A Message to the Media

Henry Hughes
Executive Vice President and Chief of Operations

On behalf of the players, staff, tournaments and volunteers, welcome to a landmark year in the history of the PGA TOUR. The professional coverage and dedicated reporting from the array of global media that cover our sport has been instrumental in the growth of the PGA TOUR and the game of golf. We thank each and every one of you for your efforts.

The sport's new season-long competition, the FedExCup, begins this year marking a new era in golf while establishing a benchmark measurement for success that a player can achieve on the PGA TOUR.

This competition will dramatically change the PGA TOUR, offering fans a new competitive element while giving the game its first true "season." Under the FedExCup, the golf year will be divided into two parts:

1. FedExCup
   - PGA TOUR Regular Season (Events 1-36)
   - PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup (Events 37-40)
2. PGA TOUR Fall Series (Events (41-47)

It is an exciting time for golf and our fans, and the FedExCup will provide even more thrilling competition on the PGA TOUR this season.

The new schedule includes a new date for the tournament that the PGA TOUR players call their own, THE PLAYERS Championship. With a refurbished course, a remarkable clubhouse and a switch from March to May, THE PLAYERS will be positioned to improve on what was already one of the crown jewels on TOUR.

The PGA TOUR's goal of reaching our second billion in charitable donations in the next 10 years continues. Our appreciation and congratulations go out to the tournaments, players, sponsors and thousands of volunteers who are helping to make this goal a reality.

The 2006 PGA TOUR season was a continuation of the momentum we have seen building in recent years. The season saw a number of milestone moments. PGA TOUR Player of the Year Tiger Woods won the British Open and the PGA Championship to bring his career major championships total to 12. He won eight tournaments in just 15 starts including the last six consecutive PGA TOUR events that he entered. Woods also continued his stellar play at World Golf Championships events by winning another pair of World Golf Championships titles.

Phil Mickelson won his third major and for the second time in Augusta with a two-stroke victory at the Masters. Mickelson also won the BellSouth Classic the week prior with a remarkable score of 28-under-par.

Geoff Ogilvy broke through with wins at the World Golf Championships-Accenture Match Play Championship and later outlasted several contenders during a memorable final stretch to win his first major at the U.S. Open. Jim Furyk's victories came at the Wachovia Championship and the Canadian Open. Furyk finished second on the PGA TOUR Money List on the strength of his two wins, but also in part by his TOUR-leading 13 top-10 finishes.

Stuart Appleby and Ben Curtis were the other players on the PGA TOUR with multiple victories in 2006, with two each.

It was a breakthrough year for many on TOUR in 2006. Stephen Ames captured what is so far his career-defining victory with an almost flawless final round to win THE PLAYERS. Aaron Baddeley, Chris Couch, J.J. Henry and Dean Wilson were just a few of the TOUR veterans who were able to break through for their first PGA TOUR wins.

A strong rookie class on the PGA TOUR also made its presence felt. Four rookies were able to record wins (Trevor Immelman, Troy Matteson, J.B. Holmes and Eric Axley), and 11 finished among the Top 125. Eight rookies topped the $1-million mark, including Immelman, who set an all-time rookie earnings record of more than $3.8 million.

On the Champions Tour, the battle for the Charles Schwab Cup went down to the last putt of the season, with Jay Haas nipping Loren Roberts for the season-long points title. Haas and Roberts each won four times and look to continue their fine play this year when a strong cast of competitors joins the Champions Tour, led by Mark O'Meara and World Golf Hall of Famers Nick Price and Bernhard Langer.

The Nationwide Tour continued to raise its level of play, with 196 PGA TOUR tournaments having been won by former Nationwide Tour players. Ken Duke and Johnson Wagner lead a strong graduating class onto the 2007 PGA TOUR. We are also excited that Nationwide extended its umbrella sponsorship of the Nationwide Tour for five years through the 2012 season.

The 2007 season begins this new era in golf. As we all watch the drama of the FedExCup unfold, we also realize there will be new questions and situations that will arise with the changes being made. We look forward to assisting you in spreading the excitement and telling the stories that this new era creates. Thank you again for your coverage of the PGA TOUR. If you have questions or concerns, our staff on site at tournament media centers or at PGA TOUR Headquarters in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida, will be happy to assist.

Sincerely,

Timothy W. Finchem

We Are The PGA TOUR

The name of our organization is the PGA TOUR, a tax-exempt membership group of professional golfers that plays more than 100 official money tournaments on three Tours – the PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour. Our headquarters are located in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL, southeast of Jacksonville.

We should never be referred to as the PGA, as we are a different organization than the PGA (of America). We are the PGA TOUR. On second reference, you can call us the TOUR.

The PGA is the Professional Golfers' Association of America, a membership organization for the nation's club professionals. The PGA runs the PGA Championship, Senior PGA Championship and Ryder Cup Matches, among other championships. The PGA headquarters are located in Palm Beach Gardens, FL.

The PGA TOUR and PGA of America were affiliated until 1968, when the tournament players, a small subset of the total PGA membership, broke away to form the Tournament Players Division and gain more control of their finances and tournament schedule. The Tournament Players Division was renamed the PGA TOUR in 1975.

Two other American golf organizations are involved in men's professional tournament play, independent of the PGA TOUR but with their marquee events included on the PGA TOUR schedule as non-PGA TOUR cosponsored tournaments. The United States Golf Association, with headquarters in Far Hills, NJ, oversees the national championships (U.S. Open, U.S. Senior Open, U.S. Amateur, U.S. Women's Amateur, etc.) and administers the Rules of Golf, among other duties. The Augusta (GA) National Golf Club plays host to the Masters Tournament. The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, oversees the British Open and administers the world's golf rules jointly with the USGA.

The PGA TOUR is the world's foremost golf Tour, with 47 official money events from January through November. This year marks a new era for the PGA TOUR with the debut of the FedExCup, a season-long points competition culminating with the first-ever PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup.

Overview:
The PGA TOUR is a tax-exempt membership organization of professional golfers. In 2007, a new era in golf begins on the PGA TOUR as players will begin their quest for the FedExCup at the Mercedes-Benz Championship. The season begins with the PGA TOUR Regular Season (36 tournaments) where players will try to qualify for the PGA TOUR Playoffs for FedExCup by ranking in the top 144 spots in the FedExCup standings. The PGA TOUR Playoffs will consist of four events between late August and mid-September. These four events will determine the winner of the FedExCup. In addition, the top-30 finishers will be guaranteed exemption for the following year's FedExCup.

The four PGA TOUR Playoff events come to an exciting conclusion at THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola. Following the Playoffs is the PGA TOUR Fall Series, a group of seven events rounding out the 2007 season. In all, the 2007 schedule has 47 official events offering more than $266 million in prize money.

The mission of the PGA TOUR is to expand domestically and internationally so as to substantially increase player financial benefits while maintaining its commitment to growth in charity and the integrity of the game. Overview

The PGA TOUR enters a new era in golf this year with the introduction of the FedExCup, a season-long points competition culminating with the first-ever PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup.

The FedExCup, spanning 37 weeks, offers fans a new competition to follow on a weekly basis and gives the game its first true "season." Players are rewarded for their season-long performance and ability to rise to the occasion in the Playoffs.

"The FedExCup and the PGA TOUR Playoffs truly usher in an exciting new era in golf and establish a new measurement of success on the PGA TOUR," said TOUR Commissioner Tim Finchem. "Fans will love the fact that every week has more meaning with more reasons to watch.

"The PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup will bring the same pressure and compelling drama at the end of the season that other sports have had for many years."

The new PGA TOUR schedule divides the golf season into two parts:

1. FedExCup
   - PGA TOUR Regular Season (33 weeks)
   - PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup (4 weeks)
2. PGA TOUR Fall Series

1 FedExCup

PGA TOUR Regular Season

The Regular Season will consist of 36 events in 33 weeks from the beginning of January at the Mercedes-Benz Championship in Hawaii through mid-August at the Wyndham Championship in Greensboro, NC. Points are awarded at four levels:

- Official PGA TOUR events played during the Regular Season will each award 25,000 FedExCup points.
- The Masters Tournament, THE PLAYERS Championship, U.S. Open, British Open and the PGA Championship will award 27,500 FedExCup points (10 percent more).
- World Golf Championships events will award 26,250 FedExCup points (5 percent more).
- Additional events (played opposite other tournaments) will award 12,500 FedExCup points.

Limited-field events played during the Regular Season will not redistribute the points for places that do not play. Those points are not awarded to the field and the total points distributed will be slightly less than the total points as defined above. For example, if the 2007 Mercedes-Benz Championship has a field of 30 players, the points awarded will be based on the points that would be awarded to each individual position in a full-field event from positions 1 to 30.

The Regular Season events will decide the seeding for the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup.

"It's an exciting time for golf. It's certainly going to be more exciting for everyone, not just us as competitors who will be bucking heads against the best more often, but also for the fans. The fans are really going to enjoy it whether they are there in person or watching on TV. And all the sponsors are certainly going to enjoy the event more with a deeper and better field week to week. It's a no-brainer; we're doing the right thing."

PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup

The PGA TOUR Playoffs will consist of four events immediately following the Regular Season. Seeding will be determined by a points reset based on the players' final Season points standings. Each Playoff event offers 50,000 points, double that of the Season events. The field for the first event, The Barclays, will include the top 144 players. The second event, the Deutsche Bank Championship in Boston, will have a 120-player field. The third tournament, the BMW Championship in Chicago, will have 70 players (with no cut). The finale, THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola in Atlanta, will be comprised of the top-30 qualifiers who will compete for the FedExCup with one to be crowned the FedExCup champion.

PGA TOUR PLAYOFFS

Ties: Reset points will be distributed between the tying positions using the same methods for dealing with ties during events – the total points for each of the tying positions are averaged and awarded to all players in the tying position.

In the event that a player from the Season cannot or chooses not to play in the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup, there will be no alternates and the field will be shortened.

"Four big events at the end of the year, everybody has to play and there's a good reward at the end of it, as well."
VIJAY SINGH

"I think for the spectator watching on television or even coming to golf events, there is going to be a new buzz."

PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup Points Structure

The FedExCup will culminate with THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola, which will have a field consisting of the top-30 players based on their point totals through the Playoffs. This point total will include both reset points and points earned during the first three Playoff events.

"There is a significant advantage to doing well during the Regular Season and having a higher seeding. But like other sports, it doesn't end there; the FedExCup ultimately has to be won through strong play during the Playoffs."

Other notes:

- In all Regular Season events, points are distributed to all players earning official money with the exception of those who are not regular PGA TOUR members. Only players who are regular members as defined by PGA TOUR tournament regulations will be eligible to earn points. Special temporary members and amateurs will not be eligible to earn FedExCup points.
- All players who are not regular PGA TOUR members but choose to join during the season will be eligible to earn points on a prospective basis. Points ARE NOT awarded retroactively. For example, if a non-member wins a Regular Season event and then chooses to join the membership, he will earn points for all events going forward in the season, but not for the event he just won.
- Points will be awarded at official PGA TOUR FedExCup events. For example, the 2005 Nissan Open, which was shortened to 36 holes, is listed as an unofficial victory but awarded official money. This event would award FedExCup points.

The PGA TOUR enters new television agreements this year under a term of six-year network deals. CBS and NBC will provide weekend coverage of the PGA TOUR FedExCup competition for the 2007 through 2012 seasons. Also beginning in 2007, GOLF CHANNEL will become the TOUR's exclusive cable partner. The new agreements also provide for the move of THE PLAYERS Championship to a new May date and a new broadcast format with limited commercial interruptions.

All CBS and NBC weekend broadcasts will be in high definition for the first time.

PGA TOUR Commissioner Tim Finchem said, "We have been able to streamline and solidify our television presence for the long term through this alignment with two very strong network partners and an exclusive cable provider. These agreements will drive enormous value to sponsors. And it's a big win for our fans, because these television partners will provide the continuity and quality of coverage that will bring out the drama of the season-long FedExCup competition, while also positioning THE PLAYERS for maximum impact and fan interest.

"We are also delighted with the financial benefits of these agreements," Finchem said. "We achieved our primary objective of securing continued solid growth in financial benefits to players. Under the new agreements, total prize money and other financial benefits to players will increase approximately $600 million over the term as compared to the previous six years, a 35-percent increase.

"The new agreements also improve our ability to generate charitable giving through our tournaments at a level sufficient to reach our goal of a second billion in all-time charitable donations in less than 10 years. In addition, these new agreements will allow us to increase the resources necessary to assist our tournaments in their continued growth.

"Our sport is now very well positioned for long-term continued growth and success."

Some of the highlights of televised golf in 2007 and other areas where you can stay tuned to PGA TOUR golf:

CBS

CBS, entering its 57th year of broadcasting golf in 2007, is expanding its current role as the dominant carrier of PGA TOUR golf, increasing its annual event coverage from 16 to 19. It will broadcast the majority of West Coast events, including the Buick Invitational in San Diego and the Nissan Open in the Los Angeles market. CBS will also have a strong run through the spring and summer months of the FedExCup competition, including the Masters, the World Golf Championships-Bridgestone Invitational, the PGA Championship and The Barclays, the first of the four-event PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup.

Jim Nantz

Nick Faldo

"CBS is delighted that it has expanded its relationship with the PGA TOUR," said Sean McManus, President of CBS News and Sports. "We value our relationship with the TOUR very highly and have tremendous confidence that the TOUR is well-positioned for continued growth and success. We're excited to play such a key role in that growth and look forward to our expanded schedule. Continuing as the lead carrier of events was very important to us, because we believe the new season-long FedExCup competition will bring additional fans to the sport and add drama throughout the schedule."

CBS's coverage of PGA TOUR golf is led by on-air host Jim Nantz (in his 22nd year) and new analyst Nick Faldo, a World Golf Hall of Fame member. Gary McCord, David Feherty, Peter Kostis, Ian Baker-Finch, Peter Oosterhuis, Bobby Clampett, Bill Macatee and Verne Lunquist round out the on-air golf team. Lance Barrow is CBS's coordinating producer for golf.

NBC

NBC adds five new PGA TOUR events, doubling its previous lineup. In addition to continuing its weekend telecasts of THE PLAYERS Championship, which moves to early May, NBC becomes the network home of the final three weeks of the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup, beginning with the Deutsche Bank Championship in Boston, the BMW Championship in Chicago and the concluding TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola in Atlanta. NBC has also secured the rights to two World Golf Championships, including the World Golf Championships-Accenture Match Play Championship in late February as a prelude to its traditional five-event March run. Newly added to the March run of events will be the World Golf Championships-CA Championship, to be played at Doral Golf Resort and Spa. NBC has also secured the rights to continue coverage of The Presidents Cup through the 2011 event. NBC also broadcasts the U.S. Open.

Dan Hicks

Johnny Miller

THE PLAYERS will be televised by NBC under a limited commercial format (4 minutes per hour) with commercial messages restricted to the event's three exclusive partners. GOLF CHANNEL will televise six hours of early round coverage each day, followed by later air times on the weekend during the NBC broadcast, from 2-7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Broadcasting (cont)

"We knew going into our discussions with the TOUR that NBC wanted to become an even bigger player in TOUR programming," said Dick Ebersol, Chairman of NBC Universal Sports and Olympics. "We are delighted that we are doubling the number of TOUR events we'll cover. We'll be continuing our coverage of golf's Southern Swing in March and we are particularly excited to extend our relationship with THE PLAYERS Championship, which should have an even greater impact in its new May date. We're also excited about covering the final three weeks of the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup, two World Golf Championships and The Presidents Cup, and the high level of competition and drama those events each embody."

NBC Sports' Emmy Award-winning golf production team is led by on-air hosts Dan Hicks and Johnny Miller, who are in their eighth year together. Hicks and Miller are joined by tower reporters Gary Koch and Bob Murphy, on-course reporters Roger Maltbie and Mark Rolfing and interviewer/essayist Jimmy Roberts. NBC's golf coverage is produced by Tommy Roy.

GOLF CHANNEL

The TOUR has formed a strategic, exclusive cable partnership with GOLF CHANNEL. Under the 15-year agreement, GOLF CHANNEL will provide early-round coverage of all TOUR official money events. In addition, GOLF CHANNEL will provide full coverage of the first three events of the PGA TOUR Regular Season (Mercedes-Benz Championship, Sony Open in Hawaii and the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic), as well as the Fall Series events following the FedExCup. In addition, GOLF CHANNEL will provide six hours of daily early-round coverage for THE PLAYERS Championship in its new May date.

Kelly Tilghman

Nick Faldo

GOLF CHANNEL will provide viewers with prime-time, same-day replays and extensive pre-round and post-round news coverage and analysis.

"These new agreements represent a huge step forward for GOLF CHANNEL and offer fans of PGA TOUR golf a consistent and quality home for a very significant amount of programming," said Brian Roberts, Chairman and CEO of Comcast Corporation. "GOLF CHANNEL has had a great first 10 years, and this dynamic new long-term relationship will take it to the next level in the years to come. We look forward with significant enthusiasm to our expanded PGA TOUR partnership."

"Given GOLF CHANNEL's core golf audience and ever-growing number of new viewers, developing a long-term, strategic partnership with the TOUR makes sense for both parties," said David Manougian, president of GOLF CHANNEL. "Golf fans around the world know us as 'Golf's Home,' and we are looking forward to showcasing the excitement and drama the TOUR can deliver to our viewers week after week. Coupled with our exclusive commitments to the Nationwide Tour and Champions Tour, GOLF CHANNEL will reinforce its strength as the best destination for golf on TV."

GOLF CHANNEL also continues to be the exclusive cable partner of the Champions Tour and the Nationwide Tour.

The broadcast team for GOLF CHANNEL's PGA TOUR tournament telecasts in 2007 will include six-time major championship winner Nick Faldo and the first full-time female play-by-play golf commentator in the history of television, Kelly Tilghman. Other talent will include Peter Oosterhuis, Mark Rolfing, Dottie Pepper, Rocco Mediate, Rich Lerner, Frank Nobilo, Jerry Foltz and Steve Sands.

GOLF CHANNEL (GolfChannel.com), co-founded by Arnold Palmer and a subsidiary of Comcast Corporation (NASDAQ: CMCSA, CMSK), is available in more than 90 million homes worldwide through cable, satellite and wireless companies. It features a programming schedule that includes more live golf coverage than any other network – an extensive blend of golf competition from around the world – as well as news, instruction and original productions.

PGATOUR.com

Golf's most popular Web site, PGATOUR.com, includes exclusive features including real-time leaderboards and scorecards, the 2005 Emmy Award-winning TOURCast (graphical play-by-play and replay), video and audio, ShotLink data analysis and insider information that enhance the best coverage of the sport on the Internet. During the course of the season, player biographical updates are also posted on PGATOUR.com. A new multi-year agreement with Turner Sports New Media also is in place, with many enhancements planned. For more information, see page 8-6.

XM RADIO

XM Satellite Radio began a long-term broadcasting agreement in 2005 for the PGA TOUR Network on XM, permitting fans to follow the tournaments live at home, on the road or in the gallery at TOUR events by buying or renting a portable set. The PGA TOUR Network on XM is available on XM 146. Tune in Monday through Friday mornings from 8 a.m.-noon ET for a daily one-hour magazine show and Thursday through Sunday from noon-6 p.m. ET for live, on-site tournament coverage.

OVERVIEW

Twenty-five years after its conception, the crown jewel of the TPC Network, THE PLAYERS Stadium Course at TPC Sawgrass, has been renovated. The work was designed to enhance THE PLAYERS Championship as one of the world's elite tournaments while elevating the TPC Sawgrass' reputation as a world-class resort. The project included substantial improvements to THE PLAYERS Stadium and Dye's Valley Courses as well as a new clubhouse and upgraded practice facilities.

THE PLAYERS has moved to May from its previous March date to improve the FedExCup schedule's overall spacing of marquee tournaments.

"We're not only taking THE PLAYERS Championship to a higher level all around, but the benefit to golfers everywhere is going to be duplicated for resort guests throughout the year," said David Pillsbury, President of PGA TOUR Golf Course Properties. "That goes beyond the golf course, to the caddie program, to the clubhouse, to the TOUR Academy, to the hospitality at the Sawgrass Marriott and other areas. Everything drafts off THE PLAYERS. Our vision is to offer one of the most unique, special and memorable golf experiences in the world."

THE PLAYERS CHAMPIONSHIP

Beginning this year, THE PLAYERS' date will be the second week in May. The new date will elevate the focus on the event and improve the schedule's overall spacing of those events that bring all the world's best players together. THE PLAYERS will be televised by NBC under a limited-commercial format (4 minutes per hour) with messages restricted to three exclusive partners, UBS, PricewaterhouseCoopers and JELD-WEN. Air times will include six hours of early-round coverage each day on GOLF CHANNEL, followed by new later air times on the weekend during the NBC broadcast, which will run from 2-7 p.m. each day and in high definition for the first time.

Also, an improved on-site fan experience will include a continuous, elevated walkway along holes 16, 17 and 18 instead of the previous path below, providing more fans with better sight lines; an enhanced tournament arrival corridor with a Walk of Fame, interactive exhibits and merchandise; a tented tournament village; fan hospitality at Nos. 5, 7, 9, 10 and 15; and additional kiosks, video screens and LED scoreboards.

THE PLAYERS®

A new concept being pioneered by PGA TOUR Experiences will be tested this year at THE PLAYERS. Area hotel rooms and private homes have been secured, and a range of packages – including rounds of golf in the area and other activities – are available that offer a variety of PLAYERS credentials and hospitality opportunities. Go to PGATOUR.com/experiences or call (800) 766-7939 for more information.

"In partnership with NBC and our sponsors, we will now be able to offer the golf fan an absolutely premium experience," PGA TOUR Commissioner Tim Finchem said. "The limited commercial inventory, coupled with a competition that traditionally features the year's strongest field tackling an extremely challenging golf course, will ensure that THE PLAYERS becomes a can't-miss viewing experience for the fan."

THE PLAYERS STADIUM COURSE

The changes to the home course of THE PLAYERS ensure firm and fast conditions for the best players in the world as well as resort guests. New grasses on the fairways and greens and a state-of-the-art drainage system create premium conditions that will be present year-round. There will be no ryegrass overseeding during the winter months. In addition, minor competitive enhancements as well as extensive landscaping improvements will make our world-class golf course even better.

Input on alterations was received from architect Pete Dye; current and past champions; local players; design, rules, agronomic and executive staff; broadcast partners; and a cross-section of golf-industry experts. Approximately 30 players were interviewed for the project.

Renovations include:

- On the fairways, approximately 24,000 tons of topsoil were skimmed off the top, replaced with fresh sand (16 football fields' worth) and extensive irrigation was added.
- The greens were rebuilt (using MiniVerde bermudagrass) to USGA standards, and a SubAir subsurface mechanical drainage system was installed, vacuuming water in wet conditions and injecting air, if necessary.
- Reduction of green slopes on Nos. 4, 13, 15, and 17 and expansion of the greens to original design size on Nos. 4, 9, 17, and 18.
- Extension of tees approximately 15-25 yards on Nos. 1, 8, 11, 14, 16, and 18, enabling tournament officials the flexibility of lengthening the course by approximately 100 yards for the tournament, to just over 7,100 total yards.
- Renovation of greenside bunkers on Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 15; creation of three fairway bunkers on No. 7.
- Replacement of all bulkheads throughout, including the signature 17th island green.
- Relocation of cart path on Nos. 1, 2, 6, 7, 9, 12, 16, 17 and 18.
- Additional spectator seating at Nos. 17 and 18.
- Planting of large live oaks and other "impact" trees in key locations and 100 large trees removed and later replanted throughout the property. Addition of lush landscaping at green-to-tee transitions, massing of ornamental grasses intermixed with pines, live oaks and palms and strategic tree plantings to screen poor views.
- Dye's Valley Course underwent major renovations that were completed in Spring 2006. Nearly $1 million of improvements included reconstruction of bunkers and extensive landscaping.
- Practice Facilities: The range length was increased to 340 yards, a new short-game area was created, and a new TOUR Golf Academy, with two covered hitting bays, was added on the far right side of the teeing area.

STRUCTURES

Still under construction in early 2007 is the new 77,000-square foot, Mediterranean Revival-style clubhouse, which is scheduled to be complete in time for the tournament in May. The old clubhouse was torn down after the 2006 PLAYERS and a new facility built in 13 months on the same site. The new clubhouse will accommodate at least twice as many special events, house historical artifacts about the PGA TOUR and THE PLAYERS and be fronted by an 11,000 square-foot lawn where fans can gather. There will be premium views of the ninth and 18th holes and a view down the first fairway.

The adjacent Sawgrass Marriott Resort and Spa also underwent a multi-million-dollar refurbishment in late 2006/early 2007. A new ownership group, Ireland-based Redquartz Boundary, Ltd., and its investment partners purchased the facility over the summer with plans to make it a world-class resort destination. A plan to build new condominiums in a wooded area left of the 13th green and 14th tee is in the works.

A Brief History of the PGA TOUR

It is not easy to pinpoint the exact beginning of the PGA TOUR. Certainly, professionals have competed against each other from the earliest days of the game in the United States.

In 1895, 10 professional golfers and one amateur played in the first U.S. Open in Newport, RI. Shortly thereafter, tournaments began to pop up across the country, including the Western Open in 1899. But this was not "tour" golf. The events lacked continuity.

Interest in the game, however, continued to grow. American professionals were rapidly improving. When John McDermott became the first American-born player to win the U.S. Open in 1911, interest in the game blossomed. That interest became enthusiasm in 1913 when Englishmen Harry Vardon and Ted Ray came to the United States to play an exhibition tour and compete in the U.S. Open. When 20-year-old amateur Francis Ouimet defeated the pair in a playoff for the Open at Brookline, MA, golf became front-page news and a game for everyone.

In the early 1920s, a series of tournaments was held on the West Coast, in Texas and Florida. These events were held in the winter, and the golfers played their way east and up to Pinehurst, NC, in the spring. By the middle of the decade, the tour was doing relatively well—offering $77,000 in total prize money.

The first "playing pros" organization was formed in 1932. Two years earlier, Bob Harlow had been named manager of the PGA Tournament Bureau. The tour became more structured following World War II and exploded in the late 1950s and early '60s. When Arnold Palmer, televised golf and President Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived on the scene in the late 1950s, the eyes of the world were on golf. This exposure inspired millions to try the game.

Most golf historians trace the "formal" beginning of the PGA TOUR to late 1968, when the "Tournament Players Division" split from the PGA of America and hired Joseph C. Dey as its first Commissioner. That organization became the modern-day PGA TOUR. Dey served from early 1969 through February 28, 1974, and was succeeded by Deane R. Beman on March 1, 1974.

During Beman's administration, the value of tournament purses escalated at an unprecedented rate. PGA TOUR assets grew from $730,000 in 1974 to more than $200 million, and total revenues increased from $3.9 million to $229 million in 1993.

Timothy W. Finchem, previously the TOUR's Deputy Commissioner and Chief Operating Officer, became the TOUR's third Commissioner on June 1, 1994. In 1995, Finchem undertook a restructuring program designed to strengthen the PGA TOUR's core business, which is its competitions, to expand the TOUR's international scope and prepare it to enter the 21st century. In 1996, Finchem helped spearhead formation of the International Federation of PGA Tours, as golf's five world-governing bodies laid the groundwork for taking competition into the next millennium. In 1997, the Federation announced the World Golf Championships, which made their debut in 1999 with three events—today called the Accenture Match Play Championship, Bridgestone Invitational and CA Championship. The World Cup joined this group in 2000.

Since 1938, PGA TOUR events have donated more than $1 billion to charity, a milestone reached late in the 2005 season.

The competitive scope of the PGA TOUR also is much broader today. The Champions Tour, entering its 27th season, has been labeled the most successful senior sports venture in history. Fans and television viewers are able to get closer to the game on this Tour, both on site and with instructional platforms. The Charles Schwab Cup will be competed for the seventh time in 2007. The Nationwide Tour, under that sponsorship umbrella for the fifth year, has been recognized as a virtual extension of the PGA TOUR with its excellent level of play that saw more than 60 percent of its alumni making up the 2007 PGA TOUR. Among the former players on this Tour who have gone on to star on the PGA TOUR are David Duval, Tom Lehman, Jeff Maggert, Stuart Appleby, Stewart Cink, David Toms, 2003 U.S. Open winner Jim Furyk and 2003 PGA Champion Shaun Micheel. Through 2006, approximately 200 PGA TOUR events have been won by former Nationwide Tour players.

When the PGA TOUR opened the TPC Sawgrass in 1980, it introduced the era of stadium golf and record-breaking attendance. Owned and/or operated by the TOUR, the TPC Network courses are the only major-league sports venues owned by the players themselves. Of note for 2007 is the reworked PLAYERS Stadium Course at the TPC Sawgrass, with refurbished fairways and rebuilt greens and a new, enlarged clubhouse. THE PLAYERS Championship has also been rescheduled for early May beginning in 2007.

About the Commissioner

Timothy W. Finchem
Commissioner

Timothy W. Finchem, 59, is the third Commissioner of the PGA TOUR. Finchem succeeded Deane R. Beman as Commissioner on June 1, 1994. Beman had served for 20 years, replacing the late Joseph C. Dey, who had been the TOUR's Commissioner in its first five years, 1969-74.

Prior to becoming Commissioner, Finchem was Deputy Commissioner and Chief Operating Officer of the TOUR under Beman since 1989 and joined the TOUR staff as Vice President of Business Affairs in 1987.

As Commissioner, Finchem has greatly expanded the earnings opportunities for PGA TOUR players domestically and internationally. He also has taken leadership roles in the formation of the International Federation of PGA Tours and the World Golf Foundation, Inc.

His personal dedication to the success of the World Golf Foundation's First Tee initiative has helped that program reach over 675,000 young people through golf, ensuring that it positively impacts developing the game for years to come.

"Our primary purpose as a membership organization is to create outstanding playing and earnings opportunities for our players," Finchem says, "and we are proud of what our tournaments do for charity (more than $1.1 billion raised) and the active role we have been able to take as an organization in growing the game for future generations."

Born in Ottawa, IL, on April 19, 1947, Finchem graduated from Princess Anne High School in Virginia Beach, VA. He attended the University of Richmond on a debate scholarship, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1969. He graduated from the University of Virginia Law School in 1973. After practicing law in Virginia Beach for three years, Finchem served in the White House as Deputy Advisor to the President in the Office of Economic Affairs in 1978 and 1979. In the early 1980s, Finchem co-founded the National Marketing and Strategies Group in Washington, D.C.

Finchem is the recipient of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America's Old Tom Morris Award for 2001 and the PGA of America's Distinguished Service Award for 2002. He was awarded the Dick Schaap Lifetime Achievement in Sports in 2005.

Married to the former Holly Bachand, Finchem is a father of four. The Finchems live in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL.

Jim Furyk won twice, at the Wachovia Championship and Canadian Open, and placed second on the 2006 money list. Furyk moved to No. 2 in the Official World Golf Ranking for the first time in his career and recorded 11 top-5s, the top mark on TOUR in 2006.

Collected more than $1 million in season earnings for the first time in his career…Claimed first TOUR victory one day shy of 33rd birthday at the Zurich Classic of New Orleans with a 54-foot chip-in par on 72nd hole. Opened 70-70 to make the cut on the number, and grabbed 54-hole lead with an 8-under-par 64 on a blustery Saturday. In final round, posted 65 that included a 12-foot bogey putt on No. 17 and the chip-in par on No. 18 after a difficult bunker shot behind green left him lying three in the green-side rough. The 269 total (19-under par) bested Charles Howell III and Fred Funk by one stroke. Earned a career-best $1,080,000 after entering the week with just two made cuts in nine starts and $22,278 in earnings. Jumped to career-high No. 103 in Official World Golf Ranking in becoming the 15th player to earn first TOUR victory in New Orleans…Shared third-round lead with Davis Love III at the Chrysler Classic of Greensboro. PERSONAL:

Was age 5 when his grandfather taught him how to play golf…Doesn't like to know who he will be paired with, saying, "I looked up to a lot of these guys who I'm now playing with. So, I didn't want to have to go to sleep thinking about it. And so that's kind of been my routine. I never want to know who I'm playing with. Just tell me the time. In 2002, at the Byron Nelson I played with Ernie Els in the final round, it worked good, because I watched Ernie play a lot of golf on TV. So we just kind of kept that routine going. I just never look and find out on the first tee."

BEST 2006 PGA TOUR FINISHES:

T15—Zurich Classic of New Orleans.

2006 SEASON:

Limited to 15 events due to season-ending right elbow surgery on August 16 to repair a torn extensor carpi radialis brevis (muscle that runs from the wrist to the elbow). The injury had been bothering him since January and he played his final event of the season at the Booz Allen Classic, where he missed the cut. Hopes to be able to return for the 2007 Bob Hope Chrysler Classic. Will be granted Major Medical Extension for 2007. Coupled with 2006 winnings of $175,727, has 13 events to earn $485,171, equaling the No. 125 from 2006. If he is successful, he will play out of the Major Medical Extension category for the remainder of the 2007 season...Best finish was T15 at the Zurich Classic of New Orleans.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

2005: Finished T2 at the FBR Open in Phoenix, thanks to a pair of 65s on the weekend. Fifth runner-up since his last victory at the 2001 BellSouth Classic. 2004: Failed to extend streak of $1-million seasons to four as money list position fell below No. 100 for the first time since 1999…Part of a four-man playoff after closing with 1-under 71 at the Reno-Tahoe Open, one of only 11 players to post an under-par score on Sunday. Rookie Vaughn Taylor claimed his first PGA TOUR title when he rolled in an 11-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole to win the playoff. 2003: After eight top-25s in first 22 events, broke through in 23rd start, a T10 in adopted hometown at the Reno-Tahoe Open...Lost in sudden-death playoff to Stuart Appleby at the Las Vegas Invitational. Came from three strokes back on final day to force the playoff with a 6-under-66. The 328 (31-under-par) total broke the tournament total of 329 by D.A. Weibring (1991), Andrew Magee (1991) and Bob Estes (2001). 2002: Made 23 cuts in 28 starts and earned a career-best $1,896,714...Earned $1,073,624 of his season earnings during the West Coast Swing...Opened with T5 at Mercedes Championships. Finished second at the Nissan Open. The next week was runner-up to fellow Sacramento, CA native Kevin Sutherland in the World Golf Championships-Accenture Match Play Championship. 2001: Collected his third PGA TOUR victory and his second title in Atlanta...Opening rounds of 68-67 produced a share of lead at BellSouth Classic, with 36-hole final on Sunday. Took outright lead with third-round 72, then closed with 73 for three-stroke victory over Mike Weir. Victory came in face of high winds on Sunday...Posted T3 at Fed Ex St. Jude Classic...Finished in the top-30 for the first time since 1997 and secured a spot in THE TOUR Championship, where he finished 18th...Teamed with Brad Faxon to win the Franklin Templeton Shootout for the second consecutive season. 2000: Compiled season earnings of $495,975, good for 97th on official money list...Two top-10 finishes came in final stretch of season, effectively securing full playing privileges...In final official money appearance of year, finished T5 at Invensys Classic of Las Vegas...Teamed with Brad Faxon to win the Franklin Templeton Shootout at the new Great White Course at Doral in November. 1999: Fell out of the top 100 in season earnings for first time in four years with 101st-place finish. Lone top-10 came at Air Canada Championship where high finish was sparked by Northview G&CC course-record 10-under-par 61 in the final round. Began the day tied for 47th and, starting on the back nine, played his first nine holes in 5-under-par 30, then birdied five consecutive holes on the front-nine for a 5-under-par 31. The 61 was two strokes better than his previous best. 1998: Made 14 of 28 cuts, including three top-10s on way to 69th-place ranking on money list. 1997: Captured his second PGA TOUR title, winning the BellSouth Classic. Opened 70-69 at TPC at Sugarloaf, then fired 66 for share of lead with David Duval. Final-round 69 secured three-stroke victory over Duval and Lee Janzen. Victory came after he pulled hamstring racing Dicky Pride during second-round rain delay. Injury forced him to keep swing shorter, and he credited Pride (at least in part) for the win...In pairing of long putters, teamed with Bruce Lietzke to capture unofficial money title Franklin Templeton Shark Shootout. 1996: Became third consecutive first-time winner following Tim Herron (Honda Classic) and Paul Goydos (Bay Hill Invitational) with victory at Freeport-McDermott Classic. PERSONAL:

After college, gave up golf for four years to work with his father in the family clothing business. During that period, athletic focus was on flag football, softball, tennis and racquetball. Return to golf was sparked by 1991 visit to Raley's Senior Gold Rush, the Champions Tour event at Rancho Murieta, CA. After watching event, went home and built long putter in garage. Nearly won U.S. Mid-Amateur with homemade model later that year. Used more sophisticated version to win his three TOUR titles…In August 1999, made hole-in-one during first round of CVS Charity Classic immediately following ace by Lee Janzen on 17th hole at Rhode Island CC.

Total of 31 birdies was one short of the TOUR record for a 72-hole event by Mark Calcavecchia (2001 Phoenix) and Paul Gow (2001 B.C. Open)…Captured third career major championship at the Masters with rounds of 70-72-70-69--281. Held a share of the 54-hole lead with England's Kenneth Ferrie at 2-over. In final round, held a two-stroke lead after No. 15, but fell into a three-way tie for second, behind winner Geoff Ogilvy, with Jim Furyk and Colin Montgomerie, after a bogey on No. 16 and a double bogey on the 18th…Was 0-4-1 in sixth Ryder Cup appearance for the U.S.

Moved to No. 1 on the TOUR money list for the first time since July 11, 2004...Finished second for the 18th time in his career after losing by a stroke to Tiger Woods at the Ford Championship at Doral. PERSONAL:

Born the day after a golf course opened next door (Real Golf Club de San Sebastian) where grandfather was greenskeeper. Mother and father also worked there. When grandfather died, Jose's father, Gaspar, took his place as greenskeeper. Father received a club to cut down, and Jose, at age 2, used it to hit balls. Mother would take him out on golf course late in the afternoon starting at age 6... Sometimes called "Chemma" —a short way to say Jose Maria in Spanish.

PERSONAL:
Uses a pink shaft in his driver…Father started him in golf…Attended the same high school (Milton, FL) and played on the high school golf team with current PGA TOUR player Heath Slocum and Nationwide Tour player Boo Weekley...Self-taught player who learned the game by hitting wiffle balls around his house. "The house was probably an acre and a half yard with big trees, downtown Bagdad. The house is sitting here, and I drew in the dirt driveway. I'd draw a big circle, and that would be my hole, a 5-foot circle. I'd go around it to the left and then I'd go around it to the right. So I learned to cut it. If you know about wiffle balls or plastic balls, it's hard to cut. Then I learned to hook it the other way, hit it high over limbs, hit it low under limbs. I'd say non-stop every day from 6 to 12 years old. Instead of playing with trucks out in the yard, I'd play with a ball and a club."

Playing in his first professional tournament in the United States, recorded rounds of 67-68-64-69 to finish the Virginia Beach Open at a tournament-record 20-under 268, five shots clear of his nearest challenger. His winning total shattered the previous 72-hole tournament record by five shots, and his five-stroke winning margin equaled Ryuji Imada's record set in 2000. Returned to action at the Shell Houston Open in late April. Will receive a Non-Exempt, Major Medical Extension for 2007. Coupled with 2006 winnings of $52,711, has two events to earn $608,187, equaling No. 125 from 2006. If he is successful, he will play out of the Major Medical Extension category for the remainder of the 2007 season. "It looked like a hole-in-one and sounded like a hole-in-one. But I still wasn't sure it was one," Magee said. Byrum was squatting down looking over a putt when the ball deflected off his putter and rolled about 8 feet directly into the hole for a rare double-eagle ace. His work with his Swedish coach, Annchristine Lundstrom, has helped enormously and he credits her for the hints she has given him to fully start taking personal leadership. AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am

NOTES

Only two champions since the rotation at the AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am brought in Poppy Hills Golf Club have been able to post all four rounds in the 60s — Mark O'Meara (1997) and Vijay Singh (2004). Arron Oberholser, Mike Weir and Rory Sabbatini each had three rounds in the 60s in 2006.

In danger of becoming the fifth consecutive defending champion at AT&T to miss the cut, Phil Mickelson posted a 5-under-par 67 in the third round at Pebble Beach Golf Links to safely finish inside the 54-hole cut line in 2006. During one stretch, Mickelson posted six birdies in seven holes (Nos. 4-10). The last four defending champions at the AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am had missed the cut — Vijay Singh in 2005, Davis Love III in 2002 and 2004 and Matt Gogel in 2003. The last player to win and make the cut the following year prior to Mickelson was Tiger Woods, the 2000 champion. Woods finished T13 the year he was defending his title. Mickelson was unable to post his fifth career top-10 at the AT&T event as he finished T38 in 2006 after a final-round 77.

Nissan Open

NOTES

Tiger Woods withdrew from the 2006 Nissan Open prior to the start of the third round due to the flu. Woods had been ill all week and playing in the cold and rain on Friday afternoon did not help the cause. It was the third time in his career that he had withdrawn from an event. Woods received last place unofficial money ($8,925) for making the cut. The last time he withdrew from an event was the 1998 AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am (cut is made after 54 holes at this event) when he did not participate in the final round, which was played six months later. The tournament was originally stopped after two rounds in February due to inclement weather and then finished in August as a 54-hole tournament. The first time came as an amateur during the 1995 U.S. Open at Shinnecock Hills GC when he played three holes of the second round but withdrew after injuring his wrist on the course.

Tiger Woods has made 11 starts at the Nissan Open without a victory. It's the most starts at any tournament without a victory for him. The next closest is the Barclays Classic, which he has played four times without a win.

Fred Couples played in his 25th consecutive Nissan Open last year (1982-2006). The two-time winner (1990, 1992) of the tournament recorded his 13th top-10 finish, including seven top-5s. Along with his two victories, Couples has finished second three times – 1993, '94, and '96, fourth in 2006 and T5 in 2000.

Craig Barlow topped his career-best TOUR finish with a solo third in 2006. He had finished T3 twice before – 1999 Buick Challenge and the 2002 Air Canada Championship. Barlow also posted back-to-back top-10s for the first time in his nine-year career after a T5 the prior week at the AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am.

Brian Gay had the 2006 season's first double eagle in the second round, recording a 2 on the par-5 first hole. Gay hit a driver, 5-iron from 194 yards. Trevor Immelman had the season's third ace when he holed a 7-iron from 164 yards on the 16th hole in the same round. The last time a double eagle and an ace were recorded in the same day on TOUR occurred during the first round of the 2004 British Open. Gary Evans had the double eagle and Ernie Els had the ace.

NOTES

This tournament transitions into the World Golf Championships-Accenture Match Play Championship in 2007.

The final-round 63 in 2006 by Kirk Triplett was the lowest final round by a winner in Tucson since Johnny Miller's 61 in 1975. It also matched his best final-round total, which he posted, during the final round of his previous win, the 2003 Reno-Tahoe Open.

Kirk Triplett's final 36-hole total of 64-63—127 was one off the tournament record of 126 set by Johnny Palmer in 1948 and broke the course final 36-hole record of 128 set by Johnny Miller in 1975.*

The six-stroke come-from-behind victory in 2006 by Kirk Triplett matched the tournament record set by Gene Littler in 1959.

The 54-hole total of 19-under 197 by Duffy Waldorf was the lowest 54-hole total at the Chrysler Classic of Tucson since David Duval set the tournament record at 20-under 196 on his way to victory in 1998. Waldorf finished the tournament with a final-round even-par 72, which left him tied for third, three strokes behind winner Kirk Triplett.

Past champions Heath Slocum (2004) and Gabriel Hjertstedt (1999) both finished inside the top-10 in the 2006 Chrysler Classic of Tucson at T3 and T9, respectively. For Slocum it was his third top-10 finish in five Tucson starts, while Hjertstedt's top-10 was his first on TOUR since a T4 at the 2001 Chrysler Classic of Greensboro.

Ford Championship at Doral

NOTES

The Doral event will transition into a World Golf Championships and FedExCup Season event in 2007. The World Golf Championships-CA Championship will move to March 19-25 as the second World Golf Championships event of the season. The date marks the final event of four consecutive Florida tournaments and will be played two weeks before the Masters.

The Ford Championship at Doral became the third tournament on the 2006 PGA TOUR schedule to be successfully defended. Stuart Appleby defended his title at the Mercedes Championships and Tiger Woods successfully defended his title at the Buick Invitational. Others to defend in 2006: Phil Mickelson-BellSouth Classic, Tiger Woods-British Open.

Last year when Tiger Woods defended his title at the Ford Championship at Doral, he became the ninth player in tournament history to win the tournament multiple times (2005-06), but only the second player to win in back-to-back fashion, joining Raymond Floyd (1980-81).

Tiger Woods continues to dominate the famed Blue Monster course at Doral. Woods is 44-under par for his last two starts, both wins. His scoring average for the past eight rounds is 66.5. Woods shot rounds of 65-70-63-66—264 (-24) to win in 2005 and carded rounds of 64-67-68-69—268 (-20) to win last year.

With Tiger Woods*' victory, every winner of the Ford Championship at Doral since 1990, except* Steve Elkington in 1997 and 1999, has had ties to the state of Florida at the time of his victory. Prior to Elkington, 1989 winner Bill Glasson was the last tournament champion at Doral who did not have a connection to Florida (birthplace, resident).

Who is the top active leader in victories in the state of Florida through the 2006 season: Tiger Woods (nine), followed by John Huston (five) and Steve Elkington, Greg Norman and Fred Couples (four each).

Tournament Record:
264, Tiger Woods, 2005
Current Course Record:

Arnold Palmer Invitational
presented by MasterCard

NOTES

The name of the tournament was changed for the 2007 event to honor its longtime host, World Golf Hall of Famer Arnold Palmer. Beginning this year, the event will be called the Arnold Palmer Invitational presented by MasterCard.

Since this tournament began in 1966 as the Florida Citrus Open, only two non-Americans have managed to win—Ernie Els of South Africa in 1998 and Australian Rod Pampling last year.

In the 28 years at Bay Hill Club and Lodge only four players have managed to string together four rounds in the 60s in a single event. Andy Bean was the first to accomplish the feat when he won the 1981 tournament. He was followed by 1984 runner-up George Burns, 1987 winner Payne Stewart and 1987 runner-up David Frost.

Proceeds from the Arnold Palmer Invitational benefit the Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children and Women. This Orlando-based high-tech, high-touch facility has been serving patients since 1989 by providing quality health care.

In the history of the Arnold Palmer Invitational, only four players have won the event in their 40s. They include Ben Crenshaw (41), Arnold Palmer in 1971 (41), Julius Boros in 1967 (47) and Kenny Perry in 2005 (44).

Only five golfers have earned their first PGA TOUR title at the Arnold Palmer Invitational—Ken Still (1969), Bob Byman (1979), Mike Nicolette (1983), Loren Roberts (1994) and Paul Goydos (1996).

In the past 37 years, there has been only one wire-to-wire winner of the Arnold Palmer Invitational. In 1992, Fred Couples held the lead by himself after each round of the PGA TOUR event, shooting 67-69-63-70—269 to defeat Gene Sauers by nine strokes.

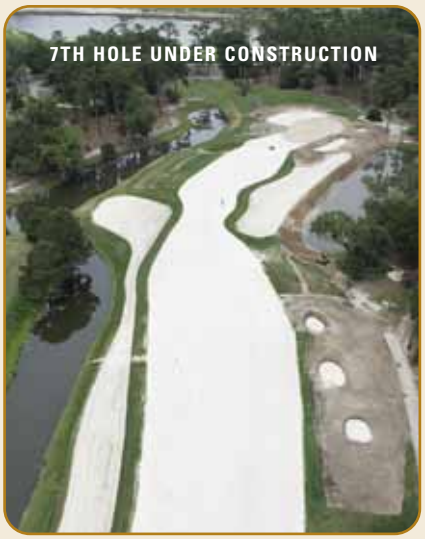
THE PLAYERS Championship

NOTES

THE PLAYERS Championship moves to early May on the schedule in 2007, the week after the Wachovia Championship and the week before the BellSouth Classic. The May 7-13 date is the first time the tournament has been moved from a late March date since the first three years the tournament was played. The tournament debuted at Atlanta Country Club in early September 1974, then was played in late August 1975 at Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, TX, and late February 1976 at Inverrary G&CC in Lauderhill, FL.



7TH HOLE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

THE PLAYERS Stadium Course was refurbished last year to create "firm and fast" conditions for the 2007 PLAYERS. All fairways were stripped and had layers of sand added to help with drainage. The greens were rebuilt, with sub-air systems underneath to assist with hydration and water removal in wet conditions. In addition, a new practice facility was constructed. The course reopened for play in late 2006. The original clubhouse, built in 1980, was torn down, and a new, larger structure was built.

Stewart Cink (Round 1), Patrick Sheehan (Round 1) and Craig Parry (Round 2) all posted two eagles in a single round at the 2006 PLAYERS Championship.*

Tournament Record:
264, Greg Norman, 1994
Current Course Record:
63, Fred Couples, 1992, Greg Norman, 1994

NOTES

The BellSouth Classic, played the week before the Masters since 1999, moves to May 14-20 in 2007, the week after THE PLAYERS Championship.

Phil Mickelson's 9-under-par 63 matched the TPC Sugarloaf course record and was the lowest first-round score at the BellSouth Classic since Duffy Waldorf shot 63 in 1999. Tiger Woods had his 63 in the third round of the 1998 event and Ben Crane shot 63 in the final round of 2003. Mickelson shares the course record at four courses on the PGA TOUR, three of them coming at TPCs – TPC Scottsdale (60 in 2005), Spyglass Hill (62 in 2005), TPC River Highlands (61 in 2001) and TPC Sugarloaf.*

In 2006, Phil Mickelson became the first three-time winner of the BellSouth Classic (2000, 2005) in his ninth appearance. He became the BellSouth Classic's first wire-to-wire winner since Larry Nelson in 1988. In nine career starts, Mickelson has three wins and seven top-10s, and leads the all-time tournament money list with $2,987,416.

Phil Mickelson's 13-shot victory over Zach Johnson and Jose Maria Olazabal in 2006 tied for the seventh-largest margin in PGA TOUR history and was the largest since Tiger Woods won the 2000 U.S. Open by 15 strokes over Miguel Angel Jimenez and Ernie Els.*

In 2006, Phil Mickelson set the BellSouth Classic 72-hole record with a 28-under-par 260, breaking the 265 total set by Andy Bean (1979) and Dave Barr (1987) at Atlanta Country Club. Mickelson also broke David Duval's 1999 72-hole record 270 total at TPC Sugarloaf. The 28-under-par total matched John Huston (1998 United Airlines Hawaiian Open) for a 72-hole PGA TOUR event held on a par-72 golf course.

Masters Tournament

NOTES

The winner of the Masters Tournament has come out of the final pairing each of the last 16 years.

Phil Mickelson was 13-under par on the par-5 holes in 2006, including birdies all four days on Nos. 8 and 15. Raymond Floyd is the only champion who played the par 5s better, going 14-under in 1976. Four other Masters champions played the par 5s in 13-under (Gene Sarazen in 1935, Ralph Guldahl in 1939, Jimmy Demaret in 1950 and Tiger Woods in 1997).*

Phil Mickelson joined a short list of players who have won a major championship in three consecutive years since 1934 when the Masters was created: Mickelson (2004-2006), Tiger Woods (1999-2002), Tom Watson (1980-1983), Jack Nicklaus (1970-1973 and 1965-1967), Arnold Palmer (1960-1962), Peter Thomson (1954-1956) and Ralph Guldahn (1937-39).*

Phil Mickelson became the fifth player since 1934 to win the tournament before the Masters and then go on to win at Augusta. NOTES

With his victory at the 2006 U.S. Open, Geoff Ogilvy became the second Australian to win the U.S. Open, joining David Graham (1981). He also became the first Aussie to win a major championship since Steve Elkington at the 1995 PGA Championship.

At no point during the 2006 U.S. Open was the eventual champion Geoff Ogilvy under par.

Geoff Ogilvy won the 2006 U.S. Open in his third start in the championship (missed cut in 2003, T28 in 2005), and 10th major championship start overall. It also gave him three top-10s in his last four major starts.

The 2006 U.S. Open marked just the third time in the last 10 years (1997-2006) where the winner did not come from the final group. The other two winners in this period not to be in the last pairing were Michael Campbell (2005) and Lee Janzen (1998).

Tiger Woods*' streak of 39 consecutive made cuts (including two as an amateur) at major championships came to an end in 2006. It began as an amateur with a T82 at the 1996 U.S. Open. His U.S. Open consecutive-cut streak ended at 10. For comparison with Woods,* Jack Nicklaus*' longest career streak of made cuts at majors was also 39 – beginning with the 1969 Masters and ending with the 1978 PGA Championship.*

Geoff Ogilvy*'s 5-over-par winning total in 2006 was the highest at the U.S. Open since 1974 when* Hale Irwin won at 7-over-par at Winged Foot and the seventh time the winning total had been over par since the USGA went to 18 holes over four consecutive days in 1965. The 285 total was the highest since a 285 by Andy North in 1978.

NOTES

The Tuesday finish in 2006 marked the first time a PGA TOUR tournament was completed past Monday since the 1980 Joe Garagiola Tucson Open. It was the seventh straight year that the Booz Allen Classic faced a weather-related delay of play. Play resumed at 8:15 a.m. Tuesday morning and ended at 8:39 a.m. Six players completed their final rounds on Tuesday morning.

Ben Curtis set the tournament 36-hole (15-under 127), and 54-hole (19-under 194) records during the 2006 tournament.*

2006 champion Ben Curtis was the second player to win in wire-to-wire fashion, following Greg Norman in 1984. Rich Beem held the first- and second-round leads and shared the third-round lead during his 1999 victory.

RICH BEEM

The five-stroke victory by Ben Curtis in 2006 was the largest at the tournament since Tom Byrum won by five in 1989.

BMW Championship

NOTES

Under a new partnership with BMW, the BMW Championship will be the third PGA TOUR Playoffs event for the 2007 FedExCup, the season-long competition that will be the centerpiece of the TOUR season. The four-tournament conclusion begins in late August and culminates with THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola. The BMW Championship will have a field of 70 players (with no cut) and is scheduled for Sept. 6-9, 2007, preceded by tournaments in New York at The Barclays (144 players) and in Boston at the Deutsche Bank Championship (120 players), followed in Atlanta by the season-ending TOUR Championship (30 players). Cog Hill Golf and Country Club will be the tournament site in 2007, 2009 and 2011, with Bellerive Country Club in St. Louis in 2008, Crooked Stick Golf Club in Indianapolis in 2010 and a yet to be determined location in 2012.

With his two-stroke victory over Tiger Woods and Mathew Goggin at the 2006 Cialis Western Open, Trevor Immelman earned his first PGA TOUR victory in his 57th career professional start at the age of 26 years, 6 months, and 23 days. It was his first career start at the event and he became the youngest winner of the tournament since Woods won in 1999 at age 23.

2006 champion Trevor Immelman and runner-up Mathew Goggin became just the fifth and sixth players, respectively, to post four rounds in the 60s since the Cialis Western Open moved to Cog Hill G&CC in 1991.

With his T2 result at the 2006 Cialis Western Open, Mathew Goggin posted his best career finish and earned an exemption into the British Open as the highest finisher among the top-10 not previously exempt.

British Open

THE OPEN Carnoustie 2007

NOTES

Tiger Woods in 2006 became the first player to win consecutive British Opens since Tom Watson (1982-83). Woods goes to Carnoustie, Scotland, in 2007 to try and become the first player since Australia's Peter Thomson (1954-56) to win three consecutive British Opens.*

Tiger Woods became the 19th player in British Open history to win the tournament three times. Harry Vardon captured the Claret Jug a record six times, while James Braid, J.H. Taylor, Peter Thomson and Tom Watson won five each. A win in 2007 would make him one of 11 players to win the British Open at least four times.*

With his 2006 victory, Tiger Woods became the all-time leading money winner at the British Open with $4,215,704. It was the fourth tournament where his earnings topped the $4-million mark.

Tiger Woods has made the cut in all 12 career British Open starts, his longest current streak in the majors. Four consecutive top-10s at the British Open is the longest current streak.*

Tiger Woods' 72-hole total of 18-under 270 in 2006 was his British Open record (19-under 269, 2000 British Open, St. Andrews).*

Tiger Woods led the tournament in Driving Accuracy, hitting 48 of 56 fairways (85.71 percent) and tied for second in Greens in Regulation hitting 58 of 72 greens (80.56%). Woods used his driver once in the tournament, in the first round.*

At the 2006 British Open, Tiger Woods opened with two rounds in the 60s (67-65) for the sixth time in 45 major starts. He has won each time – at the 2000 U.S. Open, British Open and PGA Championship, 2002 U.S. Open, 2005 British Open and 2006 British Open. He would do so again at the PGA in August '06.

Tiger Woods joined Phil Mickelson as the only two players to win a major in each of the last two seasons. Mickelson has won a major three consecutive years.*

U.S. Bank Championship in Milwaukee

NOTES

Corey Pavin birdied his first six holes (Nos. 1-6) of his 2006 first round en route to a PGA TOUR front-nine record total of 26. The 8-under-par total bested the 27 by four players – Mike Souchak (1955 Texas Open), Andy North (1975 B.C. Open), Billy Mayfair (2001 Buick Open) and Robert Gamez (2004 Bob Hope Chrysler Classic). The 26 also topped the previous low total on the front nine at Brown Deer Park Golf Course, 28s by J.P. Hayes in the third round in 2002 and Loren Roberts in the first round in 1998.

In the first round in 2006, Corey Pavin tied the course record of 61 set by Ken Green (third round, 1988) and later matched by Robert Gamez (first round, 1991) and Steve Lowery (final round, 1999). The 9-under-par 61 for Pavin was a career low, besting his previous low of 62 in the third round of the 1990 H-E-B Texas Open and the first round of the 2004 Buick Championship. The 61 and both rounds of 62 were posted on par-70 golf courses.

Corey Pavin's 61-64—125 (15-under) start matched three others for the lowest first 36-hole total in PGA TOUR history. The previous U.S. Bank Championship in Milwaukee record was set by Ben Crane in 2005 at 127 (62-65).*

Corey Pavin tied the 72-hole total for the U.S. Bank Championship in Milwaukee of 260 (20-under par), held by Loren Roberts (2000) and Ben Crane (2005). The 260 also matched Phil Mickelson (BellSouth Classic) for the low total on TOUR in 2006.*

Valero Texas Open

NOTES

Eric Axley, the 2006 winner, became the first player since Ron Streck in 1978 to claim the Valero Texas Open in his first appearance.*

After playing his first 14 holes in 1-over par, 2006 champion Eric Axley played his final 58 holes in 16-under par and went a stretch of 53 holes without making a bogey (No. 6/first round to No. 13/final round) during the event.

Eric Axley's final-round, 1-over-par 71 in 2006 marked the first time since 1960 that a Valero Texas Open champion carded an over-par final round. Arnold Palmer overcame sub-freezing temperatures that year to win despite a final-round 75.*

Chris Riley's T5 performance at the 2006 Valero Texas Open was his first top-10 finish on the PGA TOUR since a T4 at the 2004 PGA Championship, a span of 50 events without a top-five or top-10.*

David McKenzie's seventh-place finish last year was his best career effort on the PGA TOUR. McKenzie was one of three rookies to finish among the top 10, joining Eric Axley (1st) and Charley Hoffman (T8).*

NOTES

The Langers' successful defense in 2006 was the first since Team Floyd (Raymond and sons Raymond Jr. and Robert) repeated with Raymond and Robert in 2000 and 2001. Raymond and Raymond Jr. also captured the first three Del Webb Father/Son Challenges (1995-1997). Team Langer's winning scores of 59-61—120 were identical to their winning scores in 2005. Stefan, 16, was a high school sophomore in Boca Raton, FL.

As Stefan Langer's birdie putt rolled into the center of the 18th hole, cinching the repeat victory, that drew the curtain on an auspicious debut for Team Tway (Bob and son Kevin). The winners of the 1986 PGA Championship and 2005 U.S. Junior Amateur, respectively, were in the media center watching the proceedings on TV when Langer's putt dropped in the hole. Even with that, the pair enjoyed a fine debut with rounds of 61-60—121. The 60 was the second-best round of the day and their runner-up score of 23-under par was the second consecutive year that lofty score has fallen short. Kevin will be a freshman on the golf team at Oklahoma State in 2007-2008.

International Federation of PGA Tours/World Golf Championships

Tiger Woods is the only player to capture all four World Golf Championships titles in his career.

At the 1996 Presidents Cup, golf's five world governing bodies—the European Tour, Japan Golf Tour Organization, PGA TOUR, PGA Tour of Australasia and Sunshine Tour—reached agreement on several key elements of professional golf designed to create new international events, beginning in 1999.

Three major initiatives were outlined at the Robert Trent Jones Golf Club, site of the second Presidents Cup:

- Formation of the International Federation of PGA Tours.
- Joint sanctioning by the members of the International Federation of PGA Tours of significant competitions, including some at the world championship level for the game's top players.
- A structure for a generally accepted worldwide ranking system.

Those "significant competitions" were announced in October 1997 when the Federation introduced the World Golf Championships.

The first three jointly sanctioned championships—the Accenture Match Play Championship, the NEC Invitational (now Bridgestone Invitational) and the American Express Championship (now CA Championship)—were launched in 1999 with Jeff Maggert winning the first event and Tiger Woods the latter two. The addition of the World Cup was announced in December 1999 and debuted in December 2000.

The 2006 World Golf Championships will begin in February, with the Accenture Match Play Championship at The Gallery Golf Club at Dove Mountain in Tucson, Arizona. In March, the CA Championship will be held at Doral Golf Resort and Spa's Blue Course in Doral, Florida. In August, the Bridgestone Invitational returns to the South Course at Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio. The series will conclude in November as the World Golf Championships make their first visit to China with the Mission Hills World Cup at Mission Hills Golf Club just outside of Hong Kong.

The World Golf Championships events feature players from around the world competing against one another in varied formats (match play, stroke and team). World Golf Championships events have been contested on five continents and, with the addition of China, in 10 countries.

The World Golf Championships were developed to enhance the competitive structure of professional golf worldwide while preserving the traditions and strengths of the individual Tours and their events.

The Asian Tour joined the International Federation of PGA Tours as a full-fledged member in November 1999, while the Canadian Tour was named an associate member in March 2000.

Accenture, Bridgestone, CA and Mission Hills are the umbrella sponsors of the World Golf Championships. Michelob Ultra, JELD-WEN and Kohler are official sponsors.

Fields for the World Golf Championships are filled primarily through the Official World Golf Ranking, which is endorsed by all the sport's major professional organizations and governing bodies and individual Tours' Official Money Lists/Orders of Merit.

The Presidents Cup

The seventh Presidents Cup will be contested at The Royal Montreal Golf Club in Montreal, Canada on Sept. 27-30, 2007. It will be the third international venue for the biennial event, following Australia (1998) and South Africa (2003). Captains Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus return to lead the International and United States teams, respectively.

History

The Presidents Cup was developed to give the world's best non-European players an opportunity to compete in international team match-play competition.

A biennial event played in non-Ryder Cup years, the first Presidents Cup was played Sept. 16-18, 1994 at Robert Trent Jones Golf Club. The U.S. Team, captained by Hale Irwin, defeated Captain David Graham's International side, 20-12.

The 2003 Presidents Cup was originally scheduled for November 2002, but was postponed one year in the wake of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on the United States. Played at The Links at Fancourt Hotel and Country Club Estate in George, South Africa, the competition ended in a tie. After both teams completed regulation tied at 17 points, Ernie Els of the International Team and Tiger Woods of the U.S. were designated to represent their teams in a sudden-death playoff. After three playoff holes, and as darkness was descending, Captains Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, in the spirit of the competition, decided that the two teams would share the Cup.

The 2005 Presidents Cup, played for a fourth time at the Robert Trent Jones Golf Club in Prince William County, VA, came down to the final hole. When American Chris DiMarco birdied the 18th hole in Sunday's singles to defeat Stuart Appleby, 1-up, he gave the Americans an 18½-15½ victory. DiMarco finished with a 4-0-1 record in the competition and was joined by teammates Jim Furyk and Phil Mickelson (both 3-0-2 records) in leading the way. Retief Goosen went 4-0-1 for the International side. The victory gave the United States a 4-1-1 edge in The Presidents Cup matches.

Former U.S. President Gerald Ford presided over the first Presidents Cup as Honorary Chairman. Former President George H.W. Bush, like Ford an avid golfer, served as Honorary Chairman for the 1996 Presidents Cup. Australian Prime Minister John Howard was Honorary Chairman for the 1998 event. In 2000, President Bill Clinton made history when he became the first sitting president to serve as Honorary Chairman. In 2003, Thabo Mbeki, President of the Republic of South Africa, was Honorary Chairman. Current President George W. Bush served as the Honorary Chairman of the 2005 Presidents Cup.

Eligibility

Members of the 2007 U.S. Team will be selected based on official earnings from the start of the 2006 season through the 2007 PGA Championship. International Team players for the 2007 Presidents Cup will be chosen on the basis of the Official World Golf Ranking. International Teams do not include players eligible for the European Ryder Cup Team.

The eligibility rankings are used to select 10 members for both squads. The 12-man teams are rounded out by two Captain's Choices per team.

Structure and Scoring

The Presidents Cup competition consists of 34 matches—11 foursomes (alternate shot) and 11 four-ball (better ball) matches. There are 12 singles matches involving all players on the final Sunday. All matches are worth one point each, for a total of 34 points. There are no playoffs for foursomes or four-ball, with each side receiving ½-point. Singles matches all square after 18 holes will go to extra holes until a team winner is determined. In a change inspired by the events of the 2003 Presidents Cup, if the match is deadlocked at the end of singles play, the competition will be deemed a tie and the teams will share The Presidents Cup.

The Presidents Cup follows the PGA TOUR creed of giving back. There is no purse for the players. Net revenues are divided into equal shares that the players and Captains designate for charities or golf-related projects of their choice. Contributions in their names are made through PGA TOUR Charities, Inc. The first six Presidents Cups generated more than $13 million for charities worldwide.

Chris DiMarco celebrates his win at the 2005 Presidents Cup.

Official World Golf Ranking

The Official World Golf Ranking, which is endorsed by the four major championships and six professional Tours that make up the International Federation of PGA Tours, is issued every Monday following the completion of the previous week's tournaments from around the world.

Results from events on the world's leading professional tours—the Asian Tour, PGA Tour of Australasia, European Tour, Japan Golf Tour, PGA TOUR, Nationwide Tour, Sunshine Tour, Canadian Tour and European Challenge Tour—are evaluated, and points are awarded according to the players' finishing positions. Tournaments are "rated" according to the strength of field based on the number and ranking of the world's top 200 players in respective tournament fields (event "ratings").

In addition, some strength-of-field weighting is given to the inclusion in each field of a significant percentage of the top 30 on the host Tour's prior year Official Money Lists. The four major championships and THE PLAYERS Championship are rated separately to reflect the higher field quality of the events. In addition, the Volvo PGA Championship in Europe and the Australian, Japanese and South African Open Championships, the Nationwide Tour Championship and Volvo Masters of Asia are allocated higher minimum point levels to reflect their status as each Tour's flagship event.

The Official World Golf Ranking points for each player are accumulated over a two-year "rolling" period. Each player then is ranked according to his average points per tournament, which is determined by dividing his total number of points by the tournaments he has played over that two-year period. There is a minimum requirement of 40 tournaments for the two-year period.

The winners of the Masters Tournament, U.S. Open, British Open and PGA Championship are awarded 100 points (60 points for second place, 40 for third, 30 for fourth, down to 1.5 points for a player completing the final round), and the winner of THE PLAYERS Championship is awarded 80 points (points are awarded down to 60th place).

The Volvo PGA Championship has a minimum of 64 points for the winner (points down to 56th place). In addition, the Open Championships of Australia, Japan and South Africa have a minimum of 30 points for the winner (points awarded down to 37th place). The Nationwide Tour Championship and Volvo Masters of Asia winners receive 20 points (points awarded down to 22nd place).

Minimum points levels for winners of all the other official Tour events have been set at six points for the Canadian Tour; 12 points for the Sunshine and European Challenge (points to 14th place); 14 points for the Nationwide Tour, Sunshine Tour and Asian Tour (points to 17th place); 16 points for Australasia and Japan (points to 19th place); and 24 points for Europe and the United States (points to 27th place).

Beginning in January 2007, a new feature was added to the ranking system. Points entered by a player in a particular tournament maintain their full value for 13 weeks then are devalued by 1.1% each of the next 91 weeks before dropping completely off a players' 2-year record. Thereby cutting the sudden and sometimes dramatic impact of the reduction of points that previously occurred at the 13-week anniversaries of events in which players earn points. Full Ranking points are awarded for tournaments reduced to 54 holes because of inclement weather or other reasons. For events completing only 36 holes, Ranking points are reduced by 25 percent.

The Official World Golf Ranking is available each week at PGA TOUR sites or by going to www.officialworldgolfranking.com or www.owgr.com. The top 75 as of Nov. 6, 2006 (the last ranking of official 2006 PGA TOUR season) follows:

Glossary of Statistics

Driving Distance
The average number of yards per measured drive. Driving distance is measured on two holes per round. Care is taken to select holes which face in opposite directions to counteract the effects of wind. Drives are measured to the point they come to rest, regardless of whether they are in the fairway or not.

Driving Accuracy
The percentage of time a player is able to hit the fairway with his tee shot.

Greens in Regulation
The percentage of time a player was able to hit the green in regulation (greens hit in regulation/holes played). Note: A green is considered hit in regulation if any part of the ball is touching the putting surface and the number of strokes taken is two less than par or fewer.

Putting Average
Measures putting performance on greens hit in regulation. For each green hit in regulation, the total number of putts is divided by the number of greens hit in regulation. By using greens hit in regulation, we are able to eliminate the effects of chipping close and one-putting in the computation.

Total Driving
Total Driving is computed by totaling a player's rank in driving distance and driving accuracy.

Eagles (holes per)
The average number of holes between each eagle.

Birdie Leaders
The average number of birdies made per round played.

Sand Saves Percentage
The percentage of time a player is able to get up and down once in a green-side sand bunker. Note: This up and down is computed regardless of score on the hole.

All Around
This statistic is computed by totaling a player's rank in each of the following statistics: Scoring Leaders, Putting Leaders, Eagle Leaders, Birdie Leaders, Sand Saves, Greens in Regulation, Driving Distance and Driving Accuracy.

Note: See Statistical Leaders, pages 5-11 and 5-12

West Coast Swing Presented By Allianz

With a solid start to his 2006 season, Rory Sabbatini captured the PGA TOUR West Coast Swing presented by Allianz.

Sabbatini, who won the Nissan Open, hung on to win the West Coast Swing presented by Allianz and received a $500,000 winner's bonus. Sabbatini accumulated the most points, based on top-10 performances, during the nine-tournament West Coast Swing at the beginning of this year's PGA TOUR season. Chad Campbell finished second and collected $300,000, while third-place finisher Stuart Appleby earned $200,000.

Phil Mickelson previously won the "King of the Swing" title in 1998, 2004 and 2005; Tiger Woods earned the title in 1999 and 2000, Davis Love III captured the 2001 title, Chris DiMarco in 2002 and Mike Weir won in 2003.

Allianz Life (the U.S. life subsidiary of the Allianz Group), a leading provider of annuities, life and health coverage, was the presenting sponsor of the competition.

Fall Finish Presented By PricewaterhouseCoopers

On the strength of his strong stretch run to finish the season, Joe Durant clinched the Fall Finish Presented by PricewaterhouseCoopers. By winning the competition, Durant took home a bonus of $500,000.

Durant led the series with 291.666 points accumulated in the seven Fall Finish events he played. Jim Furyk, who entered the week as the only player with a chance to catch Durant, finished second, with 220.000 points. Troy Matteson finished third. Furyk earned $300,000 and Matteson earned $200,000.

The Fall Finish presented by PricewaterhouseCoopers was an 11-tournament series (that began at the Deutsche Bank Championship and ended with the conclusion of THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola) that included enhanced purses and bonus awards totaling $1 million. Points were awarded for each top-10 finish, from 100 points for first place to 10 for 10th. Carl Pettersson won in 2005; Vijay Singh won the title three consecutive years from 2002-2004; Bob Estes won the series in 2001 while Tiger Woods won in 2000.

PricewaterhouseCoopers is the Official Professional Services Firm of the PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour. PricewaterhouseCoopers is also the TOUR's official tabulator of the votes for all annual player awards.

In order to qualify for the Byron Nelson Award, a player must compete in a minimum of 50 official rounds on the PGA TOUR.

Payne Stewart Award

The award is named for Payne Stewart, an 11-time winner on the PGA TOUR, including three major championships. Stewart died the week of THE TOUR Championship in 1999. The award was created by the PGA TOUR Policy Board to perpetuate Stewart's memory. It is presented annually at THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola to a player sharing Stewart's respect for the traditions of the game, his commitment to uphold the game's heritage of charitable support and his professional and meticulous presentation of himself and the sport through his dress and conduct.

In addition to a sculpture presented to the recipient, the Payne Stewart Award is accompanied by an annual Payne Stewart Award Grant presented by Southern Company. The $300,000 grant will support several initiatives in Stewart's name and be distributed as follows: $100,000 to Payne and Tracey Stewart's primary charity, The Stewart Family Foundation; $100,000 in Stewart's honor to The First Tee facility in Missouri, located at Camp Kanakuk, which is affiliated with the "Kids Across America" program; and $100,000 to a charity designated by the recipient.

PGA Player of the Year

The PGA Player of the Year Award is given by the PGA of America to the top PGA TOUR player based on a mathematical formula that weighs tournament wins, official money standing and scoring average.

The point system for selecting the Player of the Year was amended in 1982, as follows: 30 points for winning the PGA Championship, U.S. Open, British Open or Masters Tournament; 20 points for winning THE PLAYERS Championship; 10 points for winning all other designated PGA TOUR events. In addition, there is a 50-point bonus for winning two majors, 75-point bonus for winning three, 100-point bonus for winning four.

For top-10 finishes on the PGA TOUR's official money list and scoring average list, the point value is: first, 20 points, then 18, 16, 14, 12, 10, 8, 6, 4, 2. Any incomplete rounds in the scoring average list will result in a .10 penalty per incomplete round.

Vardon Trophy

The Vardon Trophy, named in honor of famed British golfer Harry Vardon, is awarded annually by the PGA of America.

From 1947 to 1987, the Vardon Trophy was awarded to the professional golfer with the lowest-scoring average. In 1988, the criteria were adjusted to award the Vardon Trophy to the touring professional with the lowest adjusted scoring average based on a minimum of 60 official rounds in events cosponsored or approved by the PGA TOUR.

PGA TOUR Retail Licensing

PGA TOUR Retail Licensing continues to expand its business base and the scope of the TOUR's brand presence in the consumer marketplace throughout the world with more than 70 domestic (U.S.) and more than 20 international licensees. PGA TOUR Retail Licensing manages its licensee relationships with the assistance of licensing agents for the U.S. and the rest of the world (except Japan), and has a master licensee in Japan.

Domestic highlights include the opening of additional PGA TOUR Superstores. This licensee is revolutionizing the golf retail industry through its network of 65,000-75,000 square foot TOUR-branded stores it plans to build across the U.S. with a focus on service, education and good value. There are two stores in Myrtle Beach, SC and four in suburban Atlanta, with two new stores opening in Dallas, TX, in March 2007.

Our apparel licensee, Perry Ellis International, continues to expand the presence of TOUR-branded apparel, especially in JC Penney and other fine stores, a key player in the mid-tier department store market. The apparel will be available in over 1,200 stores in 2007.

The Paradies Shops, licensee for the PGA TOUR Airport Shops throughout the U.S., continues the TOUR's retail presence in this well-targeted environment. Each year, more than 200 million travelers pass by these 43 shops in 39 airports.

The PGA TOUR Grill, a restaurant appealing to the "upper casual" market, opened in suburban Washington, D.C. in March 2006. Based on a successful completion of a year-long market test, there is the possibility of additional locations in 2007. In late 2006, the TOUR announced two new exciting licenses: PGA TOUR Ticket-to-Golf! (prepaid gift tickets for a round of golf at over 2,000 courses throughout the U.S.) and PGA TOUR Experiences (all-inclusive vacations).

Internationally, TOUR-branded merchandise continues to grow as consumer products of choice in golf retail, and our licensee base throughout the U.K., Europe and Asia continues to progress. The TOUR's Japanese master licensee, Bonmax (Pro Tour, Inc.), has successfully expanded the TOUR's brand presence at retail and has well over 500 PGA TOUR "shop in shops" at this time.

TOUR-branded merchandise also enjoys a major presence in other countries including South Korea, Taiwan and Malaysia.

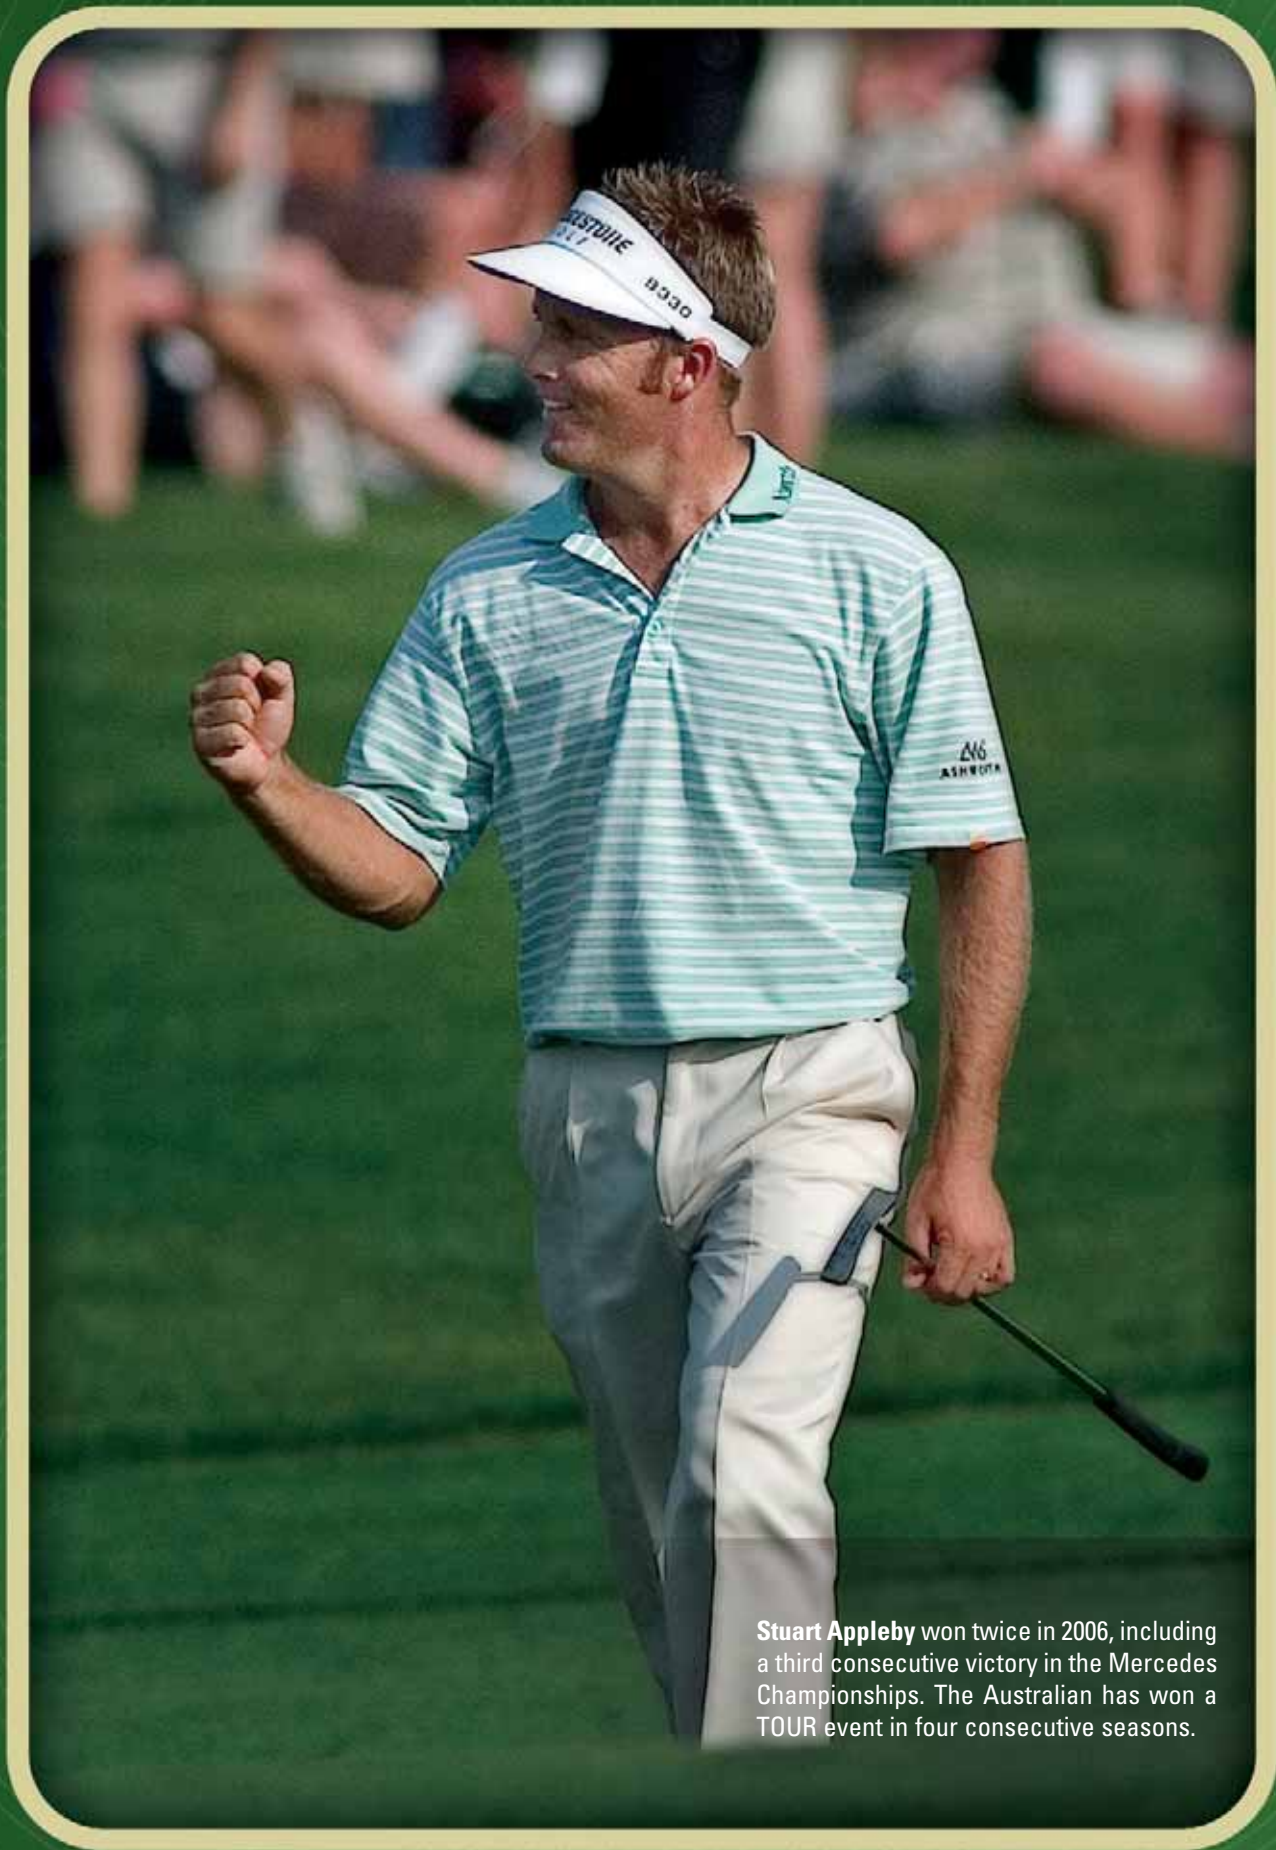
FUTURE

Stay tuned for more new products and platforms to come for PGA TOUR fan enjoyment.



Stuart Appleby won twice in 2006, including a third consecutive victory in the Mercedes Championships. The Australian has won a TOUR event in four consecutive seasons.

Charity: Giving Back...The Heart of the PGA TOUR

Millions of smiling faces and lives positively affected are sure signs that the PGA TOUR's charitable mission is a continuing success story in the communities where it plays.

This effort was celebrated in late 2005 when the PGA TOUR and its tournaments reached the Drive to a Billion milestone. That cumulative affect, since the first donation in 1938, reached approximately $1.1 billion through 2006. The forecast is for the second billion-dollar mark to be reached in less than 10 years. PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour events annually benefit more than 2,000 charities and countless individuals worldwide.

"Thanks to the incredible generosity of the tournaments, players, fans, volunteers and business partners who support the PGA TOUR, our goal of giving back continues to be our main focus," PGA TOUR Commissioner Tim Finchem said. "We are inspired by the continued enthusiasm for giving that ensures more and more assistance for those in need around the world."

Structure

Unlike any other professional sport, the PGA TOUR relies on 80,000 volunteers a year to run its events, and nearly all of the 100-plus tournaments are structured as non-profit organizations designed to donate 100 percent of net proceeds to local charities. Beneficiaries include a wide variety of local organizations such as hospitals, youth-development organizations, growth-of-the-game programs and food banks.

The beneficiaries include the 2005 Charities of the Year on each of the Tours – the St. Michael's Special School in New Orleans, LA (Zurich Classic of New Orleans on the PGA TOUR), Blank Children's Hospital in Des Moines, IA (Allianz Championship on the Champions Tour) and various charities for the Xerox Classic in Rochester, NY and Legend Group Financial Classic in Cleveland, OH (on the Nationwide Tour). The impact is also made by volunteers such as the 2005 Volunteers of the Year on the respective Tours – John Hamilton of the PGA TOUR's Cialis Western Open, Nicole Anderson at the Champions Tour's 3M Championship and Mike Smith at the Nationwide Tour's EnviroCare Utah Classic.

Tournaments provide the leadership, led by the Valero Texas Open on the PGA TOUR, the Toshiba Classic, 3M Championship and Wal-Mart First Tee Open at Pebble Beach on the Champions Tour and the Albertsons Boise Open on the Nationwide Tour, which provided the largest donations to charity in 2006 on each Tour.

"This continued response is a tribute to the players, tournaments and thousands of volunteers who make PGA TOUR events so successful," said Kym Hougham, Chairman of the Tournament Advisory Council. "We look forward to making even larger contributions for this worthy cause as we push to make a true difference in people's lives."

Players

Players also reach out to help considerably through charitable efforts in their home communities and across the nation.

In early 2006, the Tiger Woods Learning Center opened at the public course in Anaheim, CA, where Woods played his high school golf. The state-of-the-art educational facility had long been a goal for Woods to inspire young people.

TOUR members Frank Lickliter II, Corey Pavin, Jerry Kelly, Howard Twitty and Donnie Hammond traveled to the Persian Gulf during Thanksgiving 2006 to visit with American troops on a USO/Armed Forces Entertainment tour that brightened the lives of United States troops.

Champions Tour Player of the Year Jay Haas gave his first-place earnings of $1 million and runner-up Loren Roberts contributed his $500,000 second-place winnings in the Charles Schwab Cup to charities in their home communities of Greenville, SC, and Memphis, TN, respectively.

PGA TOUR member Mark Wilson contributed $30,000 to the Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer Fund (MAAC Fund) in November 2006 on the organization's 30th anniversary. It was the largest single donation by an athlete in the Milwaukee, WI, charity's history and came a week before he was to participate in the PGA TOUR National Qualifying Tournament. Wilson earned his 2007 PGA TOUR card with a tie for 29th.

"Unlike other sports, if he has an off day he doesn't get paid," said John Cary, executive director of the MAAC Fund. "So to be as generous as they are, as he is, [it's] pretty amazing."

In the communities where tournaments take place, giving back remains at the heart of the PGA TOUR.

GOLF 20/20: Vision For the Future

In November 2000, golf industry leaders gathered at the World Golf Village to participate in a conference called GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future, a precedent-setting forum aimed at initiating a collaborative effort to grow the game of golf and secure its future. The spirit of unity was so strong and the commitment to make a difference so universal, the decision was made to address some of the most pressing issues impacting the golf industry on an ongoing basis, through the formation of GOLF 20/20.

An initiative of the World Golf Foundation, GOLF 20/20's mission is "To align the golf industry behind a plan that addresses the future of golf in a strategic manner, with an emphasis on accelerating growth and participation and creating new avenues of access into the game." Through ongoing programs created in collaboration with industry partners that promote the growth of game initiative, GOLF 20/20 strives to enhance both participation and interest in golf.

Among GOLF 20/20's many accomplishments during the past six years are the following:

Research – GOLF 20/20 has undertaken a number of unprecedented research projects, including golf's largest-ever segmentation study (2001); a study quantifying golf's annual economy at $62 billion; and two studies focusing on golf's best customers (2005). In 2006, GOLF 20/20, working with SRI International, developed a template for the calculation of the economic impact of golf at the state level, which provides states with an affordable tool to use in a variety of ways.

Program Development – GOLF 20/20 has successfully piloted numerous programs, beginning with Link Up 2 Golf in 2001. This adult player development program now serves as an integral part of the PGA of America's Play Golf America program. In 2003, GOLF 20/20 created the National School Golf Program, a unique approach to introducing elementary school students to the game through the physical education structure. This program is now under the management of The First Tee. And in 2005, GOLF 20/20 established Women's Golf Week, a unique collaboration of the golf industry aimed at increasing the participation of women in the game. During its inaugural year, 225 golf facilities nationwide hosted Women's Golf Week activities, impacting nearly 10,000 women. In 2006, more than 580 host facilities participated – an increase of 160 percent – impacting more than 20,000 women.

State Alliances – A major initiative of GOLF 20/20 over the past year or two has been the facilitation of alliances of golf organizations at the state level. A GOLF 20/20 Task Force on State Alliances has been active in gathering information from existing alliances and also helping to foster new ones. Where there were just a couple of such alliances two years ago there are now more than 20, with the organizations working together on communication issues, environmental and regulatory issues, player development programs and idea sharing and funding of common benefits such as economic impact studies.

The First Tee

The First Tee (thefirsttee.org) is recognized as one of the premier youth-development programs in the country. It provides young people of all backgrounds an opportunity to develop, through golf and character education, life-enhancing values such as honesty, confidence, perseverance and judgment.

Since its inception in 1997, The First Tee has opened more than 250 golf-learning facilities in 46 states and five international locations (Australia, Canada, Ireland, New Zealand, Singapore) and has introduced the game of golf and its values to over 675,000 participants.

The First Tee Life Skills Experience™ is the unique feature that separates The First Tee from many other junior golf programs and youth initiatives. Through life lessons taught at more than 200 community-based nonprofit Chapters, participants learn the importance of maintaining a positive attitude, how to make decisions by thinking about possible consequences, how to define and set goals, and how to transfer the positive values of golf to everyday life. Research conducted by the University of Virginia in 2005 provides data-based evidence of the effectiveness of The First Tee and that the organization is having a strong, positive impact on young people's development of life skills and core values.

The First Tee National School Program (thefirstteensp.org) introduces The First Tee Nine Core Values to elementary school students and provides teachers with modified equipment and a curriculum to teach basic golf skills and etiquette during regular physical education classes.The NSP has reached more than 400,000 students in over 900 elementary schools, and its presence continues to grow in PGA TOUR tournament markets.

Each Labor Day weekend, the Wal-Mart First Tee Open at Pebble Beach showcases the talent and character of young people who participate at The First Tee facilities worldwide. An official Champions Tour event, the tournament pairs one junior with a Champions Tour player and two amateurs. Seventy-eight junior spots are awarded. The Sept. 1-3, 2006 tournament was televised on GOLF CHANNEL and NBC for the third straight year.

Key to The First Tee's success is the support it receives from its Founding Partners, some of the game's most respected and influential organizations; Augusta National Golf Club, LPGA, PGA of America, PGA TOUR, and the USGA. Former President George Bush serves as honorary chairman.

PGA TOUR Links

The PGA TOUR Links program is the technological solution that brings together PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour members, PGA TOUR staff, player managers and tournament organizations. Along with IBM, the PGA TOUR's technology partner, the PGA TOUR and its players work together to design a solution that fits their communication needs.

As part of the TOUR Links program, each player receives a ThinkPad computer and access to the players-only intranet site from anywhere in the world. Within the site, players are able to view vital PGA TOUR announcements, tournament information, tee times and conduct statistical analysis. Players are also able to commit to tournaments, make hotel reservations, reply to surveys and vote in player elections and annual awards.

To date, more than 750 players have participated in TOUR Links. The players have cited the program as a most efficient form of communication. As the program enters its ninth year, it continues to evolve to meet changing technological advances and player needs.

Tournament Advisory Council

The PGA TOUR Tournaments Association (PGATTA) legacy is a long and proud one. Its decision this past November to restructure its current business model to become more efficient and more closely aligned has resulted in a new name and a new direction.

The new organization will be called Tournament Advisory Council (TAC) and will be structured much the same as the Player Advisory Council (PAC). TAC and key TOUR staff will meet quarterly for information-sharing purposes, planning for Policy Board and PAC meetings, and related matters.

The TAC Chairman will attend Board meetings as a non-voting member and will have the opportunity once per year to formally present to the Policy Board issues affecting the Tournament organizations.

TAC member tournaments, and their more than 60,000 volunteers, have donated nearly $900 million to charity.

The 2007 TAC Board Members include:

Tom Knoll - Director
Frank Houseman - Director
Steve Wilmot - Director

3. Do not interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their practice sessions before a round, except by prior arrangement with the player.

3. Live coverage or reporting in excess of three minutes per day from a tournament site, including, without limitation, the course, media center, press room and interview room, is prohibited without the prior approval of PGA TOUR.
4. Audio and video coverage shall not be made available until that day's live or tape-delayed coverage by the television network is concluded.
5. As the exclusive rightsholder, PGA TOUR may request copies of any coverage of PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour events. Such coverage will be provided to PGA TOUR upon request (PGA TOUR will pay industry standard copying and shipping costs).

7. Only personnel with appropriate credentials will be permitted into the media center and locker room areas.
8. Radio broadcasters are not permitted inside the gallery ropes at any time.

TPC Network

The PGA TOUR's TPC Network has maintained a reputation for operating high-quality clubs since its inception 25 years ago. The TPC network continues to grow, with more than 30 facilities currently open or under construction.

TPCs encompass all forms of golf-related operations—resort facilities, corporate/private membership clubs and daily-fee courses—and, as such, PGA TOUR Golf Course Properties, Inc. is able to match the type of facility with the demands of each market in which a club operates.

The network represents the highest standard in the golf course industry, commensurate with the members of the organization it represents, the players of the PGA TOUR. Each TPC embodies the trademark of excellence first established with the flagship TPC Sawgrass, which opened its world-famous PLAYERS Stadium Course in the fall of 1980 in Ponte Vedra Beach, FL. This commitment to overall excellence serves as the foundation for the network's overall success.

The TPC Network was born through former PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman's desire to provide TOUR players with quality golf courses that also would offer spectators enhanced viewing areas. Beman also reasoned that development of quality facilities would alleviate the TOUR's dependency on the television dollar, while providing rent-free venues for tournaments. The savings in rent, in turn, would generate both increased purses and greater charitable contributions by the tournaments held at TPCs.

The TPC Sawgrass was the first TPC to hold a PGA TOUR event, becoming the permanent home of THE PLAYERS Championship in 1982. In 2006, 16 tournaments were conducted on TPC courses, bringing the total number of PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and Nationwide Tour events held at TPC facilities to 263.

The TPC Sawgrass PLAYERS Stadium Course was completely refurbished in 2006, with the fairways redone and the greens rebuilt to create a "fast, firm and fair" course in time for the 2007 PLAYERS. A new, larger clubhouse will open in April 2007.

Many of the top golf-course architects are connected with TPC projects, including Pete Dye, Tom Fazio, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Arthur Hills, Jay Morrish, Tom Weiskopf, Greg Norman, Bob Von Hagge and D.A. Weibring. The TPC Boston, which opened in 2002, was the fourth TPC course designed by Palmer Course Design Co. Weiskopf has designed his second TPC course for the TPC Craig Ranch near Dallas, TX, which opened in the fall of 2004.

Moreover, in recognizing the importance of player input for tournament courses, TOUR members have served as design consultants, working closely with the lead architect. Hal Sutton, for instance, served as the player design consultant on the TPC Treviso Bay (Naples, FL), which will open in 2007, while Steve Elkington was the player consultant and Kelly Gibson the associate player consultant working with architect Pete Dye on the TPC Louisiana in New Orleans, which opened in April 2004.

The TPC San Antonio, scheduled to break ground this year, will be a 36-hole facility. Pete Dye and Greg Norman will be the architects, and Sergio Garcia and Bruce Lietzke will be the player consultants of the course.

ShotLink

The PGA TOUR has collaborated with IBM, the TOUR's Official Worldwide Information Technology Partner, on the PGA TOUR ShotLink System. The ShotLink System is a revolutionary platform for collecting and disseminating scoring and statistical data on every shot by every player in real-time during every tournament round. This data asset creates improved live coverage and more meaningful analysis. The new data creates great potential to enhance entertainment and image of the sport across all platforms.

The development of ShotLink started in 1997 when the TOUR decided to update its current scoring system, which was based on 1987 technology. The TOUR, in conjunction with IBM, conducted an extensive review process to formulate its strategy for the development and implementation of ShotLink. Following an evaluation of more than 30 companies, additional technology and implementation partners were identified: Information and Display Systems (IDS), Palm, Electronic Arts, Daktronics and two mapping vendors: GeoGolf and Geodetic Services. IBM provided overall project management, consulting services and server and networking technologies. ShotLink was introduced during the 2001 Buick Classic and represents the TOUR's scoring system for the future. The System was enhanced in 2006 with the addition of a radar solution that accurately collects club head speed, ball speed, launch angle and tracks the entire flight of the ball. This solution is being installed on one tee each week. Future fan enhancements include broadcast applications, on-site presentations and new ShotLink statistics.

The accumulation, packaging and presentation of expanded shot and course information provides the basis for numerous fan enhancements. Current uses of ShotLink data include:

- Enhanced graphics and statistics in television broadcasts
- Expanded information and statistics for use by media
- Powering on-site and PGATOUR.com tournament leaderboards
- Providing on-site media and hospitality access to live tournament information through Tournament Tracker, developed by IBM
- Powering the Emmy Award-winning TOURCast application on PGATOUR.com, which launched in 2003
- Powering PGA TOUR Mobile Link and TOURCast Mobile, the PGA TOUR's wireless application for use on PDAs and cell phones
- Analysis of how each golf course is played to assist in course setup and in design changes
- Increased data mining to create more interesting entertainment and insights on how the game is played across all platforms on PGATOUR.com today

In addition to current uses, ShotLink provides unlimited potential to develop fan enhancements and products over the next several years, including:

- Enhanced and interactive television
- On-site wireless and kiosk applications for tournament patrons
- Internet, PC and console games

Besides fan enhancements, ShotLink creates an ongoing historical archive of statistical information. This information is available to players through the PGA TOUR Links program, also built by IBM.

The ShotLink data is collected by volunteers utilizing a combination of Palm handheld devices and laser range finders. Each week a team of approximately 350 volunteers dedicate approximately three man years of effort to perform this data collection. In the course of the entire season, more than 10,000 volunteers contribute to the success of this program.

PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc.

PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc. is a Florida not-for-profit corporation organized to render support for and provide assistance to needy children and their families through the means of charitable events. The Association is comprised of the wives of professional golfers on the PGA TOUR and Nationwide Tour, as well as individuals and corporations that support the PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc.'s many charitable endeavors.

Since its incorporation in 1988, the PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc. has supported children's charities across the country by raising money and given back much to the game of golf through personal time and monetary contributions. In addition to fundraising, members participate in Volunteer Service Projects, performing a myriad of services ranging from Habitat builds to cooking in soup kitchens to playing with hospitalized children in communities where tournaments are held.

The PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc. conducts numerous fundraisers to support its charities. These include memorabilia auctions, tasting events, concerts and other activities.

The Association's favorite (and longest-running) fundraiser is the biennial TOUR Wives Golf Classic, a nine-hole tournament where the wives play golf and their husbands caddie. The TOUR Wives Golf Classic, first played in 1987, has been held at different courses around the country.

While its membership varies from year to year, the commitment of the PGA TOUR Wives Association, Inc. to making a difference in the lives of needy children stands strong. The Association's dedicated members, past and present, have reached deep into their resources to balance the demands of family, work and travel and have given generously of themselves to realize their ideals. For information regarding the PGA TOUR Wives Association, please see their website at www.pgatourwives.org or contact Sara Moores at the PGA TOUR.

Weather Guidelines

Every effort will be made to finish each round as scheduled by Sunday. The first priority is always the competition and completion of 72 holes.

In an effort to achieve this objective by Sunday, 36 holes may be played on Sunday following a reduction of the field to the score which has the closest number of professionals to 60. If an equal number of professionals are at scores above and below the 60th position, the higher score will be used.

If conditions exist which prevent 72 holes from being completed by Sunday, play will always be extended to Monday if golf-course conditions and the weather forecast permit. Play on Monday could include 36 holes.

If conditions exist which make the completion of 72 holes impossible, the next priority is to complete 54 holes; thereby the winner is credited with an official victory. Again, play in this situation will always be extended to Monday if conditions and weather permit.

If conditions exist which make the completion of 54 holes impossible, the next priority is to complete 36 holes; thereby players receive official money, although the winner is credited with an unofficial victory. Again, play in this situation may be extended to Monday.

In making decisions to extend play beyond Sunday or to reduce the tournament to fewer than 72 holes due to inclement weather, the on-site Tournament Director discusses the situation and conditions with a number of parties, including the host organization, title sponsor, host site (general manager and/or golf-course superintendent), on-site weather forecaster, television representatives and the other members of the Rules Committee. Players typically have not been included in these discussions as the TOUR believes it is inappropriate for the Rules Committee to discuss matters directly affecting the competition with contestants.

World Golf Foundation, a not-for-profit, 501(c) 3 organization, was created in 1994 to unite the golf industry and those who love the game. The foundation supports initiatives that promote, enhance the growth of, and provide access to the game of golf, while preserving golf's traditional values and passing them on to others.

There are three initiatives under the umbrella of the World Golf Foundation: the World Golf Hall of Fame, The First Tee and GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future. Each initiative has its own mission to enhance the game of golf's history, present and future.

World Golf Hall of Fame—The World Golf Hall of Fame (wgv.com) was conceptualized in the late 1980s and opened to the public in 1998. Its mission is to recognize and celebrate the game's greatest players and contributors and serve as an inspiration to golfers and fans worldwide. The Hall of Fame administers a process by which new inductees are recognized and brought into the membership each year. Hall of Fame members are honored in the 75,000 square-foot museum located at the World Golf Village in St. Augustine, FL, and a variety of special exhibits are opened throughout the year.

The First Tee—The First Tee (thefirsttee.org) is recognized as one of the premier youth development programs in the country. It provides young people of all backgrounds an opportunity to develop, through golf and character education, life-enhancing values such as honesty, confidence, perseverance and judgment. Since its inception in 1997, The First Tee has opened more than 250 golf learning facilities in 46 states and five international locations (Australia, Canada, Ireland, New Zealand, Singapore), and has introduced the game of golf and its values to more than 675,000 participants. The First Tee National School Program (thefirstteensp.org) introduces The First Tee Nine Core Values to elementary school students and provides teachers with modified equipment and a curriculum to teach basic golf skills and etiquette during regular physical-education classes. The NSP has reached more than 400,000 students in over 900 elementary schools, and its presence continues to grow in PGA TOUR tournament markets.

GOLF 20/20: Vision for the Future—Initiated in 1999, GOLF 20/20 (golf2020.com) is devoted to aligning the golf industry behind a plan that addresses the future of golf in a strategic manner, with an emphasis on accelerating growth and participation and creating new avenues of access into the game.

GOLF 20/20 VISION FOR THE FUTURE

World Golf Hall of Fame

The World Golf Hall of Fame is the ultimate destination for the celebration and recognition of golf's greatest players and contributors and serves as an inspiration to golfers and fans worldwide. Open since 1998 and supported by all of the world's leading golf organizations, the Hall of Fame combines historic artifacts and personal memorabilia with interactive exhibits to tell the stories of the Hall of Fame members and the history of the game. The World Golf Hall of Fame is located at World Golf Village in St. Augustine, FL.

The Museum

Guests of the World Golf Hall of Fame will be greeted with the fascinating and comprehensive tale of golf's history and its development from the cradle in Scotland through its growth to the far reaches of the world. An exhibit in this area focuses on the role of The R&A, the history of the Open Championship, golf's longest-running major, and The Royal & Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews.

Jack Peter
Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, World Golf Hall of Fame

The Hall of Fame members' stories are referenced throughout the museum, though their true home is in the center of the museum, Shell Hall, named for the Hall of Fame's founding partner, Shell Oil Company. An extraordinary "Wall of Fame" donning hand-crafted bronze-relief plaques of each member extends an entire wall, representing the current 109 members. And, guests can search for statistics, sound bites, photographs and video clips in a comprehensive database developed by technology partner IBM.

As a fitting tribute to the highest achievement in golf, significant tournament trophies, including men's and women's majors, are artfully displayed in the Hall of Fame Tower. A locker room showcases memorabilia from many of the members, and guests have the opportunity to sink a long putt on a modern tournament-style putting green under the lights and cameras of a Shell's Wonderful World of Golf match. Video is featured throughout the museum, including the multi-screen experience called "Spirit of the Game" and a theater offering great championship moment highlights.

Special Exhibits

The World Golf Hall of Fame opens various temporary exhibits throughout the year, many featuring its members. An exhibit featuring Hall of Fame Global Ambassador Gary Player is open through Summer 2007, as are the special displays highlighting the personal and professional achievements of the 2006 Class of Inductees.

Avenues for Induction

There are five avenues for a player or contributor to enter the World Golf Hall of Fame: PGA TOUR/Champions Tour ballot, International ballot, LPGA Point System, Lifetime Achievement category and Veteran's category.

Various criteria is set up for players to be eligible for the PGA TOUR/Champions Tour and International ballots, including an age requirement of at least 40 years old and a record that includes a combination of regular tournament victories and majors.

The LPGA Point System requires a player to be an active member of the LPGA Tour for 10 years and to have won either an LPGA major tournament, Vare Trophy or Rolex Player of the Year honors, plus a number of other tournament victories.

Nominations for the Lifetime Achievement category are made by the international voting body members. The category is designed for any male or female supporter of the sport whose primary role in the game has come outside the playing arena. The World Golf Foundation Board of Directors' Selection Committee decides this category each year.

Any male or female professional or amateur whose playing career concluded at least 30 years ago is eligible for selection through the Veteran's category. The World Golf Foundation Board of Directors' Selection Committee also determines this category each year.

Founding Partner

As sole founding partner of World Golf Hall of Fame, Shell Oil Company provides financial support to the World Golf Foundation and supports its charitable initiatives aimed at introducing golf to young people, thereby promoting scholastic achievement, community service and those values intrinsic to the game of golf.

World Golf Village

The World Golf Hall of Fame is located at World Golf Village, a 6,300-acre golf resort and residential community located 10 minutes northwest of historic St. Augustine, FL, and 30 minutes south of Jacksonville. Named one of the "Top 75 Golf Resorts" in the United States by Golf Digest, World Golf Village draws guests from all over the United States and from around the world, offering a wide variety of recreational, entertainment, corporate meeting and residential options.

As the centerpiece of the Village, the World Golf Hall of Fame celebrates and recognizes the game's greatest players and contributors and serves as an inspiration to fans worldwide. The Hall of Fame features personal memorabilia and special exhibits highlighting its members, as well as historical and interactive displays that enable visitors to see and experience some of golf's most exciting aspects. Part of the Hall of Fame experience includes a round on the 18-hole natural grass putting course and a film at the adjacent IMAX® Theater, which offers a variety of films that are both educational and entertaining on an 80-foot-wide by six-story-high screen.

World Golf Village championship golf courses include the King & Bear, the only course co-designed by World Golf Hall of Fame members Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, and the Slammer & Squire, built by Bobby Weed with design consultants Sam Snead and Gene Sarazen, also World Golf Hall of Fame members. Both courses, which have hosted 10 nationally televised broadcasts, combine challenging obstacles with playability for all levels of golfers.

The PGA TOUR Golf Academy offers private lessons, clinics and golf schools by top-rated instructors who incorporate various teaching and video analysis systems into the lessons. The Academy offers a wide range of options year-round, including private lessons, clinics, golf schools and programs geared toward new golfers.

PGA TOUR Spa Laterra—the first such facility to bear the PGA TOUR name—is located at the King & Bear at World Golf Village and offers golf-enhancement services and fitness programs comparable to those used on TOUR. The full-service spa, part of the Laterra resort community, offers signature treatments and full, half and multi-day packages.

Dining options along the Walk of Champions include Murray Bros. Caddyshack, the flagship restaurant of actor-golfer Bill Murray and his five brothers, and Augustinos, an Italian steakhouse. PGA TOUR STOP, one of the largest golf stores in the country, anchors the retail area of World Golf Village. Also along the Walk of Champions, which is a half-mile track featuring engraved Hall of Fame member signatures in granite, guests can attempt to hit a ball 132 yards to the Challenge Hole's island green.

And Laterra Resort & Spa offers 135 well-appointed condominiums with immediate access to the adjacent PGA TOUR Spa Laterra.

The Neighborhoods of World Golf Village offer distinctive residential communities that blend world-class amenities with the convenience of shopping, healthcare, entertainment, first-rate schools and incredible golf.
