consultation with the tournament, determines that such weather conditions or other occurrence have improved sufficiently for play to commence or resume, provided that:

The completion of no such tournament shall be extended beyond Sunday of tournament week*, except that if at least half the field has completed play prior to the postponement or if a playoff is necessary to determine the tournament winner, the final round may be completed on Monday.

Notwithstanding the above, if at least half the field has not completed play prior to the postponement of a Sunday round, play shall not be resumed unless, in the judgment of the tournament director, the entire field can reasonably be expected to complete the round on Sunday.

In the event of cancellation of any part of a tournament, prize money shall be distributed among the lowest scorers after the last completed round of play in the same number, amounts and order as for the originally scheduled number of holes. If a tournament is shortened to not less than two stipulated rounds and there is a tie for first place, there will be a playoff at a convenient time as determined by the tournament director. The tournament will be considered official (e.g., for purposes of determining official money, official win, etc.) if at least two stipulated rounds have been played.

Weather Guidelines

For implementation at the JELD-WEN Tradition, the Ford Senior Players Championship and Charles Schwab Cup Championship, the following guidelines will be utilized by the tournament director in the decision-making process:

- The first priority will be the completion of 72 holes. Every effort will be made to finish each round as scheduled by Sunday.
- In order to make every effort to achieve this objective by Sunday, the tournament director is provided the discretion to extend any day's play beyond the standard 18-hole round.
- If conditions exist which prevent 72 holes from being completed by Sunday, play will always be extended to Monday if golf course conditions and weather forecast permit.
- If conditions exist which make the completion of 72 holes impossible, the next priority is to complete 54 holes. Again, play in this situation will always be extended to Monday if course conditions and weather permit.
- If conditions exist which make the completion of 54 holes impossible, the next priority is to complete 36 holes so the winner is credited with an official victory.
- In the event of a suspension during a Monday final round, the completion of the tournament shall not be extended to Tuesday, except that if at least half the field has completed play prior to postponement or if a playoff is necessary to determine the tournament winner. Notwithstanding the above, if at least half the field has not completed play prior to the postponement, play shall not be resumed unless, in the judgment of the tournament director, the entire field can reasonably be expected to complete the Monday round.

* The JELD-WEN Tradition, Ford Senior Players Championship and Charles Schwab Cup Championship are exceptions to these guidelines.

World Golf Foundation

World Golf Foundation, a not-for-profit, 501(c)3 organization, was created in 1994 to unite the golf industry and those who love the game.

The board supports initiatives that promote, enhance the growth of, and provide access to the game of golf, while preserving golf's traditional values and passing them on to others.

There are four initiatives under the umbrella of the World Golf Foundation: the World Golf Hall of Fame, The First Tee, GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future and the National Minority Golf Foundation. Each initiative has its own mission to enhance the game of golf's history, present and future.

World Golf Hall of Fame—Conceptualized in the late 1980s and open since 1998, it is committed to preserving golf's rich heritage, honoring the great players and contributors to the sport and setting the stage for future generations to learn about and enjoy the game. Members are honored in the 75,000 square-foot museum located at World Golf Village in St. Augustine, FL.

The First Tee—Announced in November of 1997, The First Tee is dedicated to providing affordable access to golf and strives to instill in young people life-enhancing values such as honesty, integrity, sportsmanship and respect. These values are seamlessly taught through The First Tee Life Skills & Golf Experience, one of the unique features that differentiates The First Tee from many other successful junior golf programs. The intent is to offer opportunities for improvement in the quality of life and create a platform where children can increase their potential for success. The First Tee partners with local not-for-profit entities and municipalities to form The First Tee Chapters, which are responsible for developing The First Tee golf learning facilities. Currently, there are more than 135 open facilities spanning 40 states and two continents, including programs in Canada and Singapore.

GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future—Initiated in 1999, it is devoted to aligning the golf industry behind a plan that addresses the future of golf in a strategic manner, with an emphasis on accelerating growth and participation and creating new avenues of access into the game.

National Minority Golf Foundation—Coming under the World Golf Foundation umbrella in 2001, it is primarily focused on developing career opportunities in golf for minorities.

World Golf Hall of Fame

Open since 1998, the World Golf Hall of Fame is the ultimate destination for the celebration and recognition of golf's greatest players and contributors and serves as an inspiration to golfers and fans worldwide. Supported by all of the world's leading golf organizations, the Hall of Fame combines historic artifacts and personal memorabilia with interactive exhibits to tell the stories of the Hall of Fame members and the history of the game. The World Golf Hall of Fame is located at World Golf Village in St. Augustine, FL.

The Museum

Guests of the World Golf Hall of Fame will be greeted with the fascinating and comprehensive tale of golf's history and its development from the cradle in Scotland through its growth to the far reaches of the world. An exhibit in this area focuses on the role of The Royal & Ancient, the history of the British Open, golf's longest-running major, and the Royal & Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews.

The Hall of Fame members' stories are referenced throughout the museum, though their true home is in the center of the museum, Shell Hall, named for the Hall of Fame's founding partner, Shell Oil Company. An extraordinary 150-foot "Wall of Fame" donning hand-crafted bronze relief plaques of each member extends an entire wall, representing the current 104 members. And, guests can search for statistics, sound bites, photographs and video clips in a comprehensive database developed by technology partner IBM.

As a fitting tribute to the highest achievement in golf, significant tournament trophies, including men's and women's majors, are artfully displayed in the Hall of Fame Tower. A locker room showcases memorabilia from many of the members and guests have the opportunity to sink a long putt on a modern tournament-style putting green under the lights and cameras of a Shell's Wonderful World of Golf match. Video is featured throughout the museum, including the multi-screen experience called "Spirit of the Game" and a theater offering great championship moment highlights.

Special Exhibits

The World Golf Hall of Fame opens various temporary exhibits throughout the year, many featuring its members. A major exhibit opens each spring, during THE PLAYERS Championship, and at each year's Fall Induction Ceremony, when special displays highlighting the current year's class are unveiled.

Avenues for Induction

There are five avenues for a player or contributor to enter the World Golf Hall of Fame: PGA TOUR/Champions Tour ballot, International ballot, LPGA Point System, Lifetime Achievement category and Veteran's category.

Various criteria is set up for players to be eligible for the PGA TOUR/Champions Tour and International ballots, including an age requirement of at least 40 years old and a necessary performance that includes a substantial amount of regular tournament victories and majors.

The LPGA Point System requires a player to be an active member of the LPGA Tour for 10 years and to have won either an LPGA major tournament, Vare Trophy or Rolex Player of the Year honors, plus a number of other tournament victories.

Nominations for the Lifetime Achievement category are made by the international voting body members. The category is designed for any male or female supporter of the sport whose primary role in the game has come outside the playing arena. The World Golf Foundation Board of Directors' Selection Committee decides this category each year.

Any male or female professional or amateur who played the bulk of his/her career before 1974 and may not have received proper recognition is eligible for selection through the Veteran's category. The World Golf Foundation Board of Directors' Selection Committee also determines this category each year.

Founding Partner

As sole founding partner of World Golf Hall of Fame, Shell Oil Company provides financial support to the World Golf Foundation and supports its charitable initiatives aimed at introducing golf to young people, thereby promoting scholastic achievement, community service and those values intrinsic to the game of golf.

The Hall of Fame features personal memorabilia and special exhibits highlighting its members, as well as historical and interactive displays that enable visitors to see and experience some of golf's most exciting aspects. Part of the Hall of Fame experience includes a round on the 18-hole natural grass putting course and a film at the adjacent IMAX® Theater, which offers a variety of films that are both educational and entertaining on an 80-foot-wide-by-6-story-high screen.

World Golf Village championship golf courses include King & Bear, the only course co-designed by World Golf Hall of Fame members Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, and the Slammer & Squire, built by Bobby Weed with design consultants Sam Snead and Gene Sarazen, also World Golf Hall of Fame members. Both courses, which have hosted 10 nationally televised broadcasts, combine challenging obstacles with playability for all levels of golfers.

The PGA TOUR Golf Academy offers private lessons, clinics and golf schools by top-rated instructors, including Director of Instruction Scott Sackett, a Golf Magazine Top 100 Teacher, who incorporates three teaching and video analysis systems into the lessons.

PGA TOUR Spa Laterra—the first such facility to bear the PGA TOUR name—opened in the King & Bear in December 2004, offering golf-enhancement services and fitness programs comparable to those used on TOUR. The full-service spa, part of the Laterra resort community, offers signature treatments and full, half and multi-day packages.

Dining options along the Walk of Champions include Murray Bros. Caddyshack, the flagship restaurant of actor-golfer Bill Murray and his five brothers, and Legacy Steakhouse.

PGA TOUR STOP, one of the largest golf stores in the country, anchors the retail area of World Golf Village. Also along the Walk of Champions, which is a half-mile track featuring engraved Hall of Fame member signatures in granite, guests can attempt to hit a ball 132 yards to the Challenge Hole's island green.

Accommodations at World Golf Village include the flagship Renaissance Resort at World Golf Village, a 10-story resort that features 301 guest rooms and the adjacent St. Johns County Convention Center. Grande Villas at World Golf Village, a Bluegreen Vacation Club resort, offers country club vacation homes that overlook the 17th and 18th holes of Slammer & Squire golf course.

The Neighborhoods of World Golf Village offer distinctive residential communities that blend world-class amenities with the convenience of shopping, healthcare, entertainment, first-rate schools and incredible golf. Each neighborhood offers individual amenities such as pools and recreational facilities.

Regulations – Media

The following regulations are to be followed by all members of the media:

1. A daily decal is necessary to walk inside the gallery ropes. All members of the media with such decal must remain not more than an arm's length from the ropes, so as to blend into the gallery and appear to be a part of the gallery at all times.
2. Players are not to be distracted during play. Do not interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their rounds.
3. Do not interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their practice sessions before a round, except by prior arrangement with the player.
4. If an interview is to be conducted in the practice areas, either the range or the putting green, it must be done by prior arrangement with the player, up against the ropes and not in the middle of the areas where it could be distracting to other players.
5. Do not disturb players at their 18th green and/or scoring tent until after they have checked, signed and returned their scorecards. Media are not allowed in the scoring tent.

Working Press Regulations

To avoid embarrassment to you and distraction to the contestants:

1. Do not walk or stand in playing areas.
2. Follow directions of marshals and other officials.
3. Do not interview during play. The leading players each day — and others requested — will be interviewed following their rounds in the Press Room interview area.

Tape Recorder Regulations

1. All tape recorder and/or video recorder work should be done in the proximity of the Press Room and/or clubhouse.
2. Tape recorders and/or video recorders are not permitted in the locker room.

3. Tape recorders and/or video recorders are not permitted within the playing area of the golf course unless written permission has been granted from PGA TOUR.

Weather Delay Guidelines

1. During weather-delay situations, no one other than players and essential staff will be permitted in the locker room. This means the media are not permitted in the locker room in such situations. However, whenever possible, arrangements will be made to provide players for interviews during such situations.
2. Fully accredited members of the news media will be welcome in the locker room at all other times to carry out their assigned duties. (Note: Cameras and tape recorders are not permitted in the locker room.) The media person set forth below and the News Agency set forth below shall jointly and severally indemnify, defend and hold the Event, its host organizations and PGA TOUR and their respective officers, agents, representatives, successors and assigns harmless from and against any and all expenses, lawsuits, damages, costs and liabilities (including reasonable attorney's fees and expenses) incurred by, arising from, or in connection with, any actions of the media person set forth below. The credentialed entity assumes all risk and danger incidental to the game of golf and releases PGA TOUR, Inc.-sanctioned tournaments and competitions and their host sites, title sponsors, host organizations, PGA TOUR, Inc., participating players, and all agents thereof from any and all liabilities resulting from such cases.
