PGA TOUR Overview

The name of our organization is the PGA TOUR, a tax-exempt membership group of professional golfers that plays approximately 125 official-money tournaments on six tours—the PGA TOUR, PGA TOUR Champions, Web.com Tour, PGA TOUR Latinoamérica, Mackenzie Tour - PGA TOUR Canada and Ping An Bank China Tour - PGA TOUR China Series. Our headquarters are located in Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., southeast of Jacksonville.

We should be referred to as the PGA TOUR or TOUR (on second reference), but not the PGA, as we are a different organization than the PGA of America. The PGA is the Professional Golfers' Association of America, a membership organization for the nation's club professionals. The PGA runs the PGA Championship, Senior PGA Championship and Ryder Cup Matches, among other championships. The PGA headquarters are located in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

The PGA TOUR and PGA of America were affiliated until 1968, when the tournament players, a small subset of the total PGA membership, broke away to form the Tournament Players Division and gain more control of their finances and tournament schedule. The Tournament Players Division was renamed the PGA TOUR in 1975.

Three other American golf organizations are involved in men's professional tournament play, independent of the TOUR but with their marquee events included on the TOUR schedule as non-tour co-sponsored tournaments. The United

The inaugural season in 2012 featured 11 tournaments in seven countries in the Latin American region, since then it has grown to include 19 official events across 13 different countries in 2015. The Tour visits Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Puerto Rico and Uruguay. PGA TOUR Latinoamérica plans to continue expanding its reach into more countries in the region during the 2016 season.

Competition Awards: The leading money-winner at the end of each season is awarded the Roberto De Vicenzo Award, and the top-five money-winners from the PGA TOUR Latinoamérica Order of Merit earn Web.com Tour status for the following season.

Mackenzie Tour - PGA TOUR Canada

The Mackenzie Tour - PGA TOUR Canada (formerly known as the Canadian Tour) is a professional golf tour played across Canada. Since its inception as the Peter Jackson Tour in 1971, the Mackenzie Tour -

States Golf Association, with headquarters in Far Hills, N.J., oversees the national championships (U.S. Open, U.S. Senior Open, U.S. Amateur, U.S. Women's Amateur, etc.) and administers the Rules of Golf, among other duties. The Augusta (Ga.) National Golf Club plays host to the Masters Tournament. The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, oversees The Open Championship and administers the world's golf rules jointly with the USGA.

PGA TOUR Canada has evolved into a high-caliber, coast-to-coast training ground for professionals. Since 2013, the Mackenzie Tour has been part of the path to the PGA TOUR, providing access to the Web.com Tour for the top-five money-winners on the Order of Merit. Its alumni include not only the game's Canadian legends but also many of its most prominent international players, who have collectively won 123 PGA TOUR titles, through 2014-15.

Web.com Tour Qualifying Structure for Awarding 50 PGA TOUR Cards

Key Elements:

Beginning in 2013, the Web.com Tour became The Path to the PGA TOUR by awarding all 50 cards for the following PGA TOUR season.

The basic structure will remain the same in 2016, with the top-25 money winners from the Regular Season guaranteed PGA TOUR cards for the following PGA TOUR season and 25 additional cards available through the four-tournament Web.com Tour Finals.

The field makeup for the Finals also remains the same: the top-75 money leaders from the Web.com Tour at the end of the Regular Season; PGA TOUR members who are Nos. 126-200 on the FedExCup points list following the Wyndham Championship; and non-members who would have earned enough FedExCup points to place them 126-200 on the official FedExCup points list.

How the Qualifying Structure System Works:

1. While the top-25 players from the Web.com Tour Regular Season will earn their PGA TOUR cards, their order of priority won't be determined until the conclusion of the Web.com Tour Finals. They will carry their earnings into the Finals, and priority will be established based on the combination of Regular Season and Finals earnings.
2. Of those players from the Web.com Tour Regular Season top-25 list, the No. 1 player at the conclusion of the Finals based on combined Regular Season and Finals earnings will receive a full exemption to the PGA TOUR. So any top-25 player can earn the coveted No. 1 position if he performs well enough in the four Finals events. In addition to his PGA TOUR exemption, the No. 1 player receives an exemption into THE PLAYERS Championship for the upcoming season.

A separate money list for the Web.com Tour Finals will determine the final 25 PGA TOUR cards. The player who earns the most money during the four Finals events (if different from the combined money winner) will earn full exemption to the PGA TOUR plus an invitation to THE PLAYERS.
3. The ordering of all 50 players after the Web.com Tour Finals will be done on an alternating basis, with the top position going to the No. 1 player from the combined Regular Season and Finals money list and the second position going to the leading money winner from the four Web.com Tour Finals. The sequence then alternates between the combined Regular Season and Finals money list...e.g., No. 2 on the Regular Season/Finals money list becomes No. 3 in the ordering, No. 2 on the Finals money list becomes No. 4 in the ordering, and so on through the 25th player on both lists.

Miscellaneous:

1. In 2016, there will be a 21-event Regular Season, from February into August, followed by four events in September/early October, played in Cleveland, Ohio, Boise, Idaho, Columbus, Ohio, and Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.
2. Introduced in 2013 was the "Web.com Tour Qualifying Tournament", which feeds players directly to the Web.com Tour. The Final Stage is conducted in December. There is no longer a PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament. Pre-Stage, First Stage and Second Stage qualifiers precede the Finals and are played around the United States from September into November, setting the Finals' field of approximately 150 players. In 2015, there were more than 1,200 Qualifying Tournament entries.

History of the Web.com Tour (1990-Present)

UMBRELLA SPONSOR HISTORY

1990 - 1992	Ben Hogan Tour
1993 - 1999	Nike Tour
2000 - 2002	Buy.com Tour
2003 - 2012	Nationwide Tour
2012 - present	Web.com Tour (announced 6/27/12)

Even the most optimistic person couldn't have foreseen the success the Web.com Tour would have when it kicked off its inaugural season on Thursday, Feb. 2, 1990 at 7:30 a.m. PST at Bakersfield Country Club in Bakersfield, Calif.

The Web.com Tour began under corporate sponsorship of the Ben Hogan Company as the Ben Hogan Tour. The idea of former PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane R. Beman, the Web.com Tour was designed as a proving ground for up-and-coming golfers, as well as a place for PGA TOUR veterans to hone their skills as they prepared for the Champions Tour. It has become so much more than that.

For the first two years of the Tour, the top-five money winners were awarded PGA TOUR membership. Beginning in 1992, the PGA TOUR Policy Board voted that, due to the success graduating players were having on the PGA TOUR, the number of cards available would be increased to 10; and in 1997 the number was increased to 15. In 2003, 20 players earned their 2004 TOUR cards, with it growing to 25 in 2007 and reaching all 50 available PGA TOUR cards in 2013.

That first event in 1990 was won by Mike Springer, who went on to win two more times that year and finish fourth on the money list. He was joined in the first graduating class by Jim McGovern, Dick Mast, Ed Humenik and Jeff Maggert, who was leading money winner and Player of the Year.

However, the player who made the biggest impact on the PGA TOUR from the 1990 Tour was John Daly, winner of the only Ben Hogan Tour Qualifying Tournament. Daly won the 1991 PGA Championship as a rookie and went on to finish 17th on the PGA TOUR money list. Since then, he has added four more victories, including another major championship, the 1995 The Open Championship.

Tom Lehman first established himself as a top-flight player on the Tour in 1991. After two nondescript years on the PGA TOUR in the early 1980s, Lehman won a tournament on Tour in 1990. But 1991 was the breakthrough season in his comeback. He won three times and was the circuit's leading money-winner.

Californian John Flannery was the Player of the Year in 1992, winning Jimmy Walker was the 2004 Player of the Year and leading money winner, as well as one of five multiple winners during the season. Alums continued to excel, winning a record 22 PGA TOUR titles, while the Class of 2003 made history with five members winning on TOUR, with seven earning at least $1 million and eight finishing in the top 125.

In May, Daniel Chopra set a Tour record when he shot 30-under at the Henrico County Open. Tyler Williamson and Chris Nallen each fired 60s during the year, one shot off the Tour record.

Jason Gore was the lead story in 2005 when he captured the hearts of golf fans everywhere at the U.S. Open. He followed that performance with a record-setting three straight wins on the Web.com Tour and shot 59 in capturing the last one. He completed his season with a September victory on the PGA TOUR and was named Web.com Tour Player of the Year. Any other year, Troy Matteson would have walked off with that honor as he won twice, finished in the top 10 a dozen times and set a new single-season earnings record of $495,009.

The 2006 season featured a slate of 31 tournaments and $17 million. Ken Duke and Johnson Wagner battled throughout the year for top honors, with Duke emerging as the leading money winner and Player of the Year.

Five players won twice—Wagner, Tripp Isenhour, Craig Kanada, Brandt Snedeker and Kevin Stadler—with a record 10 players earning more than $300,000 and 22 collecting $200,000 or more.

The Class of 2005 made its mark on the PGA TOUR in 2006 with 12 of the 21 graduates finishing among the top 125 on the money list. Chris Couch, Eric Axley and Troy Matteson each won on TOUR. They were among eight 2005 graduates whose earnings exceeded $1 million.

On-course success was exceeded only by the good news that Nationwide and the PGA TOUR had reached a new five-year extension of Nationwide's umbrella sponsorship of the Tour through 2012.

In 2007, the Tour played for a record $18 million in prize money and a record 25 PGA TOUR cards were awarded at season's end. Australia's Nick Flanagan earned a three-win promotion to the PGA TOUR in August and later earned Player of the Year honors. Richard Johnson won the season-ending Tour Championship at Barona Creek to capture the money title. Another Aussie, Jason Day, 19, became the youngest three times and leading the Tour in earnings with $164,114.

On August 26, 1992 Nike, Inc., took over sponsorship of the Tour, beginning with the 1993 season. Sean Murphy was the star that year, setting records for wins in a season with four, career victories with five, and single-season earnings with $166,293. He added a sixth title in 1995.

While Murphy was busy setting records, his fellow Tour alumni were busy making names for themselves on the PGA TOUR. Daly collected his second career win in the 1992 B.C. Open, and others were beginning to earn their own hardware. McGovern, Mike Standly and Maggert all collected PGA TOUR titles in 1993, while Springer and Greg Kraft grabbed unofficial wins. The Tour Championship also was established in 1993 as a climax to the season. Rookie David Duval won the first Tour Championship, which featured only the year's top-50 money winners.

In 1994, Chris Perry showed that consistency has its own rewards. Although six players collected multiple victories that year, Perry's lone title in the Utah Classic, 10 top-10 finishes and no missed cuts earned him Player of the Year honors. He set a single-season earnings record with $167,148.

There were a number of firsts in 1994. In June, Tommy Armour III became the first player to win back-to-back tournaments—the Miami Valley Open and Cleveland Open. During the second round of the 1994 Shreveport Open, Omar Uresti set a record with nine consecutive birdies, setting a standard not only for the Web.com Tour but the PGA TOUR, Champions Tour and European Tour.

In May, Vic Wilk became the first left-hander to win an event, the Knoxville Open. Jerry Kelly continued the trend of the leading money-winner setting an earnings record in 1995 when he collected $188,878 to better Perry's year-old mark. Besides winning twice, Kelly posted 15 top-10 finishes.

Stewart Cink was the top story in 1996. The 1995 College Player of the Year became the first player in Web.com Tour history to earn more than $200,000 in a single season with $251,699. He won three times, including the season-ending Tour Championship, and collected 14 top-10 finishes in only 21 events.

The 1997 season marked the first year of the three-win promotion, which grants immediate PGA TOUR access to any player who wins three Web.com Tour events in a season. Chris Smith was the first to do so winning that year's Upstate Classic as well as the Dakota Dunes Open and Omaha Classic in back-to-back weeks.

In October, Steve Flesch joined Wilk as the only left-handed champions. Flesch won the season-ending Tour Championship. That victory vaulted him from 24th on the money list to fourth, earning him 1998 PGA TOUR membership.

The 1998 season saw more of the kind of action for which the Web.com Tour has become known. During a three-week period late in the spring, Notah Begay III and Doug Dunaway caught the attention of the golf world when each posted 59. Begay's 13-under-par 59 came in the second round of the Dominion Open. Dunaway could have had the record all to himself were it not for a three-putt bogey on his final hole.

Bob Burns was named 1998 Player of the Year after leading in earnings with $178,664 and winning the Dominion Open and Tour Championship.

The 1999 season saw Carl Paulson establish a new record for consecutive starts with 83. The 83rd was particularly significant as Paulson recorded his first-ever Web.com Tour victory at the Utah Classic. That win, and another two weeks later in Boise, Idaho, vaulted Paulson to the top of the money list. His peers would later vote him Player of the Year. Seven players won twice on the Tour in 1999, and a record 22 earned more than $100,000.

The season-ending Tour Championship featured a thrilling finale at the Robert Trent Jones Trail Highland Oaks Golf Club in Dothan, AL. Bob Heintz won his second event of the season defeating Marco Dawson in a playoff to take home the largest check in Tour history—$72,000.

winner in Web.com Tour history when he won in Cleveland in July. Five of the top-seven money winners were international members, and eight players surpassed $300,000 in earnings. Brandt Snedeker, a 2006 graduate, was voted PGA TOUR Rookie of the Year. Zach Johnson, the 2003 Player of the Year, won the Masters.

The 2008 season featured record prize money of nearly $19 million. Brendon de Jonge of Zimbabwe earned Player of the Year honors. Matt Bettencourt finished the year with a flurry to capture the money title. Bettencourt and three other players, Jarrod Lyle, Scott Piercy and Colt Knost, won two events. The Tour added an event in Mexico and one in Canada featuring hockey legend Wayne Gretzky, and played its first two $1-million events, the Tour Players Cup in West Virginia and the Tour Championship.

The Web.com Tour celebrated its 20th year in 2009. Four cities, which have hosted tournaments every year since 1990 (Boise, Knoxville, Springfield and Wichita), were highlighted. Despite facing the most challenging economic time in decades, the Web.com Tour maintained a strong foundation, playing 29 tournaments—in the U.S. and in five countries abroad. Australian Michael Sim was the year's headliner as he rewrote the Tour's record book, earning a battlefield promotion to the PGA TOUR by August and pocketing $644,142. Alumni on the PGA TOUR racked up a record 23 titles, including majors by Lucas Glover (U.S. Open) and Cink (The Open Championship), upping the TOUR alumni win total to 260 at season's end since the Tour's inception.

An array of young talent led the charge in 2010, highlighted by 22-year-old Jamie Lovemark, who became the youngest player in Tour history to capture the money title. Thirteen of "The 25" graduates were age 27 or younger when they received their cards in October. The Tour visited a record six countries outside the U.S. over 29 events, making new stops in Bogota, Colombia, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and the PGA TOUR's home base of Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla. The year also featured tournament celebrity hosts in Camilo Villegas, Jerry Rice, Wayne Gretzky, Anthony Munoz, Arnold Palmer, Chip Beck, Gary Williams and Jim Furyk. On the PGA TOUR, alumni added a then-record 28 TOUR titles in 2010, raising the total win count to 288. Furyk became the first Web.com Tour alumnus to win the FedExCup and second to be voted PGA TOUR Player of the Year by his peers.

In 2011, four players—J.J. Killeen, Ted Potter, Jr., Mathew Goggin and Jason Kokrak—won two times and finished 1-4, respectively, on the money list, with Killeen capturing Player of the Year honors. Two of the most memorable wins came when Steve Wheatcroft set a 72-hole scoring record (255/29-under) and won by a record 12 shots at the Melwood Prince George's County Open and two-time heart transplant recipient Erik Compton won his first Tour event, at the Mexico Open. The Midwest Classic near Kansas City joined the schedule of 26 events. On the PGA TOUR, a record 32 of 45 official events were won by Tour alumni, raising the total to 320 wins since 1990. The 32 wins included seven by six players who competed on the Web.com Tour in 2010, highlighted by two Keegan Bradley wins, which included the PGA Championship. Bill Haas became the second alumni in a row (Jim Furyk) to capture the FedExCup.

The 2012 season was a significant one both on and off the golf course. Casey Wittenberg won twice, captured the money title and was named Player of the Year. Four promising young players joined him in winning twice—Ben Kohles and Luke Guthrie, both 22, Shawn Stefani, 31, and Russell Henley, 23. Kohles and Guthrie were college students before turning pro in June and had no Web.com Tour status. On the PGA TOUR, three alumni won majors, Bubba Watson (Masters), Webb Simpson (U.S. Open) and Ernie Els (The Open Championship), while fellow alum, Matt Kuchar, captured THE PLAYERS. For the third year in a row, a former Web.com Tour player, Brandt Snedeker, claimed the FedExCup. In late June, Web.com came on board as the Tour's new umbrella sponsor (through 2021), and a few weeks later the PGA TOUR announced that all 50 PGA TOUR cards would be awarded through the Web.com Tour, beginning in 2013, establishing the Web.com Tour as The Path to the PGA TOUR. The Tour added successful new events in Chile and Evansville, Ind., to the schedule. Bill Clinton became the first sitting or former President of the United States to attend a Web.com Tour event when he traveled to Bogota, Colombia, in February. The final class of 25 graduates was determined in dramatic fashion at the season-ending Web.com Tour Championship when a James Hahn up

In late October, internet superstore Buy.com was announced as the new umbrella sponsor of the Tour. With Buy.com's financial commitment, purses rose to a record $13.1 million in 2000, with the minimum purse jumping from $225,000 to $400,000. On the course, the 2000 season saw Spike McRoy earn Player of the Year honors after winning twice and earning a record $300,638. He was one of 53 players to earn $100,000 or more.

Tim Clark made history of his own in 2000 when he collected the first $100,000 payday on Tour by winning the Boise Open. The 2000 season was also notable for the emergence of international players who captured nine titles and claimed four of the top-15 spots on the money list.

The 2001 season was memorable when, for the second time, three players earned three-win promotions in one season. Heath Slocum was the first to do so, followed by Chad Campbell and Pat Bates, who won back-to-back tournaments to end the year. Todd Barranger tied the scoring mark by winning the Dayton Open with a 26-under-par effort, while Campbell set a single-season earnings record with $394,552 to capture Player of the Year. He also finished second at the PGA TOUR's season-ending Southern Farm Bureau Classic.

In 2002, the Tour added tournaments in Australia and New Zealand for the first time. In addition, tournaments were allowed to sell individual title sponsorships for the first time. Patrick Moore won three times and was named Player of the Year. A record 12 players earned $200,000 or more, and alums continued to excel winning a single season record 21 times on the PGA TOUR.

The season ended on a high note with the announcement of a new umbrella sponsor in Nationwide Insurance. The five-year agreement would start with the 2003 season and coincided with an increase in PGA TOUR cards awarded to 20.

Carter became only the sixth player to earn a three-win promotion to the PGA TOUR, yet did not win Player of the Year. That honor went to Zach Johnson, who set a Tour record for earnings with $494,882. He had two wins and nine top-three finishes in 20 starts while setting a new Tour scoring record of 68.97.

and down on the 72nd hole triggered a series of movements around the 25th spot, with Jim Herman the ultimate beneficiary. He grabbed the final spot by just $940. Justin Bolli won the tournament itself and also advanced to the PGA TOUR.

2013 was perhaps the most significant year in the history of this tour. The Web.com Tour became The Path to the PGA TOUR with all 50 available PGA TOUR cards awarded through it. The new TOUR qualifying structure also brought about a revamped schedule that featured 21 Regular Season events, followed by the season culminating four-event Web.com Tour Finals, which featured both Web.com Tour and PGA TOUR members. Season highlights included Michael Putnam capturing the Regular Season money title and being named Player of the Year and first-year member Chesson Hadley securing the Web.com Tour Championship, while earning the second most money in one year in Tour history, $535,432. With four top-five finishes, John Peterson would win the Finals money title. Putnam, Hadley, Ben Martin and Andy Svoboda finished the year with two victories a piece. Two players shot 59 in July - Will Wilcox at the Utah Championship and Russell Knox at the Albertsons Boise Open. Peter Malnati was a Monday qualifier in June who went on to win the News Sentinel Open in Knoxville and secure his PGA TOUR card. On the PGA TOUR, 2012 graduate Russell Henley won in his first start as a member, at the Sony Open in Hawaii. Beginning in 2013, the five leading money winners from PGA TOUR Latinoamérica and PGA TOUR Canada earned Web.com Tour playing privileges for the following season. In November, PGA TOUR China was announced, putting a similar arrangement in place beginning in 2014.

2014: The Web.com Tour celebrated its 25th season and highlighted events in Boise, Knoxville, Springfield, Mo. and Wichita that have been on the schedule all 25 years. For the second year, all 50 available PGA TOUR cards came through the Web.com Tour. Competitive highlights included Carlos Ortiz of Mexico becoming the first three-time winner since 2009. Adam Hadwin joined Ortiz as the season's only other multiple winner and captured the combined Regular Season and Finals' money list, with $529,792. Steven Alker outlasted Dawie van der Walt in an 11-hole playoff to match the longest overtime in TOUR history. Sebastian Cappelén of Denmark became the first Monday qualifier to win a tournament, the Air Capital Classic, since 2011. The 50th and final PGA TOUR card was settled by less than $32 on the final day of the season. Fellow players voted Ortiz as Player of the Year.

2015: Player of the Year Patton Kizzire led the money list for the final 16 weeks of the season to capture the combined Regular Season/Finals' money list, with $567,866, the second-most in Tour history. Coming off a Major Medical extension, Chez Reavie was the Finals' leading money winner, notching a victory and a runner-up in the four-event series. Their reward was exempt status on the PGA TOUR in 2015-16. Kizzire, Dawie van der Walt and Martin Piller were the Tour's multiple winners, each claiming two titles. The feel-good story of the year belonged to Rob Oppenheim, who fell from 24th to 26th in the final event of the Regular Season only to sneak in as the 25th Finals' card earner at the Web.com Tour Championship, by $101, when Lucas Glover bogeyed the 72nd hole, playing in the second-to-last group.

History

1990–2015. The Tour completed its 26th season in October, 2015.

Overview

Founded (1990), owned and operated by the PGA TOUR, the Web.Com Tour continues to identify those players who are ready to compete and win on golf's biggest stage. Beginning in 2013, the Web.com Tour became The Path to the PGA TOUR with all 50 available PGA TOUR cards coming through the Web.com Tour and the season culminating with the four-event Web.com Tour Finals. Web.com became the Tour's umbrella sponsor on June 27, 2012. A 10-year agreement (through 2021) is in place. 2015 was the Tour's 26th year of competition. Three out of four PGA TOUR members are Web.com Tour alumni. Tour alumni have won 425 PGA TOUR titles, including 21 majors, five PLAYERS Championships and four FedExCups. The PGA TOUR, through the efforts of its tours and their tournaments, sponsors, players and volunteers, surpassed $2 billion in charitable giving in January 2014. To learn more about the PGA TOUR and Web.com Tour and to follow the season-long quest for a PGA TOUR card, visit PGATOUR.COM, Twitter, Facebook and Instagram.

The Web.com Tour and its tournaments are committed to supporting charities in the communities in which events are played. Through January 2015, the tours of the PGA TOUR and their tournaments gave back $2.14 billion in charitable giving dating back to the first recorded donation in 1938. Annually, the Tour honors its Volunteer of the Year, with Bob Bidwell of the Rex Hospital Open being named in 2015.

2015 Schedule

The 2015 Web.com Tour schedule featured 25 events, played in 14 states and six countries outside the U.S. (Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Mexico and Panama). There were 21 Regular Season events,

2015 Graduates

The Web.com Tour graduated 50 players to the PGA TOUR at the end of the 2015 season. The first 25 cards were earned via the 21-event Regular Season, with a second set of 25 cards awarded based on performance in the four-event Web.com Tour Finals, which ended in early October. Patton Kizzire was the cumulative Regular Season/Finals' leading money winner. Chez Reavie was the Finals' leading money winner. Both are fully exempt on the PGA TOUR in 2015-16 and earned invitations to THE PLAYERS Championship. Kizzire was named 2015 Player of the Year.

PGA TOUR Impact

Every year, the impact of the Web.com Tour on the PGA TOUR grows. Since 1991, 425 PGA TOUR tournaments have been won by players with Web.com Tour roots, including all four major championships and five PLAYERS Championships. Every tournament on the PGA TOUR's 2015-16 schedule has been won by a former Web.com Tour player. Three out of four current PGA TOUR members, and 11 named to the 2015 Presidents Cup and seven members of the 2014 U.S. Ryder Cup team, are Web.com Tour alumni. In recognition of the Tour's growing stature and competitive impact, the PGA TOUR Policy Board announced in March 2012 that all 50 available PGA TOUR cards for the following season would come through the Web.com Tour, beginning in 2013, with the season culminating at the four-event Web.com Tour Finals. Also new in 2013 was the awarding of Web.com Tour membership for the following season to the five leading money winners from both PGA TOUR Latinoamérica and Mackenzie Tour-PGA TOUR Canada. In November, 2013, PGA TOUR China was announced with a similar arrangement put in place, beginning in 2014.

Ended the year No. 4 on the Order of Merit, knocking Justin Shin out of the top five after the Capital Airlines - HNA Real Estate Championship...Played in his second Ping An China Tour event as a professional at the Buick Open and made it a successful one, finishing T4 at the Buick Open at Mission Hills GC in early April. Was 1-over at the 36-hole mark then took advantage of a 5-under 67 to move into contention with a round to play. Couldn't make a Sunday charge, settling for an even-par 72 and a T4 finish with John Yong Kim and Yi Cao, four shots behind champion Josh Geary...Took a share of the 36-hole lead at The Eternal Courtyard Open in May and was only a stroke behind leader John DelPrete with 18 holes to play after an even-par 72 Saturday. Matched that score Sunday, with a double bogey-7 on the par-5 10th hole his undoing. Did not make a birdie on his final nine holes after making three on the front nine Sunday. Finished T6 with three others...Notched his third top-10 of the season when he finished fifth at the Cadillac Championship in Beijing in mid-September. Four under-par rounds—68-71-67-71—left him five shots short of winner Bryden Macpherson...Entered the final round of the Lushan Open in mid-October tied for 10th and moved up three places on the final day with a 2-under 68. Couldn't gather any momentum after a birdie on No. 9 on the final day, making nine consecutive pars to complete his round. Finished five shots behind winner Macpherson...Had three under-par rounds to go with a 1-over 73 in the third round of the World Golf Championships-HSBC Champions in early November. Finished T51 with Lee Westwood and Chris Wood...Was a tough-luck runner-up at the Nine Dragons Open in mid-November. Enjoyed four under-par rounds at Nine Dragons GC, the only player in the field with that distinction. His final-round 69 was enough to force a playoff with countryman Haimeng Chao. In the sudden-death extra session on Nine Dragons' No. 18, hit his second shot into the hazard, incurring a one-stroke penalty. Eventually conceded the hole when Chao had a tap-in-length putt for par, a score he could not match. It was his third top-five of the season and his second runner-up showing to go with his 2014 Buick Open second-place finish when he was still an amateur...Had a second consecutive close call only to once again come up short. Took a share of the 54-hole lead into the final round of the Hainan Open in late-November. Tied with Mu Hu following rounds of 69-76-70 at windswept Dragon Valley GC, held a two-shot lead midway through the back nine only to take a triple bogey 7 at the 15th hole. Cut leader Huilin Zhang's lead to one with a birdie on No. 17, but then missed a chip for birdie on 18 that would have forced a playoff. Settled for a T3 when he missed his par effort...Played clutch golf all week at the season-ending Capital Airlines - HNA Real Estate Championship and saved his best for last, shooting a final-round, 5-under 66 to finish solo third and earn ¥81,600. Finished three shots behind winner Zeyu He but earned enough money to slide into the fourth position on the Order of Merit after beginning the week at No. 6.

BEST 2015 WEB.COM TOUR FINISHES:

T6–Price Cutter Charity Championship presented by Dr Pepper.

INTERNATIONAL VICTORIES:

(1) 2014 Nanshan China Masters [OneAsia].

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Finished the Web.com Tour season with 23 starts, one top-10, seven top-25s and 16 cuts made. Was 61st on the final combined money list...Hovered near the lead in the first two rounds of the season-opening Panama Claro Championship, his first career Web.com Tour start. Grabbed the 54-hole lead at 9-under after a 5-under 65 at the windswept Panama GC. Led by one heading into the final round but failed to make a birdie on the last day. Fell behind with three bogeys on the front nine and then stumbled at the finish with three more bogeys down the stretch, finishing with a 6-over 76 that put him solo

11th. Victory in Panama would have made him the youngest tournament winner in Web.com Tour history, two months younger than 2007 winner Jason Day...Opened 71-73 at the European Tour's Shenzhen International in April before making his move on the weekend. Shot a 7-under 65 in the third round at Genzon GC then fired a Sunday 67 to take a two-stroke clubhouse lead. Watched as Thailand's Kiradech Aphibarnrat tied him with an eagle at the par-5 17th hole, enough to force a playoff. Watched on the first playoff hole as Aphibarnrat drained a 12-foot birdie putt to win. Settled for a second-place finish and a €257,442 payday...A week later, at the Volvo China Open, was again in contention before a final-round 74 at Tomson Shanghai Pudong GC left him T6, three shots behind winner and countryman Ashun Wu...In August, picked up his first career Web.com Tour top-10 in his 17th Tour start. Opened the Price Cutter Charity Championship 68-66-69. Eagled the par-5 finishing hole at Highland Springs CC in the first and third rounds. Started the final round tied for 18th, then fired a back-nine 31 for a T6 showing. The career-low performance moved him from No. 57 to No. 40 on the money list at the time. Finished the Regular Season 49th on the money list, playing in 20 of the 21 tournaments...In the Web.com Tour Finals, made two of four cuts (T66 and T61)...Arrived in Shanghai with hopes of earning his first PGA TOUR victory in front of his home-country fans. Opened the World Golf Championships-HSBC Champions with a 6-under 66 and was three back of Branden Grace. After a second-round 69, moved into contention with a third-round 66 that placed him one off the lead. Played the final round with Jordan Spieth and struggled out of the gate. Rebounded nicely on the back nine, got up and down for par on the 72nd hole and recorded a T7 with Spieth, Patrick Reed and Matthew Fitzpatrick. His performance at Sheshan International GC was the highest finish by a player from China in PGA TOUR history, surpassing the T8 by Wenchong Liang at the 2010 PGA Championship.

BEST 2015 WEB.COM TOUR FINISHES:

T18–Utah Championship presented by Zions Bank.

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Played 20 events on the Web.com Tour, making nine cuts, with his best finish a T18 at the Utah Championship. Finished 126th on the Web.com Tour Regular Season money list... Following the Web.com Tour campaign, returned to China to finish the season on the Ping An Bank China Tour - PGA TOUR China Series. Played in eight tournaments, making all eight cuts, picking up two victories, six consecutive top-10s and a No. 1 finish on the Order of Merit, edging Josh Geary by a little more than ¥22,000. Will be fully exempt on the 2016 Web.com Tour... In his second start of the year, at the Cadillac Championship in Beijing, opened with an even-par 72 at Topwin G&CC before catching fire in the second round. Initially thought he had posted a 10-under 62 but settled on a 63 when he took a one-shot penalty for an illegal drop. The 9-under performance gave him a share of the 36-hole lead with Xinjun Zhang, amateur Cheng Jin and Junghwan Lee. After a 3-under 69, he entered the final round two shots behind leader Byungmin Cho. Took control of the event on the back nine on his way to a 4-under 68, good for a three-shot triumph over Cho that gave him his first professional victory... Came from behind on the final day at the Lushan Open in early October to record his second victory of the season in only four starts. Fired four consecutive 68s at Lushan International, which was enough to capture the title after beginning the final round tied with Yi Keun Chang and Xinjun Zhang, a stroke behind 54-hole leader Sejun Yoon. Played bogey-free on his front nine Sunday and then picked up steam with a birdie on the par-5 ninth. Made two more birdies in succession, and by the time he reached the 18th tee, he held a four-shot lead. Double-bogeyed the final hole for a two-shot margin over Yoon and T.K. Kim. Moved to No. 2 on the Order of Merit at the time and improved to No. 417 in the Official World Golf Ranking, his highest career position... Appeared ready to win his second tournament in a row and third of the season after he made four consecutive birdies early in his final round at the Chongqing Jiangnan Newtown KingRun Open. Began the day a stroke behind 54-hole leader Zhang but moved ahead after his early four-birdie flurry. Made 11 consecutive pars after that as Zhang pulled ahead. His hopes of winning ended at No. 17 when he made a bogey. Finished solo second, four shots behind Zhang's winning pace... Continued his stellar play at the Nine Dragons Open. Never really threatened the leaders all week, but solid rounds of 70-72-70-71 left him T5 with four others, allowing him to inch closer to Geary on the Order of Merit, with Geary finishing T15. Improved his streak of par-or-better rounds to 24. Was also one of two players to record three eagles during the week (Bin Yan was the other).

3-BMW Charity Pro-Am Presented by SYNnex Corporation.

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Finished the Web.com Tour season with 18 starts, one third-place finish, three top-25s and nine cuts made. Was 80th on the combined final money list...First top 10 came in his eighth start, at the BMW Charity Pro-Am, which featured a near history-making final round. After an opening 71 and a pair of 67s in the middle rounds, recorded four birdies and an eagle (No. 5) on Sunday morning en route to a front-nine 29. Five more birdies on the back nine (Nos. 10, 12-14, 15) put him in position to possibly join five other Tour players who'd shot 59. Parred the 17th hole and had a 12-footer for birdie on the 18th, only to come up a bit short and left. Became the 23rd player in Tour history to shoot 60 and only one to do so in 2015. Set a new course record at Thornblade Club with his 11-under-par effort. The solo third was his best finish on Tour since a win at the 2007 Cox Classic...After a T30 and a T13 in his next two starts, the remainder of his season was lackluster. Played in seven tournaments, with just two cuts made (T38, T43) to show for it. Would drop from 32nd in earnings to 66th during this period. One highlight was a hole-in-one during the second round of the News Sentinel Open in late August...Entered just one Web.com Tour Finals' event and withdrew (Hotel Fitness Championship).

BEST 2015 WEB.COM TOUR FINISHES:

P1-Rex Hospital Open.

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Finished the Web.com Tour season with 17 starts, one win, two top-10s, three top-25s and 11 cuts made. Was 37th on the final combined money list...Captured his fourth Tour win via a playoff at the Rex Hospital Open, which was only his second start of the season. With limited status, came into the Raleigh event at a career crossroad and seriously considering a future outside of the touring professional golf life. Grabbed the second-round lead after a 63-68 start. Added a third-round 69. Was T2, two shots off the pace entering the final round at TPC Wakefield Plantation. Made steady progress up the leaderboard and fired a 4-under 67, which put him at 17 under and tied with clubhouse leaders Patton Kizzire and Miguel Angel Carballo. Drained a 4-foot birdie putt on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff to get the win. Became the first player in Tour history to win the same event three times (also 2007 and 2011). Victory was worth $112,500 and moved him to No. 15 on the money list through 10 of the 21 Regular Season events...Made plenty of cuts (10 of 12) through the end of the Regular Season, but managed just one more top 10, a T10 at the Stonebrae Classic in July. Slid outside the top

25 to No. 30 by the end of Regular Season...Made one PGA TOUR start, missing the cut at the Farmers Insurance Open after successfully Monday qualifying...In the Web.com Tour Finals, opened with a T64 at the Hotel Fitness Championship and missed the next three cuts.

BEST 2015 WEB.COM TOUR FINISHES:

T2—El Bosque Mexico Championship.

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Finished the Web.com Tour season with 24 starts, one runner-up, two top-10s, nine top-25s and 17 cuts made. Was 29th on the combined season-long money list...Solid start to the year included seven cuts made and no finish worse than a season-opening T34 in Panama...In his third event, the Cartagena de Indias at Karibana Championship in Colombia, opened with a 67. Played the final 54 holes at 1-over par for a T4...In his seventh event, fired 67-67 and was one behind the co-leaders after 36 holes. Was still one behind eventual winner Wes Roach starting play on Sunday. Sluggish start Sunday slowed his momentum, resulting in a final-round 71 and the eventual T2. Got to seventh on the money list...Was steady through the remainder of the Regular Season, yet top finishes were in short supply. Missed just three cuts and recorded four finishes of T26 or better, with a T15 at the Digital Ally Open his top effort...Finished the Regular Season 28th in earnings. Was No. 2 through the Regular Season in Driving Distance (319.5 yards)...In the Web.com Tour Finals, had an indifferent start, posting a T52, a missed cut and a T39 in the first three events. Was 62nd on the Finals' money list with one event to go and in need of a big week at the Web.com Tour Championship to get to No. 25 or better. Put himself in position with scores of 71-65-67 the first three trips around TPC Sawgrass. Was T7 and projected at No. 23 on the Finals' money list entering the last day of the season. In need of pars on the last three holes to secure a card, was done in by a ball in the water on No. 16 and a plugged lie in a greenside bunker at No. 17, both leading to bogeys. A final-round 70 and T12 finish pushed him to 39th on the Finals' money list, $6,280 short of the 25th and final spot.

PERSONAL:

Favorite golf memory was caddying in the Par 3 Contest at the Masters for his father...His father, Bob, has made more than 680 PGA TOUR starts and recorded eight wins...Follows the Oklahoma City Thunder...Twitter account is @KevinTway...Not many people know he sings in the shower...Supports the Scott Verplank Foundation...Always travels with his pillow and his cell phone is always on vibrate...Would love to trade places for a day with an astronaut.

2015 HIGHLIGHTS:

Finished the Web.com Tour season with 24 starts, one runner-up, four top-25s and eight cuts made. Was 65th on the final combined money list...Season began with four consecutive missed cuts, followed by T24, T32 and T37 in his next three starts...Lone top 10 came in late June at the Air Capital Classic, where he opened with a 66. Carded 65-66 to grab a two-stroke advantage after three rounds. Was bogey-free on Friday and Saturday, entering Sunday's play with the 54-hole lead (by two shots) for the first time in his career. Started the round with six consecutive pars before recording a bogey. Bounced back with a birdie at the next hole to go out in 35. Gained control of the tournament with a birdie at No. 10 but quickly fell back with back-to-back bogeys at 12 and 13. Regained composure, birdieing the next hole for a share of the lead with four to play. A bogey at the 72nd hole proved costly as he came up one shy of winner Rob Oppenheim. The 1-over 71 was good for a runner-up performance, a Tour-career best, and leaped him from 128th to 37th in earnings...Had two top 25s in his last eight starts to finish 54th on the Regular Season money list...Missed the cut in all four Web.com Tour Finals' events.

China's Hao Tong Li moved into the 54-hole lead following a 5-under 65 in Saturday's third round. Li, a 19-year-old from Shanghai, was the 2014 PGA TOUR China Series' Order of Merit winner.

Mathew Goggin's victory tied him with Gavin Coles for the most Tour titles by an Australian (five). Goggin collected a first-place check for $112,500.

In his four starts in Panama, Mathew Goggin recorded two wins and a second-place finish (2013). He missed the cut in his only other start (2014).

Hao Tong Li struggled to a 6-over 76 on the final day to finish 11th. A victory by Li would have made him the youngest winner in Web.com Tour history. Jason Day won the 2007 Legend Financial Classic at age 19 years, 5 months, 29 days.

Rhein Gibson celebrated his 29th birthday Sunday by matching the tournament record with a 7-under 28 on the front nine, making seven birdies to finish with a 66 and tie for sixth.

Of the 293 Web.com Tour members in 2015, Hao Tong Li started the year as the second-highest ranked player in the Official World Golf Ranking (No. 192). Only Greg Chalmers (No. 173) was ranked higher.

Hao Tong Li is the first China native to be a fully exempt member of the Web.com Tour or the PGA TOUR.

Oliver Goss moved to within three shots of the lead following the third round. Goss, 20, grew up in Australia, where he had an outstanding junior career. He moved to the United States when he was 18 to attend college at the University of Tennessee.

As runner-up at the 2013 U.S. Amateur, Oliver Goss earned a start at the 2014 Masters Tournament. He finished 49th as an amateur and turned pro a few months later.

Only eight players have managed to post four consecutive rounds in the 60s over the first 12 years of the tournament. No one was able to do it in 2015.

Notable firsts that took place included the first birdie of the 2015 season by Chase Wright. The first eagle came courtesy of Patrick Rodgers. Oliver Goss made the first ace of the year, at No. 13.

Tournament Record:

266 - Patrick Cantlay (2013)

Current Course Record:

62 - Bogota CC - Roberto Diaz (2015)

Rookie Patrick Rodgers rolled in an eight-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole to defeat Steve Marino at the weather-delayed event. Rodgers shot a bogey-free, 6-under 65 in the final round to erase a four-stroke deficit.

Patrick Rodgers and Steve Marino both finished at 17-under par after each birdied the final hole in regulation. With more rain in the forecast and darkness looming, the playoff did not take place at the par-5, 18th hole. Instead officials elected to use a rotation of the par-3 12th and the par-4 ninth holes for convenience and proximity.

Both Patrick Rodgers and Steve Marino made long, two-putt pars on the first hole. Rodgers put his 7-iron from 198 yards close on the second hole while Marino missed a long birdie attempt opening the door for Rodgers.

The victory for Patrick Rodgers came in only his seventh career Tour start and was worth $144,000, which moved him to No. 1 on the money list after two events.

Patrick Rodgers spent three years at Stanford University and was a three-time All-American for the Cardinal. He equaled the school record for wins (11) held by Tiger Woods, and he broke Woods' all-time scoring average. Rodgers turned pro in the summer of 2014.

Steve Marino's runner-up finish was his best in 35 career Web.com Tour starts. He is a four-time runner-up on the PGA TOUR.

Andrew Yun, who was a junior at Stanford when Patrick Rodgers was a freshman, shot a final-round 65 and tied for third.

Thunderstorms plagued the tournament in Bogota for the final three days, forcing officials to alter the schedule in order to complete 72 holes. Players completed the second round Saturday morning and the third round Sunday morning. Officials did not re-pair the players for the fourth round to speed up play.

Steve Marino played the first 57 holes without a bogey.

Mexico's Roberto Diaz celebrated his 28th birthday Tuesday of tournament week and shot a course-record, 9-under 62 in the opening-round Thursday to lead by three. Diaz held onto the lead through 36 holes but ultimately T6.

Aaron Watkins recorded the first ace in tournament history. During the second round, Watkins, a playoff runner-up to Steve Pate in 2010, made a hole-in-one at No. 12.

Texan Andrew Landry held steady during a windy week on the northern coast of Colombia and earned his first career title. Landry played his final 44 holes with only one bogey en route to a five-stroke win at TPC Cartagena at Karibana. Landry posted weekend scores of 67-69 and an 11-under 277 total to defeat Steve Allan and Miguel Carballo.

Andrew Landry earned his first win in his sixth career start by minimizing mistakes over 72 holes, with only four bogeys for the week. The next-best in the field was Jason Allred, who had eight above-par holes, which included a double bogey and a triple bogey.

A three-time All-American at the University of Arkansas, Andrew Landry collected a check for $126,000 and moved to No. 2 on the money list after three events.

Northeast wind reaching 25-35 mph kicked up every day around noon. Officials suspended second-round play at 2:30 p.m., Friday, and play did not resume until Saturday morning. Officials halted third-round play for about 12 hours Saturday afternoon.

Due to time constraints, officials did not re-pair players for the final round following the conclusion Sunday morning of their third rounds. The final round began more than an hour before the third round officially ended. Winner Andrew Landry, who held a share of the 54-hole lead, was in the middle of the pack and finished his fourth round an hour before the last groups completed play.

Andrew Landry became the second first-time winner and second rookie winner on Tour in three events, joining Indiana's Patrick Rodgers.

When high-wind gusts in excess of 40 mph halted play Friday and Saturday, it marked the fourth and fifth times in Tour history that wind halted play.

The final-round scoring average of 73.959 was the highest on Tour since 2008.

Fifty-four hole co-leader Peter Malnati fired a 5-under 66 to pull away from the field and earn his second career win. Malnati closed with three consecutive birdies to finish at 22-under par for a four-stroke win over a group of seven runners-up.

Vaulting from No. 88 to No. 2 on the money list, Peter Malnati earned a check for $153,000.

Peter Malnati's second career win came in his 26th career start. His first victory came at the 2013 News Sentinel Open in Knoxville, Tenn., where he lives.

Leading the field with 30 birdies, the only holes Peter Malnati did not birdie at least once were Nos. 1 and 10 (three pars and one bogey on each).

In his 2014 rookie season on the PGA TOUR, Peter Malnati made only five cuts in 18 starts, with three top-25 finishes. His best showing was a tie for 14th at the Puerto Rico Open.

The seven-way tie for second place matched a Tour record for the most runners-up, which previously occurred at the 1995 Permian Basin Open in Odessa, Texas.

Argentina's Julian Etulain dominated the front nine at the Sao Paulo Golf Club with 17 birdies (no bogeys) on the par-35 side. He posted nine-hole scores of 32-32-29-30, making at least one birdie on every hole, and played the back nine in 1-under for the week.

Rain and thunderstorms plagued the tournament for the first three days. None of the first three rounds were completed until the following morning. Lift, clean and place conditions were in effect for the final two rounds.

There were seven Brazilian players in the field but only one, Lucas Lee, made the cut, tying for 69th.

Tournament Record:

Current Course Record:

63 - Club de Golf Mapocho - Jhared Hack (2015), Tain Lee (2015)

Dawie van der Walt fired a 6-under 65 in Sunday's final round and earned his first career title. The 32-year old South African held steady in the wind and birdied the last hole to distance himself from the remaining challengers. At 21-under 263, van der Walt finished two shots in front of playing partner Erik Barnes, who closed with three consecutive birdies for solo second place.

Dawie van der Walt earned his maiden Web.com Tour win in his 71st career start and his first appearance of the year. He collected a check for $108,000, which moved him to No. 5 on the money list through five weeks of the schedule.

Dawie van der Walt became the sixth player from South Africa to win on Tour joining countrymen Tim Clark, Garth Mulroy, Brenden Pappas and Deane Pappas (two wins each) and Trevor Immelman (one victory).

Only two of nine players from Chile made the 36-hole cut, including Juan Cerda (tied for 36th) and amateur Matias Dominguez (tied for 30th).

Texas Tech senior Matias Dominguez, a Santiago native and sponsor exemption, birdied his final hole Sunday for a 1-under 70 and a tie for 30th. The 22-year-old Dominguez, an amateur, won the Latin American Amateur Championship in Argentina on January 18 and earned several exemptions in the process, including a spot in the Masters Tournament.

Craig Barlow, the 54-hole leader, made a hole-in-one during the final round. Barlow aced the 214-yard, eighth hole using a 6-iron.

When Craig Barlow (T3) opened with rounds of 67-64, marking the first time he made a 36-hole cut since 2012.

Tournament Record:

260 - Casey Wittenberg (2012)

Current Course Record:

60 - Le Triomphe G&CC - Brenden Pappas (2007)

Former U.S. Amateur champion Kelly Kraft came from six shots off the pace in the final round to win the Chitimacha Louisiana Open, his first professional victory. Kraft fired a 6-under 65 in the closing round and finished at 14-under 270, one shot better than D.H. Lee and Rhein Gibson.

Kelly Kraft rolled in consecutive birdie putts at Nos. 15, 16 and 17 to put him atop the leaderboard. He waited out the final six groups, and when no one could match his 14-under 270 total, was declared winner.

With a first-place check of $99,000, Kelly Kraft jumped from No. 68 to No. 6 on the money list through six events. Kraft became the 15th player in the tournament's 24-year history to earn his first career win at Le Triomphe and the first since Casey Wittenberg in 2012.

Peter Malnati shot a final-round 64 and moved into a tie for seventh. His paycheck of $7,715 pushed him past Patrick Rodgers into the top spot on the Tour's money list.

China's Hao Tong Li was in the final pairing Sunday and was attempting to match Jason Day's record as the youngest player to win on Tour. Day was 19 years, 7 months, 26 days when he won the 2007 Legends Financial Classic. Li's age Sunday was exactly the same as Day's.

Officials disqualified Wes Roach for signing an incorrect scorecard in the third round. Roach would go on to earn his first career win in the Tour's next event, the El Bosque Mexico Championship.

Wes Roach earned his first career win at the El Bosque Championship. Roach moved into the 54-hole lead with a 7-under 65 in the third round and led by one stroke to begin the final round. Birdies at Nos. 1 and 5 set the stage, and three consecutive birdies starting at No. 10 sealed the deal. Roach carried a four-shot cushion to the end for a 17-under 271 total.

Wes Roach picked up a check for $126,000 and vaulted from No. 37 to No. 2 on the money list, trailing only fellow Knoxville resident Peter Malnati.

Earning his first win in his 54th career start on Tour, Wes Roach's previous-best finish was a tie for second at the 2013 tournament.

With his win at age 26 years, 4 months, 9 days, Wes Roach became the fifth first-time winner this season and also the fifth player in his 20s to win through the schedule's first seven events.

As a rookie on the 2014 PGA TOUR, Wes Roach made 11 cuts in 22 starts. His best finish was a tie for fourth at the Puerto Rico Open, and he ended the year No. 153 on the FedExCup points list.

Rookie Patton Kizzire birdied the final hole for a bogey-free, 5-under 67 to finish tied for second, moving to No. 6 on the money list after T4 and T9 finishes earlier this season.

Munich-born Stephan Jaeger posted a career-best tie for fourth in Leon. Jaeger started the season by missing the cut in his first six starts and broke par only twice in 12 previous rounds. A paycheck for $30,800 placed the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga graduate at No. 53 on the money list.

Jeff Gove made a pair of eagles during Saturday's third round, but neither came on a par-5. Instead, Gove made a hole-in-one (No. 3) and an eagle-2 (No. 11) en route to a 4-under 68. The former Pepperdine Wave accomplished the same feat during a practice round in college at the El Caballero Country Club in Encino, Calif., in 1993.

There were 16 players in the field who were either born, grew up and/or currently live in Mexico, but only four made the cut. The top finisher was 30-year-old Yoshio Yamamoto, who was born in San Diego but attended high school in Mexico. Yamamoto tied for 11th in his third career start and earned a berth in the Tour's next event. Yamamoto graduated from Austin Peay State University in Tennessee.

Rookie Smylie Kaufman fired a 1-over-par 73 to coast to a five-shot win over Jonathan Randolph, Adam Long and Ryan Spears. Kaufman moved into a four-shot lead after 54 holes, thanks to a course-record-matching, 8-under 64 Saturday. Three consecutive birdies in Sunday's finale increased Kaufman's lead to eight shots.

In his sixth start this season, Smylie Kaufman earned his first career win. Kaufman's check for $108,000 moved him from No. 28 to No. 4 on the money list.

Smylie Kaufman became the third rookie to win this season and the sixth first-time winner in 2015.

The sixth player in his 20s to win this year, Smylie Kaufman's victory came at age 23 years, 5 months, 3 days.

Smylie Kaufman's five-shot win is the largest winning margin in the tournament's four-year history.

The par-72 Victoria National Golf Club played to a scoring average of 74.248 for the week. The course was the third-toughest on Tour for the previous three years.

The 36-hole cut came at 4-over 148, the highest in the tournament's four-year history. In 2012, the cut was at 1-under and, in both 2013 and 2014, the cut came at 1-over par.

Australian Rod Pamplung fired a 5-under 66 in Sunday's final round to cap off a wire-to-wire victory and earn his first Web.com Tour title. Pamplung, 45, fired back-to-back 63s and opened a four-shot lead at the halfway mark. The transplanted Texan was ahead by two after 54 holes and held steady on the last day, despite an early push from several challengers. Pamplung bounced back from a bogey on No. 15 with a birdie at 16 and re-established his lead over Kelly Kraft, who kept pace with a 66 of his own. Pamplung finished at 25-under par, two better than Kraft, winner of the Chitimacha Louisiana Open earlier in the year.

Rod Pamplung picked up a check for $121,500 for the win and moved from No. 72 to No. 8 on the money list through nine of 21 Regular Season events. He is the first player to win wire to wire on Tour since Andres Gonzales at the 2014 Utah Championship.

Rod Pamplung became the seventh first-time winner on Tour in nine 2015 events.

Sixteen teams (six celebrity and 10 amateur) advanced to Sunday's final round. The team of Peter Malnati and actor Lucas Black finished at 44-under par to win the celebrity portion of the event. Professional Kelly Kraft and partner Richard Kay also finished at 44-under par to win the amateur portion. Rod Pamplung and his partner, Stewart Spinks, were one shot back, at 43-under.

Roland Thatcher had everyone on "59" watch early Sunday after he recorded eight birdies and an eagle in his first 14 holes. A birdie at No. 16 left him within one of the coveted number, but he watched in disbelief as his downhill, 12-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole came up inches short, and he had to settle for an 11-under 60, which eventually pushed him into solo third place.

Ryan Blaum and Seamus Power were paired together in the final round and each came up with shots of the day. Blaum started things with a double eagle at the par-5 fifth hole, while Power followed with a hole-in-one at the par-3 17th.

Mark Blakefield reeled off seven consecutive birdies during his back nine at Green Valley Country Club in Saturday's third round. Blakefield started his run at No. 11 and finished at No. 17. His streak ended with a bogey at the closing hole, good for a 64, and his 18-under total resulted in a second-place tie after 54 holes.

Scott Parel celebrated his 50th birthday Friday with a 7-under-par 65 at The Reserve at Lake Keowee that featured a hole-in-one at No. 16.

James Nitties recorded the first double eagle of the season. Nitties holed his second shot from 185 yards at the par-5, 11th hole at The Reserve at Lake during the second round..

Brad Schneider became the first player in tournament history to register three eagles in a round during Friday's second round at Green Valley Country Club. Schneider eagled Nos. 6 and 7, the second coming on a par-4. He added a third at the par-5 16th hole. Schneider missed the 54-hole cut.

Kyle Thompson rolled in a four-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole to beat Patton Kizzire and Miguel Carballo and made the Rex Hospital Open his third career win. Thompson fired a 4-under 67 Sunday at TPC Wakefield Plantation to finish at 17-under 267, earning him a spot in the Tour's second playoff of the season. All three players halved the first extra hole with pars and returned to the tee on the 440-yard 18th hole. Carballo missed a 30-foot birdie putt, and Kizzire watched his seven-foot birdie try slide past the cup, setting the stage for Thompson's winning putt.

Kyle Thompson came into the week thinking he was about to reach a major crossroad in his career. "It's very emotional. I can't even put into words what it means to win this golf tournament," he said. "I kept my head down and kept doing the best I could. I had total belief that I was going to win this tournament, but I don't know where that came from. It means I get to keep playing golf for a living. If I miss the cut, I'm looking for a job. Literally, I'm at the end of my rope. Miracles happen."

With his fourth career win in his 235th career start on Tour, Kyle Thompson improved his career playoff record to 2-1.

After missing the cut in his only previous start on Tour this season, the BMW Charity Pro-Am, Kyle Thompson's first-place check, worth $112,500, moved him to No. 15 on the money list.

With the victory, Kyle Thompson became the first player in Tour history to win the same event three times (2007 and 2011). He was previously one of 13 players who had won the same event twice.

Kyle Thompson's win comes at age 36 years, 1 month, 6 days.

Patton Kizzire collected a check for $55,000 for his runner-up finish. That pushed his season total to $217,099, good for the No. 1 spot on the money list. Kizzire missed the cut in his first start of the year but then made the next nine in a row for six top-10 finishes, including his last four starts.

Longtime North Carolina resident Harold Varner III of Gastonia held a two-shot lead after three rounds. A Sunday 71 resulted in tie for sixth, following a tie for second last year.

Idahoan Tyler Aldridge held off a host of Sunday challengers with a 4-under 68 to win by two shots for his first career title. Aldridge, the 54-hole leader, maintained his lead with an eagle at the par-5 12th hole and slowly pulled away from the field. The 30-year-old Boise-area resident cemented his lead with birdies at Nos. 14 and 16 for a 23-under 265 total.

On the strength of his $90,000 winner's check, Tyler Aldridge moved from No. 38 to No. 9 on the money list after 11 of 21 Regular Season events.

Tyler Aldridge earned his first career win in his 57th career start. His previous-best finish was a solo second at the 2009 Utah Championship.

In his last three starts on Tour, Tyler Aldridge won the Greater Dallas Open, tied for sixth and tied for 14th. Also in that period, he recorded 12 consecutive under-par rounds, with a cumulative 54-under par total and a scoring average of 67.00.

Tyler Aldridge is the season's eighth first-time winner on Tour in 11 events.

Lucas Lee, making only his 10th career start and fourth of the year, fired a 65 on the final day at The Lakes at Castle Hills to tie for second.

Monday qualifier Greg Yates made his first career start at the Greater Dallas Open, finishing two strokes behind winner Tyler Aldridge, to tie for second. The top-five finish earned Yates, a recent Texas A&M graduate, a berth in the Rust-Oleum Championship the following week.

Leading money winner Patton Kizzire saw his streak of four consecutive top-10 finishes come to an end. Tied for 10th after 54 holes, Kizzire stumbled Sunday to a 2-over 74 to tie for 33rd. The Tour record for consecutive top-10 finishes is six, held by three players.

The 36-hole cut came at 6-under par, matching the fourth-lowest cut in Tour history. The record of 7-under par last occurred at the 2006 Chattanooga Classic.

Following a two-hour, 40-minute rain delay, Shane Bertsch closed with four consecutive pars to post a 5-under 66 Sunday to earn his third career title. Bertsch's 18-under-par 266 finish topped Lucas Lee by a stroke.

Shane Bertsch collected a check for $108,000 to vault from No. 35 to No 5 on the money list after 12 of 21 Regular Season events.

The number 23 proved lucky for both Shane Bertsch and LeBron James. Officials gave Bertsch locker No. 23, and the Cleveland Cavaliers' James, who wears uniform No. 23, led his team into the NBA Finals during the tournament week.

At age 45 years, 3 months, 11 days, Shane Bertsch's win marked the fifth-longest period between wins in Web.com Tour history. Bertsch's previous win came at the 2005 BMW Charity Pro-Am, a span of 10 years, 1 month, 13 days.

Brazil native Lucas Lee finished solo second in Cleveland, one week after tying for second at the Greater Dallas Open. Lee, who played college golf at UCLA, moved from No. 120 to No. 16 in a two-week span.

Leading money-winner Patton Kizzire's tie-for-third finish was his seventh top-10 this season and fifth in his last six starts.

Taylor Pendrith, a 2014 graduate of Kent State University, gained a spot in the field on a sponsor exemption and tied for third in his first career Web.com Tour start. His top-25 effort earned him a berth in the following week's Air Capital Classic in Wichita.

Peter Malnati celebrated his 28th birthday Saturday with second- and third-round leads in the weather-delayed event. He finished his second round in the morning and was up by one shot when play finished. His third-round 67 put him ahead by two after 54 holes.

Dawie van der Walt (first round) and Si Woo Kim (third round) posted 9-under 62s to match the Lakewood Country Club's course record. Mathew Goggin set the mark in the second round in 2014.

61 - Greg Fleischer (1991) - Reflection Ridge GC

61 - Eric Hoos (1991) - Reflection Ridge GC

Rob Oppenheim posted a final-round, bogey-free, 6-under 64 at the Air Capital Classic then waited 70 minutes before the tournament's final pairing began. After saving par with a 10-foot putt on the final hole, he waited for Andy Winings, the third-round leader, to finish before Oppenheim knew the outcome. When Winings closed with a bogey-5, Oppenheim earned his first career Web.com Tour win.

Rob Oppenheim, 35, collected the win in his 129th career start. His previous-best finish was a tie for fourth at the 2012 Chile Classic and the 2014 South Georgia Classic.

With his winner's check of $108,000, Rob Oppenheim increased his season's total to $146,227, enough to move from No. 70 to No. 13 on the money list following 13 of 21 Regular Season events.

As a Monday qualifier in 2007, Rob Oppenheim made his Tour debut at the Air

Capital Classic, shooting rounds of 70-68, only to miss the cut by one stroke.

With the win, Rob Oppenheim became the ninth first-time winner on Tour this season.

As a 2002 graduate of Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., Rob Oppenheim became the first alumnus of Rollins to win in Web.com Tour history. Mike Nicolette was the only player from Rollins to win a PGA TOUR event, defeating Greg Norman in a playoff to win the 1983 Bay Hill Classic in Orlando.

Rob Oppenheim has made only three career PGA TOUR starts—two in 2006, and a missed cut at the 2014 U.S. Open.

Rob Oppenheim's 64 was the lowest final-round score by a tournament winner on the 2015 Web.com Tour. Moreover, the 64 was his career-low, final-round score. His previous-best was a 65, which he carded three times, including at the 2013 Air Capital Classic when he tied for 11th.

Abraham Ancer rolled in a 15-foot birdie putt on the first playoff hole to beat fellow Texan Bronson Burgoon for his first professional win.

Abraham Ancer and Bronson Burgoon started the fourth round in a Web.com Tour-record six-way tie for the lead, and the duo played together in Sunday's final pairing. Jason Allred (64), Travis Bertoni (68) and D.H. Lee (69) were all in the clubhouse at 12-under, preparing for an overtime session as Ancer and Burgoon, also at 12-under, faced the last hole, an uphill par-4 that played as the week's most-difficult. Ancer canned a 30-footer for birdie to break the tie and then watched as Burgoon rolled in a 10-footer on top of it to join him in the Tour's third playoff of the season and the second in Halifax in as many years.

On the playoff hole (No. 18), Abraham Ancer hit a 6-iron from 193 yards, nearly identical to his approach yardage in regulation but striking a better lie. His 7-iron landed 10 yards short of the pin and funneled left of the flag, finishing a few feet away from where Burgoon putted a few minutes later.

Abraham Ancer and Bronson Burgoon avoided what could have been a Tour-record five-way playoff.

In his 18th Tour career start, Abraham Ancer earned his first win on the Web.com Tour in his 14th appearance.

Abraham Ancer tied for second in mid-March at the Brasil Champions but had made only three cuts in nine starts prior to Nova Scotia.

Abraham Ancer's win came at age 24 years, 4 months, 8 days.

With the win, Abraham Ancer moved from No. 39 to No. 4 on the Tour money list through 14 of 21 Regular Season events.

Abraham Ancer became the 10th first-time winner in 14 Tour events this season and the second in as many weeks.

Additionally, Abraham Ancer became the fourth rookie to win on Tour in 2015, joining Patrick Rodgers, Andrew Landry and Smylie Kaufman.

Abraham Ancer became the fifth Mexican player to win in Tour history, accounting for the eighth win. The others: Keoke Cotner in 2000, Esteban Toledo in 2005, Alex Aragon in 2012 and 2013 and Carlos Ortiz, winning three times in 2014.

Bronson Burgoon's third-round 63 equaled the course record.

Jason Allred fired a 7-under 64 Sunday to finish at 12-under par, ending his round more than three hours ahead of the final pairing. His tie-for-third finish matched his career-best on the Web.com Tour.

South Korea's Si Woo Kim rolled in a three-foot birdie putt on the first playoff hole to defeat Wes Roach and Jamie Lovemark and win the Stonebrae Classic. The trio began the day as 54-hole co-leaders, and each fired 2-under-par 68s to finish at 12-under 268 to force the fourth playoff of the season.

Jamie Lovemark, in the second-to-last group, was 13-under after 17 holes of regulation play. However, he suffered consecutive horrendous lies on the par-5 18th and stumbled home with a bogey when his 10-foot par putt slid past the hole. Wes Roach and Si Woo Kim were at 12-under in the final pairing, and each had a shot to win in regulation. On the 72nd hole, Roach's 30-footer barely missed and Kim's three-footer hit the left side of the cup and spun out.

All three playoff participants, Si Woo Kim, Jamie Lovemark and Wes Roach, recorded identical rounds of 69-68 on the weekend and combination, of 65 and 66 in the first two rounds.

Si Woo Kim earned his first career title at age 20 years, 21 days.

In the Tour's 26-year history, Si Woo Kim became the second-youngest tournament winner. Jason Day was 19 years, 7 months, 26 days when he captured the 2007 Legend Financial Group Classic near Cleveland.

Si Woo Kim's first career win came in his 42nd career Web.com Tour start. He had made 11 cuts in 16 starts prior to the Stonebrae Classic.

Si Woo Kim was the 11th first-time winner on Tour through the first 16 events.

With the victory, Si Woo Kim brought the total number of wins by South Korean-born players on Tour to four (Kevin Na, James Hahn and Seung-Yul Noh).

Alabama rookie Trey Mullinax made a push at the leaders Sunday but finished one back, at 11-under par, when he failed to birdie the closing, par-5 18th. A tie-for-fourth effort moved him from No. 91 to No. 63 on the money list.

Texas rookie Cody Gribble bounced back from a double bogey at No. 17 with an eagle-3 (25-foot putt) at the 18th hole to finish with a 4-under 66. Gribble finished at 10-under 270 and tied for sixth. He tied for third a week earlier at the Albertsons Boise Open. In those last two weeks, Gribble moved from No. 70 on the money list to No. 33 and then to No. 29.

Leading money-winner Patton Kizzire made a birdie-3 on the second playoff hole to defeat Sung Kang and win the Utah Championship at the Golf Club at Thanksgiving Point. Kizzire had as much as a four-shot lead on the back nine, but Kang slowly chipped away and caught Kizzire on the 17th hole Sunday. The duo then played the 18th hole three consecutive times, once in regulation (both pars) and twice in the playoff (both pars on the first overtime hole). Kizzire eventually prevailed the third time.

Patton Kizzire was able to break through and win after two second-place finishes earlier in the 2015 season. He was second at both the Mexico Championship and the Rex Hospital Open, losing in a playoff to Kyle Thompson, an extra session that also included Miguel Angel Carballo in North Carolina. He also recorded nine runner-up performances on various mini-tours. His last victory of any kind before his week in Utah came on a Swing Thought Tour event in Columbia, S.C., in the fall of 2014.

With the Utah Championship's move to the Golf Club at Thanksgiving Point, the tournament created a new trophy for the champion, the Billy Casper Cup, which honors the memory Billy Casper, the World Golf Hall of Fame member who died in February 2015 and was a Utah resident during most of his celebrated PGA TOUR career.

This was the second consecutive runner-up finish at this tournament for Sung Kang. A year ago, with the tournament played at Willow Creek Country Club in Sandy, Utah, Kang shot four rounds in the 60s but fell by four shots to winner Andres Gonzales.

Even though he finished second, Sung Kang kept a streak alive. A year after shooting four rounds in the 60s (67-65-67-68), he did the same thing in 2015 (68-66-68-67). In three tournaments, he has had 10 under-par rounds. In 2013, he fired rounds of 67-70 to miss the cut. His stroke average in this tournament is 67.30.

Sung Kang was looking to become the second consecutive South Korean to win on this Tour—joining countryman Si Woo Kim, who captured the Stonebrae Classic in California two weeks ago.

Kelly Kraft set the Golf Club at Thanksgiving Point course record when he fired a 9-under 63 Thursday to take the first-round lead. In the second round, Patton Kizzire and Trey Mullinax broke that with 62s Friday, and Kizzire took a four-shot advantage into the weekend. Will Wilcox, with a 59 at the 2013 Utah Championship at Willow Creek Country Club, holds the tournament 18-hole record.

This was only the second playoff in tournament history. The first came at Willow Creek Country Club in 2013 when New Zealand's Steven Alker defeated Australia's Ash Hall on the first playoff hole.

Zack Fischer enjoyed his best outing of the season, but ultimately hurt his chances at victory when he shot an opening-round, 4-over 76 Thursday. He followed with rounds of 64-68-66 to finish at 14-under. He moved from 59th to 39th on the money list.

Smylie Kaufman (T18) was the only player at the Utah Championship to record two bogey-free rounds. He didn't have a bogey in either the second or final round.

Texan Martin Piller fired a bogey-free, 6-under 65 to win the Digital Ally Open, his second Web.com Tour title in three weeks. Piller started the final round at the Nicklaus Golf Club at LionsGate with a two-stroke lead and never allowed anyone to get any closer as he matched the tournament record with his 26-under total of 258.

Martin Piller turned back several challengers Sunday, slamming the door with birdie putts of five and 14 feet on the final two holes to pad his victory margin over runner-up Darron Stiles, who shot 67 to finish four back.

Martin Piller, the 29-year old Texas A&M graduate, picked up a check for $108,000 to push his season total to $308,549. He moved up three spots to No. 2 on the money list after 18 of 21 Regular Season events.

Martin Piller went wire to wire three weeks earlier in winning the Albertsons

Boise Open by six shots with a 28-under-par total. He was a combined 54-under par in his two wins and, collectively, won by 10 shots.

The win by Martin Piller was the fifth of his career and made him one of 11 players to win five or more times during their Web.com Tour careers. This victory came in his 119th start.

Six players - Monday qualifier Sebastian Vazquez (63), Ryan Yip, (65) Sung Kang (65), Chris Baker (67), Michael Kim (67) and rookie Tyler Duncan (67) - tied for third at 20-under, six behind. Baker, the only one of the six to put any heat on Piller, had reached 22-under and closed within two before a triple bogey at No. 16 derailed his hopes.

Chris Baker's tie-for-third finish was a career-best in 47 Tour starts. Baker, 29, had missed seven straight cuts prior to the week.

Patton Kizzire slowly pulled away from the field to win the News Sentinel Open for his second win in four weeks. The 29-year-old rookie capped a stellar week-end Sunday with his second straight 7-under-64 to finish at 20-under par and win by four shots over South Korea's Si Woo Kim and Canada's Brad Fritsch. Kizzire started Sunday two shots off the pace.

An Auburn grad, Patton Kizzire, donned a Tennessee-orange sport jacket while picking up a check for $99,000. "It's a good orange to wear today," he said, while holding the champion's trophy.

Si Woo Kim, winner of the Stonebrae Classic in July, was 4-under through seven holes but failed to put any serious pressure on the leader the rest of the way. Brad Fritsch eagled the par-5 10th for the second consecutive day and looked to be a contender but finished his final eight holes in even par.

Patton Kizzire became the third-straight tournament winner on Tour to earn two wins this season, following Martin Piller and Dawie van der Walt. Additionally Kizzire extended his streak of being No. 1 on the money list to 11 weeks. He also increased his lead on the money list over No. 2 Martin Piller to $168,904 heading into the final week of the Regular Season.

Patton Kizzire's win was the sixth by a Tour rookie in 2015.

Tournament Record:

264 - Dicky Pride (2015)

Current Course Record:

62 - Pumpkin Ridge GC - W. Hollow - Curtis Thompson (2015)

Dicky Pride, riding a late-season wave of momentum, carded a 4-under 67 to win the WinCo Foods Portland Open and earn his PGA TOUR card for the 2015-16 season. Pride, who led by four entering the final round at the Witch Hollow course at Pumpkin Ridge, finished at 20-under 264, three strokes in front of Tim Herron (66) and four ahead of a late-surging Tommy Gainey (65).

"For a guy that talks a lot, I don't have a lot to say," said Dicky Pride, who earned his first Tour-sanctioned win in more than 20 years. "It's hasn't been a couple years, it's been a couple decades since I hit the winner's circle. It's really nice to be back."

Ryan Blaum (65), first-round leader Curtis Thompson (68) and Shane Bertsch (69) tied for fourth, a distant seven shots back of Dicky Pride, the 46-year-old winner in the Web.com Tour's Regular Season finale.

Dicky Pride collected a pair of early birdies Sunday to keep his challengers at arm's length for most of the afternoon. A 60-foot eagle putt on the 11th hole essentially slammed the door on any realistic hopes Tim Herron, his playing partner and biggest challenger, might have had.

This was the 21st and final Regular Season event of 2015. The top-25 money winners at week's end received their 2015-16 PGA TOUR cards.

By collecting a check for $144,000, Dicky Pride vaulted from No. 40 to No. 5 on the Tour's money list.

Dicky Pride finished No. 1 in Putting for the week (102 putts), having been ranked 72nd in the category for the season.

Dicky Pride's first win came in his 149th Tour start. His only other TOUR-sanctioned win came during his rookie season on the PGA TOUR - a span of 563 starts (414 on the PGA TOUR). The win came 21 years, 30 days after he won the 1994 FedEx St. Jude Classic.

At age 46 years, 1 month, 15 days, Dicky Pride was the fourth player in his 40s to win this year, the oldest to win in 2015 and the 10th-oldest winner in Tour history.

Patton Kizzire finished the Regular Season with earnings of $518,391, the fourth highest total in Tour history, with the four Finals' events remaining. As the only player who began the week outside the top 25, Dicky Pride played his way into a TOUR card, climbing from 40th to fifth. This came at the expense of Rob Oppenheim, who missed the cut to finish 26th, $943 behind No. 25 Harold Varner III.

By finishing 75th on the Regular Season money list, Michael Arnaud claimed the last spot in the Web.com Tour Finals.

 62 - Sycamore Hills GC - Henrik Norlander (2015)

Sweden's Henrik Norlander set a course-record, 10-under 62 Sunday and earned his first career title. Norlander started the day six shots off the 54-hole pace set by South Korea's D.H. Lee and moved into contention with a 6-under 30 on the front nine. He moved into the lead with birdies at Nos. 16 and 17 and posted a 19-under 269 total nearly an hour before Lee's finish. Lee struggled during the final round at Sycamore Hills GC and dropped into a second-place tie when he bogeyed the closing hole.

With the win Henrik Norlander picked up a check for $180,000 and moved to the top of the Finals' Priority Ranking. Additionally Norlander assured himself of a return trip to the PGA TOUR, where he played as a rookie in 2013.

Henrik Norlander's 62 was the lowest final-round score by a tournament winner since Kris Blanks' 9-under 62 at the 2014 Chitimacha Louisiana Open.

The last time a tournament winner shot a 10-under score in the final round was at the 2010 Ford Wayne Gretzky Classic when Peter Tomasulo posted a 10-under 61.

Henrik Norlander became the 14th first-time winner on Tour in 22 events in 2015.

As the fourth player from Sweden to win on the Web.com Tour, Henrik Norlander joined past champions Daniel Chopra (three wins), Mathias Gronberg and David Lingmerth (one each).

Runner-up Michael Thompson also locked up a return trip to the PGA TOUR with his payday of $88,000 for typing for second. Thompson spent five years on TOUR, highlighted by his 2013 Honda Classic victory. This was his sixth Web.com Tour career start and his first since 2011.

Runner-up D.H. Lee had already earned his PGA TOUR card via the Web.com Tour's Regular Season. He finished No. 15 on the money list through 21 events. His paycheck increased his season earnings to $188,767 and moved him to No. 5 on the list with three tournaments left to go.

India's Anirban Lahiri (tied for sixth) became the first player in Tour history to play in an event as a member of a Presidents Cup team. Lahiri, 28, was officially named to the International Team early in the week. He tied for fifth at the recent PGA Championship and entered the week ranked No. 40 in the Official World Golf Ranking.

Patton Kizzire, the leading money winner from the Tour's Regular Season, tied for 16th and earned $14,500, which increased his season total to $532,741, the third-highest single-season total in Tour history.

Brad Fritsch made a double eagle-2at the par-5 fifth hole in the second round. Fritsch used a 5-iron from 219 yards to record the fourth double eagle of the 2015 season.

Arizona's Chez Reavie came from five shots off the pace Sunday to post a 6-under 66 to win the Small Business Connection Championship at River Run and collect his second career title. Reavie two-putted the final hole for birdie and posted a 15-under total. He then waited as challengers Jamie Lovemark, Steve Marino and Emiliano Grillo each failed to make birdie to force a playoff. The victory was worth $180,000 and pushed Reavie to No. 1 on the Priority Ranking after two of the four Finals' events.

Chez Reavie's win was the second of his Web.com Tour career, a span of 8 years, 2 months, 27 days after his 2007 News Sentinel Open win in Knoxville.

On the PGA TOUR, Chez Reavie's last victory came at the 2008 RBC Canadian Open.

Chez Reavie missed most of the 2014 season as he recovered from left-wrist surgery and was on Medical Exempt status for the PGA TOUR this year. In 19 starts, he had eight made cuts and three top-25 finishes, including a tie for 12th at the FedEx St. Jude Classic. He ended the year No. 166 on the FedExCup standings.

Argentina's Emiliano Grillo, ranked No. 103 in the Official World Golf Ranking, locked up a PGA TOUR card with his tie-for-second finish in North Carolina and a ninth-place effort at the Hotel Fitness Championship. Grillo, who turned 23 earlier in the week, played on the European Tour the past four years.

Former Florida Gator Brett Stegmaier also wrapped up a PGA TOUR card with his solo sixth-place finish. Stegmaier, the first- and second-round leader, birdied the final hole and collected a paycheck for $40,000, giving him $71,000 for his first two Finals' events. That total was more than enough to put the 32-year-old on TOUR as a 2015-16 rookie.

India's Anirban Lahiri tied for 16th and added $15,000 to the money he won for a sixth-place finish at the Hotel Fitness Championship. His two-week total of $49,500 was enough to lock up one of the 25 TOUR cards that will be earned following the Tour Championship. Lahiri, 28, a member of The Presidents Cup International team, entered the week as the highest-ranked player in the field (No. 40).

Among the notables missing the cut at River Run Country Club were leading money-winner Patton Kizzire and Henrik Norlander, who won the previous week at the Hotel Fitness Championship.

Brett Stegmaier's first-round 63 was a career-best and also matched the course record set by Tom Hoge in the second round in 2014. Vaughn Taylor also matched the record with a 63 in the second round.

Former Louisiana State Tiger Andrew Loupe carded a 1-under 70 Sunday and outlasted the field to win the Nationwide Children's Hospital Championship, the third event of the Web.com Tour Finals. Loupe's 5-under-par 279 total on the Scarlet Course at Ohio State University Golf Club placed him two strokes ahead of Tom Hoge (69), Bronson Burgoon (70) and third-round leader Roberto Castro (75).

Andrew Loupe earned his first Tour career win at age 26 years, 10 months, 5 days. He is the 15th first-time winner through 24 events in the season and the 14th player in his 20s to win on Tour in 2015.

As winner, Andrew Loupe picked up a check for $180,000, bringing his career money-winnings to $181,694 in his first 43 Tour starts.

Andrew Loupe increased his prize money in the Tour Finals to $190,642 and moved to third place among those players who had not locked up PGA TOUR cards prior to the start of the Finals.

San Jose's Mark Hubbard rebounded from a third-round 76 with a 4-under 67 Sunday to jump into a tie for fifth. Hubbard missed the cut at the Hotel Fitness Championship and tied for 30th at the Small Business Connection Championship at River Run. His finish in Columbus was worth $35,125, placing him at No. 15 on the Finals' Priority Ranking (not top-25) and got him closer to earning a return trip to the 2015-16 PGA TOUR.

Tom Hoge's 2-under 69 moved him to No. 7 on the Finals' Priority Ranking (not top-25), and he locked up his 2015-16 TOUR card.

Third-round leader Roberto Castro (75) finished two shots off the winning score, but his $74,666 paycheck vaulted him to No. 4 on the Finals' Priority Ranking (not top-25) and guaranteed his return trip to the PGA TOUR, where he has played for the past four seasons.

Emiliano Grillo claimed the Web.com Tour Championship by one shot when he drained a 25-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole moments before Chez Reavie missed on a similar line from 10 feet closer. The 23-year-old Argentine carded a 69 for a 14-under-par total 266. The first-place check for $180,000 propelled him into the fourth spot on the final PGA TOUR priority ranking as he headed off to the PGA TOUR.

Sam Saunders (67) posted at 12-under par, good for solo third, while Australia's Rhein Gibson (65) finished fourth after stumbling with a bogey on the closing hole at TPC Sawgrass - Dye's Valley Course.

The Web.com Tour Championship was the 25th and final event of the season. Fifty players received their 2015-16 PGA TOUR cards Sunday evening in a ceremony on TPC Sawgrass' back lawn.

Chez Reavie came up a shot shy of a potential playoff, but his second-place performance secured him the top spot on The Finals' money list, with $323,066 in earnings and a return to the PGA TOUR with full exempt status in 2015-16.

Patton Kizzire concluded his season with a birdie on the final hole for 67 and finished 10-under par in a tie for fifth. Kizzire, who finished with a Tour-leading 12 top-10s, also earned fully exempt status by claiming the Tour's season-long money title, with combined Regular Season and Finals' earnings of $567,866.

Both Patton Kizzire and Chez Reavie earned invitations to the 2016 PLAYERS Championship as a result of leading the respective money lists.

Patton Kizzire's $567,866 in 22 starts was the second-most money earned in one season in Tour history, second to Michael Sim's $644,142 in 2009. Kizzire closed the season having been No. 1 on the money list for the last 16 weeks, which was the fourth-most to close a Tour season. His 16 weeks at No. 1 is the sixth-best in Tour history.

Five players moved into the top 25 on the Finals' money list at the conclusion of the Web.com Tour Championship to secure their TOUR cards - Derek Fathauer, Tyrone van Aswegen, Robert Garrigus, Thomas Aiken and Rob Oppenheim. This came at the expense of Eric Axley, Ryan Spears, Steve Allan, Justin Hicks and Jhonattan Vegas.

Rob Oppenheim gained the last available card via the Finals' money list by $101 over Eric Axley, when Lucas Glover bogeyed the 72nd hole Sunday.

Emiliano Grillo was the 15th player in his 20s to win on the Tour this season in 25 tournaments, the ninth player in his 20s to win, and the 16th first-time winner.

Emiliano Grillo's win came at age 23 years, 20 days.

As the Web.com Tour Championship winner, Emiliano Grillo became its second-youngest player to claim the title. David Duval was age 21 years, 11 months, 8 days when he captured the Tour's first Championship title in 1993.

Emiliano Grillo became the third player from Argentina to win in Tour history (Miguel Carballo, with two wins, in 2007 and 2011 and Fabian Gomez, a winner in 2010).

Roberto Castro matched the Dye's Valley Course record of 62 Sunday, hitting 17 greens in regulation. He owns the course record at both TPC Sawgrass courses, having fired a 9-under 63 in the opening round of the 2013 PLAYERS on the Stadium Course.
